

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 886

This was the first time in so many years that Tang Wanru had been disrespected Beijing. However, she couldn't afford to offend any of these people.

She could only endure it.

She didn't have the time to tell her daughter about the situation at the Imperial Mansion.

On the other side, Wei Ling, who was standing outside and planning to go in, was in no better condition as she looked at more and more people with a stunned expression.

All of them had extraordinary statuses, and some rarely appeared on such occasions...

Seeing that more and more people were coming, she held the invitation in her hand and wanted to go in to watch the commotion.

Her expression turned uglier and uglier. She stood rooted to the ground as if there were nails on her feet. She couldn't leave nor move!

"What... is going on?" Wei Ling's voice was a little hoarse. She looked at the suddenly lively banquet hall in disbelief as if she had seen a ghost.

She could understand why Yuan Yongqin, Su Huaiyuan, and the others from Rao City had come, but what about the people from the Beijing families who came later?

Qiao Nian knew these people?

At this moment, her cell phone vibrated.

Wei Ling took it out in frustration and saw that Shen Jingyan had replied to her message. The last message she sent was a photo of Qiao Nian's school promotion banquet.

Next was Shen Jingyan's reply: [Just watch the show. Don't cause trouble.]

If he had sent this message 10 minutes earlier, she would have replied to him with some sarcastic remarks. But now, she really didn't have the courage to reply to Shen Jingyan.

This message was like a silent slap to her face.

Watch the show?

Didn't she and Shen Qiongzhi specially make a trip here to watch Qiao Nian's downfall? Now... who was watching whose show?!

Shen Qiongzhi didn't know anyone from Beijing. Other than Yuan Yongqin and a few familiar faces, she knew that many people had come. She asked Wei Ling with a puzzled expression, "Who are these people? Why did so many people suddenly appear? Where did Qiao Nian find them? Don't tell me she randomly found some people to make up the numbers?"

Wei Ling was speechless.

Make up the numbers?

How many people in Beijing had the ability to find Old Master Ye and the others to just make up the numbers?

Most of the people in the top circles in Beijing were probably here!

As she saw Wei Lou appear with a young man, Wei Ling's dry throat trembled. She stared intently at the young man's face and blurted out, "Ji Nan! It's actually Ji Nan."

Shen Qiongzhi didn't even know Qin Si and the others, let alone Ji Nan. She was completely oblivious as she turned her head and asked indifferently, "Who?"

Wei Ling was too lazy to explain to her. Her mind was a mess.

Ji Nan was from Beijing, but he was not considered part of the Beijing circle. The Ji family kept a low profile in Beijing and rarely attended any banquets or social events.

The Ji family's power was not in Beijing but in the illegal district.

However, Ji Nan's name was very famous in the Beijing circle. He was known as the local Buffett. This man looked young, but he could do whatever he wanted in the stock market.

The stock market only had someone by the name SN who could be comparable to Ji Nan.

However, SN was elusive and was even more mysterious and low-profile than Ji Nan. People only knew that SN had a good relationship with Ji Nan in private and that the two of them likely knew each other.

Shen Jingyan and Wei Ling had always wanted to rope in or curry favor with this young man who had power in the illegal zone, but they had not succeeded even after trying for a long time. Why would Ji Nan appear at Qiao Nian's school promotion banquet?!

Wei Ling held her cell phone. This time, she really felt uneasy!
