

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 989

“3.”

The fingers of the person lying on the bed trembled slightly as if she was trying hard to control herself.

Qiao Nian lowered her eyes and saw her small movements.

Her smooth lips touched and she continued to count. “4.”

Perhaps she could no longer stand it. Qiao Chen suddenly opened her red and swollen eyes and stared at her resentfully. What kind of anesthesia had not passed? She didn't look like she had woken up. She was clearly awake!

“Qiao Nian, I'll call the police!” Her voice was vicious, angry, and even a little crazy. Her expression was on the verge of collapse as she shouted softly, “Your actions have already broken the law. I'll call the police. The police will catch you. You'll go to jail! I'll definitely make you go to jail!”

Actually, her anesthesia had already worn off after the surgery. She had heard very clearly the doctor's words to Shen Jingyan.

He said that she could no longer play the piano!

He said that her hand was crippled!

This was all thanks to the person in front of her!

How could Qiao Nian be so ruthless and arrogant?!

“Tsk.” The girl who was threatened raised her excessively beautiful face slightly. Her good-looking black eyes stared at her and she said casually, “I thought you would be able to pretend until I counted to eight. I didn't expect you to lose your cool halfway.”

“Qiao Nian, I'm telling you. I'll call the police. I want you to go to jail!” Qiao Chen's mind was exploding. She couldn't hear anything and only remembered the doctor's words.

She was clearly... clearly about to fly overseas and start a good life. All her dreams and ambitions had been destroyed at this moment, so how could she calm down?

However, she thought that she would at least be afraid. Unexpectedly, meeting Qiao Nian's eyes, she only saw calmness.

Qiao Nian was not afraid, not at all... She only felt like a bucket of ice water had been poured over her head. For some reason, her heart turned cold.

“Qiao Chen, your song for the award was plagiarized too, right?”

It was a casual sentence.

Qiao Chen's red eyes revealed her hatred as she subconsciously avoided her eyes. "What are you talking about? What plagiarism? Don't talk nonsense."

Qiao Nian played with her phone. She had called before she came to the hospital. Calculating the time, the other party should be here soon.

Looking at Qiao Chen, who refused to admit it, she said softly, "Do you think I won't look at the overseas awards?"

Qiao Chen turned her head away and continued to argue. "I told you, I didn't plagiarize. I don't know what you're talking about!"

The trophy she had received at the Grammy Awards was indeed 'unclean'. Just as Qiao Nian had said, she had still used the arrangement Qiao Nian had modified for her in the past. However, she had learned from her previous lesson and had slightly modified the arrangement.

Before modifying the music arrangement, she didn't know that Qiao Nian was chasing after the light.

She had found some song arrangements on the Internet and integrated some of them into the original arrangement. In the end, she found Wei Ling to help her with it and successfully received the Grammy Awards' piano arrangement gold award.

Later on, when the matter of slapping her face online was exposed, she then knew that Qiao Nian was Zhui Guang! She immediately checked the parts she had 'stolen' into the arrangement. Indeed, it was from Zhui Guang.

No matter what, she thought that she had found seven or eight people to change the song she had won.

Who knew that it was actually the same person?!

Therefore, when Qiao Nian suddenly mentioned this without warning, her heart raced and almost jumped out of her chest.
