Son In Law Madness Chapter 426

Donald Returns Suddenly, a drone flew past his head and headed for the reclamation area. The drone was an incredibly expensive one and looked just like a seagull. As the man frowned slightly, two golden beams of light illuminated the darkness around him and shone on the drone. The next thing he knew, the expensive drone exploded into pieces and crashed into the ocean. Noah and Leviathan, who were sleeping soundly in the open sea about thirty kilometers away, woke up when they heard a loud noise. "Mr. Rodríguez, Mr. Leviathan, our drone has been shot down!" someone said while knocking on their door. "Isn't that the latest bionic drone?" Noah asked with a frown.

"Here, take a look at the footage from the surveillance cameras.

out of the man's eyes, and the footage cut to black after that. "Who is that guy? Is he even human?" Noah asked sternly. Leviathan was eerily calm as he commented, "Judging by the footage, it looks like the drone's signal was affected by high levels of radiation in the area."

in the middle of the night, Javon exclaimed in annoyance, "What is it? Can't this wait till tomorrow?"

"Here, take a look at this," Noah replied. Javon pouted in
