

Magic Doctor: CEO Lady's Humble Husband

Chapter 451

When Juliana Liu, who was going crazy, saw Fade Chen's icy gaze, she suddenly felt that her body was chilly and she was trembling. She was totally paralyzed, like an ice sculpture that was frozen and stationary. Juliana did not dare to attack Fade. She turned to Mindy Wu and said, 'Mindy, you rejected Director Xu just for this filthy guy who is poor and useless. I think you are insane. Besides being young, this guy has no other strengths at all!' Mindy wanted to explain that Fade was not her man. Instead, her explanation turned into a snort and she said, 'I like him. It's none of your business.' After saying this, Mindy couldn't help but feel that her cheeks were hot. She looked at Fade secretly but he didn't seem to notice her different expression. She quickly moved her eyes away from him and she felt relieved. At the same time, she felt a strange sadness because he did not show any reaction. Juliana sneered and said to Mindy, 'I really didn't expect this. At this age, you are still daydreaming and you are not aware of reality. You actually like this poor fellow who has nothing. Is it because he is good at making you happy in bed?' Mindy blushed as she didn't expect Juliana to say such crude things in public. She couldn't help but shout angrily, 'What nonsense are you talking about? Fade and I didn't-' Looking at Mindy's exaggerated reaction, Juliana was quite sure that Mindy and Fade were a couple. She said coldly, 'Oh Mindy, I can't believe that the innocent and pure campus belle who did not even allow guys to hold your hands back then, has become a slut behind doors. I'm curious how our classmates will react if they know that you have changed so much.' 'You- Mindy was so angry that her expression darkened. Fade's eyes darkened as well. He glided toward Juliana, Juliana, who was just slapped by him twice, was frightened. When Fade was about to hit her, she quickly screamed and retreated toward Ocean Xu to hide behind him. When Ocean saw this, his heart pounded violently and his face showed that he was afraid. This reminded him of what had happened downstairs in the playground just now. He could not defeat Fade, and Fade had also defeated his driver who was even a retired soldier. As Ocean saw Fade chasing Juliana and approaching himself, he took a few steps back involuntarily. He looked at his surroundings in fear, and then he saw a middle-aged man in a suit passing by. Suddenly, Ocean was delighted and quickly walked toward the guy. He said: 'Hello, Manager Song, When Manager Song heard his voice, he turned his head and saw Ocean. He was surprised and he said, 'Director Xu, did you come to our mall to have a meal? Why didn't you inform me that you are coming today? I could have welcomed you properly.' Manager Song was the manager of the shopping mall. He was in charge of the management and businesses of the whole shopping mall. He was considered one of the important people here in this mall. When such a powerful man treated Ocean so politely, he felt proud and he enjoyed the respect he was given. However, at the same time, Fade had already caught up with Juliana and he slapped her a few times. Juliana's face was all swollen. Seeing this situation, Ocean's expression changed and he quickly said, 'Manager Song, this guy is causing trouble here. He was assaulting people without proper reasons. I think you should handle this issue.' Manager Song saw the situation and his face fell. He waved his hand and said: ‘ All the security guards, come over here now.’ Then, he approached Fade and shouted coldly. ‘Do you know the consequences of making trouble in Galaxy Plaza?’ Fade frowned slightly and looked at Manager Song. He explained, ‘I wasn’t the one who made trouble. They were the ones making trouble. They just--’ Before Fade could defend himself, Manager Song interrupted him. ‘Enough. Why would someone important like Director Xu make a fuss here? You had better behave well! Security guards, take him away quickly.’ Manager Song waved his hand directly and asked the security guards to arrest him. When he saw this, Ocean reminded him in a pretentious manner, ‘ Manager Song, you must be cautious as this fellow is a good fighter.’ Manager Song sneered. He spoke in disdain and in confidence, ‘Director Xu, rest assured that the security guards in Galaxy Plaza are veterans. They are retired soldiers whom we hire with large salaries. Their abilities are undoubtedly powerful.’ large salaries. As they were talking around five security guards surrounded Fade. ‘Arrest him and take him to the security room!’ Manager Song shouted. Ocean couldn’t help but show a proud look at this moment. He crossed his arms and looked at Fade while sneering at him. ‘Even though you can fight, so what? You’re just an ant in front of prestigious people like us!’ Fade snorted and was almost ready to start a fight. At this time, Mindy came forward and shouted coldly. ‘Stop!’ The security guards were shocked by her voice. They couldn’t help but stop and look at Mindy. When Manager Song saw this, he also froze for a moment. Then, his face fell.He exclaimed in anger, ‘Are you guys scared silly? What are you doing? Don’t just stare at her. Take action!’ The security guards were about to take action. At this time, Mindy shouted coldly again, ‘I asked you to stop, do you hear me?’ ‘Who do you think you are? Asking us to stop?’ Manager Song came over and shouted rudely. Mindy took out a black card directly and handed it to Manager Song. She said coldly, ‘Who am I? You can see this clearly for yourself!’ Juliana glanced at the card and said with a disdainful smile, ‘Mindy, are you being silly? Do you think this black card, which is available for 100 yuan on the Internet, can be used to fool Manager Song? It’s ridiculous. Don’t you see what place this is?’ Ocean immediately took out his gold card to show off. He said arrogantly and disdainfully: ‘Galaxy Plaza’s VIP card is gold, not black. You should put in more effort if you want to fake it.’ Manager Song’s first instincts was not to believe her. He waved his hand and was about to take a closer look at Mindy’s black card. At this moment, Mindy shouted, ‘See clearly! What is this?’ Manager Song looked over and saw that there was a logo on the black card. The logo consisted of 5 stars, and they were golden and red. Surrounding this logo was a pitch black color. The quality of the card looked beyond average. Abruptly, Manager Song remembered something and his facial expression changed. He looked at Mindy in disbelief and said, ‘This is a Star Gold Card. Only a VIP like President Wu owns this card. How could you--’ Manager Song’s face was full of surprise, but Juliana and Ocean who were next to him were confused. ‘What is this Star Gold Card that you were mentioning, Manager Song? Why have I not heard of this VIP card before?’ Manager Song explained, ‘It’s normal that you have never heard of this card before, as this VIP card is only given to a few people by President Wu. There are probably less than 10 Star Gold cards. All the card owners are prestigious and powerful people with high status.’.

Chapter 452

‘President Wu? Are you saying that VIP card was personally issued by Charles Wu of Galaxy Plaza?’ Ocean Xu asked. He was feeling a little incredulous. Manager Song nodded and said solemnly, ‘As far as I know, in Long City right now, only Mayor Huang and Edward Sun, the current master of the Sun Family, has this Star Gold card.’ Mayor Huang and Edward’s names caused Ocean’s expression to change, and he had a strange expression on his face. Ocean was famous and had a high status in Long City. However, compared with important personages like Mayor Huang and Edward, he was not at the same level at all. For a moment, Ocean’s expression was a bit gloomy. His eyes turned as he stared at the black and golden VIP card. He began to think quickly Juliana Liu sneered and said, ‘Director Xu, Manager Song, will this Star Gold card appear in the hands of people at her level? I think it’s fake, or maybe she found it somewhere and picked it up. After hearing her words, Manager Song and Ocean’s eyes lit up and their expressions changed. Then, they looked at Mindy and Fade with unfriendly expressions and with sneers on their faces. ‘Manager Song, is your shopping mall going to turn a blind eye to such con men?’ Ocean said clearly Manager Song then nodded and said, ‘Please don’t worry, Director Xu. We won’t let this matter go!’ After that, Manager Song waved to the security guards and said, ‘Go and arrest them.’ Mindy didn’t expect them to take action after she had displayed her VIP black card. She shouted coldly,

‘Manager Song, you don’t know the whole story at all. You just listen to the words of one side and ask the guards to arrest us. As far as I know, the rules of Galaxy Plaza are not like this.’ Manager Song snorted and said disdainfully, ‘Who do you think you are? I am the manager here at Galaxy Plaza, and my words are law here.’ Hearing this, Mindy’s expression became cold. Then, she took out her cell phone and dialed a number, saying, ‘Brother, I am now in Long City’s Galaxy Plaza at town center. I have encountered something... Hearing her call, Manager Song, Ocean and Juliana all smiled sarcastically. They didn’t take her call for assistance seriously at all. ‘Hey, you still want to call someone? Do you really think you are an important personage?’ ‘Mindy, since we are classmates, I advise you not to waste your efforts. Now, come and apologize to Director Xu and Manager Song. This is the best option for you.’ ‘Guards, take action now. Grab the phone!’ The security guards rushed over and were about to start a fight. Mindy’s expression became tense. At this moment, Fade moved. With a flash, he rushed forward like a shadow toward the guards. Then, there was a series of loud cracks. In less than three minutes, all the security guards were knocked down to the ground by Fade. All of them had painful expressions and they groaned and wailed. They had lost their capacity to fight back. Manager Song and the others, who were gleeful, were shocked when they saw this. Their faces fell. Ocean was even more shocked, and he took a few steps backward instinctively. Manager Song’s face fell, and he snorted. He glared at Fade and said in a cold voice, ‘You dare to hit people, you are so brazen!’ ‘Ask all the security guards in the mall to come here! Also, call the police and let the police arrest them, Manager Song ordered. Soon, the security guards in the mall began to take action and came forward aggressively. Fade glanced at them coldly

and then walked back. Looking at Mindy, who had just finished talking on the phone, he picked up Fish, who was frightened. He said lightly, 'Fish, come on, let's go to eat. I'm so hungry.' Then, Fade came to the dining table with Fish in his arms. He sat down and began to eat. The little girl's attention was distracted by the delicious food. She pounced on the food, forgetting the current situation they were in. Mindy also came over and sat opposite them. She watched her daughter and Fade with a smile as they ate. The three of them were in such a state, and this surprised Manager Song, Ocean, and the others. They didn't expect that under these circumstances, these people wouldn't run away or act like they were afraid. Instead, they sat down and ate in a leisurely manner. At this moment Manager Song thought of the Star Gold VIP card that Mindy had shown him. He felt a little nervous and uneasy. Ocean saw this and said, 'Manager Song, don't worry. They know that they can't escape, so they're just pretending to be relaxed. When the security guards and the police come here, their act will be over.' Juliana clutched her swollen cheeks and said with a face full of resentment, 'Yes, we must teach them a lesson later.' About five minutes later, there was the dense sound of footsteps. A Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc of security guards rushed over. A pair of policemen in uniform also came forward with stern expressions. Seeing them, Manager Song let out a sigh of relief. He immediately walked over and said to the police, 'These people were fighting and they caused trouble in our mall. They injured many security guards as well.' Ocean immediately added, 'That guy is a little powerful. My bodyguard was beaten up by him. Be careful, everyone.' When the police heard this, they frowned slightly. Then, they approached Fade and Mindy cautiously. Manager Song then waved his hand and asked the security guards behind him to surround them. Five or six policemen, with dozens of security guards outside, surrounded the table where Fade was at. Just as the people were about to take action, the thick voice of a man rang out. ‘What are all of you doing?’ Hearing this voice, everyone turned their heads and looked over. They saw a man with an extraordinary air in his late thirties coming over. He was wearing an elegant suit. Seeing the man, Manager Song was shocked and he immediately went up to him. ‘President Wu, why, why are you here?’ he asked. He was none other than the owner of Galaxy Plaza, Charles Wu. Seeing this, Ocean immediately guessed Charles’s identity and he greeted him with a smile. ‘Nice to meet you, President Wu. I’m Ocean from Ocean Tune clothing company. The collaboration between our company and your shopping mall is going smoothly. We As for Juliana, she couldn’t speak at all at this time. Her status was far inferior to Mr. Wu’s. Facing Manager Song and Ocean’s flattering words, Charles’s expression was darkened. He glanced at them and ignored them. Then, he quickly walked toward the people who were being surrounded. Manager Song was stunned and then he said in a hurry, ‘President Wu, don’t go inside. There’s a violent lunatic inside. He is very dangerous,’.

(0)

Chapter 453

Charles Wu did not pay attention to Manager Song’s words at all. He went straight through the security guards and the police who were surrounding them and walked forward to the seats. When

Manager Song and the others saw this, they were nervous. Although they were afraid, they approached the scene closely as well. Then, they saw Mindy Wu standing up and smiling. She welcomed Charles intimately and said, 'Brother, you are here.' Fish, whose mouth was oily due to the food she was eating, also looked up at this moment. She greeted him sweetly, saying, 'Hello, uncle!' Fade Chen nodded to Charles and said, 'President Wu!' Charles smiled and said, 'I'm here!' Manager Song, Ocean Xu, Juliana Liu and the others were stunned when they saw this scene. They couldn't believe what had just happened and they were frozen on the spot. They could not come to their senses and they were in complete shock. 'Just now, she was calling President Wu 'brother! What, what is going on here?' 'Is she really President Wu's sister? No way. Is this a mistake?' 'If she is President Wu's sister, then it makes sense that she has the Star Gold VIP card!' They speculated about this matter, and then their eyes fell on Juliana. With inquiring looks, they asked her, 'Who is this Mindy Wu?' Juliana was nervous and surprised at this moment. She quickly explained, 'I don't know. When Mindy and I were in high school, she, she didn't reveal her family background. I thought that she was just an ordinary person, so-' 'You thought...' 'An ordinary person! President Wu's sister, is she considered an ordinary person?' At this moment, both Manager Song and Ocean were on the verge of cursing, and their expressions were extremely unpleasant. Manager Song was even more frightened. He squeezed out a smile and walked toward Charles. 'President Wu, I, I-' Before he could explain, Charles said in a cold voice, 'My sister has told me everything about what happened just now.' 'Manager Song, you didn't figure out the truth of the situation, and you ordered the security guards to arrest them for no reason. Is that true?' Charles asked in a deep voice. Manager Song's expression changed, and he instinctively wanted to deny this. However, when he noticed Charles's expression, he didn't dare to lie. He could only nod and say with much difficulty, 'Yes. This is true. However, It, It was an accident 'An accident?' Charles answered. His face fell. He snorted and interrupted Manager Song's words. He said in a cold voice, 'No need to explain to me. You're fired. Go to the HR department to handle the formalities of this matter.' Hearing this, Manager Song suddenly looked crestfallen. His face was pale, and he fell to his knees and begged for mercy. 'President Wu, I was wrong. I know that I made a mistake. Give me another chance, I will never act like this again. 1-' Charles waved his hand and said to the security guards, 'Take him away!' The security guards who were initially going to deal with Fade turned to confront Manager Song. They ignored his pleading cries and took him away directly. After Manager Song was taken away, Ocean and Juliana suddenly trembled and they were even more frightened. However, they comforted themselves in their hearts, saying, 'We are not even employees of Crimson Star Group, the company who owns Galaxy Plaza. Even if Charles is angry with us, he can't do anything to us.' Just as they were thinking about this, Charles cast his eyes at them and said in a cold voice, 'Did you say that Ocean Tune clothing company has a collaboration with Galaxy Plaza?' Ocean nodded and said, 'Yes, yes. President Wu, Ocean Tune Company-' Before he could finish, Charles waved his hand and interrupted him. He said coldly, 'From now on, all the clothing items from your company will be withdrawn from Galaxy Plaza. Our collaboration will be completely terminated.' Hearing this, Ocean staggered backward and almost fell to the ground. His company was not large, and his target market was basically in Long City. If he lost his collaboration with Galaxy Plaza, which was the largest shopping mall in Long City, then he would lose almost 90% of his market. The clothing items from his factory were not suitable for stalls or small shops, as no one would buy them due to the higher price. As for the higher-end boutique stores, his clothing items were not good enough in terms of quality. There was an option for them to open their own shops to sell these clothes directly, but the factory could not afford this high cost. Therefore, if Ocean Tune's collaboration with Galaxy Plaza was terminated, Ocean Tune Clothing Company would definitely be dead in the water. Instantly. Ocean was like Manager Song just now. He knelt down, cried, yelled and begged for mercy. Charles waved his hand without hesitation or mercy and allowed the security guards to take him away. As for Juliana, Charles didn't even look at her, and he didn't care about her at all. Later, Charles talked with the police for a while and asked them to leave. Then, he sat down beside Mindy and chatted with Fade. Charles chatted with Mindy and Fish for a while, then he looked at Fade with a respectful expression and said, 'Mr. Chen, did you just return from South Hanover City? If it weren't for Mindy's phone call, I wouldn't have known about this.' Fade nodded lightly and said, 'I just came back yesterday. During this period of time, is the business world of Dragonville in a relatively stable state?' Charles said, 'Yes, I would say that it is in a relatively stable state. The Dai family and the Qian family, who are collaborating with us, are relatively easygoing. However, the An family may have their own ideas.' 'The An family? What are they up to?' Fade said. He frowned slightly. After thinking for a while, he recalled that the An family owned the largest advertising and media company in Long City. They were involved in the entertainment, film and television businesses. Charles explained,

‘Some time ago, there was news from South Hanover City that you were targeted by Flamebird Mercenary Group. Rumor has it that Flamebird sent their elite masters to deal with you. Therefore, some people may be thinking of advancing their individual positions, but overall, they haven’t done anything out of line.’ Fade nodded, and he could understand this matter. After all, Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc and Crimson Star Group had suppressed the coalition of the Dai, the An, and the Qian families. These families had a long history in Long City’s business circle. Quin Lin and Charles had achieved this not through the strength of their businesses, but through the assistance of Fade’s powerful martial arts skills. Also, the Sun family was defeated at that time, which contributed to the success of Quin and Charles in Long City’s business arena. Now, it was rumored that Fade had been defeated or killed by members of the Flamebird Mercenary Group. Without the backing of Fade and this kind of forceful oppression, it was natural for some people to have some different ideas on their positions. Fade didn’t care much about this. After all, he was not very interested in plans for business expansion. He just wanted to help his wife and make her happy in the process. It would be best if they didn’t have any ulterior motives. If they really did something out of line, then Fade wouldn’t mind coming over to wipe them out. They would have to experience the true extent of his powers. Fade and Charles were discussing this matter. Juliana, who was scared, was completely stunned at this moment. The fact that Mindy was Charles’s sister had given her a tremendous shock. Unexpectedly, Charles’s attitude toward Fade was so respectful. He was like a subordinate reporting to his superior. Fade’s status seemed even higher than Charles’s. For a moment, Juliana was uneasy. She felt a whirlwind of emotions..

Chapter 454

Who exactly was this Fade Chen? Why was Charles Wu so respectful toward him? Could he be someone at the same level as Mayor Huang and the elders of the Sun family? She had no idea that Mindy Wu came from such a prominent background. Mindy had always acted so low-key around her. Juliana Liu was so scared that she couldn't help trembling, and then she fell to the ground and gazed at Mindy. She wanted to ask for her forgiveness. Fortunately for her, Mindy did not bother with her and she had no intention of paying attention to Juliana. She waved her hand and asked someone to drive her away. Juliana heaved a sigh of relief. They sat at the table, eating and chatting. Fade also got some updates on Mindy's situation from the conversation. After Mindy's previous encounter with her ex husband Boris Song, she had changed Fish's surname. Then, she had a change of heart. In the past, she might have some faint expectations in her heart that Boris would return and look for her and her daughter. She hoped in the past that the three of them could reunite and live a happy life. However, after that incident, Mindy completely gave up on Boris. She finally let go of the last obsessive intent in her heart, and she decided to start afresh. Therefore, Mindy came to Long City with Fish and started her new life. She wanted to live in a different city in a different location. Old Mr. Wu and Charles supported Mindy's decision wholeheartedly. After some discussion in the family, Charles planned to come up with the funds to open a cafe for Mindy and let her be responsible for the management of it. The main purpose for this was not to make a profit, but to allow Mindy to do what she liked. Also, it would be more convenient for her to take care of Fish too. When Fade heard this news, he immediately smiled and said, 'Sister Mindy, please inform me when the cafe is opened. If I go to your cafe to buy something, you must give me a discount!' Mindy smiled and said, 'As long as you are willing to come, everything will be free for you at all times.' The little girl Fish also looked at Fade in an innocent manner and said, 'Brother Superman, I learned from my mother how to make biscuits. When the time comes, I'll invite you to eat the biscuits that I made.' 'Well, I am looking forward to the biscuits made by Fish!' Fade said with a smile. He pinched Fish's tender little face and she giggled as he teased her. After chatting for a while, Fish was full and she fell asleep. Therefore, Mindy took Fish and was about to leave. Charles took them away. When he was about to leave, he suddenly thought of something and turned to Fade and said, 'Mr. Chen, are you free next week?' 'What's the matter?' Fade asked. Charles explained with a smile, 'There will be a famous jewelry company coming to Dragonville to hold a jewelry exhibition next week. There will be an auction. Old Mr Du and I will attend this event. Can you help us appraise the items?' Fade understood and then he nodded. 'Okay, I'm free next week. You can contact me when the time comes.' 'Well, thank you, Mr. Chen,' Charles thanked him and then left. Then, Fade got up and left the restaurant. Walking out of the shopping mall, Fade looked at the time. It was just two o'clock in the afternoon. It was still too early to go back home now. Fade was not in a hurry, so he put his hands in his pockets and wandered around on the bustling commercial street. While walking around, Fade was in high spirits. After he had descended from the mountain, he hadn't done much window shopping, except maybe a few times with Momo Soo. He could experience the joy of the ordinary shopper now. While walking on the street, Fade suddenly saw a crowd of people in front of him. They were taking photos and yelling. The sound of cameras clicking and the people crying out in excitement caused the scene to be quite lively and noisy. Instantly, Fade walked over with excitement. After using a little of his inner energy, Fade squeezed into the crowd through a narrow way and reached the inner area of the crowd. A group of security guards and bodyguards had placed a cordon there. They had stern expressions. The surrounding onlookers were blocked and they stood outside. Looking inside the area, Fade saw a fashionable and stylish young woman making various poses in front of a building. The surrounding cameramen were busy taking photos. 'Who is she? What is she doing? Is she in a movie?' Fade asked an enthusiastic fat guy beside him curiously. Hearing this, the fat man glared at Fade in disbelief and said, 'Rowena Song, you don't even know her? What are you doing here?' 'Rowena? Is she a celebrity?' Fade answered. He shook his head as he had never heard of this name. Then, he saw the fat man frowning, and he seemed like he was going to lose his temper. Fade quickly smiled and explained, 'I don't pay much attention to the entertainment circle, so I don't know much about these stars. Brother, please introduce her to me!' This fat man was obviously Rowena's loyal fan. His eyes lit up and he said, 'Rowena is 22 years old. She is originally from Dragonville, Long City. When she was eight years old, she took part in a speech contest held by all the primary schools in the city... The fat man continued to introduce Rowena's biography. He couldn't stop speaking of all her achievements, from her childhood to adulthood. He also told Fade about all her filmography and career milestones. Hearing this, Fade had a summary of Rowena's life in his mind. He was clear on her identity and status. Rowena was considered a child star. She was involved in several TV dramas when she was a child. Later, she went to college. After graduation, she returned to the entertainment field. She shot two TV series and two movies. Although the quality of her films and TV series was average, these films and television dramas starred an ensemble cast full of attractive young people. This stirred up many heated discussions and attracted a lot of attention from the public. Therefore, Rowena started to rise to stardom. In addition to this, the dramas she had starred in when she was a child were replayed on TV. This attracted the attention of older fans, who were nostalgic of the past. Rowena became popular in just over a year, and her position in the industry was rising quickly. Now, she was definitely one of the most popular B-list celebrities. It was only a matter of time for her to make a breakthrough and become an A-list celebrity. Also, Rowena was a native of Dragonville, which caused her to become even more popular there. The attention she garnered was not less than many A-list celebrities. Now, she was here to shoot an advertisement for a clothing company. Since her shoot was located in a prosperous commercial street, a lot of fans and passers-by came over when the shoot began. Fade looked at Rowena and noticed that she was really good-looking. He rated her almost an 8 out of 10. With fashionable clothes and good styling, she looked even more attractive and mesmerizing. No wonder many male fans were so enthusiastic about her and they were obsessed with her. However, Fade had such a beautiful wife like Quin Lin. Therefore, he felt that Rowena was just average. So, after watching for a while, Fade turned around and was prepared to leave..

Just as Fade Chen was about to take action and walk away, the security guards and the bodyguards who were manning the cordon suddenly waved their rubber batons and shouted fiercely. ‘Get out of the way, get out of the way!’ they said. The security guards drove the fans and the passers-by away and they cleared the road. Then, the assistants and agents quickly escorted Rowena Song away. The cameramen, the crew in charge of lighting, and the other staff members also left. It seemed that the shoot was over. When her fans saw that Rowena was about to depart, they were reluctant to leave. They crowded near the police cordon and waved their cell phones and autograph books, shouting one after the other. ‘Rowena, I love you!’ ‘Rowena, sign an autograph for me!’ ‘Rowena, I have been your fan for the past 15 years.’ ‘Look over here, Rowena.’ Her fans were very enthusiastic, but Rowena’s attitude was very cold. She glanced at the crowd through her sunglasses, then quickened her pace and got into a black Mercedes Benz. Then, she asked the driver to drive away. Cars were actually not allowed in this commercial street. However, a superstar like Rowena was obviously an exception. The car started and suddenly rushed forward at a fast speed. The fans and passers-by who were watching in front were shocked and hurriedly made way for the car to leave. When some passers-by saw this, they couldn’t help but frown and become unhappy. ‘Why are you driving so recklessly? You almost hit someone!’ ‘This is a pedestrian street, and you can’t drive a car here!’ ‘Celebrities can get away with these things. What the hell was that?’ ‘D*mn it, the car almost bumped into me just now. Fortunately, I escaped quickly!’ The passers-by were dissatisfied. Some of her imbecile fans immediately rushed over angrily, and they defended Rowena’s behavior. They started arguing with these people. ‘Who told you to stand in front of the car and not give way? You even blame Rowena for driving too fast!' 'My Rowena is a superstar. Even if she drives into the Forbidden City, it is natural and correct. Don't even mention this street..' 'It's your luck if she hits you!' 'Who do you think you are? Who are you to talk about my Rowena?' The scene instantly became a bit chaotic when the passers by and the crazy fans got into a fight. Looking at the foolish fans who were furious and red in their faces, Fade couldn't help but shake his head and sigh lightly. The behavior of these fans caused him, a passer-by, to feel a little disgusted with Rowena. Fade had no interest in watching this boring scene. Therefore, he squeezed out of the crowd and was ready to leave. At this moment, there was a sudden yell in front of him, and then someone exclaimed loudly in shock. 'Someone was hit. Come on, stop the car!' 'Stop them! Hurry up! Don't let them get away!' 'Oh dear, someone is bleeding. Is there a doctor? Come and save him!' 'The car has hit someone and run away. Quick, stop it.' Amid the sounds of shouting, there was the sound of an ear piercing buzz from the car engine. Then, the screams and scolding voices of the passers-by could be heard. Fade squeezed through the crowd and rushed over. At a glance, he saw an old man lying on the street in front of him. Blood oozed from the back of his head, dyeing the floor tiles red. In front of them, a black Mercedes Benz left quickly. It was the car that Rowena was sitting in just now. 'This famous celebrity hits someone and flees!' Fade thought to himself. His heart skipped a beat, and his expression turned cold. Looking at the Mercedes-Benz that was about to drive out from the pedestrian street, Fade took action and he wanted to rush over to stop the car. However, at this moment, someone screamed, 'Oh no, this elderly man is unconscious. Come and rescue him!' When Fade heard this scream, he could only stop and he ran quickly toward the unconscious old man who was hit. There were a lot of onlookers around the old man, but no one helped him. After all, ordinary people did not dare to help out if they were not medical professionals. Besides, in this society, there were many people who were framed and charged for crime after saving someone's life. Everyone was worried but they did not dare to take any action randomly. Therefore, the crowd gathered around the scene but they could only be anxious about the matter. No one could do anything about it. Fade didn't have so much to worry about. He rushed directly to the old man, bent down, and quickly examined the old man's condition. Then, he held the old man's wrist and analysed his pulse. In less than a minute, Fade let go of his hand and took out a pair of silver needles that he carried with him. He shouted to the passersby, 'Who has white liquor and a lighter? Give it to me now.' The passersby were busy for a while. Soon, someone took a bottle of liquor and a lighter from the store beside the road and handed it to Fade. Fade took the liquor with his left hand and broke the bottle with a powerful pinching gesture from his thumb and index finger. Then, Fade poured the liquor on the silver needle. He rinsed it and used the lighter to set the silver needle in flames. The silver needle was engulfed by the blue flame and it was quickly disinfected. Then, with the silver needle in his hand, Fade turned toward the old man's head. Focusing his gaze, he intended to perform acupuncture on the old man's head with his needle. Just when the silver needle was about to pierce the old man's head, a woman's voice could be heard. 'What are you doing? Stop!' When Fade heard the sound, his hands stopped moving. He looked up and saw a woman in her late twenties with short hair. She was wearing a pair of glasses with black frames. She walked quickly toward him. 'Er-' Fade frowned slightly. Then, he lowered his head and prepared to continue with his acupuncture. However, when the short-haired woman saw this, her voice became more stern. She rushed over and shouted, 'I asked you to stop. Didn't you hear me?' The short-haired woman rushed over. She grabbed Fade's wrist and glared at him. 'I'm trying to rescue him. Don't delay me,' Fade said. At this time, the passers-by also pointed at the woman and talked about her. Obviously, they were dissatisfied with her for preventing Fade from saving the old master. 'Rescue him? You are using such a long silver needle to pierce his head. Are you saving him or harming him?' The short-haired woman shouted. 'I am a doctor specializing in traditional Chinese medicine, and acupuncture is a normal procedure.' Fade explained in a deep voice. 'Traditional Chinese Medicine!' The short-haired woman's eyes froze. She looked at Fade and shouted, 'Why do doctors of Chinese Medicine come here to create havoc? Can doctors of Chinese Medicine cure this kind of injury? What's more, at your age, you look like an undergraduate student. What standard can you have in Chinese medicine?' Fade looked at the old man on the ground, whose face was getting paler. He frowned discontentedly and said, 'You are blocking me from saving him. Do you know that you are killing him?' 'You are piercing needles randomly into other people. This traditional Chinese medicine is harmful and will kill him,' The woman shouted. Then, she pushed Fade away and said, 'I am a specialist doctor from City Medical Center. This injury from the car accident is not curable by traditional Chinese medicine. Don't create any trouble. Get out of the way!' When those passers-by who were dissatisfied with this woman just now heard that this woman was actually a specialist doctor at the City Medical Center, their expressions suddenly changed, and they all looked at her in unison..

(0)

Chapter 456

The passers-by who were on Fade Chen's side sided with the short-haired woman at this moment. 'Ordinary doctors can't work at City Medical Center!' 'She can be a specialist there, and be a director of Internal Medicine at such a young age. She is absolutely an expert.' 'Director of Internal Medicine. Yes, I do remember her. Oh, it's Daphne Tao. She is really the director of Internal Medicine at City Medical Center.' 'Brother, let the professionals handle this matter!' 'We know that you are kind-hearted, but Chinese medicine can't be compared with professional Western medicine.' The passers-by started speaking up one after the other. Daphne, the short-haired doctor, bent down and began to check on the old man's physical condition. However, when she saw the oozing blood on the old man's forehead and his pale face, she couldn't help but look serious and said, 'Oh no, the old man has lost a lot of blood. We must stop the bleeding immediately.' Although Dr. Tao had seen the patient's condition, she didn't have any medicine or equipment at hand. At this time, she could only use her hands to cover the wound and do some basic procedures to stop the bleeding there. At the same time, she shouted to a passerby, 'Hurry, call an ambulance.' At this moment, Fade looked at the old man's eyelids and discovered a faint purple-red light in the old man's eyes. Suddenly, Fade's heart jolted and he realized that something was wrong. He held the silver needle and leaned toward the old man.

He said, 'This old man is in a critical situation. I must perform acupuncture on him immediately.' Hearing that, Dr. Tao opened her arms to stop Fade. She glared at Fade nervously and said, 'The old man's situation is bad enough. Don't mess around.' Fade quickly explained, 'Take a look at the old man's eyes. It is a symptom of the sympathetic nerves being suppressed by a blood clot in the brain. Now, the blood clot has become larger. If you don't treat this as soon as possible, he may survive, but it is very likely that he will become retarded due to the long period of pressure on his nerves.' Hearing that, Daphne looked at the old man's eyelids instantly and was shocked because she knew that Fade was right. However, Daphne was still not at ease to allow such a young man in his early twenties to perform acupuncture on the old man. She looked at Fade in an alert and doubtful manner and said, 'I know very well how difficult it is to perform acupuncture on someone's head. Even the former Director of Traditional Chinese Medicine in our hospital does not dare to do this procedure without thoughtful consideration. How dare you do this?' Fade spoke sternly with a serious face, 'I am confident in my medical skills. I can guarantee that there will be no problems with my acupuncture.' Daphne was stunned. She did not expect Fade to say such a thing. However, she immediately shook her head and did not allow Fade to proceed. After all, Fade's words were too direct, and he was over-confident. She became more distrustful of Fade's medical skills. 'No, I can't allow you to proceed with acupuncture. Otherwise, there will be high chances of complications. We should wait for the ambulance to come.' Seeing this, Fade couldn't help but frown. Then, he glanced at the old man on the ground, and the man's face was paler than before. Fade immediately snorted and said, 'You are stopping me from rescuing the people that you can't save. You want to watch as the old man's situation gets worse. Is this a good choice?’ Daphne turned around and looked at the old man’s face. At this moment, she was in a dilemma and couldn’t make a decision. Just as Daphne was hesitating, the old man trembled. Then, blood began to ooze out from his mouth, his nose and corners of his eyes. Seeing this, Fade couldn’t help but frown and his heart skipped a beat. Then, he rushed over quickly with a silver needle in his hand. ‘Get out of my way. The old man is in a critical situation,’ he said. All of a sudden, Daphne was pushed away by Fade. She was dissatisfied. She got up and was ready to stop Fade. However, Fade moved faster than her. Shortly after he rushed over, he pierced the thin silver needle into the old man’s head. With Fade’s movements, the needle which was as long as 2 fingers was pricked into the old man’s head. Only the outer part was left outside. Moreover, Fade’s movements were very fast. After the first needle, he immediately pierced one more. In a short while, more than 20 needles were pierced densely on the old man’s head. Daphne, who had rushed over, saw this and she could not help but be worried and angry. She was almost about to explode. The needles were so random and they were pierced swiftly. This was not similar to the skills of an experienced doctor in Chinese medicine and this man was obviously a fraud. At this moment, Daphne was quite certain that the guy in front of her was a fraud pretending to be a Chinese medicine practitioner. With so many needles pierced into the old man’s head, the old man would probably die. Thinking of this, Daphne rushed over and tried to push Fade away. ‘I’m asking you to get out of my way!’ she said. When Fade was about to pierce the last needle, he felt Daphne rushing toward him from behind. He used a gust of inner energy to stabilize himself against Daphne’s pushing movements. Then, he pierced the last silver needle into the old man’s head with his right hand with accuracy and speed. Fade let out a sigh of relief. He turned around and glared at Daphne, yelling coldly, 'What are you doing? Don't you know that if you push me all of a sudden, it's very likely that I lose control of my silver needles and pierce the wrong place.' Daphne was furious at this moment. She yelled at Fade angrily, 'You fraud! How can you treat this patient's life like a joke? You have no conscience at all.' 'Who said that I am a fraud? I am treating this old man,' Fade said. Daphne glared at Fade and said, 'I can tell at a glance that you're a fraud with your random acupuncture procedures. Do you still want to argue with me?' 'You can't understand my techniques, so you call me a fraud. You are too arrogant!' Fade shouted coldly. Daphne said, 'I'm the Director of Internal Medicine at City Medical Center. I have more knowledge of traditional Chinese medicine than you think. You can't fool me.' While speaking, Daphne stopped Fade and said coldly, 'You harmed the elder. Now, don't even think about leaving.' Looking at this woman's determined expression, Fade couldn't help but be angry and speechless. However, he also knew that no matter how he explained the situation to her at this moment, she would not believe him. He could only let the facts be his defense. So, Fade stopped arguing with Daphne and looked at the old man and tried to observe his condition. Seeing this, Daphne became even more nervous. She took two steps forward and stood in front of the old man, as if she was worried that Fade would play tricks on the old man again. Seeing this, Fade sighed and then he shook his head. He snorted and said, 'We'll wait for three minutes at most. You'll know when you see the result.' 'Three minutes?' The short-haired doctor looked at the old man whose head was full of silver needles, and she couldn't help but be worried. 'Why hasn't the ambulance come yet?' she asked. Soon, three minutes passed.

Glancing at the old man on the ground, Fade heaved a sigh of relief and he smiled. Then, he said to Dr. Tao, ‘Look at him yourself.’ ‘What should I see?’ Daphne frowned and she looked at Fade nervously and with suspicion. Then, she slowly turned her head and looked at the old man on the ground..

(1)

Chapter 457

In the beginning, the old man was still unconscious and it seemed that his conditions were not changing. But then, Daphne Tao was surprised to discover that the bleeding from the old man’s wound on his head seemed to have stopped. Moreover, the elder’s eyelids were moving. He opened his eyes in panic and he became conscious. His pale cheeks regained some color and he looked much better. At this moment, Daphne was really shocked. ‘Oh, this is’ At this time, Fade Chen came over and bent down to examine the old man’s pulse. At the same time, he explained, ‘I sealed the relevant points in his meridians with silver needles to stop the old man from bleeding. At the same time, I used the silver needles to dissolve the blood clot in the old man’s head and stimulate the nerves which were under pressure. Therefore, the old man regained consciousness.’ Daphne listened to Fade’s words and she felt mystified and incredulous. At this time, the elder moved and seated himself slowly on the ground. He said gratefully, ‘Young man, I know that you saved me. I feel much better now. Thank you so much.’ The old man was awake and he could also converse in a clear manner. Daphne was shocked once again. She quickly bent down to check on the old man. Thereafter, she was shocked to discover that the old man's physical condition was actually much better than before. He was now completely out of mortal danger. Daphne was instantly dumbfounded. She looked up at Fade in disbelief. No one could tell what expression she had on her face. At this time, the ambulance rushed over and the crowd moved aside. Doctors and nurses started to get busy. They carried the elder into the ambulance and connected him to the medical equipment there to conduct a basic examination on him. Then, the first-aid doctor was stunned. 'According to the tests, this elder is very healthy. He has only lost a significant amount of blood. He, he doesn't need any first aid.' Hearing the first-aid doctor's words, Daphne instantly believed in Fade's medical skills. She felt relieved and she quickly came forward to reveal her identity. She explained to the first-aid doctor what had just happened and told the doctor to take the old man to the hospital to have a proper checkup. The first-aid doctor was aware of Daphne's identity and his attitude was very respectful. He quickly nodded and agreed. Then, he left swiftly with the old man. Seeing that the old man was saved, the crowd around him gradually dispersed. Fade removed the dust on his clothes and was ready to leave. Seeing this, Daphne quickened her pace and caught up with him, shouting, 'Please wait.' Fade stopped and turned to look at Daphne. He said coldly, 'Dr. Tao, why are you calling me? Do you still think I'm a fraud?' Daphne's cheeks became slightly red, and her expression changed slightly. Then, she took a deep breath and stood up straight. She bowed deeply at an angle of ninety degrees to Fade and said with sincerity, 'I'm sorry, I was too careless when dealing with the matter just now. I was biased and misinterpreted the situation and your intentions. Please forgive me, sir!’ Looking at Daphne bowing in front of him, Fade was really surprised. After all, Daphne was only in her twenties. She was now the director of internal medicine at City Medical Center. Also, she was good-looking, and she could be rated 8 out of 10. Daphne could definitely be described as a high-quality woman among many women that he had seen. It was rare for a woman of this level to not be arrogant. She had taken the initiative to apologize to him, and Fade’s resentment toward her vanished. Therefore, Fade said, ‘Well, I forgive you. Get up now!’ Dr. Tao immediately got up, nudged her glasses, looked at Fade and said with a smile. ‘Thank you for your forgiveness. Hearing this, Fade waved his hand and said, ‘Don’t be so polite. My name is Fade Chen. You can just call me Fade.’ Daphne smiled gently and said, ‘Dr. Chen, I was speaking rashly just now. Please forgive me, Dr. Chen. I don’t know which hospital you are working at? I have never seen you around before.’ Fade said, ‘I don’t work in a hospital. I’m working for a company.’ ‘Oh, this... but, Mr. Chen, your medical skills-Daphne was very surprised. Fade explained casually, ‘I learned these medical skills from my master.’ ‘I see. You’re so young, but your medical skills are excellent. Your master must be a famous physician that is the treasure of the country, am I right?’ Daphne said. Fade shook his head and said, ‘No, my master is not famous at all. He is not a famous physician. He is just a traveling doctor.’ ‘Ah, this-’ Daphne was embarrassed. Fade understood the situation, so he waved goodbye and said, ‘I still have some unfinished business. Goodbye.’ ‘Goodbye!’ Daphne bade him farewell and watched as Fade started to leave. Suddenly, she thought of something and shouted quickly, ‘Mr. Chen, please wait. Can I have your contact number?’ ‘Erm-’ Fade looked at Daphne in surprise. Daphne blushed at this moment. After all, she was a young woman. Asking for Fade's phone number in public was very likely to be misunderstood as her wanting to pursue Fade. Therefore, she explained quickly. 'I am worried that there may be further complications from the old man's injury just now. I would like your contact information, Mr. Chen, so I can consult you if this is the case.' Hearing this, Fade felt that she was being reasonable, so he nodded and then left his phone number with Daphne. Then, the two parties waved goodbye to each other. Fade strolled along and started to make his way home. On the way home, he used his cell phone and found the relevant information on Weibo. Someone posted on Weibo about the car accident just now. It was said that the actress, Rowena Song, had fled after bumping into someone, and there was no treatment given to the injured person. The situation was terrible. There were several pictures added on Weibo. These pictures were from the scene where the elder had fallen down and was bleeding. The back of Rowena's black Mercedes Benz departing the scene was also seen in the pictures. As soon as this news came out, it caused a stir on the internet. For some time, many netizens discussed and gossiped about this matter, and the matter was hyped up. Some people scolded Rowena for her irresponsible escape in this accident. They advised the police to arrest her and bring her back to the police station, Some people also said that it was impossible to determine the authenticity of this matter based on a Weibo post. More investigation was needed. At the same time, they encouraged both parties to reveal more evidence. Rowena's fans were even more furious. All of a sudden, they rushed to the person's Weibo account and abused him mercilessly. They even launched personal attacks on him and searched for the identity of the person behind the post. Looking at the drama brewing on Weibo, Fade couldn't help but frown. After reading the post for some time, Fade refreshed the page. Suddenly, he found that the post that was going viral had disappeared. The related forum of discussion with the title ‘Rowena Song fled from a car accident’ was also blocked. Then, Rowena posted a message on her personal account, denying that she had committed a crime and fled. She claimed that she was innocent. At the same time, she rebuked the person who had made up this rumor angrily. Not long after this Weibo post was made public, it was re posted in many places. Many people commented on these posts. Rowena’s fans were ecstatic. They rushed to the Weibo accounts of those who were suspecting Rowena of crime and they posted merciless insults on their accounts. For a period of time, there was a lot of excitement on the internet.

• Chapter 458

Seeing this, Fade Chen also posted a relevant Weibo post to explain about the accident just now at the commercial street. However, as soon as his Weibo post was posted, Fade discovered that his post was deleted in less than 30 seconds. Not long after that, a group of Rowena Song’s fans rushed to Fade’s Weibo account and began to make personal insults and abused him with their words recklessly. Fade turned off the comments section. However, his inbox was instantly flooded with direct messages. Countless messages entered into his inbox, and he opened one of them. They contained curses and threats from one of Rowena’s fans. Fade wasn’t bothered by these online trolls who were insulting him. He logged out of his Weibo account directly. Then, he frowned, and said to himself, ‘Rowena’s company must have blocked all the relevant information. The truth is buried by countless cluttered messages and news on the internet, and ordinary people won’t be able to know the truth. I just hope the elderly man will report this issue to the police for an investigation! Fade shook his head, put away his phone, and drove back to the company. He had wandered around for some time just now. When he returned to the company, it was late afternoon and it was time to get off work. Fade waited downstairs, and he was ready to bring his wife home from work. After waiting for 15 minutes, almost all the people in the company had left. However, his wife still did not come down. Fade had to go to the president's office to look for his wife. When Fade opened the door of the president's office, Fade spotted his wife working at the desk. After he entered the room, he immediately came over and said, 'President Lin, it's time to get off work.' Quin Lin didn't look up at all, and she replied, 'Well, I know. You can go first. I'll finish my work and leave by myself.' Quin had just finished speaking, when she saw a pair of large hands reaching over and holding her wrist. Seeing this, Quin could not help but be startled and she instinctively tried to struggle. However, when she looked up, she realized that the person who had grabbed her hand was actually Fade. She was relieved. Then, she gave Fade a reproachful look and said, 'What are you doing?' Fade held his wife's hand and said, 'Dear, it's time to finish your work. Let's go home.' 'I still have things to do. I'll go back after I'm done with my business,' Quin said. Fade said, 'Honey, I know that you're busy, but work is never ending. If you work too hard, it will not be beneficial to your health.' Quin knew that Fade was concerned about her. She could not help but feel warm in her heart. However, she still said, 'I know, but today's matter is quite urgent. I have to deal with this as soon as possible. I will pay attention to my health in the future.' Hearing this, Fade had an idea and he said, 'Honey, let's do it this way. What do you need to complete? I'll help you to finish it as soon as possible. Then, we can go home earlier.' Quin was a little surprised. Looking at Fade's concerned expression, she nodded her head and said, 'Well, can you handle these for me?' While speaking, Quin handed a stack of documents to Fade, and then she began to give a brief explanation. 'These documents contains data from our company in the past six months in regards to product sales, as well as the statistics in regards to public response. I need to sort out these documents and classify them according to their different qualities. In this way, I can make proper preparations for the launch of our latest products.' Fade retrieved the documents and started to assist his wife in this matter. 'These are documents containing data in regards to Far Peace Corporation's new branch company. This time, they have developed several new products swiftly, and their target consumer group is very similar to the target group of Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc. Also, they have spent a lot of money on commercials and they will be inviting celebrities to endorse their products. We must think of countermeasures as well.' Fade heard her words and said, 'They invited celebrities, and we can do that also. We are not lacking in funds.' Quin looked at Fade and said, 'Money is just a small matter, but inviting celebrities into our company to represent our products requires a lot of consideration. We have to consider the image of the star, the person's character the potential that the star has to market the products, the market prices etc. In short, it's not a simple matter. Moreover, this time, the other party has invited a rising star, and she's extremely popular.' 'Who is this rising star?' Fade couldn't help but ask curiously. Quin handed over a stack of documents and said, 'Her name is Rowena Song. She's an actress. In the past two years..' Without waiting for Quin to finish her introduction, Fade asked in surprise, 'It's her?' 'Do you know her?' Quin looked at

Fade with some surprise. After all, Fade did not look like someone who was interested in celebrities. However, he actually knew about this new rising star. Quin couldn't help but be a little surprised. Fade began to explain the situation and told his wife about his encounter with Rowena. Then he said, 'Honey, Far Peace Corporation chose Rowena as their ambassador. However, when Rowena's hit-and-run issue is exposed, her image will be greatly affected. At that time, it will be too late for Far Peace Corporation to regret their decision.' There was a hint of joy in Quin's eyes, but she was still very cautious. She said, 'This incident where the celebrity is involved in a car accident is very likely to be suppressed. Therefore, we can't expect the other party to make any mistakes. We should also be prepared. We should also choose a suitable ambassador for our company.' 'Honey, do you have a suitable candidate?' Fade asked. Quin, who was flipping through a stack of documents, frowned slightly and said, 'I don't have any suitable candidates in mind yet. The current popular celebrities are pretty and young, but many of them are just hyped idols based on their appearances and charm. They have no strong roots in the industry and their filmography and career are not outstanding enough. If we choose them, I'm afraid that people will have this impression that our products are just beautiful on the outside and have no real substance.' 'If those actors and singers who have strong roots in the industry are chosen, they will be either be too old or not famous enough. These people would not be suitable for our company as well. As for those actresses who are world renowned and have deep roots in the industry, they exist at the pinnacle of the entertainment industry. Almost all the cosmetic products they endorse are from international brands. They will not consider the products of our company.' 'Therefore, haven't decided on the right person yet, Quin explained to Fade. Then, she thought of something and said, ‘You and Scott Huang seem to be very familiar with each other. His family is in the entertainment industry. Can you ask him to look out for me and see if he knows any suitable candidates. If there are any potential candidates, you can recommend them to me.’ Fade nodded and committed this to his memory. Then, under his wife’s guidance, he began to help his wife sort out the documents. In this way, the couple was busy for more than half an hour and they finally finished sorting out all the documents. Then, the two of them drove home. Fade personally prepared a sumptuous feast for his wife. Quin enjoyed the meal thoroughly. After eating, she leaned against the sofa without bothering how she looked like. Seeing that his wife was happy after eating, Fade was even happier. With a smile at the corner of his lips, he wore his apron cheerfully and went to wash the dishes and clean the table..

(0)

Chapter 459

Quin Lin, who was lying on the sofa, looked at Fade Chen, who was going in and out of the kitchen. She couldn’t help but feel a different emotion in her heart. She couldn’t comprehend how their relationship could develop this far. After all, they had met by chance. Quin had given her virginity to Fade in a muddleheaded way. Later, her brother, Jeremy Lin, had tried to force her to get married to someone else. Therefore, Quin and Fade decided to become husband and wife in name so she could avoid the forced marriage. At that time, Quin had set many rules to restrict the intimacy of their relationship. However, all her terms were useless now. The two of them were just like any ordinary couple. ‘How did I get used to this routine over time?’ Quin thought to herself. ‘Is it just out of habit, or have I really fallen in love with Fade?’ ‘In love with him!’ she continued thinking. Quin did not know what emotions she felt when this thought came to her mind. She wasn’t sure how the feelings of love between a man and a woman would be, so she couldn’t identify all her different emotions. After all, since she was 16 years old, she had been carrying the heavy responsibilities of the company all by herself. She had been busy all the way till now. She had never dated a man, let alone fall in love with a man. Therefore, her direct marriage with Fade caused Quin to be unclear on her feelings. She didn’t know what kind of feelings she had for this man at this moment! While Quin was deep in thought, Fade walked over to her with a bowl of dessert and a smile. He brought it to her and said, ‘Dear, have some dessert!’ Quin smelled the dessert and the fragrance from it increased her appetite. However, she lowered her head, touched her belly and said with some concern, ‘I’ve already eaten too much. If I continue to eat this dessert. I’ll be fat.’ Fade laughed and said, ‘Honey, even if you are fat, you are still beautiful. Besides, this dessert won’t make you fat. This dessert is good for your stomach, and I prepared it specifically for you. It will help with your digestion. You won’t become fat after drinking it, but you will become slimmer.’ ‘Really?’ Women are always interested in information regarding their figure, no matter how cold their character was. Fade smiled and scooped up a spoonful of dessert. He brought it in front of Quin’s mouth and said, ‘Dear, you’ll know that I am telling you the truth after you taste this.' Quin opened her mouth and consumed the spoonful of dessert gently. Suddenly, her expression changed and she lit up with joy. She called out, 'It's so delicious!' Then, she took the bowl of dessert and gulped it all down. After a while, Quin finished the bowl of sweet dessert. After drinking this dessert, Quin couldn't help licking her lips gently with her tender pink tongue. When she did this, she realized that Fade was still standing in front of her, staring at her intently. Instantly, Quin blushed. She lowered her head slightly and retracted her pink tongue. At this moment, looking at his wife, Fade's heart started to beat violently as if he was a young man who was in love for the first time. His wife's pretty face, her delicate lips, the gentle movements of her pink tongue were alluring indeed. These sweet little gestures caused his wife to look like a teenage girl. Fade's heart started to beat violently. Then, the sight of her lowering her head and pouting was even more tempting for him. She was like a flower blossoming in spring. For a moment, Fade found that he was stunned, and heat overcame him. He felt a wild desire toward her. This fiery sensation was transformed into action. Fade stretched out his hands, leaned on the back of the sofa, looked at his wife affectionately, and said in a deep voice, 'Dear, you are so beautiful! Quin also felt this warm and seductive atmosphere at this moment. In a flash, her heartbeat sped up. She felt a slightly warm sensation on her skin. 'Dear, can I kiss you?' Looking at his wife's delicate and plump red lips, Fade couldn't help but lean down toward her. Feeling Fade's warm breath approaching her, Quin was agitated and flustered. Her eyes seemed to signal that she was avoiding him, but her body didn't move, - ' Before Quin could finish speaking, Fade's fiery lips were pressed onto Quin's delicate lips. Then.. they kissed each other passionately Their passionate kisses caused the atmosphere in the room to heat up, and the temperature of their bodies rose gradually. As they kissed deeply, their burning instincts could no longer be suppressed. Fade took off his clothes, leaned down toward Quin and said, 'Dear, I want you!' At this moment, Quin blushed. A layer of sweat appeared on her forehead and her hair was untidy. Her hair was pressing against his face, and she seemed even more seductive. Seeing Fade who was naked coming toward her, Quin said shyly, 'No, not here. Let's go to the room--' Fade couldn't wait any longer. He hugged Quin, pressed his body against her, and said softly, 'Honey, let's stay here. We'll try something new.' Before Quin could reply him, Fade's fiery red lips were pressed against her lips once more. Then, like warm water getting to its boiling point, the two of them were fused together. They had a wild night. When the two of them opened their eyes the next day, the sun had already risen. 'Oh no, I'm late for work!' Quin looked at the alarm clock next to the bed. She was agitated and got up from the bed. As she tried to move, Quin felt a sense of pain coming from her body, and she couldn't help but fall back on the large bed once more. It turned out that they had a wild night yesterday. From the sofa in the living room to the stairs, the balcony and finally into the room, they enjoyed each other more than ten times. That was exhausting indeed. When she thought of the scene last night, Quin couldn't help but blush. She shook her head fiercely and tried to erase those memories from her head. She had always been self-disciplined since she was a child, and she had never experienced such wild and fiery trysts. At this time, Fade smiled at the corners of his mouth, grabbed his wife and pulled her into his arms. He said, 'Dear, let's take a day off and have a good rest today!' 'But--' Quin still couldn't let go of her work. Instead of letting her go, Fade grabbed Quin and spoke softly in her ear. 'Dear, you worked hard last night, and you have to take a good rest,'he said. Listening to Fade's stress on the word 'worked hard', Quin couldn't help glancing at Fade Chen. However, she laid down obediently When Fade saw this, he patted his wife's butt and then got up with a smile, 'Dear, just rest. I'll prepare breakfast, he said. When Fade finished talking, he got up from the bed directly even though he was naked. Then, he put on his clothes in front of Quin without any worries. He went to the kitchen and started to get busy.

(0)

Chapter 460

After the two of them had a intimate breakfast,Quin Lin proceeded to go to work as she had to deal with some pending business obligations. Fade Chen was not so hardworking. He stayed at home to rest. After just a short while, the phone rang. Fade grabbed the cell phone and saw that it was a call from Fatty Huang. He immediately answered, 'Fatty, how can I help you?' Scott Huang, also known as Fatty, replied, 'Brother Fade, haven't you been back for a few days now? Are you free?' Fade was bored out of his mind, so he said, 'I really have time to kill. Fatty, you don't need to be so polite. If there is any matter at all, just feel free to speak to me about it.' Fatty chuckled and said, 'Brother Fade, before your trip to South Hanover City, didn't I mention to you that I was going to start an entertainment enterprise at Dragonville?' 'That's right! How is it going then?' Fade asked. Scott replied 'The enterprise is open for business, and all relevant preparations are complete. Quite a few artists have signed with us. Next, we will be organizing the opening ceremony and having the official announcement of commencement!’ Fade was rather surprised. He said, ‘I didn’t expect that you would settle all these matters at such a fast pace. Business is now open, artists have signed, how swiftly everything is done! Is there anything that I can help you with?’ Fatty spoke directly: ‘Brother Fade, I consider myself a confident person. We have signed several upcoming artists, and even a rising star. However, my enterprise is new in Long City, so it is not that easy to become known or popular in a short time. Therefore, I would like to invite you to be one of the special guests and help to enliven the atmosphere of the ceremony. This was not a big favor, so Fade accepted without any protest, saying: ‘Sure, that will not be a problem at all. Just give me the date, time and venue and I will be there.’ ‘Our ceremony will take place today afternoon at two o’clock. The venue is next to Carrefour Shopping Center, Second Ring Road.’ Fatty said. Fade promised him, ‘Alright, I will be there.’ ‘Many thanks, Brother Fade!’ Fatty spoke with a grin. At that moment the sound of someone yelling could be heard on the other end of the phone. Fatty immediately said, ‘Brother Fade, our opening ceremony is soon, and I still have some business to tend to here. See you later.’ ‘Sure, go ahead!’ Fade said, Fatty was going to hang up the phone, but at the last second, he seemed to remember something and added, ‘Brother Fade, I will allocate 40% of the shares in my enterprise to you.’ ‘Fatty, this - Fade was startled, and was about to decline his offer. But Fatty didn’t give him a chance to reply and immediately hung up the phone. ‘See you soon.’ Instantly, the call was ended and there was a beeping sound. Fade Chen could not help but laugh heartily, saying, ‘Fatty, you are full of surprises.' After the phone call, Fade took a shower, put on some fresh clothes and made himself presentable. It was almost time for the ceremony, so he set off towards the entertainment enterprise of Fatty. As he approached the enterprise from afar, Fade could see that there was a crowd, bustling with energy and liveliness. At the entrance he spotted a red carpet, flower baskets and various high-end luxury cars. Immaculately dressed men and women were seen walking in with smiles, and they greeted each other politely. As these people went in, quite a few of them seemed to recognize Fade. He didn't want to cause an unnecessary scene, so he called Fatty to send someone to escort him. He then entered the building from the side door away from the crowd. Employees of the enterprise brought Fade to the back, where the working area was. Fatty immediately greeted him with enthusiasm, 'Brother Fade, you have arrived.' Fade patted Scott Huang on the shoulder and said, 'Whatever you need me to do, you can make the relevant arrangements now. Don't feel obliged, I know that you are very busy now.' Fatty chuckled and said, 'Alright then.' At this moment, he took out a piece of paper and handed it to Fade, explaining quickly. 'Brother Fade, I will need you to say a few words at the end of the speeches of the invited guests. It's just polite greetings and mainly words of congratulations. If you feel that it is quite troublesome to give an impromptu speech, just read from this paper. Fade glanced at the paper. It contained nothing more than words of congratulations, and it was not too long. Nodding his head, Fade said, 'Alright then, go ahead with your other matters then!' Fatty smiled apologetically at Fade, waved his hand and said: 'Brother Fade, sorry, I am quite busy today and can't accompany you for long.' Smiling, Fade kicked Fatty lightly and said, 'You are too polite, do go and take care of your invited guests!' Fatty chuckled as he left. Fade walked around the working area at the back of the building and observed the management of the enterprise. Fatty had given the enterprise the name 'Scott Entertainment'. He was fully supported by his father, so funding was not a problem. He had rented two complete floors of the office building. Although the enterprise was considered small-scaled, the relevant departments and personnel were well equipped to do their jobs, similar to a large corporation. Of course, as an entertainment enterprise, the most important element was the artists and their work. Therefore, it was crucial that they signed on artists that were the right fit. The employees briefly introduced themselves to Fade. Scott's long-term plan was to mentor upcoming talents. His goal was to discover young talents with potential, fund their training, and then promote their careers when the time is right. Since his enterprise was brand new, he could not just rely on upcoming young talents. That would be rather dull for his opening. Therefore, Scott signed on a popular artist who was enjoying great success currently. She would be their ace up the sleeve, giving the audience the shock and surprise that they needed to help generate publicity. Fade did not comment too much on Fatty's plans. After all, this was not his area of expertise. He allowed Fatty to carry out his plans as he pleased. After strolling around for a while, the time was almost 1:30. Some staff members started bringing in handsome young men and beautiful young women one after the other to the work area. The staff then explained to Fade, 'These are the new recruits signed on by Director Huang. Some are students of the Institute of Film and Drama, and some are complete newcomers to the scene. Each of them have their own unique personalities and all of them have the potential for success. Director Huang plans to focus on mentoring them in the future.' Several of them noticed that the staff was treating Fade with respect, so they started to greet Fade Chen politely, one after the other. The staff also introduced him to them: ‘This is Mr. Fade Chen, a friend of Director Huang.’ The newcomers were not slow in their thinking. Hearing that Fade was a friend of their boss, and seeing that he was brought directly to the work area, they assumed that Mr. Chen was someone important. Therefore, they became even more friendly and polite in their greetings. Fade also greeted them politely and carefully observed these artists. There were six of them, two men and four women. They are all in their early twenties and good looking. One could rate them at least an eight out of ten in appearance. With the assistance of professional stylists, hairdressers and make-up artists, their looks were enhanced even more..

(0)

Chapter 461

Most importantly, these people had a nice personality. As they entered the room, they did not behave in any rude manner or ask for special treatment. They also treated the staff with respect. Fatty Huang seemed to be a good judge of character when it came to picking his artists. The staff briefed the young upcoming artists on the schedule, the order of appearance, the content of their speeches, and their performance programs. Several of them had solemn expressions on their faces, and they looked through their materials many times. They seemed to take this event very seriously. Time passed quickly and it was almost two o'clock. The opening ceremony would be starting anytime soon. But at this moment, the staff members seemed anxious. They kept looking out and checked their cell phones repeatedly, muttering, 'What is happening now, where are they? Did you manage to contact them?' 'Ask them to hurry up! They have been reminded of the starting time, why are they still acting this way?' When Fade Chen saw this, he couldn't resist asking, 'What is going on, someone hasn't arrived yet?' The staff member replied anxiously, 'One of the artists has not arrived.' When Fade heard this, he frowned and snorted, 'This artist is not punctual, she won't be successful in the future.' The staff laughed and explained tentatively: 'Mr. Chen, this artist is the popular actress that Director Huang signed on. She is the star of our enterprise.' Fade's face fell, and he said coldly, 'Next time, when the enterprise is successful, you won't be needing this actress anymore!' The staff did not dare to respond to his words. At this moment, a loud commotion could be heard outside the side door, and a group of bodyguards clad in black marched in. There were more than ten of them. After the bodyguards had entered, a woman in an evening gown and delicate high heels walked in slowly. Her head was slightly raised and she peered at the surrounding people and objects in the room. She sneered slightly and said, 'Well, this isn't too bad.' At this moment, the anxious staff members rushed over, with a slightly reprimanding tone, saying, 'You are finally here, the opening ceremony has begun.' The actress was offended by the attitude of the staff members and snorted coldly, 'Why are you so upset and panicky? It's not my turn yet. Tell me, when am I supposed to go onstage? What would you like me to perform? I had stipulated that my stage time is limited to ten minutes. I will not remain here after that.' When the staff members heard her words, their hearts sank, but they had to suppress their annoyance due to her status. They proceeded to brief her quickly on the relevant details. The actress went through the details casually, then waved her hands in impatience. She said, 'Alright, I know, I know. There will be a official signing ceremony, then I will say a few words, and finally I will present a song. Anyway, are you ready with the teleprompter? When it's time for me to go onstage, just tell me to get ready then.' 'Last night, I stayed up quite late, so I need to rest now. Let me take a nap!' As she said that, the actress walked directly towards a large reclining chair in the work area. A young female artist was sitting on it, trying to memorize her lyrics. The actress came over and kicked the chair directly, saying in a cold tone, 'Get up!' The young artist was startled, looking affronted. But when she realized that it was the star of the enterprise, she did not dare to offend her. She acquiesced and got up, standing to the side. The actress lay down, looked around, and instructed the staff, 'Turn off the lights in the room, and if you need to talk, go out. Please don't disturb my rest.' When several other young artists and staff members heard this, they were not pleased. At the same time, they knew better than to offend this popular actress. Therefore they started shuffling out. Fade and the actress were the only ones left in the room. The actress saw that Fade was still loitering there and not leaving, and immediately lost her temper. She yelled in annoyance, 'Didn't you hear what I said? Get out now!' Fade stood still, gazing at the actress coldly. He said in a icy tone, 'You are being a huge diva. Yes, this is your company. But all the employees are your colleagues as well. You should not act this way.' 'Colleagues? Don't crack stupid jokes like that. Did you just say that I am colleagues with you lowly staff members, don't be silly.' The actress said in a sarcastic tone. 'How much do you make anyway, is it even a few thousand yuan? I signed a contract worth a hundred million. A hundred million, do you understand how much that is, I can crush you with that amount.' Witnessing the actress's arrogant attitude, Fade found himself becoming even more annoyed and indignant. He said, 'You are crossing the line. No matter how big a star you are, you can't just throw your weight around. At the very least, you have to show some respect to other people.' 'Who are you talk to me about respect?' The actress said dismissively. 'Believe it or not, with one sentence, I can get you thrown out' 'You'd better not wait for me to do that, just leave and get out now!' The actress pointed at the door, yelling at Fade. At this moment, Fade was already feeling completely dissatisfied. In comparison to his approval of the prior upcoming young talents, he was absolutely disgruntled and irked by this actress. Fade didn't think Fatty should sign a contract with such a rude and arrogant person, and he also did not think that she deserved a contract that was worth as much as a 100 million. Fade stared at the actress and said in a deep voice: 'I think Scott should seriously reconsider your contract.' When the actress heard this, she sneered coldly and said, 'Alright, let Director Huang think about it then. Who do you think you are? You are just some useless employee, can't imagine that Director Huang will give you the time of day.' As she spoke, the actress shouted in impatience, 'Guards, come and throw this man out!' Two burly bodyguards clad in black entered, and they stretched out their hands to throw Fade out. But before they could approach him, Fade shook himself and a gust of energy launched out and flew directly towards the two bodyguards. They fell heavily to the ground and groaned slightly, passing out. The actress was shocked when she saw this. She quickly raised her voice and shouted, 'Guards- However, before she could finish Fade had stepped forward. He grabbed the actress's neck and lifted her up.

The actress panicked and held on to her neck as she was being choked by Fade. She swayed her hands frantically and repeatedly slapped Fate's right hand screaming 'Let go of me, you let go of me, you are killing me, help me, guards-' As her hands moved around, almost like some wild dance, the actress's shades, which were covering more than half of her face, were knocked down. A beautiful face with heavy makeup appeared in front of Fade. In Fade saw her face, he couldn't help but frown. He recognized her and spoke coldly. 'Is it really you?' 'Yes, it's me, I'm Rowena Song. I'm the superstar of your enterprise, and it's your manager Director Huang who recruited me in person. How dare you lay hands on me, mark my words, you will be in absolute trouble!' The actress bellowed, as she continued hitting Fade as hard as she could in the arm. She screamed, 'Let go of me, release me!'

(0)

Chapter 462

Fade Chen did not relax his grip on her. In fact, he used more force. He stared icily at Rowena Song without flinching. Prior to this, when Fade was not privy to the actress's identity, he just might have felt disgruntled and perhaps suggest to Fatty Huang not to sign her on. Now that he knew that she was Rowena Song, Fade was determined to prevent Fatty from signing a contract with her. Her disgraceful behavior was not the only reason, she had also evaded justice in regards to a hit-and-run accident involving a senior citizen Fade would never tolerate such transgressions. For a moment, Fade could not resist adding more force in his arms, and Rowena began to choke, her cheeks turning from red to purple. The people outside heard a commotion inside and cautiously peered through the door to check on the situation. As soon as they saw what was going on, they panicked and rushed in. ‘Mr. Chen, what are you doing, let go of her!’ ‘Miss Song, you ‘Stop him!’ In just a short time, chaos ensued. As the staff members and the other people there tried to counsel Fade and persuade him to release her, Fade snorted coldly. He released his right hand, and threw Rowena, who was still purple in the face, to the ground. Rowena coughed violently for a while. When she recovered, she stared at Fade in resentment, made a gesture with her hand and shouted, ‘He laid hands on me, beat him up as hard as you can, strike him down and kill him.’ At this instant, Rowena’s remaining bodyguards surrounded Fade. The staff members and several young artists quickly tried to convince them against this, stopping them from further action. ‘Mr. Chen, Miss Song, what is going on here? Why are you fighting?’ After finally stopping the bodyguards from attacking, the staff members quickly tried to resolve the issue. Rowena grunted loudly, glared at Fade, and said in a cold tone, ‘This fellow was not only rude and insolent to me, he even laid hands on me. I want you to make amends now regarding this matter. Otherwise I will go straight to Director Huang and ask him to deal out a severe punishment to all of you employees.’ When the staff members heard her words, their faces fell, and they felt helpless. They looked at Fade, waiting for his reaction. Fade looked emotionless. He did not try to defend himself, only saying rather coldly, ‘She deserved it.’ When Rowena, who was feeling calmer, heard what he said, she lost her temper instantly. She lifted her right finger and pointed it directly at Fade, screaming, ‘Did you hear that this fellow isn't sorry at all. He has to suffer the consequences. I will make sure he does.' The staff members turned pale, being caught between a rock and a hard place. Mr. Chen seemed to be a good friend of Director Huang, and Rowena was the star of the enterprise. Both of them were important people, and it would not be wise to offend either of them. Just when the staff members were in a dilemma, someone came in and informed them rather frantically, 'Miss Song, everyone, the signing ceremony is about to begin. Please get ready now.' Hearing this, most of the young artists immediately turned around to get ready for the ceremony. However, Rowena lay down on the sofa and refused to get up. She folded her arms and said, 'Tell Director Huang that if this matter is not resolved, I will not attend the signing ceremony.' As soon as she said these words, the staff members inside the room became anxious. They didn't expect Rowena to be so headstrong, trying to use the contract as leverage to deal with Fade. The staff members had no choice but to go out and report the situation to Scott. And due to this fight, several young artists seemed at a loss. They were unsure if they should get ready or wait for Rowena. The atmosphere inside the room was tense and strained. Rowena squinted her eyes slightly as she glanced at Fade. She said coldly, 'You are just some low-level employee. How dare you try to start a fight with me. You are beneath me. Just wait and see, not only will you lose your job, I will make sure you are severely punished. By the time I am finished with you, you won't be able to survive.' As Rowena threatened him, Fade's expression did not change. He said quietly, 'It might be you who won't be able to survive.' 'It might be me? You may joke but I'm the face of the company. Director Huang recruited me and I will be signing a contract worth 100 million. How can it be possible that it would be me?' Rowena sneered.

Hearing her words, several young artists also felt doubtful.

Although they vaguely knew that Fade was not an employee of the enterprise but a friend of Director Huang, Rowena was still the face of the enterprise. Director Huang was planning to spend a lot of money to sign a contract with her. He would not abandon this important contract with Rowena just because of his friendship with Fade. At this moment, several of the young artists became rather anxious. They were of course worried on behalf of Fade, wondering what the outcome of this situation would be. They were also concerned about their future in the enterprise. After all, it is definitely not pleasant for them to be colleagues with a calculating and headstrong person like Rowena. Fade had a wooden expression on his face. There was no indication of any type of emotion, and he just stood there without moving. In the eyes of Rowena, this calmness was just a facade. Just then, there was the sound of footsteps from outside. 'He is here!' Rowena immediately smirked and she glanced at Fade. She murmured rather coldly, 'Director Huang is coming. We will soon find out what consequences you have to suffer!' As soon as Rowena completed her sentence, the door opened. Scott and the staff members walked in quickly. Seeing Scott's stern expression, several of the young artists shrank in fear and took a few steps back, standing in the corner. Rowena smiled, and she stood up from the sofa. She walked towards Scott, and pointed at Fade, saying in a fierce tone, 'Director Huang, You have to fire this fellow here. He laid hands on me, I will.' Rowena was not able to finish her sentence. Scott walked over quickly, even passing by Rowena. He walked directly to Fade and asked, 'Brother Fade, are you alright?' Fade answered lightly: 'I'm fine!' Witnessing this scene, all the young artists were dumbfounded. They were so sure that Director Huang would try to appease and calm down Rowena, and reprimand Fade. Instead, Director Huang had walked by Rowena and greeted Fade. The relationship between Fade and Director Huang was closer than they thought. As for Rowena, she froze and stared in disbelief at Scott and Fade. She gritted her teeth in anger and said, Director Huang, he-‘ However, Scott was still ignoring Rowena. He continued to ask Fade, ‘Brother Fade, what is going on here?’ Fade glanced at Rowena and said, ‘I don’t like her. I don’t think she is the right fit for the enterprise.’ As soon as she heard his words, Rowena exploded in anger. She yelled and screamed, ‘Who are you to say that I’m not the right fit for the enterprise. I should be the one who decides if you are the right fit for this enterprise!’ Rowena then looked directly at Scott, and gave him an ultimatum. ‘Director Huang, I want him to slap himself ten times, then kneel down and apologize to me. Otherwise, I will not sign the contract.’.

(0)

Chapter 463

As she spoke these words, everyone at the scene became quiet. One could almost hear a pin drop, and the sound of breathing was non-existent. At this moment almost everyone’s eyes were focused on Scott Huang, Fade Chen and Rowena Song. Rowena folded her arms and looked at Fade. She was feeling confident, with a sneer on her face, as she waited for Scott Huang to reply. Fade had an indifferent expression on his face. He remained calm and did not pay attention to Rowena. Scott’s expression was dark, and he seemed furious. He paused briefly, glanced at Fade, and started walking towards Rowena. When Rowena saw this, she had a gloating expression on her face. She quickly said to Scott, 'Director Huang, your enterprise can't recruit such employees in the future, I-' However, before Rowena could complete her sentence, Scott slapped her directly on the face. Rowena was completely stunned, she patted her cheeks, and looked at Scott in confusion, saying, 'Director Huang, you-' Everyone else in the room was flabbergasted when they saw this. Their eyes and their mouths were completely wide open. 'What, what is going on here?' 'Why did Director Huang slap Rowena? Is Director Huang such close friends with Fade?' 'This, how on earth will they resolve this issue? The crowd outside is still waiting for the signing ceremony?' Everyone felt as though they were on a turbulent ocean full of waves, and that they were completely disoriented. At this moment, Rowena was furious and perplexed. She said to Scott, 'Why did you slap me?' Scott snorted coldly and answered, 'Why, you ask? My slap is considered a light punishment in consideration of your attitude towards Brother Fade.' 'Brother Fade? Him? Who is he?' Rowena asked, as she was baffled by Scott's use of the word 'brother'. Scott said: 'Brother Fade is the second largest shareholder of the enterprise. He is also your boss. At the same time, brother Fade is my boss. His words are sacred to me.' As soon as he had said this, not only Rowena, but all the other staff members were stunned. They had assumed that Fade was just a random friend or even a relative of Scott's. But no one had expected Fade to have a higher status than Scott. At this moment, they finally understood why Fade was not intimidated by Rowena at all. For a brief moment, everyone was dumbfounded and could not move. At this sight, Scott snorted at Rowena and yelled, 'You have to leave immediately!’ Hearing this order, Rowena came back to her senses. The expression on her face darkened and she was filled with fury. ‘Scott, you were the one who actively recruited me to sign this contract. If you drive me out now, that is a breach of contract and flouting the law.’ Scott snorted and said, ‘Breach of contract? You must be joking, our enterprise hasn’t signed any contract with you. We have not broken any laws.’ ‘You, you made a promise to me that I will receive 100 million upon signing the contract.’ Rowena was reluctant to let go of the 100 million fee. At this moment, she wanted to be compensated at the very least. However, Scott replied coldly, ‘Are we still talking about the 100 million? You were rude towards Brother Fade, you should be thankful that you are still alive. Leave now!’ Rowena was incensed and felt completely humiliated. She wanted to call her bodyguards, but noticing Fade that was just beside her, she dared not move. In the end, she could only yell: ‘Without me, your ceremony will not be a success. Your enterprise will be a failure. ‘This small enterprise is trash anyway. Let’s see how long you can last, relying on all these rubbish artistes! Hmm!’ Rowena bellowed, then she called all her bodyguards as she strode away. Scott had no intention of persuading her to stay. Instead, he looked at Fade and said, ‘Brother Fade, Would you like me to send someone to deal with Rowena?’ Fade shook his head, and said lightly, ‘She is not important, no worries at all. There are still many people waiting for you outside, please go and get ready!’ Scott nodded, and then escorted the remaining six newcomers to the signing ceremony. Due to the incident involving Rowena, the signing ceremony and corresponding schedule was shortened. Fade’s speech was also cancelled. The opening ceremony of Scott Entertainment ended rather quickly and abruptly. Scott Entertainment, which was surrounded by a lot of hype initially had an opening ceremony which was rather disappointing. This sparked a huge discussion in the industry. In particular, the signing of Rowena Song, which was all but confirmed, was suddenly cancelled. People in the industry began to speculate about this matter and many people had their own theories on the reasons behind this. Some speculated that Scott Entertainment had insufficient funds and could not come up with the 100 million as stated in the contract. Others assumed that at the last minute, Rowena was poached by another big entertainment company. There were also some who said that Rowena was a total diva and had offended the management of the enterprise. Thus she was told by the management to leave. Amidst all the theories and speculations of the people, Rowena accepted an interview less than two hours after leaving the scene. She explained in the interview about the drama behind the contract signing. She created this narrative that she was the victim who had been oppressed and bullied by the company's senior management. She even accused Scott Entertainment's senior management of physical violence, and insinuated that they wanted to exploit and control her. She had to reject this oppressive behavior and this led to negotiations on the contract falling apart. Seeing such reports, Rowena's fans and internet users who were not aware of the truth immediately started criticizing and chiding Scott Entertainment. Scott was from the entertainment industry, therefore he was familiar with these tactics. He immediately responded by explaining clearly what had happened. He directly displayed the internal monitoring video of the company, showing Rowena throwing a huge tantrum, and showing her bad behavior towards the other artistes and staff members. Finally, Scott made a public statement, saying that it was due to Rowena's misconduct that they had felt that she was not a good fit for the enterprise. Thus, the contract was cancelled. Throughout all these press interviews and statements, he did not mention Fade at all and covered up accordingly. Scott Entertainment's response was well-timed. The reason given was crystal clear, and the evidence was conclusive. This instantly caused an uproar on the Internet, and some netizens immediately started to reproach Rowena, giving her a tongue-lashing for acting so arrogantly. They also praised Scott Entertainment for their transparency and integrity. This drama and conflict with its twists and turns, caused a stir on the Internet. For Scott Entertainment, which was newly established, it was not necessarily a negative situation. At least the company received a lot of publicity from this whole charade. Of course, the loss of Rowena as the star of their enterprise was still substantial. She was after all, a big name and would have helped Scott Entertainment establish their reputation in the industry. Scott Entertainment still seemed to lack in star power, therefore, Scott actively contacted and auditioned other artists to see if they were the right fit for them to sign on. They would help to replace Rowena and help establish Scott Entertainment as a mogul in the industry. Scott was really busy with the affairs of the enterprise, so Fade did not want to disturb him. He bade him farewell and left Scott Entertainment..

(0)

Chapter 464

After leaving the company, Fade Chen's cell phone rang. He looked at the caller's number and found that it was an unfamiliar phone number. He paused slightly, and then he answered the phone. Before Fade could speak, someone spoke in a rushed manner on the other end of the phone, 'Are you Fade? In Yoko. Sister Winnie is going abroad and her flight is tonight. Can you come over now? Hearing her words, Fade responded immediately. Yoko Xie was Winnie Huo's best friend and classmate. Fade had gone for a meal with them the last time. Hearing that Winnie was going abroad, Fade immediately said, 'Where are you? I'll be right there.' Yoko said, 'I'm at Michelin Western Restaurant which is at Ring Road Food Street.' Fade hung up the phone and drove quickly to Michelin Western Restaurant. After parking the car in front of the restaurant, Fade noticed that Yoko was rushing over with an anxious expression. 'Fade, you're here!' she said. Fade did not greet her. Walking beside Yoko, he asked, 'Did something happen to Sister Winnie? Why is she suddenly going abroad? Yoko sighed slightly and looked at Fade. She couldn't help thinking of the incidents in the past. Previously, Fade and the two of them had attended their classmate reunion together. After returning from that event, Winnie admitted that she had feelings for Fade after Yoko had asked her about the matter. However, they discovered that Fade was married. As a result, Winnie's blossoming feelings took a hit, and she was depressed for a few days. Later, Winnie turned her thoughts toward her career. She accepted many engagements at once, in order to numb herself with a flurry of activities and forget about the feelings in her heart. Although Yoko felt upset for her best friend, she also knew that Winnie needed to let go of that relationship. Initially, they had good intentions. However, they did not expect that Winnie's career would not go well. Clients and agencies said that she was waning in popularity and that she was no longer famous. They deducted her salary, insulted her, and gradually ignored her. These issues caused a lot of controversy and Winnie felt that her work place was unpleasant. Specifically, the recent contractual issues with the agency caused Winnie to be upset. She had no mood to work. Winnie's emotional wound had not healed yet, and troubles appeared in her workplace. She felt tremendous pressure and she almost collapsed. In the end, Winnie could not bear all of these issues in her life, so she decided to give up her acting career and further her studies abroad. Winnie was about to leave today, and she informed Yoko of her decision. Then, she asked her to have a farewell meal together. As for Fade, Winnie naturally did not tell him about this due to her feelings toward him. Yoko understood Winnie's thoughts. She knew that Winnie was not going to study abroad. Her purpose of leaving was to escape from her work and emotional stress. If these matters were not resolved directly but simply avoided, the fundamental issues would not be resolved at all. Moreover, Yoko did not support Winnie's decision to give up her acting career. Therefore under these circumstances, Yoko thought of Fade. Yoko wanted him to help Winnie in her dilemma, and persuade her to stay. These thoughts and experiences flashed through Yoko's mind quickly, and she swiftly informed Fade of Winnie's current situation. Of course, Yoko did not tell Fade about Winnie's feelings for him. She only said that Winnie had some emotional troubles. After Fade heard her words, his heart sank slightly, and he followed Yoko into the restaurant quickly. Winnie was already there. She spotted Yoko's figure at the door. She couldn't help but wave and greet her saying, 'Yoko, I'm here. However, when Winnie saw Fade coming in with Yoko, her expression changed slightly. Her mouth twitched and her smile was gone. She became emotional and depressed. Yoko sat down with a smile. Then, she said to Winnie, 'Winnie, I was just outside and I bumped into Fade, so I asked him to come in together.’ Winnie knew in her heart that Yoko had purposely made such arrangements. However, she didn’t say anything to argue with her. She nodded slightly, and then smiled at Fade saying, ‘Fade, since you’re here, do take a seat.’ Although Winnie’s smile was still warm and polite, Fade felt a sense of distance from her that wasn’t there before. Suddenly, Fade couldn’t help but feel a sense of pain in his heart. The muscles on his face twitched slightly, but he still sat down. Immediately, the three of them ordered some western food and then they chatted as they ate. ‘Sister Winnie, do you really want to go abroad? Can’t the company matter be resolved through negotiation?’ Fade asked out loud. Winnie’s eyebrows were lowered as she sighed softly, and then she uttered, ‘My popularity has declined so much now that I’ve reached the level of a B-lister. The company is not happy with my salary and wants me to sign a new contract. They demanded for a higher share and my pay was lowered. I can’t agree to such terms and conditions.’ After Fade heard this, he couldn’t help but be outraged. ‘How can they flatter you when you are popular and abandon you when you are less popular? This is ridiculous.’ Winnie shook her head and said, ‘This is how the entertainment industry is.’ Fade frowned again and said, ‘Sister Winnie, you can simply leave the company and be a freelancer. Didn’t many celebrities leave their agencies and set up their own studios?’ Winnie explained the matter to him, saying, ‘I did consider that, but I’m not good at handling those matters at all. If you ask me to negotiate business matters with businessmen or handle office matters, it would be better to just kill me on the spot. Also, my contract with the company will last another three years. It will be impossible for the company to let go of me and allow me to leave.’ ‘Is there no other way?’ Fade said. Winnie shook her head and said, ‘Forget it. Anyway, I have been in the entertainment industry for a long time, and I have gone through a lot. Now, I’m going abroad. I can have a holiday and relax.’ Yoko heard her words and was reluctant to let her leave. She advised her, saying, ‘Winnie, you have loved acting since you were a child. You graduated from the School of Film and Television, and you have made it all the way to your current position. Do you really want to give up on all this?’ Winnie heard Yoko’s words and she froze for a moment. A light flashed across her eyes. However, in the end, she shook her head and said to Yoko, ‘Yoko, I know you want the best for me. However, I really don’t want to continue fighting with them now. I’m sick of everything’ Yoko heard what Winnie said and she wanted to persuade her some more, but she didn’t know what to say. After all, she had already said everything she wanted to. Therefore, at this time, she could only look toward Fade for help..

(0)

Chapter 465

Fade Chen was observing Winnie Huo just now. From the slight changes of her expression, Fade could tell that Winnie really liked acting and she loved her career. She wanted to leave now because of all the stress and troubles she was facing. She was overwhelmed and she felt like she couldn’t breathe. Therefore, she was determined to cut all ties with the industry, Fade believed that if Winnie was provided with a better environment and was kept away from those disputes and troubles, she would definitely be willing to continue with her acting career. Thinking of this, Fade couldn't help but say to her, 'Sister Winnie, even if your contract with the company lasts another three years, there should also be terms and conditions for a possible termination!' 'Termination of the contract!' Winnie looked at Fade and said. Then, she added with some emotion, 'It's true that there are terms and conditions for the termination of the contract. However, the termination fee is around 50 million, and I can't afford that.' Although Winnie was once regarded as a popular A-list actress, the time of her success was very short. Later, her acting career was rather lukewarm. In addition to that, she had standards and requirements that she adhered to. She was not willing to accept crude or low-quality movie productions, and she also rejected many endorsements of bad products. Moreover, she had been helping her friends and family members with their financial issues. Therefore, for the past few years, although Winnie was regarded as a popular actress, her income was simply not as good as many other celebrities at the same level. At this moment, facing the 50 million termination fee, she could not afford it. When Fade heard that it was just a matter of money, his eyes lit up instantly and he said, 'Isn't it just 50 million? I'll help you to pay this fee!' Upon hearing this, Yoko Xie was stunned for a moment. Then, she remembered that Fade was one of the major shareholders of the Life Elixir Wine company. He was worth billions of yuan. Taking out 50 million was definitely a piece of cake for him. Yoko was ecstatic and she looked at Winnie. She said, 'Winnie, Fade can pay this fee. Then, you can cancel the contract with Enya Entertainment and you will be free.' Winnie was also shocked. However, after thinking about the matter slightly, she shook her head and said, 'Fade, I know you're rich.

However, 50 million is a lot, and I can't allow you to pay this fee for me. After all.' Fade immediately said, 'Sister Winnie, I won't be handing you this money just like that, but I will be lending it to you.' Winnie still shook her head and smiled bitterly as she said, 'Fade, with my current earning power, I can't afford to repay you this huge amount. Isn't this taking advantage of you?' Fade did not expect Winnie to be so persistent, and he could not help but become a little anxious. At that moment, he suddenly thought of Fatty Huang's company, Scott Entertainment. His eyes flashed and he said to Winnie, 'Sister Winnie, I have a friend who manages an entertainment company. Now, his company is hiring and looking for celebrities. The 50 million termination fee will be paid by his company since you jump ship to his company.' Winnie was startled, then she looked at Fade with a doubtful expression. She said, 'Fade, are you lying to me in regards to your friend who runs an entertainment company?' Fade laughed and said, 'Sister Winnie, you are thinking too much. What I said just now is true. My friend, Scott Huang, has a company called Scott Entertainment. They have just started this business. Maybe you've heard of this company before.' Upon hearing Scott Entertainment's name, Yoko and Winnie were both stunned. 'Scott Entertainment, the popular new company that everyone on the internet is talking about!' 'The company which terminated Rowena Song's contract!' 'The signing fee was worth 100 million yuan. Many people in the entertainment industry are envious about that!' They were surprised. Fade took out his cell phone at this time and called Fatty immediately. Then, he quickly explained the situation to him, and then he recommended Winnie to Fatty. Fatty immediately agreed with Fade's recommendation. After all, Winnie was a good fit for Scott Entertainment in all aspects. Winnie was once a popular actress and was a A-lister. She was a good actress and she was not just someone with good looks. In general, her popularity had waned not due to her acting skills, but because she had turned down quite a number of movies and TV dramas. Due to the lack of exposure, her popularity declined. As long as the company invested in her talent and paired her with suitable work, Winnie's career can definitely rise again. After all, she had an elegant image and she used to be successful. In the entertainment circle, acting skills are crucial, and she had no issues in that respect. Winnie and Yoko were still reeling from the surprise. At this time, Fade handed his phone to Winnie with a smile and said, 'I was just talking to Director Huang from Scott Entertainment. He thinks that you are very suitable for his company. As long as Sister Winnie agrees to it, you can sign a contract with him right now.' 'Ah, this-' Winnie was surprised. At this moment, Fatty's voice came directly from the phone. Fatty introduced the situation of his company in detail, and then he explained the reasons why his company had chosen Winnie. He talked about the plans he had for her future development, and mentioned the salary he would offer Winnie. Fatty was sincere in his attempt to hire Winnie. Winnie was touched. She hesitated slightly, nodded and said, Director Huang, I agree to sign a contract with you.' 'That's great!' Scott said in excitement. 'Miss Huo, we will sign the contract and handle everything else as soon as possible. Rest assured, our company will not let you down.' 'Well, thank you, Director Huang!' Winnie said. Then, she hung up the phone. As she passed the phone back to Fade, Winnie said to him, 'Fade, thank you so much Winnie knew that without Fade's connections, Scott Entertainment would not take her in so directly. Also, they would not come up with the 50 million termination fee so quickly. The contract was settled. Winnie suddenly felt like a huge weight was lifted off her shoulders. She became a lot happier and she smiled. Yoko was very happy when she saw her best friend's mood improving. Suddenly, she thought of something. Her eyes moved between Winnie and Fade, and then she reached out her cell phone and pretended to answer a call. 'Ah, an urgent matter. Alright, I'll come over immediately.' Then, Yoko stood up and said, 'Winnie, Fade, I'm sorry. There is a urgent matter at my work. I need to leave now. Anyway, both of you can continue your meal.' After that, Yoko picked up her bag and left. Before she left, she gave both of them an encouraging look. At the table, Winnie could see that Yoko was acting. Yoko had left intentionally, allowing them to be by themselves. She had created an opportunity for them. Thinking of this, Winnie couldn't help but look at Fade. Those emotions that she had suppressed sprang up once again at this moment, as both of them were alone with each other. Looking at Fade, Winnie felt her heart beating violently, and that familiar feeling overwhelmed her again. Then, she quickly lowered her head, and she began to slice the steak on the plate vigorously.