Chapter 687 A Respected Predecessor

Theodore hurried forward and greeted respectfully, "I'm surprised to see you here, Mr. Knox. It's indeed an honor."

"You have flattered me, General Jackson. I just popped by out of curiosity." Axton smiled plainly.

"Mr. Knox..."

At that moment, Samuel and Xander took turns to greet him with deference.

When everyone saw the respect accorded to Axton by the big shots, they quickly made way for him, for they were unable to bear the overwhelming pressure emanating from him.

After giving Axton and Donald a glance, Kai asked in an indifferent tone, "Are both of you planning to get involved?"

"Mr. Chance, this is Mr. Axton Knox of the Medicine God Sect. The Medicine God Sect is—"

When Theodore sensed Kai's hostility toward Axton, he quickly introduced Axton and explained who he was.

However, before he finished, Axton waved for him to stop. He remarked with a chuckle, “General Jackson, no introductions are needed. Kai and I know each other.”

His words stunned Theodore and Samuel, who wondered when Kai had gotten to know Axton.

As for Xander, a sense of dread crept into him upon learning the same.

If Kai truly knew Axton and was on good terms with him, the Cooper family would no longer dare to touch him going forward.

“I’m sorry. I didn’t realize both of you have known each other for a long time,” Theodore apologized awkwardly.

“Not really long. To be precise, it was just last night. Both of them sneaked into my mansion in the middle of the night to steal my pills. We only knew each other after getting into a fight.”

The moment Kai finished, everyone’s mind was blown, especially that of Samuel and Theodore. It would never have crossed their mind that Kai had fought Axton before.

On top of that, they were shocked to learn that Axton was trying to steal Kai’s pills given the Medicine God Sect’s reputation as an honorable faction. They had earned the martial arts world’s respect having healed and cured many of its members.

It was just that they were known to be mysterious. Therefore, other than the elites or those from prominent families, the majority of martial artists didn't know who the members of the Medicine God Sect were.

Consequently, it was an embarrassment for them to be accused of stealing someone else's pills.

“Kid, don't spout nonsense. Since when did we rob you of your pills? Mr. Knox just wanted to take a look at them. If we really wanted to take them from you, do you think you would still be alive considering how powerful Mr. Knox is?” Donald retorted loudly as he glared at Kai.

Elated by what he heard, Xander bellowed at Kai, “Precisely. Mr. Knox has achieved the level of a Martial Arts Grandmaster a long time ago. Even I have to greet him as one of my seniors. Hence, do you actually think you're a match for him? Furthermore, the Medicine God Sect is famous for alchemy. How is it possible that you have something that they want to steal from you? Obviously, you're just making baseless accusations.”

As long as he could get Axton to take his side, he no longer had anything to fear from Kai. Moreover, Kai would be doomed if he was to make an enemy of the Medicine God Sect.

At that moment, Sean looked at Kai as if he was an idiot, wondering if the latter was just faking it when he offended the men from the Medicine God Sect.

“Mr. Chance, this must be a misunderstanding. Mr. Knox would definitely not do something like that.”

Samuel desperately gave Kai a knowing look.

Oblivious to it, Kai sneered, “By trespassing into my mansion at night, their true objectives couldn’t be any more obvious.”

Chapter 688 Apology

Considering everyone in the martial arts world knew of the Medicine God Sect, they were shocked by Kai’s revelation. What made matters worse was that Kai had made the accusation right in front of its most senior elder, which was the equivalent of suicide.

In fact, Samuel and Theodore broke out in cold sweat, worried that Axton would be enraged.

On the contrary, Xander and Sean were ecstatic over what was going on.

“Kid, you must have a death wish for maligning the Medicine God Sect,” Donald threatened with an angry stare.

“So what? Are you trying to attack me? As someone who has been defeated by me, you have no right to speak here,” Kai replied coldly.

“You...”

Donald was outraged being humiliated in front of everyone by Kai’s words. Losing his temper, he attempted to charge at Kai.

“Donald!”

Holding Donald back, Axton smiled at Kai. “ Kai, you must have misunderstood our intentions. We were not there to steal the pill at all. Nevertheless, I apologize for our recklessness last night.”

As Medicine God Sect’s most senior elder, why is Mr. Knox apologizing ?

Everyone present, including Kai, had not expected Axton to express his regret.

Now that Axton had apologized, Kai no longer held a grudge.

When the Cooper brothers saw what happened, their initial courage began to dampen. They were baffled as to what made Kai so special that someone like Axton had to apologize to him.

“Mr. Knox, wh-why did you say sorry to him ?”

Donald couldn’t believe his ears. After all, there were many members of the martial arts world present. If word about the matter got out, it would be detrimental to the Medicine God Sect’s reputation.

“Shut up!” Axton shot Donald a glare before sweeping his gaze across the crowd. “Today, I will mediate this matter as a representative of the Medicine God Sect. The duel held here is a battle to resolve a conflict between two persons. I hope that no one will interfere until it is completed. Whoever breaks the rules of the martial arts world will feel the wrath of the Medicine God Sect.”

Xander was stunned to hear Axton's words. Is he trying to get me killed?

With one hand broken and all his martial energy spent, Xander would meet certain death if he was to continue fighting Kai.

"We will comply with Mr. Knox's words," Samuel declared before giving both Tommy and Phoenix a look.

After both of them nodded in acknowledgment, they signaled both the Templar and Phoenix Regiment to back down.

Now that Kai obviously had the advantage, there was no need for them to interfere.

However, Sean continued to protect Xander with the Cooper family's men. He refused to leave, for he was sure that Kai would definitely take Xander's life.

"Did you not hear what I just said?" Axton shot Sean an icy gaze.

Sean pleaded, "Mr. Knox, the Cooper family has no quarrel with the Medicine God Sect. If you're able to help us out this once, we will be greatly indebted—"

"What are you trying to say? Are you bribing me in front of everyone?"

Axton interrupted with a narrowed gaze. "As an honorable faction, the Medicine God Sect is duty-bound to protect the rules of the martial arts world and ensure that no one breaks them. Given that it was your family that issued the challenge, you have no excuse to go against the rules.

Now, all of you should stand down."

Not bothered to show Sean any respect, Axton put him in a difficult position.

Upon Sean's defiance, Axton unleashed a frightening aura and thundered, "Stand down!"

Chapter 689 Destroying Oneself

As the aura enveloped Sean and everyone from the Cooper family, they felt a tremendous pressure being forced upon them. Unable to withstand the pressure, the weaker members of the family vomited blood before collapsing onto the ground.

The fact that Axton's aura alone was capable of bringing a Grandmaster to his knees demonstrated the former's terrifying power.

"Just stand down," Xander ordered Sean.

Left without a choice, Sean backed down with the Cooper family's men. As for Xander, he steeled his resolve to give his all despite knowing that death awaited him.

"Kai, you can continue. No one will interfere now." Axton smiled at Kai before leaving the arena with Donald.

After giving Axton a grateful look, Kai turned to face Xander with murderous rage in his eyes.

“Today, I will send you to Hell to join your son.”

The moment Kai finished, he leaped into the air and appeared in front of Xander in a flash.

Caught off-guard by Kai’s speed, Xander desperately retreated but it was already too late.

Kai had landed a slap on his face.

Slap!

As a crisp sound rang out, Xander’s body spun in the air before crashing back onto the ground.

The slap had caused one side of Xander’s face to swell. Not only was blood oozing out the corner of his mouth, but he had also lost a few teeth from the impact.

Kai had slapped Xander in public on purpose to humiliate him and to let the matter serve as a warning to the wider martial arts world to not get in his way.

It was not because he was fearful, but he had no time to waste. He needed to use whatever time he had left to train for his trip to Nameless Island on July 15.

Everyone gulped when they saw how pathetic Xander looked. As a result, no one dared to cause Kai trouble anymore.

When Xander finally struggled to his feet, he stared daggers at Kai. Just when he was about to say something, he realized he was unable to do so due to how painful and swollen his face was.

“Do you still refuse to submit?” Kai slapped him again.

This time, Xander’s whole face was swollen like a pig while the rest of his teeth flew out upon impact.

Suddenly, his eyes turned bloodshot as he roared into the air, “Argh!”

A red mist then emanated from his body. It carried the stench of blood as if his own blood was evaporating from boiling point.

Meanwhile, everyone gasped at the sudden turn of events.

“Oh no, Xander plans to self-destruct in a suicide attack on Mr. Chance,” Theodore exclaimed in shock.

At that moment, everyone feared for Kai’s life. As a Martial Arts Grandmaster, Xander was akin to a bomb if he self-destructed. In fact, the blast itself would destroy the entire arena.

Consequently, many in the audience began to flee. Those who were strong enough began to unleash their energy to form a protective barrier in front of them.

“Mr. Knox, Xander is planning to blow himself up. He doesn’t plan on leaving even his soul behind,” Donald remarked in consternation.

Martial artists who were at Grandmaster level and above were able to concentrate their energy within their elixir field and detonate, resulting in a massive explosion.

By doing so, one's body and soul would disintegrate into thin air. Without a soul, one wouldn't be able to reincarnate anymore.

Consequently, very few would choose to self-destruct even if they going to die. Furthermore, if the gap in power was too big, detonating oneself wasn't going to make a difference.

Chapter 690 Dead

"I didn't expect Xander to be so relentless."

Just as he spoke, Axton gestured with his hands to form a barrier and cover Kai and Xander in it.

By doing so, the explosion from Xander's detonation would be contained inside the barrier, protecting those who were outside from harm. Or else, an explosion caused by a Martial Arts Grandmaster would definitely kill the crowd en-masse.

However, the barrier had also prevented Kai from escaping. He had no choice but to brace himself for the massive energy surge from the explosion.

As the martial energy within Xander expanded rapidly, his body began to balloon as if it was being inflated by air.

Instead of releasing it, he concentrated his martial energy within his body, causing it to be bizarrely contorted by the swelling.

Unable to speak, all Xander could do was scowl at Kai to express his rage.

Despite Xander's vicious expression, Kai was unfazed. In fact, he seemed to be delighted by his predicament.

“Being fat makes you look adorable.”

Cracking a smile, Kai released a white mist from his body that quickly intertwined with Xander's red mist.

With both their figures enveloped in the mist, no one could see what was going on inside the barrier.

At that moment, Xander was surprised by Kai's lack of fear. After all, a Martial Arts Grandmaster was about to self-destruct which was unheard of within the last century. Furthermore, he was the first Martial Arts Grandmaster forced by Kai into detonating himself.

Initially, he was looking forward to seeing the panic on Kai's face before his death. Much to his disappointment and bewilderment, Kai was filled with excitement instead of fear.

In the midst of his confusion, something even more unbelievable happened. All of a sudden, he felt the energy within his body being drained from him.

To be able to detonate oneself, one had to concentrate one's energy within one's elixir field. If one's energy were to flow out, one would lose the capability to self-destruct.

Just when his elixir field was charged to its limit and on the brink of detonation, Xander suddenly felt his energy being drawn away in an uncontrollable manner.

When he finally stared intently through the mist, he was greeted by an unforgettable sight. Kai was smiling smugly while absorbing all of the red mist into his body.

Xander was stupefied at what he saw. What is this technique Kai is using? How can he suck someone else's energy into his own body?

When Xander attempted to stop his elixir field from flowing out, he realized his efforts were useless. All he could do was idly watch as his elixir field was drained empty.

At that moment, Xander lost the opportunity to self-destruct. His previously bloated body was rapidly deflating into a scrawny figure.

Even at death, Xander had no idea what sort of power Kai used.

As time ticked by, everyone began to grow curious as to why the explosion never happened.

Once the white mist had cleared, Kai and Xander's figures emerged. However, Kai was the only one left standing, while Xander was reduced to a withered corpse with his eyes staring blankly into space.

When everyone saw what happened, they were dumbstruck. Axton removed the barrier with a wave of his hand and hurried forward.

Soon, everyone swarmed ahead, wanting to find out if Xander was truly dead.

“Xander is... dead.”

Upon verifying the fact, the arena fell into a deathly silence. No one had expected Xander who was about to self-destruct to stop abruptly at the last minute.a
