

Chapter 93

“Dew, you still have no idea, do you? I’ve opened a studio, and I’m ready to collaborate with Winters Corporation at this point.”

Adina’s beautiful face was filled with a bright and prideful smile.

She raised her fingers and tucked her fallen hair behind her ear. “My collaboration with Winters Corporation isn’t related to Daugherty Corporation. How are you going to stop me?”. Dew immediately widened her eyes. “No way! Winters Corporation wouldn’t collaborate with you! What did you do, huh? I’m warning you not to approach the Winters family. I won’t allow you to go near Duke Winters!” Adina narrowed her eyes nonchalantly. Dew was easily triggered. What was she afraid of this time? Was it related to Winters Corporation? Was Dew afraid that she would snatch Duke away?

Pfft! Hilarious!

Adina was too lazy to engage with Dew further, so she just turned around and left. Dew’s heart seemed to be ripped into pieces amidst Adina’s snickers. Her mind was blank, and she declared her ownership by reflex. “Adina, I’m the young masters mother in the Winters family. I’m the future mistress of the Winters family. Regardless of what dirty trick you pull, it’ll be impossible to change my status.” “What did you say?”

Adina turned around, and her indifferent gaze turned cold.

Only then did Dew realize that she had done something stupid.

Her mother had asked her not to mention anything about the young masters in the Winters family to Adina. Why did she let it slip? She moved her lips and wanted to cover it up, but Adina spoke. “Dew, do you think I was clueless about Sea City when I was away for four years?” Adina flashed her a scornful smile. “The young master of the Winters family is four years old. When I left Sea City, you weren’t pregnant.” Dew widened her eyes. “How did you know that the young master of Winters family is four years old?”

Duke protected his two sons very well. Outsiders did not know that there were young masters in the Winters family, let alone how old they were. “I also know that the young master of the Winters family is Harold,” Adina said coldly. “So, you’ve racked your brain just to become a stepmother to another kid.” Dew’s heart slowly sank How did Adina know about all this?

Did Adina meet Harold?

She suppressed her fear, took a deep breath, and said, “So what if I want to be the young master’s stepmother? Do you have a problem with that?” “I can only say, all the best.” Adina cast a meaningful gaze at her before she walked into the elevator. As soon as the elevator doors closed, Dew felt weak and leaned on the wall. Half an hour later, Adina parked her car in front of the Winters Corporation building. The Winters Corporation building was a landmark in Sea City. With a total of eighty-eight floors, it towered into the clouds, and it was magnificent.

Those who came and left were white collar workers with hurried steps. Everyone looked very busy.

Adina walked into the building in her high heels.

It was her first time visiting Winters Corporation. As soon as she entered, she was confused by the directions.

She walked up to reception and calmly asked, “Hi, may I know how to get to the CEO’s office?” The receptionist who was busy with her work raised her head. Before she could speak, she was completely taken aback. The woman, who had suddenly shown up before her, was absolutely stunning. Her bare face without heavy makeup was so gorgeous that others could not take their eyes off her. It was as if her face contained the entire scenery of the world.

News of the most beautiful woman in Sea City was sensational, but it was only limited to people who belonged to certain social circles.
