

Chapter 77

The four muscular men pushed the wheelchair outside.

When they just opened the meeting room door, they saw a dozen security guards walking toward them in the corridor.

“Who are you?”

The head of the security team walked over with a baton. “This is our lady. She hurt her leg, so we came to pick her up,” the leader of the muscular men said calmly.

Adina wanted to speak, but her mouth was stuffed, so she could not say a word. She wanted to struggle and cause a disturbance, but she realized that she did not have any strength. She could not even move her fingers.

But this was her only chance!

She wanted to turn over and roll down from the wheelchair, but the muscular man was pressing her shoulders down.

He remained very calm. “If there’s nothing else, we’ll leave.”

The security guard head did not notice anything suspicious, so he let them go.

Adina’s heart sank to the bottom again.

“Hold on.”

At that moment, the cold voice of a child was heard. George walked out from behind the security guards. He had purposely called the security guards over, but these pieces of trash did nothing unexpectedly. So, he had to do it himself.

He walked over with disdain, raised his hand, and tried to take the cap off Adina’s head.

The muscular man grabbed his hand and harshly said, “Kid, our lady is of noble status. You can’t simply touch her,”

George raised his head and cast a cold glance at the man. His eyes were full of contempt, as he had mastered 90% of Duke’s demeanor.

The 18-meter-tall muscular man was so frightened by his gaze that he let go of his hand.

Then, George just looked off Adina’s cap.

A woman, whose mouth was gagged with a cloth, appeared before them. The situation was dear.

Everything suddenly became bright, and Adina saw a child. She tried her best to open her eyes. She looked at the boy and whispered, “Alden...”

Why would Alden be there?

However, George did not look at her at all. “This is an intentional abduction. I’ll leave it to you guys,” he said to the guards coldly. After that, he just left. Adina could only see his departing silhouette. She snapped out of her daze. That voice did not belong to Alden. But why did the boy look so much like him? Before she could think about it in depth, the dozen of security guards were already fighting the four muscular men.

The men were tall, but they did not have weapons. The security guards held batons, so they easily took the four men down.

Right then, Ethan arrived in a hurry. “Addy, what happened?” Adina did not have the strength to speak. She just shook her head weakly. The head of the security guards immediately explained the situation. This must be Dew Daugherty’s doing!” Ethan was so angry that his complexion turned pale.” She has framed you again and again. Does she think that all the Xavier family members are dead? Addy, let me send you to the hospital first. I won’t spare the Daugherty family this time!”

Ethan carried Adina into the car before he drove speedily to the hospital. Luckily, she had just been drugged by something that made people dizzy. Once she took some medication, she would slowly recover, While Adina was bedridden, the boy's face kept coming up in her mind. If I had not been for the boy, she would have definitely been killed today, The boy had saved her.
