

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 922

However, seeing that everyone was in agreement, he suppressed his anger and did not want to argue anymore with the woman.

He simply took out his cell phone and sent Qiao Nian a message. He asked her if she had woken up and told her to relax.

At the airport, a group of people with blond hair disembarked from the international flight.

Master Carlos, who was famous in the international medical field, was accompanied by a girl who looked like she was about eighteen or nineteen years old. She looked different from the other people. She had black hair and yellow skin. At first glance, she looked like she was born in China.

Her facial features were good, and she had an air of confidence around her.

This group of people gathered a lot of attention from the people in the airport terminal.

They didn't care much about the attention they were getting.

The young girl had her hands crossed behind her back, with a look of indifference on her face.

"I looked at the list of participants in the competition, and the participants are still the usual few from the past few years. The other students from the other schools are also not well-known. The representative for Qing University this year is Jiang Xianrou. You should pay attention to her. She has won many international awards together with Liang Lu. Although her name is paired with Liang Lu, she should still be quite capable," Master Carlos whispered to the girl.

Qi Lanyin played with her cell phone and seemed to treat his words lightly. She responded with contempt in her eyes. "I see. I just need to pay attention to Jiang Xianrou, right?"

"Not only Jiang Xianrou." The man with a wide nose and big eyes followed beside her. He thought of something and smiled, saying, "There's another person you should look out for."

The girl put her cell phone down and looked over arrogantly with her eyebrows raised. "There's another person to look out for? When did the medical field in China gather so many people I need to look out for?"

Western medicine was introduced into the country from overseas. It started two hundred years later domestically as compared to Western medicine overseas. Even if Western medicine in China had made rapid progress in the past few years, there have been several stalwarts like Liang Lu. However, that was it. The International Medical Association was still dominated by overseas people, and domestic authoritative experts like Liang Lu were just experts in name only. The only person who could be really called an expert would be Mr. Huang.

He was also one of the honorary presidents of the International Medical Association.

However, Qi Lanyin didn't take Chinese Medicine seriously!

"What's that person's name?" Qi Lanyin asked with a rare tone of interest in her voice.

She had won first place in medical competitions for three consecutive years. She was also aiming for first place this year. She didn't think that anyone could compete with her. However, she was curious.

"She's called Qiao Nian." The old man thought for a long time before he remembered her name. He walked while talking to her. "This person is very interesting. She was nominated by the Chinese Medicine Faculty from Qing University."

"She's someone from the Chinese Medicine Faculty?" When Qi Lanyin heard that she was from the Chinese Medicine Faculty, she lost interest immediately. "Oh, then she's probably not worth looking out for."

"No, the reason I mentioned her is because of how different she is from Jiang Xianrou. She's very interesting. It seems like she's a freshman. Even before the registrations opened, the Chinese Medicine Faculty was unable to find a representative, so they nominated a freshman to represent them."

"Huh?" Qi Lanyin was a little surprised. She sneered and said, "It seems like the first and last place have already been decided. As for the second place..."

She smiled and took everyone else lightly. "I think Jiang Xianrou is pretty good. She may be able to fight for second place this year."

She even said that Jiang Xianrou had to fight for second place. This showed how arrogant she was.

Qiao Nian was going to participate in the competition. Zhang Yang and Qin Si were going to attend, too.
