

Madness 420

Son In Law Madness Chapter 420

Shocking News “Hey, Lili, what’s going on?” Lana asked, a little thrilled.

Lilith was silent for a long while before she squeezed out, “Donald, he...

passed away.” At that moment, it felt as if a bolt of lightning had struck Lana, and her mind went blank. Almost immediately, the color drained out of her rosy cheeks as well. It was catastrophic news to her. Even her voice began shaking as she said, “You’re joking with me, aren’t you?” Lilith replied, “I’m not.” Thud! Lana’s phone fell to the ground.

In the next second, tears rolled down her cheeks as she crouched down and began crying with her face buried between her knees.

“You were so strong! How could you have died? Why?” Lana muttered under her breath. Kyler knitted his brows at that. “What’s the matter?” he asked, his heart sinking. He could hear how important the one Lana was talking about was to her. That made him annoyed. Right then, Lana jumped to her feet.

“I’m going to settle the score with her!” With that, she rushed to the underground garage and drove her red Aston Martin toward Jennifer’s office. The next to receive the call was Reina. Reina was having a meal with Arnaldo.

Arnaldo had become one of the powerhouses of Terrandya’s underworld, and he slowly found time to keep Reina company.

a call from Lilith. “Let me take a call.” Even Reina’s voice was trembling, and she could barely hold her phone in her right hand, which was shaking terribly. “Reina, officially announced.” With that like a bolt from a second before the tears began flowing down

Arnaldo’s arms and began crying. Arnaldo asked, “Who’s dead?” However, Reina just kept crying instead of answering him, and her tears soaked Arnaldo’s shirt. When Wynter pushed back all of her shows and locked herself up in her already been separated from the Wilson family back to the Wilson family, and she had also given them the one billion was Jennard Construction. Even so, as Tyrone had announced to the public that he was going to take Jennifer as his wife, her business continued to grow. Even though she did not have money to spare, business day, but her calls never went

she did not one knew how much agony she had had to endure. Suddenly, someone kicked the door open. Jennifer was startled, but when she