

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 977

She had experienced the lowest point of her life. To her, Qiao Nian was even more important than all the so-called relatives in the Yuan family combined.

She had never cared about people like Tian Siqi, and neither did she care about Yuan Fei...

It was time to teach the Yuan family a lesson.

...

Outside Lan Pavilion, Tian Siqi was "invited" out in front of everyone.

She was wearing a gown that revealed her shoulders and standing outside like a fool. She was so cold that she was trembling.

Her face was even paler than her exposed shoulder. It was humiliating and awkward. Even her lips had lost color.

She was dressed in a custom-made dress and was wearing an expensive set of jewelry. She stood outside in all sorts of jewelry, causing passersby to look at her repeatedly.

Tian Siqi felt as if her clothes had been ripped off. She was so embarrassed that she wished there was a hole in the ground to hide in.

However, no matter how stupid and arrogant she was, she knew that she had probably caused trouble this time. She ignored the gazes of everyone around her and quickly called her backer.

The first call did not go through.

She was not nervous yet.

She had heard Yuan Yongqin's introduction of Qiao Nian on the stage. In her heart, she guessed that Qiao Nian was a business partner of Cheng Feng Corporation.

Although she did not understand how a teenage girl had become an important partner of Cheng Feng Corporation, in her opinion, no matter how awesome a partner was, how could they be more important than blood relations?

Her backer was biological siblings with the Chairman of Cheng Feng Corporation.

The other party had used their partnership to embarrass her in public. If she was chased out, she wouldn't be polite and would definitely complain!

Tian Siqi had lost too much face today. She suppressed her anger. Although she was afraid about the Ye family and Ye Lan whom the people beside her had been talking about, she was not from this circle and did not have a complete understanding of how impressive the Ye family was in the capital city's wealthy circle.

Her second call still did not get through.

Tian Siqi stood outside the Lan Pavilion like a fool. She couldn't leave nor stay. She suppressed her anger and made a third call.

This time, the call finally went through. He picked up the call.

Her heartbeat was fast as she gripped her cell phone tightly. She was already thinking of how to complain.

The moment the call connected, she said aggrievedly, "I..."

The man on the other end was already furious and flew into a rage. "You still have the cheek to call me? What are you doing in Lan Pavilion?!"

Tian Siqi's heart almost stopped beating. She sounded extremely aggrieved. "I didn't do anything."

"You've already caused utter chaos, yet you're telling me that you didn't do anything. I don't have time to deal with you now. I'll settle the score with you later!"

The Yuan family was now a ship that was about to sink. Only by repairing their relationship with Yuan Yongqin could they enjoy a few more years in the capital city circles.

After hearing Yuan Yongqin's attitude when she called him just now, his mind went blank. He had no time to care about Tian Siqi.

"I can't be bothered with you now. You're on your own!"

Before Tian Siqi could speak, the other party had already hung up.

She was originally full of confidence, but now, she was like a deflated ball and really panicked.

Before Tian Siqi could figure it out, her company's manager called her and asked her a few questions about the show. In the end, he directly told her that the capital circle had said that they wanted to ban her. The company had already held an emergency meeting and decided to temporarily suspend her.

"Siqi, think about who you've provoked. If you have the chance, apologize to them. You might still have a chance to make a comeback. Otherwise... you should leave the entertainment industry for the rest of your life."

Hearing her manager's words, Tian Siqi's mind started buzzing. She grabbed her cell phone and her legs turned weak. She slid down and sat on the cold ground.

Her eyes were dry. She wanted to cry, but she couldn't.

Apologize?

How was she going to apologize to that girl?

She was invited out by two burly staff members, and now she couldn't even enter the pavilion...