

Magic Doctor: CEO Lady's Humble Husband

Chapter 376

Fade Chen snorted. He did not even put in the effort to evade his attack as he stretched his palm out directly at Number Two. Fade's hand collided with Number Two's claw. Number Two had a ferocious expression, and he shouted as he tried to rip Fade's hand into pieces. However, only the sound of metal clanking against each other could be heard. Number Two discovered that his claw had merely come into contact with Fade's hand, and that it was completely blocked. He couldn't touch him at all. Number Two was astounded, 'How is that possible? How did you-?' he said. Fade didn't wait for him to finish speaking, and he continued to move forward with his right hand stretched out. Then, he launched his palm at him with a loud crash. Number Two felt a powerful momentum coming in his direction like an immense mountain. He couldn't fight back at all. This energy sent him flying and his internal organs were shattered into a million pieces, Blood spurted out of his mouth as he fell to the ground gasping for air. It wasn't long before he drew his last breath. At the same time, Number Three and Number Four had just launched their attacks on Fade. They grew even more aggressive after witnessing Number Two's death. They were like wild wolves as they glowered at Fade and pounced at him. Concurrently, Number One who was the furthest away from them had no time to lose either. He stretched out his hands that looked as dry as bones and harnessed inner energy from within. Rays of light were released, like a sky full of raindrops, and Fade was enveloped by these rays. Fade was in a rage, and he had no intention of holding back in the face of Number Three and Four's attacks. He released a powerful gust of energy from within, causing the entire forest to be enveloped by it. In a flash, the forest felt as though it was enclosed in a gigantic and invisible iron pot. The atmosphere became so tense, that the air felt heavy. The forest which was usually lively became silent in an instant. The birds, the beasts and even the insects seemed to find themselves in a trance. Not a single sound could be heard. Before Number Three and Number Four, who were attacking Fade, could adapt to the strange oppressive environment, Fade already had both of his hands stretched out. His hands looked like a large fan, and they slammed them hard on their heads. The men's heads were smashed with two distinctive slaps. They were like watermelons which had exploded, with red and white bits of their brains splattering everywhere in the air. The Captain's attack with the ray of lights barely caused any harm to Fade. It failed to even tear his shirt apart. In other words, his attack didn't do any damage at all. Number One was completely shocked and horrified. He said, 'You, are you an Earth Level master?' Fade walked forward with a cold gaze as he dashed toward Number One. Seeing this, Number One couldn't help but panic. He turned around and quickly made his way toward Quin Lin, wanting to hold her hostage. However, Fade was even faster. With a wave of his hand, he aimed at Number One's left leg and shot out a ray of light, causing him to fall to the ground. By the time he tried to get up, Fade's blinding silhouette was already standing beside him. Number One felt that standing beside Fade was so suffocating. It was as though this young man was a giant that he couldn't fight off at all. 'This won't do. I'm no match for him, I'm doomed. 1-', Number One was terrified, but then his gaze turned cold with a hint of determination. Lying on the ground, he fumbled around and found a delicate plate made of bones, and he inserted some inner energy into it. In the blink of an eye, a black light surged from the bone plate, revealing a rather distorted shadow. The shadow seemed like it was going mad, as it tried to escape from the bone plate. It was like a demon that was forced into it in the first place. 'Go! Kill him!' Number One threw the plate in Fade's direction with a smirk on his face as he fell lifelessly onto the ground. His body started to shrink, and it emitted a dark red light looking like blood that was absorbed into the bone plate. The emerging shadow gradually grew in size, resembling a monster in human form. It looked as though it was composed of smoke and mud, Black gas was emitting from it as it darted in Fade's direction to attack him. Finally, the black shadow transformed into a giant monster standing at five-meters tall. It opened its mouth, let out an invisible roar, and launched many black ropes from within to try to entangle Fade. The bone plate was shattered. Number One had completely dried up into a skeleton with a smile on his face. He looked up at the sky, and said with fanatical enthusiasm, 'I haven't failed, great Deity. I will soon be in your embrace.' Just as Number One was in a frenzy, the monster that dashed toward Fade started trembling violently. His enormous body exploded into endless streams of black smoke, which splattered into the air. Then, the smoke cleared and disappeared swiftly. Fade swept away the black smoke on his hands, then he pinched a crystal-clear bone the size of a knuckle and said flatly, 'So this is the core of the beast? A mere trick of combining charm with inner energy, then using human flesh and blood to form it. Not a bad trick, but that's all there is to that.' Number One, who had been eager to be engulfed by his Deity, was utterly dumbfounded when he saw the scene in front of him. He didn't expect the beast that he had so much faith in to be obliterated by Fade with ease. He had even obtained the core of the beast, and could instantly and accurately explain the principles behind its formation. Number One found it hard to believe that he was confronted with a man of such skill and such insight. His expression was shocked, and he said, 'You, who are you? How did you.' Fade didn't answer him. Instead, he threw a side glance at Number One who was in his final moments. Inserting some energy into his lungs, he said coldly, 'You can't die yet. I have some questions for you.' On that note, Fade gently picked up Quin, who was unconscious, and tied up Number One with a vine. Then, Fade dragged him down the mountain trail. Upon their arrival back at town, Fairman Gu, who was injured and bound to a wheelchair, welcomed them. Fairman had been hoping that the Skull Mob's masters would be able to take out Fade, but he was utterly shocked at the sight of him unharmed, carrying Quin in his arms. The leader of the Skull Mob was being dragged on a trail behind them, looking as dry as a skeleton. His last thread of hope was shattered, and he did not dare to underestimate Fade anymore. As for Marco Ji and members of the investigation teams, they were absolutely horrified. They couldn't help but recall the previous events as chills ran down their bones. They broke out in cold sweat and were terrified. 'Get me a room, and a place to lock him up.' Fade said coldly. 'Yes, I'll arrange for that right away!' Fairman said. He quickly dispatched his men to make such arrangements..

Fade Chen checked on his wife's condition in the room that was arranged by Fairman Gu, and he didn't find any injuries on her. She was just unconscious, and that was it. Fade heaved a sigh of relief. He injected her with some inner energy and allowed her to rest peacefully in bed. He left the room after that and went to the prison cell of the Skull Mob leader. Big Brother Gu was quite influential in Fuma Town. He was able to arrange for a special isolated cell in the police station to serve as a prison. Fade strode into the cell and looked at Number One, who was skeletal. He was lying on the ground. Fade bent over and removed the mask on his face. Fade saw a man in his mid-thirties. He looked ordinary, although he had black skulls tattooed on both his cheeks. These tattoos caused him to look rather bizarre. Fade stood in front of the man and sneered, 'I think that you know what I'm about to ask you, so why don't we cut to the chase? Tell me everything that you know.' 'Will you let me live if I do?' Number One asked weakly. Fade shook his head, expressionless. 'No!' he replied. 'Then why should I tell you?' Number One scoffed. Fade narrowed his eyes and said coldly, 'If you tell me, I can give you a less painful death.' 'Punishment and torture! Haha, I've already given my spirit and body to my Deity. No matter what you try to do to me, it will not work. The Deity will help me,' the Skull Leader retorted. He looked at the bare ceiling with a pious expression, as though he had seen the Deity that he was talking about. 'A Deity! Are you a fanatical believer of religion?' Fade answered flatly. 'Then watch if your so-called Deity will come to your rescue,' he said. On that note, a needle appeared on Fade's

palm and he stabbed it into the Skull Leader's body. The Skull Leader shook his head and said, 'This method of torture won't cause me any harm. Why don't you give me something that will really hurt!' 'Oh, really?' Fade sneered, and another needle appeared in his hand as he pierced it into the Skull Leader's chest. 'I'm not feeling anything at all. Is this what you call torture?' the Skull Leader smirked. Right then, the third needle was inserted. There was a change on the Skull Leader's face, and his body started convulsing. The smile on his face was frozen for a second before his face started to twitch. 'We're just getting started, and you can't take it already?' Fade said. He smiled coldly, and pricked him with two more needles at the speed of light. The Skull Leader's body started to tremble violently, and his sunken face couldn't stop twitching. His face had extreme pain written all over it, and he couldn't stop mumbling the words, 'My Deity, my great Deity, save me.' Fade pierced him with a few more needles after that. The Skull Leader bounced off the ground due to the pain, then he fell heavily again. All this time, his body was twitching continuously. He couldn't feel anything except pain. Every cell in his skin, his muscles, veins and even his bones was causing him unbearable pain. This pain was not something he could endure. Even the thought of the Deity who was revered so much by him, seemed to have no effect on him. The Skull Leader cried out in pain as he begged, 'Let me go. Let me go, I'll tell you. I'll tell you everything. Please, I beg you, take the needles out, I'll tell-'

Seeing that the situation was more or less under his control again, Fade waved his hand slightly and every needle was plucked out of the Skull Leader's body. Calmly, he said, 'Now, tell me everything. What kind of an organization are you from? Why did you target Quin Lin? Also, where have you taken Jeremy Lin?' The Skull

Leader heaved a sigh of relief once all the needles were gone. He took his time to answer, and a calm expression appeared on his face. 'We're known as the Skull Mob. All four of us are members of the Skull Mob,' he said. 'We captured Quin because it was a direct order from our superior, and we were merely carrying out our duties. We don't exactly know why she was wanted. As for the case of Jeremy, that mission was led by another team and they left after they were done taking pictures. We've never come into contact with each other, and I have no idea where they have taken him to,' he continued. Fade couldn't help but frown upon hearing this and he said coldly, 'Is that everything?' The Skull Leader explained quickly, 'We're just minions. We don't even know all of the details. The plans were made by our superiors. They passed the order down to us and we just execute their plan. We don't know the purpose of the missions.' Fade stared at the Skull Leader for a few seconds, and he couldn't find any telltale signs that he was lying. He sighed softly and thought to himself, 'Looks like the Skull Mob is even more discreet than I had imagined. Besides, their skills and their reputation seem greater than I had expected.' 'All four of them were Black Level masters at the middle stage. If they were to be placed in society, they would easily be mob bosses, enjoying endless glory and wealth. But here in the Skull Mob, they are just minions who execute missions, and their existence is nearly at the lowest level of the chain of command.' 'What skills do the superiors of the Skull Mob possess? It is possible that they are at the peak of the Black Level. They could even be Earth Level or Heaven level masters!' Fade was completely shocked, but at the same time, he was confused. 'Why would people like them put a target on Jeremy or Quin? Quin may be a billionaire, with huge amounts of assets.'

But these things mean nothing in the face of a Black Level master.' 'Could it be that they are all connected to Quin's mother and Wushuang Tower?' Something crossed Fade's mind, as he suddenly thought of something. After all, the Wushuang Tower was a Heaven Level force, and Chrystal Xie's sudden disappearance was a little out of the ordinary. This little minion in front of him didn't have the answers to these questions. Fade shook his head and was about to end the Skull Leader's suffering with a wave of his hand. Then, he thought of something else and asked, 'The Deity that you were talking about what Deity is that?' 'Ah!' the Skull Leader was stunned for a moment. He said, 'What do you mean? The deity is our God.' 'I mean, what's so special about him? Or what is his image?' Fade asked. The Skull Leader answered, 'He's our omnipotent God. He can create everything around us. As for his image, our God is the embodiment of all things, and he is both omnipotent and omnipresent.' Fade shook his head in disappointment. This organization felt like a fanatical and irrational group to him. He couldn't get anything useful out of this interrogation at all, and he was once again ready to end things. Then, he suddenly caught a glimpse of the Skull Leader's mask. There was a symbol, located in between the eyebrows, of a seedling, as if it was sprouting out of the soil. 'What does this symbol mean?' Fade asked. The Skull Leader was dazed, and he took a look at the symbol. He said, 'It, it doesn't mean anything. All of our skull masks have this logo on it. It's just there for decoration.' 'Just for decoration?' Fade furrowed his brows, and a sense of doubt crept up from within him. He could vaguely remember that he had seen something like this before, but he couldn't seem to put his finger on when he had seen it..

Fade Chen patted his head, and he tried to remember this symbol, but he still couldn't do so. In the end, he could only shake his head as he placed this symbol at the back of his mind. After that, Fade reached his hand out and slammed the Skull Leader's head without a moment of hesitation. He was killed instantly. Quin Lin had already woken up by the time Fade got back to the hotel. As soon as she saw him, she bit her lips with tears welling up in her eyes. She threw herself at him and buried herself in his embrace as she started to cry. Fade was surprised that his wife would take the initiative to hug him so tightly. He was a little dazed, then he wrapped his arms around her and patted her on the back. He comforted her softly, saying, 'Honey, it's okay. It's okay now, everything's fine now. As long as you have me, everything will be just fine.' Quin was still sobbing softly in Fade's embrace. It wasn't another ten minutes before she wiped her tears away and left his arms with bloodshot eyes. Quin didn't expect her tears to trickle down her face all the way to her chest, causing her clothes to be wet. Her pajamas were already somewhat transparent, and the cloth stuck to her skin even more now, exposing her snow-white skin. Fade's eyes widened at such a beautiful sight, and he couldn't get himself to look elsewhere. Quin caught on to Fade's expression, and she lowered her head and caught a glimpse of her clothes. She blushed as she held her hand up to her chest and turned away. Fade said with a grin, 'My dear wife, we're married now. There's nothing to be shy of.' He might say such words, but Fade brought a coat for his wife and help her to put it on gently. Quin calmed herself down, and she sat beside Fade. She asked him softly, 'Then, do you have any news on Jeremy?' Fade shook his head lightly and said gently. 'No news.'

According to those people, Jeremy was brought here by another group of people, and they left after taking pictures. ‘Who are those people? What do they want Jeremy for, and why did they ask for me to come here?’ Quin asked. Fade shook his head once again and said, ‘I’m not really sure yet. Maybe they wanted to kidnap you and ask for ransom?’ Fade didn’t tell her his speculations, that the Skull Mob could be connected to Quin’s mother, Chrystal Xie. After all, his wife had been through a lot in this period of time. Fade intended to allow her to relax, instead of continuing to put pressure on her. Quin stopped asking more questions upon hearing Fade’s answer. Her gaze landed on Fade as she said softly, ‘Fade, thank you!’ Fade answered with a grin, ‘My silly wife, I am your husband. You don’t have to thank me for doing something for you. You’re too kind.’ Fade stretched out his hand and caressed Quin’s pale cheeks gently. Quin only smiled, and she didn’t push Fade’s hand away. He had a beautiful wife, but Fade couldn’t bring himself to harbor any amorous feelings right now. He wanted his wife to have a good night’s rest. The couple journeyed back home the next morning. Upon returning to Long City, Quin buried herself in the company’s affairs almost immediately without giving herself a break. Seeing her in this state, Fade’s heart started to ache. He tried to talk some sense into her, but Quin wouldn’t listen to him. Fade knew that his wife was using her work to numb herself, as she was feeling extreme pressure in her heart. ‘I have to find a way to let her relax, so that she can let go of some of that pressure,’ Fade pondered on the ways he could help his wife take a break. Right then, the doorbell rang, Fade went to the door to open it, only to find that there was no one standing on the other side of the door. ‘Who is playing a prank on me?’ Fade wondered, and he was confused. A figure jumped from behind the door and darted in Fade's direction. Fade's nerves tense up, and he was instinctively ready to attack. However, he discovered that the person was no other than Momo Soo. Fade quickly put his hands away. Momo suddenly jumped into his arms like a koala hugging a tree. 'Momo, what are you doing here in Long City?' Fade asked. Wrinkling her little nose, Momo said, 'Brother-in-law, you must be so confused that you've even lost track of the time.' 'Time? What do you mean?' Fade was dumbfounded. Momo knocked Fade a few times on the head and said, 'My stupid brother-in-law, tomorrow is the first of May, Labor's Day. I've come to Long City to see you both because it's a school holiday.' 'Oh, labor's day, a holiday!' Fade was suddenly enlightened. He looked at Momo who was still clinging onto him and said, 'Momo, can you come down now? It's not really appropriate for us to be standing at the door like this.' 'Brother-in-law, are you afraid that my sister will be jealous if she sees us?' Momo said. She wrinkled her nose, with a cute and playful smile on her face. Fade pinched her lightly on the nose and said, 'Your sister's not at home. What should I be afraid of?' Momo thought of something and said, 'What are you trying to insinuate, brother-in-law?' Momo blinked mischievously at Fade as she spoke, even deliberately pulling on her own shirt collar, exposing her delicate collarbones and smooth shoulders. She wriggled in Fade's arms seductively. Fade muttered 'Little goblin' to himself, as he quickly pried Momo off from his body. She didn't let go of him, but she buried herself in Fade's arms playfully. 'My dear brother-in-law, why are you upset? Are you feeling a little aroused?' she said. Fade quickly shook his head and retorted, 'Nonsense! I am a noble gentleman in every sense of the word.' Momo blinked her eyes as she said with a smile, 'Is that so? Then why do I feel...’ Fade felt a sudden embarrassment and retreated. He pushed his derriere slightly backward and coughed awkwardly. ‘Don’t talk nonsense. I, I didn’t react, he said. ‘Brother-in-law, what sort of reaction are you talking about?’ Momo said. She looked at Fade innocently, and pulled out a bunch of keys from his pocket. Then, she said, ‘I meant your keys, my dear brother-in-law, they’re so hard. What were you thinking of?’ Fade was rendered speechless, thinking that he will never outdo this little goblin. Therefore, he quickly changed the topic and said, ‘Momo, I bet you’ve haven’t had anything to eat since your arrival in Long City. How about I take you out for a meal?’ Momo replied, ‘That won’t be necessary. I’ve had something to eat on the way here. Besides, it’ll be dinner time soon, i’ll just eat later.’ Speaking of dinner, Momo couldn’t help but let out a sigh and said, ‘Ever since both of you moved to Long City, I haven’t been able to drop by the mansion for meals. I couldn’t taste Housekeeper Wong’s cooking anymore. My cravings are killing me.’ ‘Housekeeper Wong is not the only one who can cook up a storm, because I can too! I’ll cook dinner for you,’ Fade said confidently, patting on his chest. ‘Brother-in-law, you know how to cook?’ Momo asked, and she was surprised.

‘Of course I can. Your brother-in-law’s cooking is amazing. The food that I prepare looks good, smells good and tastes good as well. The food is also very nutritious. Monks will leave their calling and return to the secular world if they smell it, and kings won't stop talking about it and the gods would descend to the mortal world for it! Fade Chen boasted. 'Then, what are you waiting for? Go, go, go and cook!' Momo Soo said. She was drooling and she pushed Fade into the house. Fade was at a loss for words as he said, 'We can't, we don't have any ingredients at home. We need them if we're going to cook!' 'We're going grocery shopping! Uh, okay, let's go then, brother-in-law!' Momo said. She started pulling Fade, and ran in the opposite direction. Fade was speechless. 'Momo, you have to at least set your luggage down before you go grocery shopping, don't you?' he said. 'Oh, oh.' The little goblin had turned into a little greedy munchkin in the blink of an eye. She quickly put down her luggage and pulled Fade out of the house again. Fade was not one to be stingy when he did his grocery shopping, because he was not short of money. They arrived at a high-end supermarket, and bought only the freshest of ingredients. He looked at the route and realized that they were actually not that far away from his wife's office. Then, he looked at the time and found that she would be finishing her work soon. In the end, Fade drove to the entrance of the company and said to Momo, 'Let's wait for your sister to get off work, and then we'll go shopping together. We can buy whatever it is that you want to eat.' Momo looked at Fade in astonishment and said, 'Brother-in-law, I've never thought that you cared so much about my sister! You two were so cold back in Bay City. I almost thought that you guys were a fake couple!' 'We were, at least in the beginning,' Fade said. He wiped off some cold sweat as he thought to himself, 'This little goblin is tricky indeed!' He wanted to go shopping with his wife because he wanted her to relax, and

Momo was in town. She would feel less pressure and sadness. Also, they needed to eat. Therefore, the both of them waited until it was time, and they dashed into the president's office. They did everything they could to pull Quin Lin out of there. Momo held Quin's hand as they arrived at the supermarket noisily. The trio began to shop for groceries. Fade asked the two girls what they would like to eat, then he quickly bought a load of things. In the end, the three of them pushed their cart and queued up at the counter for payment. However, Momo thought of something. Her footsteps slowly came to a halt as they passed by the fruits, and her eyes couldn't stop scanning the area. Quin noticed this and she said, 'Momo, just go ahead and buy your favorite fruits.' Momo pulled Quin over to one specific corner. Pointing at the fruits, she said, 'Sister, what do you think of these fruits?' Quin's gaze landed on a bunch of papayas. Dumbfounded, she asked, 'Momo, you hate the taste of papayas, don't you? Why are you?' Momo stared at Quin's chest, then she pointed at her own and said, 'Sister, I heard that you can make these bigger by eating papayas. I want to be just like you, so I wanted to try. Never in a million years would Quin expect Momo to think of this. She blushed and said, 'Momo, you're still young. You don't have to care about these things yet.' Momo pouted and said, 'I remember that yours were already bigger than mine when you were at my age! That means I have to start making up for it now.' As she was saying this, Momo picked up two papayas and put them in the cart. Then, she thought about the matter and threw two more into the cart. Quin let out a sigh and her hand clutched her forehead. She didn't realize that her chest was stretching on the blouse that she was wearing, until she looked down at it herself. 'Momo, that's enough. You've bought so many of them! Can you even finish them? Besides, you don't even like the taste of papayas.' Momo pouted again upon hearing Quin's comment. She complained, 'Oh, what should I do? I hate papayas, but I want them to grow bigger. This, this is such a dilemma!' Quin looked around guiltily. Then, she put her hand over Momo's mouth and whispered, 'Momo, we're outside now. Don't just say things as you like.' Momo pouted and she tugged at her own clothes as she said, 'Look, sister. It becomes flat every time I pull on my blouse!' A company president like Quin, with her ice cold temperament, would never get used to talking about these kinds of topics in public. She couldn't help but blush, and her face was as red as a tomato. She felt that everyone was looking at her strangely. Right at this moment, a faint voice could be heard. 'To be honest, Momo, yours aren't that small either. You don't need to grow them bigger on purpose.' When Momo saw that it was Fade who had spoken, she exclaimed, 'Brother-in-law, you think mine are not too small? But it sure looks a lot smaller in size compared to my sister's!' 'Then, does it mean that she has something cushioned in it, and that's why it looks relatively bigger, but it is not actually bigger? Brother-in-law, you must know the actual size. Tell me about it,' Momo couldn't stop talking about it. Quin glared at Fade, and her cheeks were flushed. Fade replied with a dry cough and quickly changed the subject, 'Actually, Momo! There are many ways of preparing papayas. I know of one, and it's really good too. Something that will absolutely suit your taste buds.' 'Real?' Momo was delighted. 'Absolutely!' Fade nodded quickly. Momo's lips broke into a smile, then something else seemed to have crossed her mind. She said anxiously, 'Brother-in law, will the papayas lose their nutrients and become less effective with the way that you are preparing them?' The little girl tugged on her own clothes again as she spoke. Fade couldn't help looking at her chest, and he quickly answered upon seeing his wife's dark expressions, 'Don't you worry, Momo. They won't lose their nutrients, I promise.' 'Besides, papayas are not the best remedy if you want them to grow bigger. You can also try other things such as catfish soup, stewed pig with peanuts and white fungus! You can also try getting massages ahem, maybe you don't need those, Fade said. 'Really? Are these things really effective?' Momo said excitedly. 'Brother-in-law, make a portion of each of these things later!' She added. 'You'll tire me to death!' Fade replied. He wanted to cry, but tears didn't appear. He could only promise her, 'Don't worry about it. I'll prepare all these things for you.' Now that the little beauty was satisfied, Fade and Quin quickened their pace, pushing the cart all the way toward the cashier. Then, they dashed home. They were concerned that Momo, the little beauty, might have other shocking comments to voice out in public. Upon returning home, Quin could finally heave a sigh of relief. She got out of the car and carried the things into the house. She wanted to ask Momo to have a chat with her. She needed Momo to be more aware of her actions when she was in public. She was an adult now, so she should be careful of her words. However, as soon as Quin entered the house, the first thing she saw was Momo taking off her jacket, revealing a crop top. She stood in front of the mirror, tugging on her clothes, checking her size and mumbling, 'It doesn't feel small, but why does it look smaller than sister's?' Quin was rendered speechless. She quickly brought a cardigan and used it to cover Momo. 'Momo, why are you barely wearing anything? There are others at home to you know,' she said. Momo pouted and said, 'Sister, brother-in-law is not an outsider. What's there to be afraid of? Besides, brother-in law...'

Meanwhile, Fade was in the kitchen preparing dinner. His heart almost popped out of his chest when he heard this. He was afraid that Momo's big mouth might say something out of the blue again. He would be involved in a tragedy if that happened. Thankfully, in the end, Momo only muttered and said, 'Sister, it's not like brother-in-law hasn't seen yours before.' 'We're talking about you right now, don't make it about me.' Quin said. She blushed as she pulled Momo toward the room. 'Let's go, follow me into the room. It's about time for me to have a real talk with you,' she said. Momo was helplessly dragged into the room by Quin, but she didn't forget to make a face at Fade who was still in the kitchen, even at the last minute. Fade wiped away the beads of sweat on his forehead, silently cursing the little goblin. 'She must have said that on purpose, because she just wants to scare the hell out of me,' he thought to himself..

Seeing Momo Soo and Quin Lin walking into the room, Fade Chen could only think to himself, 'Don't talk nonsense please, little girl!' Fade started to cook as he was thinking about this. He had put in a lot of effort to cook this time. He prepared the dishes that Momo, the little goblin, had requested. Fade became even more focused and he continued with the preparation of the dishes. The catfish soup, stewed pig with peanuts, white fungus and the papayas that she specifically bought were all prepared carefully.

After over an hour of cooking, Fade was done. He had a full table of dishes. After laying out the table, he announced to the room, 'The meal is ready, let's eat.' Then, Fade saw Momo hopping out of Quin's room. His wife was walking behind her, looking unaffected. Seeing this, Fade finally heaved a sigh of relief. Momo probably didn't spout any nonsense. Quin went to the kitchen to help Fade lay out the dishes. Momo approached Fade with a mischievous look. She whispered, 'Don't worry, brother-in-law. I didn't mention the incident where you peeped at my boobs and stalked me when I was bathing. Don't worry!' Hearing this, Fade felt anxious. He glared at Momo, wiped the cold sweat on his forehead, and said, 'Those are all accidents. Do you know what an accident means? I didn't do it on purpose. It was just an accident.' 'Really? If it was an accident, that means that it was no big deal,' The little beauty said. She held her chin as if she was contemplating something. 'Well, in that case, I'll have a chat with sister later and mention all these things to her,' she said. Fade felt that his head was about to explode. He quickly covered Momo's mouth and said, 'Little girl, stop spouting nonsense.' Momo said with a buzzing voice, 'Brother-in-law, if you don't let go of me, my sister will come over soon.' Fade took a look and noticed that Quin was coming over with the dishes. When she saw Fade and Momo together, she naturally asked, 'What's wrong?' Fade shook his head and said, 'It's nothing!' 'There is something!' Momo purposely said. Fade was scared and he shrank his neck. Then, the little girl added, 'I just wanted to have a taste of the dishes. But brother-in-law won't let me eat them.' Fade felt as if his heart was on a roller coaster, going up and down rapidly. Wiping his cold sweat, he smiled and said, 'Well, I was asking her to bring the rice.' 'Momo, go wash your hands. Come and eat after you're done.' Quin said. Momo turned her head and blinked at Fade. Then, she jumped over joyfully to wash her hands. Quin put down the plate, gave Fade a strange look and said, 'Are you very hot? Why are you sweating so much?' Fade shook his head promptly. 'No no, I'm not hot. I'm not hot.' The food was served and the three of them sat down. Looking at the table full of dishes, Momo and Quin both looked surprised. 'Brother-in-law, do you really know how to cook?' 'From the appearance, they look good. However, we still don't know the taste of these dishes yet.' Fade said confidently, 'The taste of the dishes is definitely good. You'll know once you try them!' As they chatted, Fade took the initiative to serve Quin some dishes. Momo was more proactive and she served herself a small bowl of catfish soup right away. After taking her first bite, her large round eyes widened even further. As she chewed on the fish, she nodded non-stop. 'Yummy, it's really yummy. Brother-in-law, you're amazing! You're actually a really good cook!' Meanwhile, Quin also took a bite of the dish that Fade had served her. She looked surprised. She would not have expected Fade to be so talented at cooking, 'If it's good, then please eat more!' Fade said. She smiled and served them more food. He watched happily as they ate the food. The little goblin, Momo, was indulging herself. She was gobbling down all of the food boldly. She ate the food from the dishes that she had requested in big gulps, whilst mumbling, 'Eat more, it must grow bigger, even bigger!' Quin who was sitting on the opposite was left speechless. Whatever she had taught her earlier was now all forgotten. After helping themselves generously, the food on the table was all eaten up. They drank all the soup as well. Momo leaned back on the sofa clumsily. She lifted her top and patted her little round belly. Even Quin, who rarely ate much, burped.

Immediately, she was blushing in embarrassment. Momo rubbed her belly and looked at Fade, saying, 'Brother in-law, it's all your fault. You've caused my belly to swell!' Fade, who was washing up the dishes, almost fainted when he heard this. Quin quickly scolded her as well. 'Don't spout nonsense, Momo. Watch your words!' 'What words? I said that the dishes my brother-in-law prepared are so delicious that my belly swelled. There is no other meaning!' Momo said. After a pause, she looked at Quin with a look of realization and said, 'Oh, I see that's what you mean, sister? Don't worry, my swelling belly is not from pregnancy, I just had too much food.' Seeing how Quin was looking more serious and starting to lecture her again, Momo said mischievously, 'Sister, brother in-law and yourself have been married for so long. Why is there no news from your belly yet? Do you guys not want a baby? Quin did not expect Momo to suddenly mention this, and she blushed instantly. Sure enough, she had forgotten the fact that she was going to lecture Momo. She then waved her hand and said, 'Let's not talk about this. How's your learning progress, Momo?' Momo pouted and said, 'Sister, the way you changed the topic was so awkward.' Quin's cheeks were flushed and she could not speak a word. Fade was coming out with a plate in his hand and he tried to lessen the tension in the atmosphere. 'Ding ding ding, desserts are now served!' he said. Sure enough, when it came to food, Momo got distracted immediately. When she saw the steaming hot plate, she sniffed hard, with her face filled with anticipation. She asked, 'Brother-in-law, what is this?' Fade smiled mysteriously and said, 'You will know when you eat it.' Then, Fade handed a small spoon to each of them. Momo grabbed a spoon and walked over. Immediately, she saw the golden color on the plate. It smelled amazing, and the plate was filled with a strong milky fragrance. Instantly, Momo transformed into a greedy little munchkin. She reached out her spoon and scooped up a spoonful of tofu-like paste. She looked at it a bit, and then sniffed it with her tiny nose before putting it in her mouth. After chewing it gently, Momo's eyes widened, and her mouth stopped moving. Her throat rolled around a little, and the food slid down straight into her stomach. Seeing how Momo was reacting, Quin's curiosity was piqued. She looked at Momo and asked, 'What do you think of it, Momo? How does it taste?' Momo had a blank stare for a moment as if she was savoring the dessert. Then, her eyes suddenly lit up as she said, 'So smooth, so tender! I want some more!' After that, she dug out another spoonful and stuffed it into her mouth..

Seeing that Momo Soo was so into it, Quin Lin was intrigued. She also scooped up a small spoonful, took a look at it, and then put it into her mouth. She pursed her lips and chewed lightly. It was really smooth and tender, and there was a milky fragrance overflowing between her teeth and lips. It was truly exquisite and delicious. This time, even Quin let go of her elegant image. She stretched out her arms and quickly scooped up the food from the plate. She did not care about her image at all and was fighting over it with Momo. After a while, the plateful of delicious food was wiped out. The two girls looked at the empty plate still thinking about having more. They put down the spoons in their hands and sighed, ‘Oh my god, It’s so delicious, it’s really really delicious.’ Fade Chen smiled and he looked at the two girls who were fighting over the food. He smiled in a satisfied manner. Upon seeing this, Quin’s pretty face blushed instantly, and a tinge of shyness appeared on her face. Momo hopped over to Fade’s side, took his arm and asked curiously, ‘Brother-in-law, what’s this dessert? It’s so yummy!’ Even though Quin did not speak from the side, her face was also full of curiosity. She wanted to know the answer as well. Fade smiled, looked at Momo, and said, ‘Momo, you bought them yourself. How can you not recognize them?’ ‘I bought them? What?’ Momo looked confused. Fade’s gaze swept across Momo’s chest, and he said, ‘It’s papaya!’ ‘Ah, this is papaya!’ Momo said in surprise and disbelief. ‘What? It’s papaya? Why does it taste completely different from the papaya that I ate last time?’ Fade introduced the dish with a smile, ‘I have processed it in a special way, and this dessert is papaya and eggs steamed in milk.’ ‘Papaya and eggs steamed in milk! How did you prepare that? Brother-in-law, please tell me quickly. Once I’ve learned how to make that, I’ll make them for myself for all the amazing nourishing elements,’ Momo asked curiously while staring at her chest again. Fade looked at Momo, who was excited, and said with a smile, ‘It is very simple. First, wash the papaya and cut it into pieces. Then, mix the brown sugar and eggs together. After stirring them, add some warm milk. That’s the base of this dessert. Finally, all you have to do is add the papaya pieces in, cook it in the steamer and there you have it.’ ‘That’s it? It’s that simple?’ Momo asked with her large eyes wide open. ‘Yes, it’s that simple,’ Fade spread his hands and said, Momo smiled and said, ‘I remember it now. When I go back, I’ll prepare it myself.' Quin didn't say anything, but she blinked her eyes as though she was also trying to remember the steps of making this dessert. After dinner, Quin was in a good mood. She did not go upstairs to start work again. Instead, she sat on the sofa and chatted with Momo. Fade listened quietly by the side, watching the smile on Quin's lips from time to time. He thought to himself, 'It's really good that Momo is here to accompany my wife and allow her to relax.' At that moment, Momo asked, 'Brother-in-law, tomorrow is labor day, and it is a holiday. Do you know of any fun activities in Long City?' Fade thought for a while and informed her of a few famous attractions. When she heard all these suggestions, she shook her head and said, 'Brother-in-law, those places are just famous, and the scenery is just average as well. Besides, there will be many people there on labor day. I don't know if I will be watching the people or the scenery then.' Fade laughed and said, 'Momo, if you are worried that there will be too many people, then your brother-in-law can always close down the spot and let you go there alone.' 'Brother-in-law, please at least come up with a more logical boast! You can't possibly shut down the attraction spots on holidays like this, Momo said. She didn't believe him. 'Momo, I'm not bragging at all. I'll make a phone call and immediately shut down the entire place,' Fade said. He was not bragging. He was now the top dog of Long City. Even a powerful family like the Sun Family had submitted themselves to him. It was way too easy to shut down an entire attraction spot. However, Momo didn't take him seriously. She shook her head and said, 'Brother-in-law, stop bragging. Besides, there isn't much to see in those spots. Even if we shut it down for ourselves, it's still just average. I wonder if there are any other spots that are not as popular? Sister, do you know?' Quin was a workaholic and she did not know of any good places to go for occasions like this, so she shook her head immediately. Fade came up with an idea and said, 'I do know of a place. Why don't we go there together tomorrow, and we can relax there too.' When Quin heard his words, she waved her hand and said, 'You can go with Momo. I probably won't go. There is still some stuff in the company, I' Fade gave Momo a look, so she added promptly, 'Sister, it's a holiday tomorrow, so why are you still going to the office! Come have fun with me!' 'Let your brother-in-law accompany you! There is really some stuff in the company that I need to sort out,' Quin said. 'Sister, it's alright to just leave the company stuff now.' Momo shook Quin's arm and said, 'Dear, bosses also need to rest. What's more, as the boss, if you have to work overtime on holiday, what are the employees supposed to do? If they see their boss working overtime, how could they not work too? You are depriving them of their holiday!' 'This...' Quin never thought of this and was getting a little hesitant. Momo quickly took advantage of the conversation and continued, 'Sister, brother-in-law is right. Besides, won't you worry about letting brother-in-law go with me alone?' Fade suddenly felt that something wasn't quite right from what she said. He gave Momo a look, hinting that the little girl should stop spouting nonsense. Quin was also taken aback as she stared at Momo in surprise. Momo, with her innocent look, said, 'Big sister, I mean when brother-in-law goes out with me, I can't stop him from hooking up with other beautiful women. Big sister, you have to go so you can keep an eye on him.' Fade felt incredulous. These examples were inappropriate! He could only go with the flow based on what Momo had said and continued to persuade Quin. 'Dear, that place is not far away. It is just a farm. It is not famous, so there won't be many people. It's beautiful there, and there is a hot spring there as well. It is a good place to rest and relax,'he said. 'It's nice to go to the hot springs. Last time I-' Speaking of hot springs, Momo, the little girl, glanced at Fade. She probably recalled the previous incident at the hot springs. Fade coughed and interrupted, 'Dear, it's not easy for you to see Momo. Do you really want to refuse her request?' After being pestered by Fade and Momo, Quin finally agreed, 'Alright, I'll go with you guys!' 'Yeah, that's great!' Momo said. She celebrated in excitement, and at the same time, she did not forget to give Fade a wink. She wanted to be praised. Fade quickly nodded to appease that little goblin Otherwise, who knew when she would say something crazy again..

Early in the morning the next day, Fade Chen went out with the two women with two huge bags. If Fade hadn't mentioned that they have everything in the villa, Momo Soo would have even taken all the bowls and pots with her. Fade drove toward the villa. The villa was about 50 kilometers away from the center of Long City, and it was built on an obscure hill. It was originally built for vacation by a wealthy old man, but after his death, his children did not have time to come to the villa, and they did not want to waste it either. Therefore, they simply turned the villa into a hotel, receiving tourists on normal days and earning some money for maintenance, Since the goal of the villa was not for profit, there was no publicity at all. Only some acquaintances within the circle shared about it. Fade knew of this place from Caesar Du. The car arrived at the foot of the hill. The villa was on top of the hill. Compared with other attractions which were bustling with people and packed, there were not many tourists here. However, the scenery of the hills was extremely breathtaking. There were lush green trees, and they could hear the sound of flowing streams nearby to. The scenery was undeniably as good as those popular attractions, Fade carried the bags and walked to the villa on top of the hill with the two ladies. Occasionally, some local villagers could be seen selling local specialties on the roadside. Momo was curious about everything. She would look around and ask around. When they reached the top of the hill, Fade was already carrying another large bag, When they reached the entrance of the villa, there were even fewer people there. After all, the price for one of the rooms here was not cheap, and not a lot of people could afford to stay there. Fade, Quin and Momo obviously were not worried about money. They had already booked three rooms, so they went into the villa with their bags. The villa was indeed built by the rich for their own use, Every part of the villa was well-designed and the materials used were all high in quality. All the decorations inside were very sophisticated too. The wealthy people who stayed here in the past were certainly cultured. After leaving their luggage in the room, the three of them walked around the villa. The area was not very big, so it only took them a while to walk one round. Behind the villa was a small courtyard, in which there were exquisite bridges, flowing streams, ornate pavilions, monuments and stones. The style was rich in oriental elements. Being immersed in that environment, anyone would feel calm.

Quin was obviously in a much better mood, and she had a faint smile on her lips. Fade was relieved. It was definitely the right decision to bring his wife for a trip. At noon, lunch was served in the villa. The food was relatively plain, and there was not much meat either. However, the chef was obviously a master. The vegetarian dishes were delicious and Momo had a good appetite again. She was so full in the end that her stomach was quite bloated. After lunch, they took a walk around to help with the digestion of the food. The three of them went to the hot springs of the villa. The hot springs here were different than the ones that Fade and Momo had been to before. The hot spring water was transmitted using pipes into separate bathrooms so the guests could enjoy their baths individually. Of course, there were also rooms for couples. However, Fade did not dare to ask his wife for this. He took his clothes and went to take a bath on his own. The water from the hot springs was not bad, but not amazing either. Fade took a casual bath, then he put on his clothes and came out. Quin and Momo were not as fast. They were still enjoying their baths in their section, so Fade came out and wandered around alone. As he strolled around, Fade came to the back of a building without realizing it. It was surrounded by lush trees and all kinds of wild flowers. The scenery there was pretty good. Just as Fade was enjoying the scenery under the mountain breeze, he heard a strange noise all of a sudden. He soon caught a glimpse of a figure coming from the bush. Fade immediately frowned and tried to hide behind some trees. Then, he looked in the direction of the figure through the cracks between the leaves. The figure was that of a young man in his twenties. He was dressed casually and he had a hood over his head. He looked around, then he sneaked through the bushes and moved toward the villa. Fade became anxious when he witnessed this. He said to himself, 'A thief?' The figure walked to the back of the building. Instead of climbing up the wall, he stared at it and kept on going, as if he was looking for something on the wall. After walking for a few meters, he seemed to have found something. He took out a wire in his hand, stretched it to the wall, and began to take action. Fade was a little far away, so he couldn't see what he was doing at first. But when that guy finally took out half a brick, Fade realized that this guy was trying to dig a hole. 'Why dig a hole? Does he want to break through the wall and then get in? But that is not necessary. There are many other entrances in this villa, and it's also easy to get in' Fade thought to himself. Just as Fade was feeling puzzled, he suddenly remembered the floor plan of the villa. He said to himself, 'This wall happens to be the place where the hot spring bathroom is located. So this guy is not here to steal things, but to take a peek inside.' At the thought that Quin and Momo were still bathing, Fade became anxious and he immediately rushed over. 'Damn it, this guy wants to peep at my wife taking a bath!' The voyeur took out the brick cautiously. He was about to put it down and enjoy the view. However, he felt a strong wind blowing on his side, and he saw a figure rushing over. Caught off guard, he was directly kicked down to the ground by his opponent. The voyeur grimaced in pain, but he did not dare to make a sound. He glared at Fade and shouted in a deep voice, 'What are you doing?' Fade glanced at the brick that had been taken out and stared at the voyeur angrily 'What do you think I'm doing?' The voyeur was stunned, and then he smiled and said, 'Brother, since we are interested in the same thing, I won't hide anything. Let's watch this together. I know that there are two beautiful women in there right now. They are absolute beauties. It's worth it to watch them here.' 'Brother, I have dug out a hole. I'll let you have the first look. Brother, I'm such a good friend, ain't I?' The voyeur stood up and said this with an expression like they were close friends. However, Fade slapped him and shouted, 'You are spouting nonsense. That's my wife inside. You want to look at my wife. 'Pah!' He hit the voyeur a few times, and his head became swollen. The voyeur quickly begged for mercy, saying, 'Big brother, big brother, I am wrong. I didn't know that it's your wife. If I knew, I would never take a peek. Really, big brother, this is my first time. I have to beg for mercy from you. Please let me go!' 'Damn it! Can you be so skillful if this was your first time? And you specifically inquired whether there were beauties inside.' Fade said. He slapped him once again, which caused the swelling to become even worse. The voyeur curled up on the ground and begged for mercy, with his head buried in his arms..

The voyeur's nose was bruised and his face was swollen. He could hardly speak at this point. Fade Chen kicked him away and shouted in a deep voice, 'Get out of here, get out of here as far as you can!' The voyeur fled like a rat and ran away as fast as he could. Seeing that guy disappear, Fade's anger cooled down a little. 'Damn it, I haven't seen that gorgeous view myself. How can I let that guy see it first. Thank goodness I came just in time.' Thinking of this angrily, Fade picked up the brick on the ground and was trying to put it back. Meanwhile, he accidentally saw the person inside. Fade's mind immediately went crazy. 'Well, let me have a look. She's my wife anyway. It shouldn't be a big deal!' Fade thought of this idea. 'Ahem, it's actually not that good of an idea, right?' Fade was in a dilemma. He felt indecisive. Right then, the noise of water splashing came from the bathroom. Fade thought to himself, 'It's better to make a decision now. Otherwise, my wife will be done soon.' So, Fade took out a coin from his pocket and whispered to himself, 'Let's decide by flipping this coin.' 'If it lands on heads, I'll take a peek; if it lands on tails, then I'll peek for a little longer; if the coin ends up standing up, then I won't have a peek at all.' 'Ahem, that is quite fair!' Fade said to himself and then threw the coin in the air. The coin began to spin rapidly. When it reached the highest point, it started to fall and eventually fell to the ground with a clinking sound. Fade looked down and was dumbfounded because the coin had actually fallen into the soft mud and was standing up straight. 'God, are you playing with me?' Fade complained. Then, he stamped his feet heavily on the ground. The ground shook and then the coin tipped over. Fade picked up the coin, coughed dryly, and whispered to himself, 'Ahem, yes, it's heads. I can take a peek!' Then, Fade leaned in and looked through the hole to peek inside. Fade noticed a cloud of smoke in front of him. A figure was immersed in the hot spring, with her head facing down, revealing her slender neck, the sleek pale shoulders, and the graceful curve that was still hidden in the water. As Quin Lin raised her arms occasionally, the curves would appear. Fade's nose immediately became heated, and something seemed to flow out of it. Fade stared at that beautiful view without moving his eyes. Quin finished bathing. She stood up from the water and revealed her gorgeous figure right in front of Fade's eyes. The blood in Fade's nose could no longer be suppressed and it flowed out uncontrollably. Fade had no time to take care of his nosebleed. He fixed his eyes on the incredible view in front of him, afraid of missing any moment. Although Fade and his wife had had sex twice, he hadn't had any chance to observe his wife's body carefully. His wife dried herself and then stepped out from the pool, ready to come out. However, right at that moment, she slipped and fell to the ground. When her knees hit the ground, she started bleeding. Fade witnessed the blood being washed away by the running water. He could no longer care about the view. He quickly got up, stuffed in the brick, and then ran back. He asked for some gauze and medicine at the counter and rushed into the bathroom. With a 'Clang'. Fade pushed open the bathroom door and rushed in with a bottle of medicinal solution and gauze. He said nervously, 'Quin, you' Before he could finish his words, Fade was stunned by the little beauty who was drying herself in front of him. AS it turned out, it was not Quin's bathroom, but Momo Soo's. When Fade had broken in, Momo was sitting on the edge of the bath and wiping her body with a towel. Therefore, Fade saw the front view entirely. Momo didn't expect that the bathroom door would suddenly be pushed open. She was stunned at first, and then she screamed instinctively. When Fade saw this, he knew that this was not going to end well. He stepped forward, covered Momo's mouth, and quickly said: 'Momo, don't shout, don't shout, it's me!' Momo came to her senses. When she saw that it was Fade, she immediately relaxed a little. But then she looked down at her naked body and blushed immediately. She quickly pulled the bath towel to wrap herself up and glared at Fade. She said warily, 'Brother-in-law, are you trying to bully me? I'm telling you, my sister is right next door. If you dare to mess around, I'm going to scream out loud.' Fade quickly waved his hand and explained, 'No Momo, that's not what I intended. It's just a misunderstanding, a misunderstanding.' 'Is it really a misunderstanding? Then why did you break into my bathroom?' Momo asked. She stared at Fade, looking alert. Fade quickly raised the gauze and the medicine in his hand and said, 'Your sister got hurt. I came to deliver the medicine to her. I was in such a hurry. That's why I came to the wrong place by accident.' Seeing this, Momo nodded in disbelief. 'Oh, so that's why you are here! Brother-in-law, then you go ahead!' she said. Fade immediately got up and ran out as if he had been granted amnesty. Seeing Fade leave, Momo undid the bath towel, looked down at her body, and sighed. 'Well, I've been seen twice by brother-in-law now. I can't allow him to do this again,' she said. Fade escaped from her room. He walked to the front of Quin's bathroom next door and wanted to rush in. He reached out his hand, only to realize that he didn't have any reason to deliver the medicine! After all, he shouldn't have known that Quin was injured. If he went straight in, wouldn't he be admitting that he had taken a peek? Fade felt clueless. He was holding the medicine and gauze and turned to leave. Yet unfortunately, the bathroom door opened right at that moment, and Quin walked out wrapped in a towel. As soon as she opened the door, she saw a man standing at the door. Quin was startled. When she saw that it was Fade, she heaved a sigh of relief. Then, she asked curiously, 'Why are you here darling?' 'I was just strolling around!' Fade said with a chuckle. 'You were strolling around and then came to the bathroom door. You can't possibly be thinking of-' Quin said. She immediately pulled her bathrobe in an alert manner, and then she saw the gauze and medicine in Fade's hand. She felt even more strange now. 'You're casually strolling around with medicine and gauze?' she asked. 'I, I just brought them with me casually!' Fade replied. He couldn't find any good reason for his actions. Quin frowned, and then she looked at her bleeding knee and the medicine in Fade's hand. She seemed to have realized something. She glared at Fade and said angrily, 'You peeked at me taking a bath!'.

Fade Chen suddenly became very anxious and wanted to look for an excuse to cover up the situation. Yet, when he noticed Quin Lin's cold eyes, he decided to reveal the truth. He confessed that he had caught the voyeur by chance before finding out that Quin had slipped. Therefore, he had brought medication for her.

Certainly, some parts of the story were embellished. For instance, he allegedly noticed that Quin had slipped when he was trying to put the brick back. Then, he had immediately rushed to deliver the medication to her. Nothing had happened in between. When Quin heard that someone had been peeping at her, she was startled. However, she was relieved when she realized that the voyeur's plan had failed. Meanwhile, Momo Soo also came out in a bath towel as she had heard some noises and she asked, 'What is this matter about someone peeping?' Quin instantly explained about the peeping incident and reminded Momo to be careful. Obviously, she didn't mention that Fade had seen her falling down. Momo was shocked as soon as she heard that. She cried out, 'Oh, how dare this voyeur do such a thing! That's so scary. If he dared to peek at me, I would punish him heavily! Am I right, my brother-in-law?' While speaking, Momo glanced at Fade intentionally and winked mischievously. 'Oh yes, you're right!' Fade replied while nodding vaguely as his mind was about to explode. Then, he diverted the topic and said, 'Oh dear, your knees are still bleeding. Let's apply the medicine or there'll be scars.' Quin was freaked out when she thought that there might be scars on her legs and she didn't speak any further. She allowed Fade to apply the medicine on her. After applying the medicine and sending the two girls back to their rooms, Fade heaved a sigh of relief as he had successfully evaded trouble. In the evening, the three of them had dinner together. Then, they strolled around in the evening breeze. They gazed at the breathtaking scenery at the foot of the mountain while standing on the hillside. While they were wandering around, Momo found a bustling bazaar and was instantly attracted by it. After seeking information from the staff members of the villa, she received details of the bazaar. The bazaar was set up by the local people in conjunction of a ritual worship ceremony. At the bazaar, traditional handicrafts and delicacies were sold, and traditional performances were presented. Momo was deeply interested in this bazaar, so she dragged Fade and Quin along to visit it. Quin was in a good mood, so she nodded and agreed, whereas Fade's opinion wasn't important at all. He just had to accompany the two girls. The hill wasn't high and it was faster going downhill, so they reached the bazaar after about 10 minutes. Clearly, it was a unique bazaar. There were various traditional toys and snacks at stalls along the street such as clay figurines, cotton candy, and straw rope decorations.

Although they weren't delicate in creation, they were distinctive and special. Quin's eyes gleamed, as if she had returned to her childhood. She began to recall all of her beautiful memories. Meanwhile, Momo was busy craving for all sorts of traditional delicacies. Although she had just begun to stroll along the bazaar, her hands were already packed with various kinds of food. If she found something delicious, she would gobble them up cheekily. Otherwise, she would take a bite and pass it to Fade. Hence, Fade had some dried bean curd in his left hand and grilled eel in the other. He had to finish them regardless of the taste. As night descended upon them, various lanterns were lit up in the bazaar, which enhanced the rustic atmosphere of the bazaar. More people began to gather there. Moreover, most of the visitors at the bazaar were tourists who were staying at the villa. Therefore, they were richer and more generous, which delighted the vendors. The bazaar was relatively small and the number of visitors were moderate. Although it was festive, it was not chaotic. The atmosphere was remarkable. The two beautiful girls, Quin and Momo, soon found themselves in the limelight. Along the way, numerous guys turned around to keep an eye on them. Fade, on the other hand, was completely ignored. mo wiped After consuming various delicacies, Quin and Momo wiped their hands and entered the washroom. Fade could only carry the leftovers and eat them while waiting for the girls. Suddenly, Fade heard Momo yell, 'I told you don't follow me! Aren't you sick of doing that?!' Fade frowned and dashed over. Then, he saw a huge guy in a pair of sunglasses with a distorted face appearing before Momo. He confessed, 'My lady, I fell in love with you at first sight.' 'I believe you'll also fall for me when you see me. We're a perfect couple destined to live together forever. Oh lady, will you accept my love?’ Not to mention Momo, but even Fade felt disgusted and almost vomited the food that he had eaten when he witnessed this confession Momo replied helplessly. ‘I’m sorry. I’m not interested in you at all.’ ‘How can this be possible? I’m so handsome and polite. How can you show no interest in me?’ the huge guy said. He flicked his greasy hair and swayed his head. He smiled confidently and said, ‘Oh, I know. You must be shy to confess your feelings for me in public.’ ‘Don’t worry, I’m a considerate person. I won’t let a girl take the initiative. I’ll be the one who takes the initiative. Please accept my love!’ the huge guy insisted, smiling at Momo. Fade was puzzled by this huge guy’s baseless confidence. He was even more shameless than Fade himself. Perhaps he could be the most shameless person on earth. Momo was totally speechless and wanted to leave quickly but the huge guy followed her closely. Momo was infuriated, and even her flawless face couldn’t hide her anger. Then, she noticed Fade approaching and suddenly had an idea. She immediately rushed toward Fade and embraced him, much to his embarrassment. ‘Momo, you.’ Fade said softly. Momo whispered, ‘Fade, pretend to be my boyfriend. This guy is too annoying. Please help me to get rid of him.’ ‘This isn’t a good idea!’ Fade exclaimed. He panicked at the thought of how his wife, who was in the washroom nearby, would react when she saw them hugging. Momo couldn’t be bothered any more. She hugged Fade tightly and even pulled his bracelet to her waist. She whispered, ‘Fade, what’s wrong with that? Anyway, this isn’t your first time acting. Besides, you can take advantage of me, so why not?’.

- Chapter 385

‘But-‘ Fade was still very anxious. ‘Hmph! Stop hesitating. Brother-in-law, if you don’t say yes, I’ll tell my sister that you peeked at me when I was showering,’ Momo Soo said, using her trump card. Fade suddenly had no strength to resist, so he surrendered. He nodded and said, ‘Alright, alright. I promise, I promise. will help you to get rid of this ugly man. I definitely will make him go away with my good-looking appearance.’ ‘That’s more like it. Hurry up, get ready, that fellow is catching up.’ Momo said quickly. Then, she held Fade closely and turned around, looking at the fat ugly man. She smiled and said, ‘I’m sorry, I have a boyfriend, so I can’t accept your pursuit.’ When the man noticed the intimacy between Fade and Momo, he couldn’t help but be stunned. His gaze turned dim, then he scrutinized Fade. A few seconds later, his eyes fell on Momo again and he said, ‘My beautiful lady, I don’t think that he is suitable for you. Compared to me, he is much worse.’ ‘What!’ Fade was about to curse. ‘How can I be worse than you? Damn it,’ he said. However, the man was full of confidence. He looked at Fade with a judgmental expression and said, ‘Look at him. Regardless of height or appearance, he only gets 60 points. Compared with me, I will get 80 points. We are certainly not at the same level.’ ‘What the f*ck, you claim to get 80 points looking like that?’ Fade said. He felt the veins on his forehead throbbing continuously. The man continued. ‘Also, his attire and the clothes that he’s wearing now seems like they could be sold at roadside stalls. The price range is probably from one hundred to two hundred yuan. However, look at my clothes. This is Baleno, and the belt is from LV, and also - This guy kept on talking about himself, and Fade felt that his eyelids were shaking. ‘No matter how good the clothes are, when they are on your sphere-like body, the clothes do not look classy at all! he thought to himself. Consequently, the man was still bragging about himself. He continued, 'In terms of job and money, there is nothing much to talk about. You guys look like college students. After graduating, you can only earn a few thousand yuan at most monthly. Me? I am only 32 years old, and I already have my own company. My annual income has reached five hundred thousand yuan.' 'So, in all aspects, I'm superior to him. Therefore, my beautiful young lady, I am more suitable for you,' The man said confidently. Hearing this, Momo covered her small mouth and laughed continuously. She kept glancing at Fade and she whispered to him, 'Brother-in-law, did you hear that? He said that he is better than you. Fade rolled up his sleeves and said, 'Damn, this guy dares to be so pretentious in front of me. I'll show you what a real show-off is. Fade sneered and stepped forward. He inspected the man and snorted disdainfully. Seeing Fade acting up like that, the man said discontentedly. 'What? Are you dissatisfied with my comments on you? Come and refute me then. If you can beat me with anything that you have, you are considered the winner. Fade laughed and said, 'You're really confident.' 'With the abilities that I have, of course I am confident,' The man said. He shook his hair and smiled confidently again. Fade suddenly felt that he was going blind. He came forward and said, 'Do you think that you are more handsome than I am?' 'Obviously, yes,' The man said with a smile. He deliberately shoved his large face at a passer-by. Fade smiled secretly and said, 'I just uploaded your profile picture to the internet and allowed everyone to comment on your appearance. Do you dare to see the comments you get. 'There's nothing to be afraid of!' The man said. He smiled, but there was a slight tremor in his voice. Fade passed him the phone, and then he saw the comments below his picture, 'F*ck, is this a human being? He isn't an alien from another planet, is he?' 'Which lab did this monster escape from? Call the police and arrest him!' 'Compared to him, I am Celebrity Daniel Wu.' 'Owner of this post, did you photoshop this photo? Otherwise, how could someone look like this!' When passers-by heard these comments being read out, they couldn't help laughing, with their hands covering their mouths. On the other hand, the man's face was downcast. His facial expression looked unpleasant. He definitely knew how his appearance was, but he got ridiculed too much when he was a child. When he grew up and became rich, he had an intention of taking revenge, so he demanded people around him to call him a handsome guy. Gradually, he got used to those 'forced compliments' and really thought that he looked handsome. Now that Fade had exposed the lies that he had made up for himself all these years, the man almost burst into anger. Seeing the guy's facial expression, Fade patted on the man's shoulder and said, 'Buddy, in fact, it's not your fault to be ugly. After all, people shouldn't judge others by their looks. Appearances are given and decided when you are born, it can't be changed, but there are many other things that can be changed!' When the man heard this, he suddenly thought of something and nodded repeatedly. His heart fluttered and he said, 'Yes, I don't look good, but my education background, my career, and my finances are all excellent. I'm definitely better than him!' Thinking of this, the man snorted coldly. Then, he looked at Fade and said, 'Let's not talk about appearances. You are a poor student. How successful can you be in the future? No matter how successful you are in the future, you will just be a worker. Besides, you are not a graduate from a prestigious university. It's still uncertain whether you can survive in society in the future.’ After that, the man took out his cell phone. He showed Fade a document and said, ‘Do you see this? I graduated from the Normal University of Capital City. It’s a prestigious university. I’m God’s favored son. Which lousy university did you attend, and can it be compared to mine?’ ‘Also, I own a company, with an annual income of five or six hundred thousand yuan. How much is your income? Did you find a job? Ha, ha!’ The man said. He took out his VIP card and bragged about it. Fade nodded and said, ‘Oh, the Normal University of Capital City. It’s awesome! 500 or 600 thousand yuan a year. You’re so rich!’ ‘Now you know the gap between us, so hurry up and get away from this beautiful lady!’ The man said arrogantly. Fade took out his phone and found a document. He handed his phone over to the man and said with a smile, ‘I’m sorry you think that I’m from a lousy university, but I actually have a masters degree from Capital City University. ‘How is that possible, you –’ The man looked at Fade in incredulity. Fade immediately took out another black VIP card, shook it and said, ‘Oh, five or six hundred thousand yuan a year. It’s really a lot of money. It’s almost enough for my pocket money for a month.’ ‘Five hundred thousand yuan just for pocket money? You are lying-’ The man wanted to refute him. But at this time, a passer-by saw the black VIP card in Fade’s hand and said with a tone of surprise, ‘Look, that black VIP card is a top-notch card that can have an overdraft of 10 million yuan!’ ‘That’s right. In the whole city, I believe that the number of people who have such VIP cards can be counted with one hand.

Listening to the passer-by's amazement and discussion, the ugly man's face was completely stiff, and his face looked very unpleasant. The muscles on his face kept twitching, and the gaze he fixed on Fade Chen was indescribable. He gritted his teeth and said in a low voice, 'Fu*k, you're a wealthy and smart guy. Why are you pretending to be poor to deceive others? You're cheating us. Fade deliberately held the black card in his hand and finally put it back into his pocket. Then, he whistled while walking away with Momo Soo in his arms. After taking two steps, Momo seemed to have thought of something. She stood still, turned around, and looked at the man with a smile. She narrowed her eyes and said softly, 'That's right, there's one more thing that I forgot to tell you. There's another important reason why I chose him over you.' 'What's the reason?' The man asked. He stared at Momo, with his eyes filled with reluctance and slight expectation. Momo glanced at Fade, and then revealed a cunning smile. In a low voice, she said, 'My boyfriend's stamina is extremely good. Doing seven times a night isn't a problem for him. As for you, hehe, can you hold on for ten minutes every time?' The man suddenly seemed like he was struck by lightning. His whole body froze on the spot, and the expression on his face was indescribable. His muscles kept trembling, and in the end, he could only yell angrily, 'No, it's not fair. I didn't want to just last for less than ten minutes. I was born with this ability' The people around them were startled when they heard this. Thereafter, they covered their mouths and pointed at the man. They laughed quietly. Quite a number of women snickered. On the other hand, their male companions showed confident expressions. The men deliberately straightened their backs and walked past the ugly man arrogantly. The man suddenly wanted to cry, but no tears appeared. He ran away and went down the hill while wiping his tears. At the sight of this, Fade was dumbfounded. Then, he smiled and turned his eyes. He looked at Momo and said with a smile, 'Momo, how did you know that your brother-in-law is so strong and can do it seven times a night?' 'Brother-in-law, I just said that casually. Can you really do that?' Momo said. She looked at Fade with a skeptical expression. Fade immediately put his hands on his hips and said confidently, 'Momo, you can doubt my abilities in other aspects but not in this matter. Your brother-in-law is absolutely powerful. Not to mention seven times a night, even seventeen times in a day is not a problem.' Momo laughed, 'Brother-in-law, just continue bragging! Many guys brag that they can last for three hours while in fact they can only do so for three minutes.' 'Young girl, you are doubting your brother-in-law's ability. Do you want me to show you?' Fade said. Momo looked at Fade's eyes and deliberately pulled down her collar, revealing her fair skin. With her eyes rolling, she licked her red lips and said in a bold manner, 'I'll try it out. I don't mind. Brother-in-law, do you dare to do so?' Fade didn't expect this girl to be so bold that she dared to continue speaking on this topic. He immediately raised his hand and surrendered. 'Ahem, this, this your sister has come out. Let's go and pick her up!' 'Brother-in-law, my sister is in the toilet. You don't need to pick her up.' The young girl shouted behind him. 'Brother-in-law, you haven't answered me yet. Do you dare to do that?' she added. Fade looked at Quin Lin who was walking toward him, and he became anxious. He quickly turned his head glared at Momo, and asked her to stop talking nonsense. However, the little goblin seemed to have made up her mind to tease Fade. She shouted deliberately, ‘Brother-in-law, you bragged so much. Why don’t you dare to respond now?’ When Quin heard her voice, she couldn’t help but ask Fade curiously, ‘What is Momo talking about? What have you guys done?’ ‘Ahem, no, nothing!’ Fade said. He quickly waved his hand. Then, he thought quickly and found an excuse, saying, ‘Momo asked me if I dared to hurt you. Of course I wouldn’t dare. My wife is precious!’ Quin did not expect Fade to speak such cheesy words in public. Instantly, her pretty face turned red. She said, ‘What flattering words.’ Then, she quickened her pace and walked toward Momo. However, the redness on her face and the curve in the corners of her mouth revealed the joy in her heart at the moment. Fade, who was behind her, couldn’t help but wipe the sweat on his forehead. He said in his heart. This little goblin Momo is too scary. I’m afraid that I will really fall into her trap in the future. Just as Fade was wiping his sweat, Momo turned around and pranced over. She held Fade’s arm intimately and said with a charming smile, ‘Hurry up!’ Fade suddenly felt that his body was stiff, and his blood seemed to have become frozen. He noticed that Quin’s eyes had dimmed gradually, and he felt that his head was about to explode. However, the young girl Momo hugged Fade as if nothing had happened. She pulled him to Quin’s side and loosened her arm. Then, she explained, ‘Sister, just now, brother-in-law was amazing. He pretended to be my boyfriend and chased away my pursuer.’ ‘Ahem, Momo. This, this is a trivial matter. There’s nothing much to say.’ Fade said. His cold sweat was dripping down his forehead. He felt that his wife’s eyes were getting sharper Fortunately, at this time, Momo explained, 'Sister, the pursuer has not left yet. That's why I took brother-in-law with me on purpose just now. Are you jealous?' Quin's face turned cold. She snorted softly and said, 'Hmph, will I be jealous? Don't make fun of me.' 'Alright, let's go. It's getting late. Let's head back to the villa!' Quin said. She quickened her pace and walked ahead of them. Behind her, Fade glared at Momo. She made a silly face at him, and then ran after Quin with a smile. Fade could only quicken his pace and catch up with them. At the same time, the ugly man was looking at them from far. He noticed that Fade was holding Momo, and a gorgeous lady was next to him as well. He felt a sense of despair. He whispered to himself, 'Is the ability in that matter really so important? That guy actually got two beautiful women in both of his arms.' Thinking about this, the man clenched his fists tightly and shouted firmly, 'I want to become stronger. I want to be a man who does it seven times a night!' The woman beside the ugly man thought that he was a pervert and she hurriedly ran for a short while to leave when she heard his cry. The man wanted to cry again but no tears appeared. He could only cover his face and run down the mountain. At this time, Fade, Quin and Momo also returned to the villa. Since they had gone up and down the mountain, they were sweating. Therefore, they had to take a bath. When it came to the topic of taking a shower, Quin and Momo turned to look at Fade at the same time. Their gazes were rather strange. Fade coughed dryly and quickly said, 'The wall of the bathroom has been fixed. There will be no more problems.' As a result, Quin went into the bathroom and checked the surroundings several times. After confirming that there was no problem, she quickly took a bath and then came out. After taking a shower, the three of them said goodnight to each other and went back to their respective rooms to sleep..

The next day, the three of them got up very early. The air on the mountain was particularly fresh. After taking a deep breath of the misty air, they felt cool and refreshed. Looking at the sun that was rising from the east, Fade Chen took a deep breath and exhaled. His breath was like smoke from a dragon. It looked like a stream of white silk as it flew out a few meters and finally dissipated in the air slowly. He did this repeatedly, and the air he exhaled circulated around for quite some time. If this skill was seen by ordinary warriors, they would probably be amazed. After exercising along the mountain villa for a while, he returned to the house and had breakfast with Momo Soo and Quin Lin. After that, the three of them strolled around the top of the mountain for an entire morning. After lunch, they set off for their journey back home. The journey this time was very short and there were not many beautiful scenery around. However, for Quin, it was a rare opportunity for her to relax. After all, she had been under great pressure during this period due to her work. She was also facing matters that were related to her mother and her brother. Even though Quin was a strong woman, she still couldn't bear this immense pressure, and her spirit was almost past the breaking point. At this time, Fade was keenly aware of her stress and issues. He took her on such a trip to allow her to readjust her mood. This trip had caused her to feel alive again. At this moment, Quin could not help but smile as she looked at Fade, who was like a child, playing with Momo. For the first time in her life, she felt that her husband seemed to be a good match with her. Perhaps, he was a suitable partner for her! However, when she thought of the fake marriage agreement that she had signed with Fade, she couldn't help but feel depressed. Her expression darkened, and she couldn't help but sigh softly. Fade, who was in front, noticed her sigh behind him keenly. He stopped in his tracks. He turned around and asked with concern, 'Dear, what's wrong? Are you tired and can't walk any longer? Let me carry you then!' Quin shook her head and said with a smile, 'It's alright. I'm not tired. I'm just sighing.' Fade did not leave her side. Instead, he crouched down in front of Quin, patted his own back and said with a smile, 'Dear, come on, I'll carry you. Don't worry, I'm very strong. It's not a problem for me to carry you down the mountain. It's not even a problem for me to carry you for the rest of my life. These sudden loving words caused Quin's heart to tremble. She placed all the worries that she had at the back of her mind and blushed. Seeing that Quin was still hesitating, Fade decided to take the initiative. He hugged his wife's thigh directly and allowed his wife to lie on his back. Then, he got up and began to walk with his wife on his back. Quin was startled. Fade's speed was very fast, so she felt nervous all of a sudden. She couldn't help but put her arms around Fade's neck. Her graceful and delicate body was tightly attached to Fade's back, which allowed him to feel a warm and gentle sensation. He became more vigorous as he walked. Fade carried Quin on his back, and he also deliberately changed his speed. Sometimes, he was fast, and sometimes, he was slow.

Other times, he would bounce up and down, and other times, he would brake suddenly. In this way, Quin, who had always been as cold as an iceberg, was like a child at this moment. She screamed in fear, and her voice was like the sound of bells echoing in the mountains. At the same time, along with Fade's movements, her soft body constantly struck against his body, causing Fade to feel relaxed and happy. Quin felt that this trip was even more exciting than the last time when she had taken the roller coaster. They walked down all the way to the foot of the mountain. Her cheeks were red, and a layer of sweat appeared on her forehead. Her hair was a little messy, and her chest rose up and down rapidly due to her intense gasps. 'Dear, are you happy?' Fade asked with a smile. A tinge of redness flashed across Quin's face. Without answering him, she pounded Fade's back gently and said, 'Alright, let me down now!' However, Fade acted like he was throwing a childish tantrum. He held Quin's thighs tightly and said with a smile, 'Dear, I won't let you down if you don't tell me that it was fun.' Quin felt helpless instantly. She could only nod and say, 'It was fun, it was fun!' Fade placed his wife down happily and rubbed his hands, looking intoxicated. Seeing this, Quin could not help but blush. She glared at Fade, lowered her head and walked quickly toward the car. She opened the car door and got into the front passenger's seat. She said to Fade, who was still smelling the fragrance on his palm, 'It's getting late. Get into the car quickly!' 'Yes, yes, I'll get in the car right away as my wife ordered,' he said. Fade nodded with a smile and trotted over. He opened the door with a grin, sat in the driver's seat, buckled the seat belt, and then started the car engine. He drove the car out with a loud sound. Quin was taken aback by the speed of the car. She could not help but glare at Fade and said, 'Slow down, don't rush! Fade nodded with a smile, then he slowed down and drove steadily. The car drove for some distance after a few minutes. Fade faintly felt that something was wrong. He couldn't help but frown. He looked at Quin and said, 'Dear, have we forgotten something? I have the feeling that something is wrong!' Quin looked at her bags and searched through them. She shook her head and said, 'We have taken everything, Perhaps, your feelings were wrong?' 'Oh, we have taken everything! Then, why do I feel like I've dropped something? Maybe I am wrong!' he said. Fade shook his head and continued to drive. At this time, Quin's cell phone rang. As soon as she picked up the call, Momo's roaring voice came from the other end of the phone. 'Sister, brother-in-law, why did you guys drive away? I haven't gotten in the car yet!' Momo complained. Fade and Quin looked at each other and they were stunned. Then, they smiled awkwardly at each other, patted their heads and exclaimed, 'So, we really did forget something!' Fade quickly stopped the car and then turned around. He said with a wry smile, 'I thought that I had forgotten something. It seems like Momo hasn't gotten into the car yet!' Quin's face was also ruddy. She quickly comforted Momo on the other end of the phone. 'Momo, don't worry, we will go back to pick you up immediately,' she said. 'Sister, brother-in-law, you two were being so loving until both of you forgot me. Boo hoo!' The young girl complained. She was almost about to cry. Quin and Fade coughed dryly and quickly turned around to pick up Momo. It took them a long time before Momo got into the car. The young girl sat in the back seat angrily and thumped the seat in front of her. She said angrily, 'Sister, brother-in-law, you guys are behaving so terribly. You guys had so much fun that you forgot about me.' 'It was a mistake, a mistake. There won't be a next time,' Fade quickly apologized. It was rare for Quin to blush because she had made a mistake. She quickly turned her head and apologized to Momo..

Chapter 388

In the car, Momo Soo, the little beauty, was seething with anger for a long time. She still felt angry, even when Fade Chen apologized to her. Quin Lin continuously consoled Momo with an apologetic expression on her face. After all, she was always reliable and she had never made a mistake like this before. Thus, at this moment, she felt remorseful. After Momo heard Quin's apology and her story, she snorted and put the blame on Fade. 'Sister, you don't have to apologize. It's all brother-in-law's fault. If he didn't go down the mountain with you on his back and deliberately tease you, how could you forget that I'm still behind?' 'Momo, you can't blame me for this. Your sister was tired of walking, so I carried her on my back. Is there anything wrong with that?' Fade defended himself. The young girl held Quin's arm and said excitedly, 'Sister, listen to me. My brother-in-law won't admit his mistakes. From now on, you'll have to discipline him and teach him a lesson. He can't do such a thing again.' Then, the young girl had an idea and began to think about things again. She said, 'Sister, I suspect that brother-in-law had ulterior motives. Think about it. He wanted to carry you down the mountain as an excuse, but he actually played tricks on you and took advantage of you.’ Quin felt a little sorry for Fade, so she quickly explained, ‘No, no. Fade didn’t take advantage of me.’ ‘Sister, you don’t have to defend him. I saw that he pranced around on purpose so that you would bump against his back. In this way, he took advantage of you. Also, his hand was touching you,’ the young girl said. She glared at Fade and her little head seemed to think of something. She said again, ‘Also, sister, when you got in the car, he immediately started driving. Maybe he did this on purpose. He wanted to get rid of me and take advantage of you when the two of you were alone together.’ Fade felt that he was being framed and said, ‘Momo, don’t spout such nonsense, I absolutely did not have such ideas!’ Momo said angrily, ‘Sister, I’m not spouting nonsense. Last time, my brother-in-law rushed in and saw-’ Upon hearing this, Fade’s hand, which was on the steering wheel, became unstable. He almost drove the car into a ditch. He quickly shouted, ‘Momo, my dear Momo. I know I’m wrong. It’s all my fault, okay? I’ll admit my mistakes, sincerely. Alright?’ Fade could only admit to his mistakes. Otherwise, who knew what this young girl would say. ‘It’s not enough to just admit to your mistakes! You need to take practical actions!’ Momo pouted and said. Fade said, ‘What practical actions? I will take action as long as you ask me to.’ Momo pouted and she tilted her head. After thinking for a while, she didn’t seem to have any particular request. In the end, her eyes lit up and she said, ‘Brother-in-law, I’ve thought of it. I have a request!’ ‘What request? Tell me, Momo!’ Fade said. She said, ‘Brother-in-law, my request is for you to do one more thing for me. You are not allowed to refuse.’ ‘This-’ Fade hesitated. Subsequently, the young girl immediately turned to Quin and said, ‘Sister, last time, brother-in-law, he broke into Fade quickly said, 'I promise, I promise, I promise to do one more thing for you.' The young girl nodded and said with satisfaction, 'That's more like it. You have a good attitude when you apologize.' Fade wanted to cry but no tears appeared. He didn't dare to say anything more. He was worried that this young girl would cause trouble again. At this time, the young girl was in a good mood. She let out a sigh of relief and she stopped frowning and pouting. Then, she rubbed her little face gently and muttered to herself, 'My face is so sore since I've pouted for so long. Fortunately, I got brother-in-law to promise to do one thing for me. In this way, my brother-in-law would owe me three conditions. I have to think about how to use these three conditions now!' When Fade heard the young girl talking to herself, he was anxious. He almost wanted to cry, but no tears appeared, He had been set up by this young girl again. However, what could he do? He had to continue driving and pretend that he knew nothing. At this time, Momo was no longer angry, and she started a conversation with Quin. She even made an appointment with her for their next tour. Quin also chatted with Momo with a smile. She seemed to be in a good mood. Fade couldn't help but smile when he saw this. This trip was worth it as his wife was happy and she could release her stress. At this moment, the cars in front of them suddenly became jammed and they slowed down their speed. Fade had no choice but to slow down the car. Then, he looked ahead, and tried to find out what had happened. Fade poked his head out and saw that one side of the lane, which was initially two-way, was completely blocked. The cars that went both directions were all jammed on one side at the moment. Since the cars were all in the same lane, the driving speed eventually became slower. It turned out to be a little yellow cow. It was chewing on a pile of grass that was next to it. The surrounding drivers couldn't chase the little yellow cow away even though they tried to honk their horns and shout at it. Therefore, they could only slow down the speed of their cars and moved forward cautiously. At this time, the car in front was moving forward slowly, carefully avoiding the little yellow cow, in case they bumped into it. Several cars in front of them drove cautiously. Fade also drove forward. He wanted to bypass the little yellow cow and drove past it directly. At this moment, a whistle suddenly sounded. The little yellow cow, who was eating grass, suddenly raised its head and then took a step forward. This time, Fade's car couldn't avoid it at all and the car directly collided with the little yellow cow. Fortunately, Fade's speed was not fast, so the car and the little yellow cow only bumped into each other slightly. It was not a big deal. Fade was going to move the car to the side and drive past the little yellow cow. But at this moment, several figures suddenly rushed out of the grassland by the roadside and surrounded Fade's car while shouting. All of them looked fierce 'Stop! Stop!' they shouted. 'Stop! Stop the car right now!' they shouted again. 'You hit my cow. Do you want to run away?' they questioned. These men shouted and a man walked to the front of the window. He slammed the window and shouted, 'Get out of the car. Do you hear me? Get out of the car! Pay for this!' When Momo saw this, she couldn't help but be angry and said, 'What are all of you doing? It's clear that your cow bumped into us. You even want us to pay for that. This is extortion!' 'Extortion? Little girl, it's a fact that you guys bumped into my cow. Don't tell me that you guys want to deny it!' Another pair of people surrounded the other side. They slammed the car window and roared at Momo. Quin's face fell when she saw this. She protected Momo and glared at the people outside coldly. At this moment, Fade's expression darkened when he saw this. These guys were obviously not good people. The little yellow cow must have been deliberately brought to the road to blackmail them. He opened the car door, got out of the car, and prepared to reason with them..

Just as Fade Chen got out of the car, he saw a figure in front of him. His eyes suddenly sank and he said in a cold voice, 'It's you!' The figure was stunned. When he saw Fade, his expression suddenly turned cold. He gritted his teeth and said, 'It's you.' This person was the voyeur who was taught a lesson by Fade last night. Fade had only hit him a few times and he had driven him away. He didn't expect that this guy would be here blackmailing him again. For a moment, Fade's eyes turned cold. When the young man saw Fade's cold eyes, he couldn't help but feel a chill in his body. He instinctively took a few steps back, but then he showed a hint of anger. He glared at Fade and shouted, 'Damn it, it's you again. I must teach you a lesson today.' Hearing the young man's words, the men next to the young man couldn't help looking at him and asked at the same time, 'What's wrong, Kaiser? Do you know this guy?' The young man named Kaiser gnashed his teeth and said, 'I was injured by this guy. Moreover, he ruined my good plans too.' His companions next to him immediately knew what he was talking about since they had done that many times. Several people surrounded Fade with fierce eyes instantly. They had cold smiles on their faces and they clenched their fists with creaking sounds. 'Young man, you hit our brother. What do you think we should do?' the people asked. 'Also, you hit our little yellow cow. Just tell me how much compensation you can give us!' they said again. Fade glanced at them with a look of disdain on his face. He looked at Kaiser and said coldly, 'Are you sure you want to start a fight?' Kaiser immediately felt a chill in his body and an icy sensation came over his heart. His legs gave away a little as Fade's skills had left a deep impression on him when he was peeping the last time. The body parts where he was beaten up were still in pain. Kaiser's companions frowned and they continued to approach Fade after seeing this. 'Damn it! How dare you threaten my brother! You're looking for death!' they shouted, 'Brat, you are quite arrogant!' they said. 'What the hell? Look at the situation you're in right now. How dare you threaten us? Do you want to die?' they said. They continued to approach him. One of them even pulled out a steel pipe and walked toward Fade with a fierce look on his face. The surrounding drivers in the vehicles and passersby couldn't help but be scared when they saw this. With looks of panic on their faces, they quickly stepped back and got out of the way. At this moment, a car owner who couldn't bear to witness this couldn't help shouting, 'You guys are breaking the law. I'll call the police to arrest all of you.' The man with the steel pipe heard the words and quickly walked over. He hit the hood of the car with the steel pipe, causing the car hood to sink, and a cloud of black smoke emerged from it. The owner of the car was shocked, and then his face showed anger. He opened the door and was about to rush out. However, the others quickly stopped him and began to persuade him in a low voice. 'Brother, don't be impulsive, don't be impulsive. You are no match for them!' the others advised. 'Yeah, didn't you see that! There were seven or eight of them, and you can't beat them,' they said. The man gnashed his teeth and said angrily. 'They blocked my way and smashed my car. I don't believe no one can control them.' Some people who were familiar with the situation here suddenly sighed and quickly persuaded him, saying, 'Brother, let me tell you. The situation here really can't be controlled by anyone.' 'How come?' The car owner's face was full of anger and disbelief. The passerby said in a low voice, 'They are all people from the nearby villages. This place is located at the borders of Long City. It is difficult to manage the borders with the neighboring cities. In addition to that, almost all the villagers here have the same surname. They have a very deep relationship with each other. If something happens, a few villages and hundreds of people in the surrounding areas will rush out to help. Even the police won't be able to do anything!' 'So, in this place, if we encounter such a thing, we would just pay some money to settle the matter. Otherwise, we'll be the ones to suffer if we get into trouble,' the passerby said. After listening to the passerby's words, the car owner's heart was full of dissatisfaction, confusion, and anger. 'So you guys let them be so lawless just because it is not easy to manage them?' the car owner questioned. The passerby sighed and said, 'We have no choice. After all, the police force is limited in its power, and the relationship between the clans here is a complicated affair. We can only delay dealing with this matter for the time being.' The car owner gritted his teeth and clenched his fists. Anger was written all over his face, but there was nothing he could do about the situation. Indeed, if the situation was how the passerby described, he would not be able to get justice even if he was beaten up here. In the end, he had no choice but to swallow his pride. The car owner lowered his head and retreated to one side. When the man with the steel pipe saw this, he sneered and smiled proudly. He pointed to the car owner and said, 'Be a good boy and stand aside. Otherwise, I'll destroy this car.' The car owner gnashed his teeth in anger, but he didn't dare to come forward as there were a large number of people there. Besides, the village is nearby. He was afraid if someone shouted, hundreds of people could gather there. After scaring off the car owner, the men looked at Fade again. With a smug smile on their lips, they sneered, 'Boy, you should be afraid now!' 'Good boy, just pay us for this matter. Perhaps, this matter can be settled then!' The man with the steel pipe said. Fade looked at him and said coldly, 'What if I don't pay?' The man with the steel pipe swung the pipe with a cold look in his eyes, and he walked toward Fade's car. He was ready to smash the car. However, Kaiser stopped the man and said, 'Brother Huang, be careful. Don't hurt the people inside. There are two beautiful women inside!' Upon hearing this, Brother Huang fixed his eyes and found that there were two women sitting in the car. He looked at their faces and body figures, and they were as pretty as fairies. They were even more beautiful than the female celebrities he saw on TV. Brother Huang's eyes lit up immediately, and he was about to drool. He patted Kaiser's shoulder and said with a smile, 'No wonder you were in a hurry to go up the mountain yesterday. It turns out that you wanted to see these two beautiful women take a bath! How were their figures? Have you seen their key parts? Are they big or not?' Fade and said, 'I didn't even have time to take a look got caught by this guy. He even beat me up.' Kaiser smiled, but then his face fell. He pointed angrily at before I Brother Huang, who was holding a steel pipe, walked to Fade with a sneer and said, 'Boy, I didn't expect you to have such good fortune! You are happy to have two beautiful women last night, weren't you?' 'Let us have a good time with me today! It's okay that you hit my little yellow cow. I won't blame you and don't want your compensation. What do you think?' Brother Huang said again. He laughed and clapped the steel pipe in his hand..

Inside the car, Quin Lin and Momo Soo's faces turned red with anger upon hearing his words, and their chests heaved violently up and down. As a result, Kaiser and the others who were standing outside the car, were even more lecherous. They stared directly at the two women in the car, and their saliva almost flowed out 'Look, the more angry they get, the more beautiful they are. I can't help myself anymore,' someone said. 'What the f*ck. Look at her figure. She's like a honey peach. I really want to bite her,' someone said desperately. 'Which one do you think is prettier, the older one or the younger one?' they started to compare between Quin and Momo 'The older one is definitely prettier. She's so mature. I'm sure she will be great to have fun with!' someone replied. 'I like the younger one. She looks innocent and tender!' someone said again. 'Hehe, who cares about their ages. We'll have fun with both of them together at that time. Let's have a good time!' they cheered. Listening to their dirty words, Quin and Momo were so angry that their eyes almost popped out of their sockets. They quickly took their clothes to block their graceful bodies. Brother Huang and Kaiser sneered and they walked to Fade Chen. They surrounded him and said, 'Boy, did you hear me? Our brothers just want to ' However, before they had finished their words, they noticed the change in Fade's expression at that moment. Previously, his expression was calm, as if he did not take things seriously at all. He did not seem afraid as well. But now, his expression was gloomy, and his eyes were full of anger. He clenched his fists, and his body exuded a suffocating aura Kaiser couldn't help but tremble as he sensed this aura. He took a few steps back involuntarily.

Although Brother Huang felt a little uncomfortable, he didn't take Fade seriously. He held his steel pipe and threatened him, saying 'Boy, I'll give you one minute to think about this. Now Now-' But before he finished his words, Fade pounced on Brother Huang like a cheetah. Brother Huang was shocked, and then he was furious. He waved the steel pipe and threw it at Fade. The subordinates beside him were also startled when they saw this. Then, they quickly rushed over and roared at the same time. 'F*ck, how dare you attack Brother Huang! You're looking for death!' the subordinates yelled. 'Brother Huang, we're here. Let's beat him to death together!' they shouted. 'Cripple the boy, and then let him watch us play with his woman!' 'Let's take action. We must teach him a lesson, otherwise they said. AS they roared, Fade seemed like a cheetah as he rushed toward Brother Huang in a fast speed. Brother Huang was anxious and he directly swung the steel pipe at Fade, aiming to smash his head. Witnessing this, the passersby around couldn't help but scream, and their faces showed a look of horror. 'If the pipe hits his head, that young man will be dead.' 'He's going to be seriously injured even if he's not dead!' someone said. 'This move is too ferocious. Is there really no one who can control this group of people?' someone questioned again. 'Ah, this, we have no choice and we can't help!' someone said. Among the sounds of sighs and exclamations, the steel pipe came toward Fade's head with the sound of whirring wind. Fade narrowed his eyes and launched a blow at the steel pipe. Brother Huang sneered after seeing this. 'You are looking for death. How dare you use your fist to hit my steel pipe. Let's see if your fist or my steel pipe is going to break,' Brother Huang said. While speaking, Brother Huang gritted his teeth, almost exerting all his strength, and launched the pipe toward Fade's fist. 'boom!' With a loud crash, Fade's fist collided with Brother Huang's steel pipe. However, the scene in Brother Huang's imagination, where the steel pipe would smash Fade's fist, did not materialize. Instead, Fade's iron-like fist caused Brother Huang's steel pipe to bend, even though the pipe was as thick as a child's arm. The huge force passed through the steel pipe to Brother Huang's hand. A violent tremor directly caused Brother Huang's right hand to tear and bleed. The steel pipe fell from his hand, and his face was filled with pain. 'You,' Brother Huang looked at Fade incredulously. Before he could finish his words, Fade kicked him between his legs. Suddenly, with a snap, the sound of something cracking could be heard. Brother Huang covered his crotch and fell painfully on the ground as he convulsed. He had an agonizing and miserable expression on his face. His face was so distorted that he almost did not look human. Brother Huang's helpers were stunned and they slowed down when they saw this scene. While they were still in a daze, Fade threw himself at them. He launched his fists and feet quickly and struck them down. Suddenly, sounds of cracking and breaking could be heard. These villains were directly knocked down to the ground by Fade. All of them fell to the ground and cried out in pain. In the end, only Kaiser, who had been hiding in fear, was left. At this moment, he looked at Fade with his mouth open and his eyes were full of horror. When he spotted Fade walking toward him, his whole body trembled and he turned around to escape. He kept shouting, 'Devil, you are the devil, you!' As a result, the sound of whirring wind could be heard. Fade kicked up a stone and struck Kaiser's back directly, causing his head to sink, and he fell on the road instantly. His whole face was slammed heavily on the rough road. It turned into a mess of blood and flesh, and it was almost impossible to tell who it was. In less than three minutes, Fade had finished off this bunch of villains. The passersby around him were stunned at first, and then they showed a look of surprise. Some people even applauded. The car owner whose car was smashed was very excited at this moment. He clapped his hands enthusiastically and shouted, 'Well done. You did a great job. Kill these lawless guys and they will not dare to bully others anymore.' The car owner was extremely excited, but some people who were familiar with the situation let out a sigh, grabbed him, and said, 'Don't be too happy. It's not over yet.' The car owner was confused and he said, 'Why isn't this over yet? Are they still able to fight? Even if someone were to come and fight, they are no match for this young man. He is too fierce. I can tell that he is a master of martial arts. This fight was really awesome.' The passersby said in a low voice, 'What happens now will not be related to physical fighting. No one can do anything about this matter, no matter how powerful they are.' 'What the hell are you talking about?' The car owner asked in confusion all around. At this moment, footsteps and voices came from The passersby's expression changed abruptly when they heard this noise. They pulled the car owner back and said, 'Here they are. You can see for yourself!' The car owner turned his head and saw that huge numbers of villagers were coming out of the villages on both sides of the road. They were roaring, shouting, and running to this side fiercely. Looking at the black mass approaching, the number of people was no less than two hundred. Moreover, many of them were white-haired old men and old women. 'This, this is-' The car owner's face turned pale. The passersby said, 'Those gangsters are not the most troublesome people. Instead, these old villagers are the biggest trouble.' While speaking, this group of middle-aged and elderly people rushed over from both sides and completely blocked the road. A large group of people gathered around Fades car..
