Chapter 581: Chaos Twin Snakes

The situation was terrifying!

While Rhett Watson was stunned, ice filled the air and a huge wave of ice aura spread as a slender figure rushed in the sky once again...

“Roar!”

The Frost Dragon let out a huge roar, reverberating Rhett’s eardrums. At the same time, the Frost Dragon charged towards the Mountain Python at an incredible speed.

The momentum of that huge body was astonishing and a cracking sound echoed when the Frost Dragon rammed into the Mountain Python. Close to a hundred meters of skin caved in under her powerful claw attack...

“Roar!”

A sinister roar echoed as the Mountain Python’s let out a cry filled with pain. Frost Runes flickered in that damaged area, raging with chaotic mana fluctuations.

“Heavens...” Rhett was speechless as he saw this, the power displayed by the Frost Dragon far exceeded Rhett Watson’s imagination...

Too shocking...

The Mountain Python looked like a target dummy...

Right after, Rhett detected the young mage letting out some fierce mana fluctuations. And before he could react, the young mage had already changed shape, transforming into a several dozen meters tall Frost Giant as he used Ice Elemental Incarnation.

Then, the young mage relied on the surrounding ice elements and used a Frost Flash to reach the Mountain Python’s head.

“Sh*t!” Rhett suddenly let out in alarm, ‘That Mafa Merlin is too crazy! Females are definitely different from males! The head of a male Mountain Python is definitely its blind spot, but it’s not the case for females. Females have Python Runes, standing on her head wouldn’t stop her from attacking, even if someone stood under her belly, they still wouldn’t be able to dodge her attack...’

And yet...

When Rhett wanted to remind Lin Yun, he discovered shocking mana fluctuations spreading outward from Lin Yun’s draconic staff as he raised it up. Mana flared up as the space around the young mage started distorting, forming a rift in the air.

Rhett could clearly feel that the surging mana contained within this spatial rift was in a frantic state, it would pour in the young mage's body with every breath he took. Rhett even wondered if the young mage would burst if this continued...

Not only him, even Arthus' complexion changed as he saw this scene, shock appearing on his face as he looked at Lin Yun with disbelief. The current Lin Yun gave him an overwhelming feeling.

It was to the point that even as an 8th Rank Archmage, Zeuss was scared by the mana fluctuations as well.

Lin Yun's Ten Thousand Spell Wheel was already floating above his head, the Mid-Rank True Spirit Magic Tool was radiating with an even brighter radiance. The might of the Magic Tool had increased a few dozen times, this was the effect of the Demiplane, it was unbelievable.

"Roar!"

The Mountain Python let out a world-shaking roar, its voice full of confusion and worry. She ultimately felt an aura of danger when the Demiplane appeared, as only a fraction of the power surging from the Demiplane could tear her body apart. Even a vicious beast like the Mountain Python was aware of the danger, and that kind of unprecedented power made her forget her own goal, only fear could now be seen in her eyes.

"It's too late..." Lin Yun expressionlessly said, announcing the death sentence of the female python just like he did for the male.

Then, Lin Yun's Ten Thousand Spell Wheel, powered up by the Demiplane, cast an endless amount of 6th Tier Spells, wave after wave.

That's right, 6th Tier Spells!

The power of the Demiplane was too frightening, it could help the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel burst with more power than usual. After all, that was the power of a world containing the aura of an Ancient God.

"Rumble!"

Countless dazzling raging flaming spells tore through the void, tearing the Mountain Python's head apart, and then cutting into her body.

And Lin Yun also took the opportunity to find the python's weak point and dig out the mana crystals.

Lin Yun was somewhat pale, he closed the rift and instructed Xiuban, "Xiuban, you and Reina shall gather the materials..."

Since it had already been done once, the gathering of the materials took less than ten minutes this time. The scales, bile and fangs were taken out one by one and entered a Spatial Magic Tool.

After this event, both Rhett and Arthus looked very excited. This battle had been won too easily, especially to the Watson Family, they didn't do anything and ended up victorious.

It looked like as long as they had Mafa Merlin, the rest of the exploration would proceed smoothly.

But, while he was excited, Rhett found out that Zeuss' expression was quite serious. Even Mafa Merlin was looking at the Mountain Python's corpse thoughtfully.

Their behaviors were too strange...

They had clearly gotten rid of the Mountain Python, there was no more danger, so what was going on?

Just as Rhett grew suspicious, he suddenly saw Zeuss turning towards Lin Yun with a serious expression, "It looks like we met some trouble..."

"Yes, indeed..."

"High Mage Merlin, Sir Zeuss, what are you saying? How come I can't understand?" Rhett noticed Lin Yun's nod and serious expression and couldn't help but ask. Whether it was Zeuss or Mafa Merlin, weren't their words a bit too ominous?

Lin Yun shook his head and looked at Zeuss, "You should explain."

"Okay..." A bitter smile appeared on Zeuss' face. He pointed at the Mountain Python's corpse, "When two Mountain Pythons appear together in the same place, they are called Chaos Twin Snakes."

"Chaos Twin Snakes?" The eyes of the curious Rhett opened wide.

"That's right, Chaos Twin Snakes..." Zeuss bitterly smiled, "It is said that each and every Ancient God had their own Godly Nation, and every Godly Nation had their own unreasonable Guardians. These Guardians could be Heaven Rank unusual beasts, powerful alchemy puppets, and so on..."

Zeuss then paused and looked at the puppet behind Lin Yun, the power the puppet had burst with even left an 8th Rank Archmage like himself feeling on edge. It could easily be seen that this puppet wasn't simple.

At this time, Zeuss didn't delay for too long and quickly looked away, continuing with that old story, "The Godly Nation of Ancient God Constance was guarded by Chaos Twin Snakes. In the rumors, there were two Chaos Twin Snakes, one representing light and one representing darkness. Since Chaos Twin Snakes appeared here, it means that we already entered Constance's Godly Nation..."

"Godly Nation!" Rhett suddenly let out in alarm. Godly Nations were only spoken of in Legends. From the Ascian Dynasty till today, no one had ever stepped foot in a Godly Nation. It wasn't just the Ancient God's residence, the Godly Nation was both the Ancient Gods' territory, as well as the source of power of the Ancient God. If one stepped in a Godly Nation, they might have to face a God.

"But, these Mountain Python's rank seemed a little low..." Zeuss frowned. These two Mountain Pythons had only been at their 9th Awakening. They hadn't stepped in the Heaven Rank yet, so how could they have enough power to be a Guardian of a Godly Nation?

But then, Lin Yun's voice could be heard in the distance, "Don't forget that it has been a long time since the era of the Ancient Gods..."

"Right..." After hearing Lin Yun's words, Zeuss was shaken and quickly understood. The true Chaos Twin Snakes must have fallen during the Ancient God Era and the current Mountain Pythons were only descendants of the Chaos Twin Snakes.

It could be expected that after their 10th awakening, these two Pythons would become genuine Chaos Twin Snakes.

As he thought of this, Zeuss suddenly felt a chill. It looked like they had been very lucky. Not only did the two snakes not appear at the same time, they also awakened for the 9th time and their power hadn't reached their peak. If what they faced had been two Mountain Pythons fully embodying the power of the Chaos Twin Snakes, then their team would have been wiped.

Going through the blockade of the Chaos Twin Snakes meant that they had already stepped foot onto the Godly Nation. After a short rest, the team got on the move once again and started walking towards the depths of the world of ice.

This part of the trip took a long time, after no less than one and half a month, they reached the edge of the world of ice.

This Demiplane was far bigger than they had imagined. From the edge of the world of ice, all they could see was endless forests surrounded by mountains on both sides, and a huge valley. There was no more ice there and the fiery sun could clearly be seen in the sky.

Chapter 582: Red Beard

"Finally out..." Lin Yun was relieved. They had no less than 37 encounters with Frost Giants and other ice monsters on their way here.

This meant that they had underwent 37 battles, for a total of over several thousand magic beasts. They could easily handle it at first, but as they got deeper and deeper, the amount of magic beasts kept increasing and they started succumbing to exhaustion. Especially on the final day, even Lin Yun had no other choice but to frequently return to the Natural Demiplane to recover his mana.

Fortunately, they were finally out...

"Hold on..." Zeuss, who was at the forefront, suddenly stopped, his face filled with shock.

"Yes?" Lin Yun was surprised at first, but then, his expression suddenly changed as he felt a fierce mana fluctuations covering the surroundings. Before Lin Yun had a chance to analyze it with his Magic Array, this fierce fluctuations transformed into a loud rumbling noise.

It sounded very distant at first...

But after a split second, they could recognize that this sound was getting closer...

"Rumble..."

"Rumble..."

That loud rumble felt as if thousands upon thousands mammoths were charging...

"Sh*t!" Lin Yun suddenly cursed.

Then, a huge rift appeared under his feet, just like a scar dividing the world of ice in two...

“Fly up, fly up, quick!” Lin Yun unhesitantly used Levitation and floated upward while looking at the happenings below...

Sure enough...

The world of ice seemed to be torn apart, shattered ice spread everywhere while the rumbling never stopped and another sharp sound started accompanying it instead, the sound of ice shattering.

Formidable waves surged from the depths of the rift, coming over with a roar. No one expected that a boundless ocean actually existed in the depths of the ice field...

The sea was raging up, its great waves reaching the sky.

Ultimately, a huge colossus slowly rose up from the depths of the sea.

That was a huge grey ship!

That ship was enormous, its hull spread for ten thousand meters and appeared far longer than the Mountain Pythons they had encountered. The entire hull gave out a decayed and desolate feeling, as if it had been laying at the bottom of the sea for several dozen millennia. Outlines of a fierce skull could be seen on the remains of the sail, a symbol of a pirate ship. After a quick glance, Arthus found out that there was no silhouette on the ship, it looked eerie and silent.

“Ghost Ship...”

As Arthus let out those words, a terrifying force suddenly emerged, covering everything within a few kilometers. Lin Yun didn't have time to understand what was happening, his body fell down when that power covered him.

“Hell...” Lin Yun was startled. He tried using Levitation once again, but discovered that it was useless.

Yes, Levitation couldn't be used!

With the surge of power, Lin Yun's Levitation stopped working, no matter how much he incanted, he couldn't decrease his falling speed at all...

‘What's going on?’

The sound of wind whistling was echoing in his ears as he was falling faster and faster. Lin Yun stiffened and tried to cast a Featherfall in a rush, hoping it would decrease his falling speed, while also summoning ten Water Elementals below, hoping they would more or less help him.

Then...

A loud sound echoed.

Lin Yun had never been so miserable, Featherfall didn't work and Lin Yun's falling speed didn't slow down in the slightest, leaving him heavily crashing on the deck of the Ghost Ship...

But how could the rotten deck handle such torment, only a crash echoed as Lin Yun directly met with the deck only to create a huge hole before continuing his fall. He didn't even know how many floors he broke through.

'Thankfully I'm smart...' Lin Yun managed to recover soon enough and couldn't help rejoicing after noticing the damp feeling of having crashed into the Water Elementals...

Thankfully he hadn't put all his hope on one spell, otherwise he might have turned into minced meat after a kilometer long fall.

But, even then, Lin Yun's fall wasn't exactly gentle...

Every single bone in his body felt as if it was broken, that kind of pain made Lin Yun feel as if he had been stepped on by a colossus...

"Sir Merlin, Sir Merlin..." Xiuban's voice could be heard not far from there. After having taken a bath in the Ancient God Blood, the resilience of the Draconic Beastman's body had greatly increased, it was far beyond that of a High Mage. After such a long fall, his body didn't have the slightest scratch and he was now standing there, loudly shouting.

"Alright, stop yelling, I'm still alive..." Lin Yun scolded in a low voice and struggled to crawl up from the ground, massaging the wounded areas while taking the time to ask Xiuban, "What about the others?"

"I don't know..." Xiuban straightforwardly shook his head, "I've seen no one except that Dragonwoman..."

"Alright..." Lin Yun looked around, and sure enough, Reina was there.

As a Dragon, falling from such a height was nothing, her clothes weren't even crumpled. After seeing Lin Yun get up, Reina's expression relaxed a bit and she nodded at him, "I didn't see anyone else."

"A bit troublesome..." If Reina said that she didn't see, then she didn't see. Lin Yun couldn't help frowning, this huge ship was too strange, the way it appeared even stranger, and there was also that mysterious power that restricted all flying-type spells. It was definitely one of those legendary flight-restricted domains.

Any array that used such a domain would definitely be nothing to scoff at. Domain meant altering Laws, or even creating Laws. That belonged to the realm of Saint Alchemists.

"Sir Merlin, where... Where are we?" Xiuban sounded somewhat afraid.

"How would I know..." Lin Yun unhappily answered. The lights were dusky, there was no sound, and an eerie and gloomy aura filled the place.

Lin Yun frowned and started incanting, and as he did one Mage Eye after another appeared in front of him. After a short time, several dozen Mage Eyes appeared in the hold of the ship.

After connecting them with his mana, Lin Yun glanced at these Mage Eyes and sent them flying out of the hold. After three seconds, Lin Yun was pleased by the information the Mage Eyes sent back and led Xiuban and Reina to another side of the hold.

Lin Yun soon found the puppet...

But the Watsons were missing.

“Sir Merlin, can we leave this place? It feels wicked here...” The ghastly surroundings had got completely rid of Xiuban’s courage, there was a sobbing tone in his voice.

“Wicked and restricting magic.” Lin Yun didn’t know where they were, but that place was restricting flying-type magic, no matter how evil it was, they couldn’t leave for the time being.

“Sir Merlin...”

As Xiuban whined once again, Lin Yun was already leading Reina and the puppet out of this hold and towards the next room. Xiuban fearfully looked around and after being scared by a passing cold breeze, he sprinted towards Lin Yun.

The hold was huge and filled with countless hallways. There were no decorations, it was freezing cold, eerily devoid of sound and desolate, making everyone’s mood very heavy.

Hours passed as they kept moving. The place didn’t seem to have an end, making Lin Yun’s frown accentuate, up until they finally arrived in front of a giant painting.

The person on the painting was a middle-aged man in his forties, wearing a black captain hat with a vivid and lifelike skull on it. His right eye was covered by a black leather patch, only exposing his left. As he looked at him, Lin Yun felt as if he was stared at by a viper.

The most important part was that this middle-aged man had a red beard.

‘Hold on... Red beard?’

Lin Yun suddenly recalled such a person in Noscent’s history...

“Damnit, it’s Red Beard...” After examining the painting, he was stunned when he recognized the famous Red Beard.

It was rumored that in the Ancient God Era, Red Beard was one of the most powerful humans and was highly valued by Constance, who made him his naval commander. Until the later period of the Ancient God Era, numerous Gods had fallen and Red Beard was said to have entered the northernmost Endless Sea, establishing the Red Beard Pirates, and becoming one of the most famous pirates in history.

According to the legends, he had once plundered a Pure-blooded Elven Princess on the outskirts of the Endless Sea.

Chapter 583: One More

Red Beard completely disappeared in the later part of the Nesser Era. Some said that he followed Constance into an unknown world, while others thought that he ended up getting killed by Pure-Blooded Elves as retaliation for what happened to the Pure-Blooded Elven Princess. There were many theories.

But...

“If I’m not wrong, this ship should be the Intrepid...” Lin Yun’s expression sank.

It was said that at the start of the God War, Constance defeated an Ancient God named Sanders and used his body as a frame to build the Intrepid.

Before dying, Sanders used the last of his God Power to cast a God Curse, turning this ship into a cursed ship. Thus, the God Curse had always been hovering around the Intrepid. All those who set foot on the Intrepid would encounter sinister things in there, including countless powerhouses who met there ends.

After obtaining the Intrepid, Red Beard suppressed the curse on the ship and took the ship on expeditions through the four seas.

As he thought of this, Lin Yun's heart tightened and he rushed to lead everyone out of there.

The curse left by an Ancient God was no joke...

Not to mention the fact that Lin Yun was only a High Mage, even a Heaven Rank powerhouse would have to flee in defeat when faced with the curse of an Ancient God.

They had to quickly leave this ghost ship, or else...

The group went through a long passage and quickly reached another hold. This place was cold and filled with the fishy smell of seawater. Apart from the sound of their footsteps and the heavy panting of the Draconic Beastman, the surroundings were very quiet.

"Sir Merlin, I..."

"Shut up Xiuban." Lin Yun didn't even look at the Draconic Beastman as he told him to be quiet. He knew that the only thing this cowardly Draconic Beastman would say at such a time was how scared he was. Lin Yun didn't want to deal with his complaints. He had to quickly find the captain's quarters because that was the only place where he might be able to find a way to control the ship and find a way out...

"Okay..." Xiuban opened his mouth, hesitated, and then decided to hold his tongue...

The group continued forward...

But, less than five minutes later...

"Sir Merlin, I..."

Xiuban fell silent as Lin Yun turned towards him angrily.

But...

Xiuban didn't look like he was just being cowardly... Rather, he seemed incomparably devastated...

Thus, Lin Yun took back the words he was about to say and instead asked, "What is it?"

"Our... Our group..." Xiuban was faintly sobbing and he struggled to answer. "Our group seems to have one more person than before, Sir Merlin..."

"Hmm?" Lin Yun suddenly froze, he looked around and felt a chill. 'Hell, there really is someone else... One, two, three, four, five...'

There were indeed five of them...

Himself, the Draconic Beastman, the Frost Dragon, the puppet, they should have been the four members of the group, but now there was an extra...

"Sir... Sir Merlin, it looks like there is one more of me..." Xiuban said with a sob.

Indeed...

Just as Xiuban said, there were two of him...

One Xiuban was standing in front of Lin Yun, sobbing softly, and one was standing at the back of the group looking pale and stupefied.

They were identical!

"Sir Merlin, what should we do, what should we do?"

Lin Yun looked at Xiuban before his eyes, then looked at the one at the end of the group. It was just like in the legends, Ancient God Sanders was called the Nightmare Lord and the Godly Nation that he controlled was known as the Nightmare Nation. He was said to be an expert in illusions, able to create all kinds of illusions that others were unable to differentiate from reality.

Lin Yun just experienced it.

There was no difference between the two Xiubans.

"Sir Merlin, do something, quick! He, he, he... He wants to snatch my body..." The Xiuban who was standing in front of Lin Yun cried out.

"Shut up, I know what to do!" Lin Yun glared at the Draconic Beastman and slowly raised his staff, its huge Draconic Crystal letting out dazzling radiance.

Then, an explosion echoed.

A Flame Burst was instantly cast.

But the target wasn't the Xiuban in the back...

"You..." The Draconic Beastman standing in front of Lin Yun was sent flying after being hit by the Flame Burst. The flames on his chest remained as he looked at Lin Yun in disbelief. "How did you know?"

"Xiuban isn't as courageous as you..." Lin Yun chuckled while rousing his Magic Array, pouring a large amount of mana into his staff as he cast multiple Flame Bursts, blasting the target into ashes.

But...

Just as everyone thought that this unknown existence had been annihilated, black smoke rose from the ashes and twisted in the air, turning into a smiling, malevolent face...

"Hahahaha, Human, your luck is quite good. I hope that it will remain that way in the next game..."

After saying that, the black smoke suddenly dispersed, leaving no traces behind.

Lin Yun's immediately roused his magic array to try to catch the smoke's tracks. But a loud sound suddenly echoed in the hold.

The entire hold shivered with a deep rumble. A formidable mana fluctuation rose up in an instant, and before Lin Yun's group could recover, the hold had already turned red, a deep blood red. A huge hexagram array appeared in front of everyone, and as the ground shook, Skeleton Warriors began to stream out from inside.

"F*ck!" Lin Yun cursed. Flames instantly appeared around his body, slowly being emitted from his skin as he turned into a ten-meter-tall Flame Giant. He grabbed Reina, Xiuban, and the puppet, before whisking them all away with a Flame Flash.

"That's a lot of Skeleton Warriors..." Although Xiuban already had the power of a 1st Rank Sword Saint, he couldn't help feeling numb when he saw the thousands of Skeleton Warriors. The hold, which had room for many thousands of people, slowly became crowded as more and more Skeleton Warriors appeared, the aura of death spreading to every corner of the hold.

"This place doesn't seem too welcoming," Lin Yun said as he looked at the numerous skeletons. The Skeleton Warriors were only level 10, so even Great Mages wouldn't care about them, but the horrifying part was how many of them there were.

It didn't take long for the number of Skeleton Warriors to surpass several thousand, and it kept increasing. Let alone Xiuban being terrified, even Lin Yun couldn't help frowning...

Lin Yun knew that this couldn't be avoided. With so many Skeleton Warriors, they could easily block all the exits, so he instantly cast volleys of Flame Bursts, sending them towards the areas with the most Skeleton Warriors.

After being transformed by the Magic Array, the might of the Flame Bursts reached the limit and they were comparable to Ultimate Spells. As he suppressed the Skeleton Warriors, Lin Yun also looked behind him and said to the other members of his group, "What are you foolishly standing there for? Are you waiting for their invitation?"

"Sir, I'll rush over immediately..." Xiuban wiped the sweat from his forehead. Noticing the dissatisfaction in the young mage's voice, he didn't hesitate. Only a whistling sound was heard as he charged into the fray.

"Rumble!"

A dazzling, dark-golden light rushed in the sky. That was the might of the Boundless Layering Technique. The ship shook, and with a "boom", Xiuban sent a hundred Skeleton Warriors flying.

"Sir, Sir, did you see?" Xiuban, who had originally been so terrified, now seemed rather excited as he swung Carnage once more. The might of 5,000 kilos burst with a deafening sound and shattered the bones of countless skeletons, greatly thinning out the horde.

At the same time, Reina turned into a huge Frost Dragon before casting a large number of spells along with the puppet. In a flash, countless spells burst out from them: Frost Spikes, Flame Roars, Fire Arrows, and all sorts of Low Tier Spells. But against Skeleton Warriors, these were the most effective spells. And with their power, casually casting one spell would take out a large wave of Skeleton Warriors.

The tyrannical power quickly changed the course of the battle as thousands upon thousands of Skeleton Warriors were exterminated, their bones spreading on the ground, forming thick piles. The last time Lin Yun saw so many Undead beings was in the Bone Plane.

Chapter 584: Big Guy

But Lin Yun didn't just stand there. He was staring at the hexagram star. For some reason, Lin Yun was feeling danger from it. Clearly, these Skeleton Warriors were far from a real threat to them; the problem was elsewhere...

Sure enough, when they had downed more than 30,000 Skeleton Warriors, Lin Yun's Magic Array caught some movement from the hexagram array. A bloody light was already rushing out of it, and alongside the Skeleton Warriors, Bones Devils and Liches appeared...

Lin Yun suddenly frowned. Although facing so many thousands of Skeleton Warriors was frightening, they weren't undefeatable.

But Bone Devils and Liches...

These were above level 20 at least. If several thousands of those appeared, he would almost certainly be injured even if he didn't die.

And what if it wasn't just Bone Devil and Liches?

If there were Higher Undead such as high-level Liches, Death Knights, Vampires, or even Bone Dragons... it would really be an ordeal.

"Let's go, we have to leave!"

Lin Yun assessed that if they kept fighting, then let alone them, even Jouyi and Harren would be stuck in this place forever after running out of mana.

Thinking of this, Lin Yun roused his Magic Array and used a Meteor Rain spell that was merged with his Magic Array. It was a 6th Tier Spell, and after being strengthened by his Magic Array, its might could compare to that of a 7th Rank Spell. After no less than five seconds of incantation, the area around him distorted...

There was no spell more suitable than Meteor Rain against these enemies. A ball of flames fell down, followed by a second, a third, a twentieth, a hundredth, thousandth... In the end, tens of thousands balls of flames fell from the sky, submerging everything like a tide.

Amidst the restless mana fluctuations, flames and destruction had appeared out of nowhere, leaving a thick smoke in their wake. Only a sea of flames could be seen as the area that had been infested by the foes was now littered with a shocking number of blazing meteors.

Their sudden appearance startled Xiuban and Reina...

Before they could even react, a loud sound echoed. The formidable meteors filled with outrageous mana turned the hold into a sea of flames.

“Rumble!”

“Rumble!”

“Rumble!”

Every meteor falling onto the Undead caused huge explosions. The aura of the meteors contained dense mana, as well as a thick aura of destruction. The enemies fell to the attack one after another, their bones not even leaving any ashes behind...

“Let’s go...” The battlefield had already cleared up and the way out of the hold was already opened, but Lin Yun knew that this was only temporary as more and more Undead would come out of the hexagram array.

As he thought of this, Lin Yun hurriedly led everyone out of the hold. While holding his draconic staff, he used a dozen simple spells to set up a blockade.

Just as they rushed out, they heard an explosion. Over ten thousand Undead lifeforms were rushing over like a tide.

“Hell, they are chasing so fiercely!” Lin Yun gnashed his teeth in anger as he cursed. They soon passed through the 4th hold, but these Undead had shown no intention of going back and were still hot on their tail.

But when they reached the 6th hold, Lin Yun froze.

Lin Yun could clearly see that there was a huge, flickering crystal ball at the end of the hold floating in midair.

It was an Undead Eye...

Seeing this Undead Eye, Lin Yun understood where that tidal wave of Undead came from...

The places where Undead Eyes appeared were definitely places extremely rich in death energy. Once an Undead Eye matured, as many as three Death Gates would appear in its vicinity, and many Undead beings would keep pouring in from those gates.

And sure enough, Lin Yun raised his head and saw a rift suddenly appearing...

‘Sh*t...’ Without a doubt, that Undead Eye had given birth to two Death Gates... One of them was the hexagram array they had encountered earlier, while the second one was this rift.

‘I hope there are only two,’ Lin Yun thought. Xiuban’s eyes were wide open as he looked at the several dozen Bone Dragons flying out of the rift...

“So many!” Xiuban cried in alarm. “So many Bone Dragons...”

“Less talking!” Lin Yun smacked Xiuban’s head while raising his draconic staff. As he poured mana into it, a frantic aura of mana pulsated. At the same time, Lin Yun also told Reina and Xiuban to attack.

Lin Yun clearly understood that the current situation was far more serious than he had thought...

The tidal wave of Undead was about to reach this hold. Once they came here, they would be washed away.

“Roar!”

A loud Dragon Roar echoed as Lin Yun saw Reina charge into the sky, slashing with her claws while casting at least ten 6th Tier Ice Spells from her mouth. Huge Ice Walls instantly appeared above and below a Bone Dragon, successfully cutting it in two. It shattered before even touching the ground.

As for Lin Yun and the others, they were also on the move...

These Bone Dragons weren't very troublesome for this group, as they didn't even reach level 30. Lin Yun's strength had greatly increased compared to the time in the Bone Plane when he had to flee from a Bone Dragon. After all, they had fought a creature infinitely close to the Heaven Rank not long ago. In contrast, the Bone Dragons weren't worth considering.

The team took less than half an hour to thoroughly take down these Bone Dragons...

But, more and more of the Undead kept coming out.

And it wasn't limited to Bone Dragons this time...

Boundless black smoke rushed out of the Death Gate and expanded the rift. Waves of the Undead coursed out, and the most frightening part was when he heard the roar of a Nightmare.

'Sh*t, Death Knights!

Sure enough...

When the rift expanded to its limits, a Death Knight riding on a Nightmare finally appeared...

At the same time, footsteps could be heard coming outside of the hold.

The Undead that chased them caught up, and there seemed to be more of them.

“Reina, take them with you and block the chasing ones, I'll take care of the rest...” Lin Yun gave orders as he stared at the Death Knight.

“Understood.” Reina nodded. The army was too huge, and even the Frost Dragon felt pressured.

After Reina took Xiuban and the puppet with her, Lin Yun focused on the Death Knight. Death Knights were disgusting existences. They were Undead Horsemen that not only walked both the martial and magic path, but they also had their own Death Runes, and one of their blows would be enough to cripple Lin Yun...

“Come!” Lin Yun charged over, casting a Flame Burst at the Death Knight. But at the same time, the Death Knight's black spear pierced through the air at him.

But the Death Knight didn't know that Lin Yun's Flame Burst was only a diversion. With a rumble, dazzling flames soared. It was the 6th Tier Spell, Blazing Storm, a large-scale area of effect spell. He had spent no less than six seconds secretly preparing it, waiting for the best chance to use it.

When the Blazing Storm exploded, twenty to thirty Flame Bombs appeared, each one comparable to the full might of a High Mage. With the amplification of the draconic staff, even an ordinary Archmage wouldn't be able to escape unscathed from this, not to mention a mere Death Knight. The power of the Blazing Storm far exceeded anything that Death Knight had ever faced before.

Then, the draconic staff flashed with a dazzling radiance, and a loud explosion thundered out as the Nightmare kept rushing forward. A loud roar echoed as flames covered everything and the smell of sulfur spread.

That was the power of a few dozen Flame Bombs exploding together. The body of the soulless Death Knight was torn apart by the flames, and it could no longer get up once it fell.

The Death Knight turned to ashes in an instant, but Lin Yun didn't spend too much time on it, as time was too precious. He used Blazing Storm to get rid of it and then used his draconic staff to summon a hundred Flame Spears.

But unfortunately, it was useless.

The hundred Flame Spears hit the Undead Eye, but the only outcome was the rift slightly shrinking...

And then the rift soon enlarged once again...

"It looks like a big guy is coming..." When the Death Gate opened again, Lin Yun felt an icy mana fluctuation from its center. It felt just like the cold wind of the Ice Field, and it made everyone shiver...

Chapter 585: Hellfire

Sure enough, this time, a Death Knight came out of the Death Gate. Its body was covered with a strange, pitch-black armor. It was holding a black greatsword covered with black fog in its right hand, while it had a rusty iron hook in its left hand that seemed to have been at the bottom of the sea for several hundred years.

The Death Knight walked out of the Death Gate but didn't rush to attack Lin Yun.

It only stood there, emitting intense pressure. It was the kind of pressure that only peak powerhouses could release. Lin Yun inwardly assessed that this Death Knight should be at least level 38.

"Human, you disturbed our sleep..." A deafening roar echoed as the entire hold seemed to shake.

"In fact, I don't really want to disturb you..."

"You have to pay the price!" The Death Knight shouted as it raised its greatsword.

Lin Yun reacted pretty quickly, raising his draconic staff and casting Spirit Defense, followed by a series of incantations. The floor of the hold started shaking before a dark-red swamp spread under the Death Knight's feet.

That was Crimson Swamp, one of the most powerful control spells among 6th Tier Spells!

But the Death Knight was a lot stronger than expected. Before Lin Yun's Crimson Swamp was finished, the greatsword was already approaching Lin Yun, its black edge carrying a formidable aura of death.

In that instant, Lin Yun only had time to cast a Runic Shield before the sword hit him in the shoulder. Despite the protection, it felt like being struck by a huge rock. His bones felt as if they were split open. He was completely pale after retreating a few steps.

'A magic swordsman indeed...'

An Undead with the power of an 8th Rank Archmage and 8th Rank Sword Saint wasn't to be trifled with.

Following that loud clash, the Death Knight's greatsword was brandished once again. The raging death energy in the flurry of blows made Lin Yun fall back again and again, and his Runic Shield couldn't afford to keep blocking such an attack. All Lin Yun could do was keep retreating until he was at a safe distance.

But he didn't remain idle as he retreated, an Undead Purification spell already prepared.

A dazzling light suddenly illuminated the entire hold. This 4th Rank Spell had a simple and direct effect. It thoroughly purified the death energy of the Undead. It could be said that it was the predator of the Undead.

But this predator didn't seem to work this time.

Lin Yun's Undead Purification tore a wound in the chest of the Death Knight, but then, a large amount of black mist suddenly burst out of that wound, and before Lin Yun could understand what was happening, that black mist quickly fixed the wound.

'Damn it, it's the Undead Eye...' Lin Yun felt like cursing as he realized what had caused the black mist to appear.

It looked like the legends were true...

The fighting power of the Undead would greatly increase when they were supported by an Undead Eye. Some powerful Undead beings could even gain truly undying bodies with the help of the Undead Eye.

Lin Yun frowned as he thought of this.

'This is troublesome... If I don't deal with the Death Knight, I won't be able to take care of the Undead Eye... But if I don't take care of the Undead Eye, then this Death Knight will be extremely hard to get rid of.'

A level 38 Death Knight was troublesome enough, especially since it Death Knight hadn't even used any spells yet. It had yet to use the power of an 8th Rank Archmage, yet it still was pressuring Lin Yun.

In his Fire Elemental Incarnation, Lin Yun kept using Flame Flashes to dodge the Death Knight's Death Aura Slashes while also casting many Low Tier fire spells. But the damage caused by these spells was insignificant.

"Damn Human, the price of disturbing our sleep can only be paid with your blood! Your soul is bound to sink for all eternity! Wretched Rat! You better pray that you can keep jumping around!"

The Death Knight sent many waves of slashes while Lin Yun kept using Flame Flashes. The jet-black Death Aura Slashes never reached him.

As for the endless torrent of Low Tier fire spells, the Flame Bursts, Fire Arrows, Fireballs, and the Fire Rain...

Although these Low Tier Fire Spells could be disregarded, they kept irritating the Death Knight more and more.

But the Death Knight didn't notice that the aura of death covering the place was slowly being suppressed... The fire elements were increasing and becoming more and more lively.

'Almost!'

Seeing Lin Yun casting another Flame Flash, the Death Knight casually sent another Death Aura Slash, waiting for Lin Yun to dodge to another location.

But Lin Yun didn't do as the Death Knight expected. Instead of casting another Flame Flash, he suddenly used a Runic Shield again.

The Runic Shield displayed a terrifying power in Lin Yun's hands. The incredible quantity of runes he had gathered made the Runic Shield far exceed its original defensive power.

Even if the Death Knight's Death Aura Slash was comparable to an 8th Rank Sword Saint's full-power attack, it was easily blocked by this Runic Shield.

The Death Knight paused. It had casually sent out that Death Aura Slash, hoping to restrain Lin Yun with the nonstop barrage of attacks.

But it hadn't expected that the other side would suddenly stop and begin casting an incantation.

The Death Knight flew into a rage. It had been forced into a pattern, tricked by Lin Yun. It brandished its greatsword once more, but the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel was already appearing behind Lin Yun and casting even more Low Tier Fire Spells, forming a flood of fire that temporarily suppressed the Death Knight.

Although the power of the Undead Eye greatly increased the Death Knight's resistance to fire spells, it still couldn't press towards Lin Yun for the time being.

This sudden influx of spells made the surrounding fire elements reach an activity comparable to a volcano. It would be a lot easier to use fire spells at this time, and the casting time would be greatly decreased.

By the 6th second, Lin Yun finished the incantation. Once the casting was finished, he pointed his draconic staff towards the suppressed Death Knight.

"Hellfire!"

Suddenly, a red rune appeared on the floor, spreading over ten meters. That complex rune that was so gorgeous that even Pure-Blood Elves wouldn't be able to restrain themselves was the most terrifying thing at this moment.

The moment the rune appeared, a fiery and oppressive aura filled the atmosphere. That aura made the Death Knight shake in fear endlessly. Without the slightest hesitation, it gave up on attacking and fled instead.

But it was already too late. The moment the Hellfire was released, Lin Yun increased his mana output and appeared behind the Death Knight in a flash with a Flame Flash, casting a 6th Tier Spell, Bursting Flames!

Although Bursting Flames didn't sound too different from Flame Burst, the difference between the two spells was like heaven and earth. Moreover, Flame Bursts placed a particular emphasis on the might of the flames and could even be treated as a group attack spell, but for Bursting Flames, the emphasis was placed on impact and explosion. It was focused on a small area and had a huge consumption, but it was ten times as powerful as an Ultimate Flame Burst. The Bursting Flames left a blue trail as it exploded on the Death Knight's back.

The Death Knight snarled and waved its greatsword to try to block the explosion of the Bursting Flames, but it failed to realize that Lin Yun was a dozen meters away and that using Bursting Flames at that distance would cause a double explosion!

The 1st explosion was blocked by the Death Knight, but the follow-up explosion erupted on the Death Knight's chest. The destructive power was comparable to a 7th Rank Fire Spell! Although it only slightly damaged the Death Knight's armor, that explosion was enough to push the Death Knight back.

Even just one second was enough!

Because the Death Knight was knocked back into the area covered by that rune, and boundless golden-red flames gushed out from it, turning into a pillar of flames that wrapped around the Death Knight and reached the ceiling of the hold. Even the Ghost Ship made from the remains of an Ancient God was burnt red.

A mournful and angry roar came from the pillar of flames while Lin Yun sighed in relief.

Hellfire lasted for six seconds. During that time, even if the Death Knight didn't die, it wouldn't pose a threat.

Hellfire was known as the most powerful special fire spell.

Although it was a 7th Tier Spell, it was possible to cast as long as one had enough mana. Even a 1st Rank Archmage could use this spell if they fulfilled the criteria.

But that wasn't the reason for Hellfire becoming the most powerful special fire spell. That spell's strongest power could indeed compare to that of most first-rate 7th Tier Spells, but it did have some special requirements.

Chapter 586: Death Redemption

Even with his Magic Array, Lin Yun could only shorten the long and complicated incantation to 6 seconds, moreover, the area targeted by the spell couldn't be moved once it was cast. During complicated battles, especially against a powerhouse like the Death Knight, standing and casting for six seconds was no different from courting death.

Not to mention the fact that Hellfire had stringent requirements on the density and activity of the fire elements, but the casting location also had to be chosen at the start and couldn't be changed afterwards.

During battles, opponents wouldn't stop in the same place for six seconds to become targets. But the power of hellfire made up for these limitations, making it the most formidable special fire-type magic.

But if an enemy couldn't be hit, then no matter how formidable the spell was, it was useless! By the time the casting was over, the enemy would have already escaped far out of its range.

The relative narrowness of this hold worked to the spell's advantage, and it was formidable enough to inflict serious damage to the Death Knight, which was why Lin Yun chose it.

With the Undead Eye, the damage caused by the Low Tier Fire Spells was insignificant and couldn't even keep up with the Death Knight's rate of recovery. A powerful killing spell was a must.

The spell lasted for six seconds, and during that time, the screams of the Death Knight became weaker and weaker. When the Hellfire disappeared, it revealed an incomparably miserable Death Knight.

Its armor was tattered all over and it was covered in burn marks, the entire left leg looking rough, just like coal. Half of the Death Knight's mount also burned, its phosphorus fire flickering as if about to extinguish.

The situation was set!

But before Lin Yun could attack the Undead Eye, he sensed the surrounding death energy flaring up and converging towards the Death Knight.

The Death Knight raised a sword with a rune glowing on it. Lin Yun was startled as the death energy converged in a pitch-black ball.

The black sphere emitted a dark light, and the left leg of the Death Knight instantly recovered while the damaged armor once again became shiny. The mount that had been on the verge of death let out a neigh and its body instantly looked healthy and full of vitality.

The Death Knight that had been on the verge of destruction recovered completely, at the price of the rune on the sword dimming and losing its power.

Lin Yun paled.

"Death Redemption! This is f*cking cheating!"

Lin Yun's expression was terrible. He had racked his brain and released more Low Tier Fire Spells to further raise the density and activity of the surrounding fire elements. He also had to continue dodging... Earlier, he had used no less than a few dozen Flame Flashes just to create that moment of hesitation to fight for two seconds of casting time.

He had calculated everything to hit the Death Knight with Hellfire and burn it to a crisp.

But who would have thought that one of the Death Knight's three spells would be Death Redemption?

Death Redemption... Very few Death Knights had that spell. The probability was so small that it was negligible. Even during the peak of the Magic Era, when the Undead Plane was being conquered, only three Death Knights had possessed that ability, and those three Death Knights were far more terrifying than the one in front of him.

Death Redemption was an instant cast Runic Spell that could cure the Undead. But there was also a difference in might between different instances of the spell, and the one that was just used was too ridiculous... The Death Knight had been on its deathbed, yet it instantly recovered to its peak. This meant that as long as it couldn't be killed before the cooldown of its Runic Spell was up, the Death Knight was practically unkillable!

"Stupid Human, you have thoroughly infuriated me!" The Death Knight bellowed, another rune shining on the one-handed greatsword.

Lin Yun's eyelids twitched as he watched it with a pale face.

The legendary Death Redemption, the most powerful situational spell, had appeared. Seeing this 2nd Runic Spell, Lin Yun couldn't help being worried that he would hit the jackpot again. If that 2nd Runic Spell was just as formidable, it would be his end.

Death Redemption had been studied during the peak of the Magic Era by Necromancers. Even the most powerful Death Redemption needed at least 6 minutes before it could come off cooldown.

This also meant that Lin Yun had six minutes to get rid of this Death Knight, or else he would end up wasting all his mana fighting it!

Six minutes...

Lin Yun couldn't help feeling that it was a pain. This was definitely an impossible task.

Enderfa also understood this and controlled the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel to send waves of spells over, but they yielded very small results.

Lin Yun waited, waiting for the Death Knight's 2nd spell to appear. These kinds of Runic Spells were very fast, and there was no meaning in interrupting them. If interrupted, the Death Knight would just cast it again.

A scarlet ring-like rune appeared below the Undead Horseman's feet. Then, indescribable fluctuations swept through everything within several hundred meters.

Lin Yun grew even more worried than before, his face going from pale to green.

The draconic staff he held shivered. Lin Yun had rarely felt so powerless. He had more knowledge of this era than anyone and he could find any strategy against anything he encountered.

But it was different this time... Even if he understood, he felt powerless.

All tricks were useless in front of absolute strength... His calculations were worthless, and any scheme would be destroyed.

'Evil Halo! It's a damned Evil Halo, and its coverage is so huge! It's not much different from a top tier spell!'

When the scarlet, ring-like rune appeared, the Death Knight's speed instantly increased by fifty to sixty percent, and that included the speed of its Death Aura Slash.

The black mist lingering on the Death Knight's body was the most frightening part. Lin Yun knew that Evil Aura not only increased attack speed and movement speed, but it also sped up the Death Knight's natural rate of recovery by a few times.

As the fierce mana fluctuations swept the surroundings, the Draconic Beastman suddenly shouted, "Sir Merlin, help! Xiuban can't keep going!"

The speed of all the Undead, whether it was movement or attack speed, was increased by fifty to sixty percent. Xiuban, who had been caught off guard by the sudden change, was struck a few times by three enthusiastic Bone Devils.

Had it not been for the fusion with a drop of Three-Headed Golden Dragon Blood, and then the bath in Ancient God Blood, both of which helped reinforce his body to an outrageous level, the Bone Devils' attacks wouldn't have just left red marks on his skin, they would have cut him in half!

"Aaah! You brainless skeletons! Die for Lord Xiuban!" Xiuban exclaimed out of fear, waving Carnage like a pinwheel, causing powerful gales. The might of these gales was comparable to Wind Blade spells.

This was a skill Xiuban had created, and he couldn't help but want to show it off in front of Lin Yun. It was Lord Xiuban's personal technique, Minced Pinwheel.

Its only weakness was that he couldn't keep it up for long, but even Lin Yun couldn't help being surprised by it.

Apart from the Undead that Xiuban had completely shattered, those that had only lost their limbs didn't immediately die, so the ones that were affected by the black smoke recovered at an extreme speed.

Originally, all of the Undead that stepped within ten meters of Xiuban wouldn't be able to survive, but now, the originally slow movements of the Undead had been improved. By relying on the death smoke, they moved faster and were more resilient, increasing the pressure on Xiuban. He swung Carnage around crazily but he couldn't completely get rid of all the Undead surrounding him.

"Sir Merlin, come save your most devoted servant, Xiuban! Xiuban doesn't want to die!"

The Draconic Beastman was flailing around wildly while letting out a miserable shriek.

That chronic procrastinator was now working very hard, and he didn't forget to add some boot-licking.

But unfortunately, nobody had the leisure to pay attention to him at the moment.

Frost Dragon Reina had an icy expression as she tried to keep her foes at bay. Unfortunately, it had suddenly become precarious.

Earlier, one claw would take out several dozens of the Undead. But now, an attack would take out a dozen at best, and if any of them weren't completely destroyed, they would recover to their peak with the power of the Evil Halo in a matter of seconds.

On another side, the silent and unyielding puppet, which could compare to the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel, kept casting instant fire spells, weaving them into waves that cleansed the surroundings. But the encirclement of the Undead was getting smaller and smaller. At the start of the battle, everything within a hundred meters was covered in ashes. But now, the waves of fire spells could no longer keep the fearless undead more than a hundred meters away.

The most terrifying part was that there was still a steady flow of them rushing out of the Death Gate, and although they didn't have high levels, the sheer number was overwhelming, already reaching sixty to seventy thousand. This horde, coupled with the Evil Halo, was overwhelming them. The number of Undead continued increasing, and under such circumstances, even Star Sage Jouyi, an existence that touched the Heaven realm, would feel the need to flee instantly.

Chapter 587: Soul Roar

And in this closed hold, anyone under the Heaven Rank would be killed by this sea of the Undead.

Seeing this scene, hesitation flashed in Lin Yun's eyes, before being replaced by resolve.

He took out the Book of Death, holding it on his left hand, while also tightly gripping the draconic staff in his other hand. He hadn't even cast a spell when the ring he wore flashed with radiance. Wisps of smoke appeared as Shawn's boastful voice echoed, "Mafa Merlin, Lord Shawn has thoroughly fused with that eye of disaster, when are you going to give another calamitous eye to Lord Shawn to fuse with?"

From his tone, it was clear that Shawn was in a very good mood. After thoroughly fusing with the Evil Dragon Eye, the Soul Walker had undergone a transformation, becoming a Mid Rank True Spirit Magic Tool. Lin Yun didn't even know how much more powerful his Magic Tool Incarnation had become.

The fog turned into a Ghost Wolf, and Shawn, who wore a pleased smile, suddenly froze, as if he had been petrified.

"Heavens! Mafa Merlin! What have you done? Hell, so many of the Undead! Heavens, a level 38 Death Knight! Damn, what's this?" He asked.

"That's an Undead Eye."

"An Undead Eye?"

Shawn was panicking like a man being chased by his debtors, subconsciously wanting to run.

Lin Yun Flame Shackled Shawn and brought him closer, before saying in a deep tone, "Five level 28 mana crystals."

Shawn's eyeballs spun chaotically. He couldn't help being frightened as he checked the surroundings, but he didn't need to do much thinking to know that if Lin Yun died here, Shawn would never have the opportunity to appear again.

But he still couldn't help himself and pushed for more. "One spirit mana crystal."

"Deal."

Shawn, who knew that he wouldn't be able to escape if he didn't go all-out, still took advantage of Lin Yun and asked for a spirit mana crystal. Hearing the confirmation, he then turned into a wave that was three meters high.

"Hell, following you is truly draining... Had I known earlier, Lord Shawn would have rather remained asleep."

Shawn was nagging at Lin Yun, but he didn't hesitate to make a move. He let out a loud roar, causing a visible shockwave.

The Death Knight and the sea of Undead all froze under Shawn's spiritual roar.

The soul fires of the Undead flickered violently as if they were under extreme fear. They all looked petrified.

It originally was just a Soul Roar that would make souls shudder, interrupting casts and rendering the target silent for a short moment. But against these enemies, its power was comparable to an Ultimate Spell, because the soul fires were the foundations of the Undead. When suffering from a soul shake, the Undead wouldn't even be able to move.

Even the Death Knight was locked on the spot.

Given such a good opportunity, whether it was the Draconic Beastman or the Frost Dragon, they both used their strongest skills and spells.

Mysterious Draconic words came out of Reina's mouth, and even she needed five seconds to incant her spell.

Draconic Spell, Hailstorm!

This spell, comparable to an 8th Tier Spell, wreaked havoc across the hold. It was like an ice apocalypse as snowflakes fell down, bringing a chilling cold aura with them. All the Undead within several hundred meters froze just as they were regaining the ability to move. And those floating snowflakes were like sharp blades, turning the storm into a huge meat grinder.

The storm only left frozen statues in its wake, which ended up shattering into shards.

As for the Draconic Beastman, he was covered in Aura as he rushed towards the horde of the Undead, with Carnage displaying destructive power comparable to a True Spirit Magic Tool.

Every time the heavy hammer was swung, it would shatter every stunned Undead within a dozen meters into pieces. After a few seconds, the Undead within several hundred meters were taken care of.

As for the puppet that only kept casting waves of fire spells, the soul shaking gave it the opportunity to turn all the Undead within three hundred meters to ashes.

The three of them massacred a few thousand Undead within a few seconds!

The instant Shawn used his Soul Roar, Lin Yun crazily poured mana into his draconic staff. A youthful Dragon Roar echoed as the Magic Tool Incarnation appeared.

The young Dragon Incarnation then turned into a huge shadow that stood behind Lin Yun.

This was the ability the draconic staff had gained after birthing its Magic Tool Incarnation. It would support Lin Yun for one minute, making his casting ability comparable to that of a Chromatic Dragon for a minute and raising the power of every spell by a tier.

The instant he was supported by the Magic Tool Incarnation, Lin Yun gave up on using Low Tier Spells and started a complicated incantation. Even with the huge processing power of the Magic Array and the support of the Magic Tool Incarnation, it still took him nine seconds.

A huge Meteor Shower was cast. This spell would mostly appear when Legions battled. It was a very economical channeled spell, but also a very simple spell to interrupt. To display its might, it had to be continuously channeled.

It would only be cast when a Legion fought, as the protection of allies would create the opportunity to channel it. If he tried to cast this spell normally, not only would it need a huge amount of mana, but it would also require a very complicated incantation. Furthermore, the might of the spell would be too scattered. It wasn't great against small numbers of powerful enemies, so the spell was rarely used.

The Death Knight recovered from the soul shake during the nine-second cast time, so Enderfa was controlling the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel to suppress it with a flood of spells, regardless of the mana consumption.

Because everyone knew that even without the Death Knight, they would still be screwed as long as the army of the Undead remained.

The Meteor Shower was released, and a red cloud appeared above the horde of Undead. With the support of the draconic incarnation, the might of the spell raised by one tier.

This Meteor Shower turned into a large-scale 7th Tier Fire Spell. The red cloud was like lava, and many Fireballs fell down like rain. Each of them originally had the power of a 4th Tier spell, but they had risen to 5th Tier at this moment.

The dark-red Fireballs kept falling continuously. At this moment, at least four to five hundred Fireballs had fallen into the sea of Undead, turning the entire hold into a sea of fire. The raging flames charred the bones until they crumbled to ashes. Only the Undead that were level 25 or above managed to struggle on the verge of death for a bit before being burnt a few seconds later.

But there were fewer and fewer Undead below level 20. The Undead rushing out from the Death Gate were gradually at higher levels. The Meteor Shower that had been upgraded to 7th Tier only killed several thousands of the Undead, and most of them were Lesser Undead.

Lin Yun's expression was somewhat pale after casting that spell, as it had used a bit too much mana.

But after completing that cast, he followed with a 6th Rank Bursting Flames spell, which was also upgraded to 7th Tier, on the suppressed Death Knight, sending it flying.

The Death Knight with its Evil Halo wasn't injured too much by the 7th Tier Spell, and while it was sent flying, the death aura helped its wounds quickly recover again.

But before the Death Knight could regain its footing, Lin Yun's 2nd Bursting Flames already landed. The blue Bursting Flames once again sent the Death Knight flying.

The explosion-oriented Bursting Flames did next to no damage to the Death Knight, but it also couldn't stop itself from being blown away by each time.

Lin Yun calculated the timing and cast five Bursting Flames in a row, each of them landing while the Death Knight was still trying to stabilize itself, sending it further and further away.

After five Bursting Flames, the Death Knight was pushed a very long distance away from Lin Yun. Enderfa clearly understood what should be done and controlled the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel to continuously suppress the Death Knight with fire spells. As for Lin Yun, he kept using the Meteor Shower.

By the time the Death Knight rushed through the flood of spells, Lin Yun frantically cast more spells alongside the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel to suppress it.

During that minute, Lin Yun cast a total of four Meteor Showers and turned all the undead-infested areas into oceans of fire.

Several tens of thousands of the Undead, with Reina, Xiuban and the puppet sweeping through them... All of this had started with Shawn's Soul Roar, stunning all of the Undead.

The Draconic Staff's Draconic Incarnation returned to the staff, exhausted. Lin Yun was also pale, his body faintly shaking. Only the hands holding onto the Draconic Staff and the Book of Death were stable.

Shawn had been unresponsive for a long time after using that Soul Roar.

This sweep alleviated the pressure, and although there was still a steady flow the Undead rushing from the Death Gate, it wouldn't form waves like before for the time being.

Lin Yun glanced at the Book of Death in his left hand and knew that he could no longer hesitate.

Chapter 588: Death Summon

Regarding the Undead Eye, Lin Yun had gotten some understanding...

In the decaying library's books, he had once seen some information regarding the Undead Eyes, how they were formed and how they died out.

Places rich in death energy had a chance of birthing an Undead Eye, but the Undead Eyes were very weak during the birthing process. During the peak of the Magic Era, most Undead Eyes didn't have time to fully mature before being destroyed.

A mature and awakened Undead Eye could open a Death Gate connected to the Undead Plane, and from the moment they awakened, a steady flow of the Undead would go through the Death Gate until the power of the Undead Eye was eventually consumed and it withered away, closing the Death Gate leading to the Undead Plane.

But it was written that an awakened Undead Eye would almost never be destroyed midway. Every time an Undead Eye appeared, it would cause a huge Undead Calamity.

The Undead coming out of the Undead Plane would sweep through the land, killing every living creature. When an Undead Eye appeared, the best outcome would be at least five cities being wiped out. A few millennia ago, an Undead Eye awakened in a small kingdom, and as a result, this small kingdom collapsed under the flood of Undead invaders.

Every time an Undead Eye appeared, the only solution was to wait until it exhausted its power and died out naturally. But by then, the Undead that went through the Death Gate would have already become a disaster, causing the fall of many Archmages and Sword Saints.

And the only record of an Undead Eye being destroyed while awakened came from the Ivory Tower's Bane!

That matter had remained a secret for a very long time in the Ivory Tower, and only a few words were recorded about it in the decaying library.

It was written that at the time, for some unknown reason, an Undead Eye appeared in an area not far from the Ivory Tower, causing the tower to be surrounded by many of the Undead. At the time, people believed that the Ivory Tower would be greatly weakened by that Undead Calamity.

And at the time, Bane, the holder of the Book of Death, single-handedly killed his way to the Undead Eye's location. When he returned to the tower, the Undead Eye had been destroyed. Without the steady flow of the Undead coming out of the Death Gate, the ones that were already there weren't as much of a threat.

And the few words Lin Yun had seen were a secret the Ivory Tower had guarded for many years.

Bane relied on the Book of Death to destroy the Undead Eye. To be more exact, it was the Book of Death's Truth Chapter!

The Truth Chapter was the bane of evil and was like a predator to an extremely evil existence like the Undead Eye!

This was information written in Heaven Rank Bane's diary, but unfortunately, he didn't explain the process in detail. He only wrote that he had relied on the Truth Chapter to destroy the Undead Eye.

Lin Yun had been thinking about it ever since he saw the Undead Eye, but unfortunately, he didn't have a concrete plan, as he didn't know what to do. Moreover, Bane's Book of Death had been at its peak. It wasn't like Lin Yun's, which only fused with three Augments.

The difference between the two was like the difference between heaven and earth, and furthermore, Lin Yun had yet to use the power of the Truth Chapter. Although it had fused with the Book of Death, it had yet to perfectly merge with it!

Lin Yun also didn't have the power of a Heaven Rank like Bane. Even if the Truth Chapter had been fully integrated into the Book of Death, Lin Yun would avoid taking risks.

But it was the limit now. That level 38 Death Knight had yet to use its 3rd Runic Spell and the Undead were still rushing out of the Death Gate.

Lin Yun made up his mind and tried his best to get rid of more than half of the Undead just create an opening to use the Truth Chapter of the Book of Death!

But before Lin Yun could open the Book of Death, the Death Knight on the other side raised its sword once again and the 3rd rune finally appeared!

The last rune flickered on the sword, causing countless lights to appear on the floor near those beheaded Zombies, Liches, Bone Devils, and other shattered bodies.

It was like hands were gently recombining these bone fragments and corpses. One by one, recombined Bone Devils, Skeleton Warriors, and other creatures stood up. Moreover, there were a few Grim Reapers that were five to six meters tall holding scythes and draped with long cloaks, and similarly sized level 30 Skeleton Lords standing out from the dregs.

A rotten smell was emitted from the rotting zombies, and Necromancer Liches also came out from those piles of bones. And in the end, a few short level 30 Undead Shamans that started to buff the Undead in the surroundings also appeared.

With just a wave of its sword, twenty thousand of the Undead appeared out of nowhere!

And counting the fighting strength, it was definitely comparable to the power of thirty to forty thousand typical Undead, especially those Skeleton Lords commanding the skeleton-types. And the buff from the Undead Shamans buff was increasing the power of the Undead by a few times!

‘Undead Resurrection... No, it’s that damned top-notch Death Knight ability, Death Summon! It can raise corpses into more Undead, and also use them to revive previously fallen ones. And if there are enough corpses, it can even summon some of the Higher Undead!’

Shawn shrieked, and Enderfa’s expression was also miserable.

“Merlin, what’s this damned place? What monster did you provoke? Evil Halo, Death Summon, damn! What’s that Death Knight!”

Lin Yun could only smile bitterly, thinking to himself that fortunately, Shawn hadn’t seen the Death Knight’s Death Redemption.

A Death Knight that had three such first-rate Death Knight abilities, and high proficiency in all of them. Besides saying that their luck was terrible, there really was no other explanation.

This kind of ability that could reverse the course of a battle, it was comparable to encountering a one-in-a-millennium kind of genius. Having three such abilities placed the power of this Death Knight at the top, and even the abnormal Lin Yun, with his era-transcending knowledge, couldn’t comprehend that.

This unforeseen event not only shocked Lin Yun, but Xiuban also panted as he screamed, “Sir Merlin, save me! I really can’t keep going! Your faithful servant Xiuban can’t bear to leave you...”

Xiuban’s golden-red skin couldn’t stop his skin from paling. He had just burst with all his power, but he hadn’t expected that before he could even be proud of the destruction he had caused, even more ruthless Undead would appear.

Reina was also stupefied and wasn’t in the mood to pay attention to Xiuban’s scream.

Lin Yun also didn't pay attention to Xiuban. He knew that he had thick skin. Before Reina fell, Xiuban wouldn't die.

Lin Yun watched the Death Knight in the distance and yelled at Shawn, "Work hard if you don't want to die here!"

Before Lin Yun even finished, Shawn had already made a move.

"Such a loss, a huge loss, one spirit mana crystal, such a huge loss!"

While nagging, Shawn opened his 3rd Eye with a pained expression. The crack in his forehead suddenly opened up and a black eye appeared. There seemed to be a vortex slowly rotating within that black eye, and a hint of evil aura suddenly spread out.

Lin Yun felt cold when faced with that evil aura and couldn't help but shiver.

The moment the Evil Eye opened, Shawn let out a loud shout. The cold and unfeeling eye emitted countless jet-black rays.

Each ray that fell into a group of Undeads would cause a ripple, and that ripple contained countless debuffing and weakening spells.

Slow, which slowed down movement speed, Weaken, which weakened the other side's power, Stiffness, which reduced their reaction speed, Corrosion, which harmed their defensive power...

Every ray contained almost all Low Tier Debuffing Spells, but they were more powerful than the average mage's spells, as they were cast by the Evil Eye.

Although they were Low Tier Debuffing Spells, it was practically a flood of spells, and it was enough to greatly weaken the power of the Undead despite the buffs they were receiving from the Shamans. Even the level 38 Death Knight couldn't help being affected.

Shawn especially sent five rays towards the Death Knight's body. Even if Shawn had just finished fusing with the Evil Eye, the Low Tier Debuffing Spells he cast were enough to affect the Death Knight.

Shawn wasn't lazy this time; this large-scale spell he released let Lin Yun relax somewhat.

He unhesitantly opened the Book of Death and flipped to the Truth Chapter's page, and the crystal pattern on the page appeared.

But something unforeseen happened, which startled Lin Yun. Before he could even make a move, the crystal loudly exploded and turned into countless crystal fragments.

Every crystal fragment converged in midair and turned into a crystal phoenix, and with a loud cry, it charged into the distant Undead Eye.

Chapter 589: Decline

The Undead Eye turned towards the Crystal Phoenix when it appeared, looking at it as at his mortal foe.

Even the support of the Death Gate and Undeads had been greatly weakened.

A large amount of death energy converged into a black fog and charged into the Undead Eye, forming pitch-black tentacles around its immediate surroundings, wrapping around it.

Then, under Lin Yun's shocked gaze, it flew up and charged at the Crystal Phoenix!

The countless pitch-black tentacles condensed out of death energy spasmed in the air, whipping towards the Crystal Phoenix.

As for the Crystal Phoenix, it let out a Phoenix Cry, basking the Undead Eye in sunlight.

The sunlight and the pitch-black tentacles collided and sizzling noises echoed continuously. The fierce fluctuations even affected the battle happening below, increasing the difficulty of casting.

It felt as if an Archmage cast the 8th Rank Spell, Thunderstorm, in between the two of them as lightning-like sounds kept echoing.

A one-meter thick lightning bolt fell down, striking an unlucky Undead Shaman on the head and disintegrating it, not leaving a bone fragment behind.

At that time, Lin Yun clearly understood that the Truth Chapter and the Undead Eye were natural enemies!

They were more than natural enemies, they were arch-nemesis!

They fought such a life and death battle on their own.

And the Truth Chapter had shown its true colors!

For so long, the Crystal Phoenix had turned into a crystal, and Lin Yun had no method to thoroughly fuse it with the Book of Death, he felt stuck, like a lion wanting to eat a tortoise.

Lin Yun was also clueless when he opened the Book of Death. His biggest worry was how to activate the true shape of the Truth Chapter, he hadn't expected such a scene to appear.

The Crystal Phoenix and the Undead Eye were wrestling it out in midair, and below, Lin Yun didn't remain idle. With the Draconic Staff in one hand and the Book of Death in the other, earth-shattering spell explosions kept showering the Death Knight.

Enderfa was also extremely angry, he turned into his three-faced incarnation and controlled the Ten Thousand Spell Wheel with a sinister expression, his spells washing over the Death Knight.

Shawn bared his fangs, the Evil Eye between his eyes darkening as it slowly closed. That burst of power Shawn had used had greatly weakened him.

Another Soul Roar echoed, and no longer able to maintain his three-meters tall wolf shape, he weakly remained on the ground and turned into a smoke as he flew inside the Soul Walker.

The Purple Dragon of his Draconic Staff and Shawn had used too much power. They had returned to their True Spirit Rank Magic Tools, but their results could be considered quite good. Shawn's final Soul Roar not only stunned the Death Knight, but also most of the Undeads.

The Crystal Phoenix and the Undead Eye were entangled, fighting desperately in the air. The support of the Undead Eye over the Death Knight and the sea of Undeads had decreased by more than half. Even the amount of Undeads rushing forth from the Death Gate had greatly decreased. The pressure on Lin Yun's group had been greatly alleviated.

Not to mention, the sea of Undeads had spread across the entire hold, and the fight between the Undead Eye and the Crystal Phoenix affected many locations, dealing with a lot of Undeads.

But Lin Yun wasn't relaxing yet, in fact, all his attention was focused on the Book of Death.

Lin Yun had no longer doubts about activating the Truth Chapter, but was now unsure if the Truth Chapter could triumph.

This was a great opportunity, with the complete activation of the Truth Chapter, it would completely merge with the Book of Death.

But if he failed and didn't eliminate the Undead Eye, he might end up losing a rare Augment, this was a loss even Lin Yun wouldn't be able to endure.

The might of the Book of Death would greatly plummet if the Truth Chapter was destroyed. By losing that Augment forever it could never end up complete, and its power would never reach its peak.

Although the Truth Chapter was activated, Lin Yun wasn't too optimistic...

The Truth Chapter and the Undead Eye were fighting to their last breath, once they crossed paths, they wouldn't give up until the other one was destroyed. This meant that the situation was worse than Lin Yun had thought, if the Truth Chapter lost, it would end up completely destroyed.

And the battle between the two wasn't something others could intervene in.

Lin Yun was rousing his Magic Array with red eyes, his originally terrifying amount of mana was being consumed at a shocking speed.

The Draconic Staff's Dragon Head was pointed at the Death Knight, and together with Enderfa, a large amount of fire spell flooded the Death Knight like a powerful current, suppressing the Death Knight and adding more and more wounds. Even with the Evil Halo greatly increasing the Death Knight's recovery speed, his state just kept worsening.

This kind of skill-less fighting style was most effective against the Death Knight. Half of the six minutes had already passed, if the Death Knight didn't fall before these six minutes run out, his Death Redemption would make him recover to his peak.

Lin Yun had to go all-out, if the Truth Chapter was defeated and their situation remained the same, they would be screwed. He could only get rid of the Death Knight so that he could still have a chance even if the Truth Chapter was defeated.

As time passed, the Death Knight's mount was at its last breath. It lost all its power, severely reducing the Death Knight's fighting strength, and greatly reducing the frequency of his attacks.

But Lin Yun's expression was getting worse, the consumption of that flood of spells was so huge that even Lin Yun could hardly manage.

And what was worse was that the Crystal Phoenix was slowly forced into retreat in the duel above.

The holy light-like rays of sunlight were falling back little by little while the Undead Eye had no need to worry about consumption due to the rich death energy filling the place.

The countless black tentacles whipped over like fearless Undeads. The Crystal Phoenix's sunlight could purify a dozen tentacles with a flash, but the Undead Eye could condense even more tentacles at the same time.

It was to the point that the Undead Eye had already condensed five three to four meters thick huge tentacles. Those tentacles had wretched white bone barbs growing all over and those bony outgrowths were turning black at a visible speed. Anyone seeing this metallic luster would know how powerful these bony appendices were.

Then, those bony outgrowths suddenly shot out, turning into Bone Spears aiming at the Crystal Phoenix.

The Crystal Phoenix did its best to counterattack, but it could only keep retreating due to the Undead Eye's pressure. The battle was becoming more and more unfavorable to the Crystal Phoenix. If this continued, the Crystal Phoenix would soon be killed.

Lin Yun clenched his teeth and called the puppet over, making it give up on cleaning those waves of Undeads to help siege the Death Knight. This greatly increased the pressure on Reina and Xiuban.

The wounded thick-skinned Xiuban made Lin Yun speechless as he kept screaming miserably, his face greatly paling, "Sir Merlin, don't be like this, Xiuban truly can't keep up with this, help me, ah, Xiuban is never going to be lazy in the future..."

Xiuban's eyes were filled with fear, he just kept killing Undead after Undead. The originally easy to manipulate Carnage had now become heavy in his hands. As for Reina, she looked exhausted, but didn't say anything. She only glanced at Lin Yun before wordlessly going back to battle.

With the puppet joining in, Lin Yun managed to spare some leeway to urge the Book of Death to release some energy to support the Crystal Phoenix.

But the Crystal Phoenix hadn't thoroughly fused with the Book of Death, moreover it was now separated from the Book of Death and the support connection between them didn't have too much of an effect, it could only alleviate the decline a bit.

Lin Yun was unwilling to give up, he looked at this scene and realized that alone, the Crystal Phoenix definitely couldn't match the Undead Eye, but since it hadn't fused with the Book of Death, it couldn't borrow much power from it...

By constantly wasting mana to have the Book of Death support the Crystal Phoenix, it would make the Crystal Phoenix notice the effect of the power supply and it might nudge the Crystal Phoenix into thoroughly merging with the Book of Death against an enemy it couldn't handle.

Only by fusing would the Crystal Phoenix have a shot at victory. Lin Yun only hoped the Crystal Phoenix wouldn't prefer to fight to death and be unwilling to merge with the Book of Death till the end.

As long as it had some spirituality, it would seek luck and avoid calamities and hope to survive.

The Crystal Phoenix definitely had spirituality, otherwise it wouldn't have stayed behind his defences, unwilling to thoroughly fuse with the Book of Death for so long.

Time passed, and the six minutes were soon approaching. Lin Yun had used a huge amount of mana but hadn't managed to get rid of the Death Knight, and after the latter waved his sword, Death Redemption appeared once again, and the half dead Death Knight regained his spirit.

The Crystal Phoenix was soon chased into a corner, runes flickering on the five thick tentacles with dark bony outgrowths continuously drilling.

With the runes' appearance, the power of these bony outgrowths became comparable to Ultimate Bone Spears.

Chapter 590: Who Said I Can't Kill You?

Lin Yun desperately pushed his Magic Array to its limits, extracting the mana from a spirit mana crystal while putting a huge amount of power in the Book of Death to help the Crystal Phoenix as much as possible.

A few seconds later, the Crystal Phoenix's left wing was pierced by a dark bony outgrowth and a sinister power collided with the Crystal Phoenix, a large patch of death energy frantically moved in and around the wound, making the Crystal Phoenix scream repeatedly.

And with the appearance of a fatal flaw in defense, those bony outgrowths and those several hundred crazily twitching tentacles only needed a few seconds to twist around the Crystal Phoenix.

The Crystal Phoenix let out a sad lament as it turned into a flowing light, flying towards Lin Yun.

Lin Yun hurriedly opened the Book of Death while recalling Reina and Xiuban over, gathering everyone in the small space. Xiuban was guarding them while they were crazily casting spells to block the chasing Undead Eye.

Without the large amount of spells suppressing him, the Death Knight quickly charged over.

It looked as if the Crystal Phoenix wouldn't enter the Book of Death quickly enough, the Death Knight would arrive first!

Xiuban was thoroughly despairing, "Sir Merlin, Xiuban is truly dead this time..."

Despair reached even Reina, "Finished, I shall not see the day my father resurrects..."

Just as everyone was giving up, Lin Yun clenched his teeth and did something unexpected. A pair of flaming wings appeared on his back as he flew towards the flowing light.

Both Xiuban and Reina were stupefied.

On this battlefield, using a flying technique was no different from becoming an easy target!

The Undead Eye was chasing behind the Crystal Phoenix, his tentacles covering the sky... Against that kind of attack, it would be a miracle if Lin Yun's defensive spells could last three seconds! And that was without mentioning the level 38 Death Knight!

But Lin Yun's death courting action ushered their greatest hopes. With Lin Yun flying towards the Crystal Phoenix, it would reduce the time before the Crystal Phoenix fused with the Book of Death by half!

Two seconds. Lin Yun who flew up held the Book of Death in front of him, and the Crystal Phoenix, who had turned into a ray of light, flew inside it.

On an originally blank page appeared a new pattern. The original crystal pattern had disappeared and had been replaced by a vivid Crystal Phoenix spreading its wings.

The Truth Chapter had thoroughly fused with the Book of Death!

Lin Yun didn't have time to relax, he was still sweating profusely. Had he not been quick witted, he might have truly been done for.

Now that they were fused, the Truth Chapter could use the unrestrained power of the Book of Death, and using the Book of Death to display the power of the Truth Chapter was completely different from the Truth Chapter fighting on its own.

Lin Yun floated in the air, several hundred thick tentacles rushing over, alongside three to four hundred dark bony outgrowths flickering with runes. It was like a heavy rain. Under them, the Death Knight slashed a few times, sending a dozen four to five meters long Death Aura Slashes towards Lin Yun.

These attacks were more than thirty meters away from Lin Yun but the pressure they emitted still made it difficult for Lin Yun to breath.

But, Lin Yun's pale face displayed its first smile since the start of this battle.

"See ya."

As he said this, the Book of Death suddenly burst out with an intense light. The glaring sunshine forced everyone to close their eyes.

The sunlight released now was ten times stronger than what the Crystal Phoenix had been able to release on its own earlier!

The radiance turned into a huge glaring sphere centered around Lin Yun, and expanding at a terrifying speed.

When those dark bony outgrowth touched the sunlight, they were instantly turned into dust before dissipating as smoke.

Those over a hundred large tentacles also turned into still death energy and the strong aura of death was instantly purified.

The dozen Death Aura Slashes looked like four to five meters long crescent black moons, but they also ended up being purified when they encountered that sunlight.

That cold and unfeeling Undead Eye finally displayed fear as it recklessly fled. But how could it compare to the speed of sunlight...

The Purifying Sunlight released by the Truth Chapter, once fused with and empowered by the Book of Death, was the bane of all evil!

In just three seconds, the glaring light covered the Undead Eye and vast amount of death energy dissipated, ceased just like that.

As for the Undeads on the floor, they were also affected by the Purifying Sunlight, they didn't even have time to let out a sound before being purged.

The Death Knight also let out a miserable shriek as he tumbled, twitching on the ground as the black fog was purified.

The glaring sunlight converged, and like a substance, returned to the Book of Death.

No Undead Eye could be seen when the sunlight withdrew, that Death Gate also disappeared like a bubble being popped.

A large amount of Undeads was purified, but the Death Knight was only seriously injured, he hadn't been finished.

Lin Yun looked at the Book of Death, the Crystal Phoenix could be seen on the page, holding a pitch-black eyeball in its claw.

It was the Undead Eye. Lin Yun hadn't expected this change, but then, he saw a trace of radiance coming from the Crystal Phoenix.

Lin Yun unhesitantly closed the Book of Death, and the latter strongly shook, as if something was trying to struggle free.

Lin Yun let out a mischievous laughter in a good mood.

"Haha, you want to back out on the fusion?"

The Book of Death was closed and the Truth Chapter had already completely fused. Even if it had amazing abilities, that phoenix still would have to give up on that idea.

But the Undead Eye wasn't actually destroyed, it was instead grabbed by the Crystal Phoenix. This was a bit out of his expectations, but it wouldn't have much of an influence.

One shouldn't throw away free food.

Lin Yun fell from the sky and gave an order to the puppet, letting it take care of the remaining Undeads while Lin Yun himself approached the seriously injured Death Knight.

The Death Knight was in a very miserable state, the four legs of his mount had been crushed by Xiuban, yet its soul fires were still burning.

As for the Death Knight himself, he was bathing in Hellfire from head to toe, continuously emitting black smoke while being covered in traces of sunburns.

After all, the Purifying Light of the Truth Chapter was still a bit stronger than the Holy Light.

It was the bane of everything vile, yet the Death Knight had managed to survive after being hit in close range; Lin Yun was a bit surprised at first.

After all, the Truth Chapter had burst out when meeting its arch-enemy, the Undead Eye, but now, even if Lin Yun wanted to, he wouldn't be able to display such power.

"Stupid Human! Even if you destroyed the Undead Eye, you can't kill me! I am unkillable in here!"

The Death Knight couldn't avoid his mount's fate. His sword had already left his hands, and his lambs had been crushed by Xiuban.

He had yet to finish his cold words when the enraged Xiuban brandished his Carnage and smashed it onto his limbs.

"Stupid Undead! Are you looking down on Lord Xiuban?"

Xiuban had been scared for so long and his golden red skin was still somewhat pale, how could he be polite now that the situation had been solved?

The heavy Carnage smashed onto the Death Knight's body, causing fierce gales to spread around. Lin Yun didn't know whether to laugh or cry and used a Magic Shield to block that shockwave.

"Xiuban, stop, he is right, no one can kill him here."

Hearing Lin Yun's words, Xiuban immediately put Carnage away, he was more afraid of facing Lin Yun than the sea of Undeads. Just now, Lin Yun looked like a God and purified a large amount of Undeads, even getting rid of the Undead Eye.

With the Draconic Beastman's intelligence, he couldn't understand concepts like Truth Chapter, he only knew that Lin Yun burst with power far stronger than the Death Knight in front of them.

"Sir Merlin, you are always right, but isn't there a way for Sir Merlin to get rid of this damned Undead?" Xiuban flattered and asked, unwilling to let it go.

Lin Yun looked at the paralyzed Death Knight and said with a smile, "He is right, he is different from ordinary Undeads. Even I can't kill him on the Intrepid, but someone else can."

The Death Knight couldn't budge, but he still remained unyielding, not worried at all that he might die. But because the Undead Eye was "destroyed", he had lost the ability to live, even though he couldn't be killed.

"Stupid Human, I absolutely can't be killed on the Intrepid. Once I recovered my power, your soul will fall to oblivion for all eternity!"

Lin Yun didn't explain to the confident Death Knight, he instead took out the Book of Death and a light flashed from it, before Lagulin and Barton appeared.

Lin Yun then nodded at the Death Knight with a smile, "Indeed, I can't kill you on the Intrepid, but the result would be different if it's not a human..."

After Lagulin and Barton appeared, that level 38 Death Knight could no longer remain calm.

“Impossible! How could you summon Higher Undeads!”

Lin Yun didn't feel like saying anything superfluous, he just gave the command and the restless Undead Horseman and Lich rushed over like hungry wolves
