

Martial Boss Chapter 14

The 500.5 taels scavenged in the cottage, Qing Yu left 50 taels as a backup and exchanged the remaining 500 taels for 50 anti-partisan points.

The crouching tiger fortress was three miles away from Yangcheng, so when Qing Yu came here, he used light kung fu to make his way, which was fast. However, now, after Qing Yu had used the "Sword Technique of Purging Evil" to get rid of the after-effects, he was still feeling weak. It was not possible to use light kung fu to drive, but there were horses in the cottage, so Qing Yu rode a random horse and let the rest go.

However, there is something to be said for riding a horse. Qing Yu had never ridden a horse before, and this first ride felt like his balls were being turned upside down. Ancient times were not like modern times, where all roads were concrete. After this bumpy ride back to the inn, Qing Yu felt that he could now practise the "Sword of Purgatory".

Although both legs felt so painful that they could not be closed, Qing Yu still endured the pain, changed into clean clothes and went out to find a pharmacy to buy some gold sore medicine to put on. If he had died of an infected wound, he would have been nailed to the column of shame in the history of travellers.

After all these chores, it was already getting dark.

Qing Yu slumped on the bed, his eyes staring blankly at the pattern on the bed tent, "A day has passed. This day, although the harvest is not small, rich experience against the enemy, also opened the system mall, in addition, also advanced to the fifth level of Houtian, but still not enough.

With this amount of strength, it was no problem to kill a few mountain bandits and robbers, but against disciples of a famous sect like the True Martial Daoist Sect, it was still far from enough. Even if those two True Martial Sect people were sent to spy on a small character like me, they should still be disciples with little future in the True Martial Sect."

"Unfortunately, the villain points are still 100 points short. Otherwise, with the 'Sword Technique of Purging Evil', my chances of winning could be greatly enhanced, even if their realm is one or two levels higher than mine."

"Host, given that you have opened the mall for the first time, the system may make an exception and allow you to exchange one lottery chance for villain points. You still have one more primary lottery draw to exchange for one hundred villain points, do you wish to exchange it?" At a critical moment, the system sent charcoal in the snow.

Qing Yu straightened up in excitement, not caring that his injuries were being tugged again, he immediately said, "Then what are you waiting for, exchange it right away. This way I'll have five hundred villain points, right, so finish up the 'Sword Technique of Purging Evil' for me."

"Primary draw for one hundred villain points, redemption complete.

Execute to complete the martial art 'Sword Technique of Purging Evil', completion successful, transmission in progress ——" The cold mechanical synthesized voice was so kind to Qing Yu's ears at this time.

In the book of Laughing Pride, in the 30th episode, Master Fang Zhuan once said: "The martial arts contained in this treasure code (referring to the Sunflower Code) are not only profound and profound, but also extremely dangerous. It is said that the most difficult part is the first level, but as long as the first level can be overcome, there is nothing to be done afterwards. All martial arts in the world are progressive, and the more you progress, the more difficult it becomes. The most difficult part of the Sunflower Canon is the first step. If there is any deviation in the practice, one will either die or be injured.

Therefore, as long as you pass the first level, the subsequent practice is no longer a hindrance to whether or not you are self-inflicted.

Because of this, when Qing Yu visited the forum in his previous life, he also saw many speculations, such as abstinence cultivation ah, or play double cultivation ah —— all kinds of brainstorming.

When the information about martial arts supplementation came from the system, Qing Yu only had a feeling of sudden realization.

Sunflower to the sun, "sunflower treasure code" although the exercise, like a ghost, its internal force is the most Yang to strong. If the Nine Yang Divine Kung Fu is nine yang, the Sunflower Canon is ten yang. However, the nine yang and six yin are the laws of heaven and earth. Just as the Monk of Wine once commented on the "Nine Yin Sutra", saying that its nine yin were so strong that they would suffer from its calamity (the Monk of Wine certainly did not know the Sanskrit syllabus, and felt that this guy was the false monk Xuzhu). The same reasoning is that no lonely yin can be born, no lonely yang can grow, even if the yang pole produces yin, it is still nine yangs and one yin, like the taiji, before it can be transformed, this all-yang, how can it be transformed.

It must be said that the founder had an amazing brain, combining internal force with yu fire, using yu fire to propel internal force and push it to the realm of yang. Otherwise, how could a rookie practice supreme yang internal force.

After practising supreme yang internal force, the yang fire is extremely strong and hurts the body. Therefore, just like the "Martial Arts Zen" book "Marrying the Cloth of God", if you want to use its power, you must first thwart its edge.

The desire/fire is used to push the internal force, and the root is eliminated to thwart its edge, so that it retreats from ten yang to nine yang, and the yang pole and yin are born to suit the body.

However, the combination of desire/fire and internal energy is not very useful in the usual way. Even if one temporarily closes the acupuncture points related to lust/want, or takes medicine to suppress it, it will be dispersed by the internal force.

Therefore, except for martial arts masters whose internal energy has reached the level of reconciling yin and yang, the rest can only use the method of eliminating the root cause by using their own womb. However, cutting the chicken while practicing in real time is very dangerous, after all, the lust/fire can't just retreat, and, being in practice, there's no time to stop the bleeding or anything. The only way to do this is to first self-injure and then take dry medicine (that is, spring Vpill) to stir up the fire, which is rootless water and will naturally dissipate when it reaches a certain level.

After all this, Qing Yu was still unable to cross the first level of the "Sword Technique of Purging Evil" on his own, but fortunately the 500 villain points were not spent for nothing.

When Qing Yu felt his whole body was on fire, his body was stiff and he was about to go off the rails.

"System ——"

An inexplicable strong force was transmitted into the body from the underworld, the body felt a coolness, and the true qi in the dantian was self-generated, it was already on the right track.

The next step was to transform the internal force of Quan Zhen Xin Fa.

As the "Sunflower Canon" allows beginners to experience in advance a process that only masters of internal energy who have reached the level of harmonising yin and yang can experience, the purity of internal energy is extremely high, and this is the reason that as long as one is ruthless enough to give one's brother a slash, no matter how poorly qualified one is, one will be able to advance by leaps and bounds afterwards.

After running his internal energy for a few days, Qing Yu opened his eyes, and in a flash, it was as if two brilliant rays of light shot out.

"Divine Movement Hundred Transformations." The room was suddenly filled with ghostly shadows, and Qing Yu's figure transformed into thousands of illusions, flickering back and forth in various parts of the room.

A little later, Qing Yu stopped his figure and looked down at his hands, "I feel, full of power ——"

Of course, Qing Yu also knew that this was just an illusion brought on by the sudden advancement in martial arts. This heart technique started out extremely high, involving the Yang pole to produce Yin, reconciling Yin and Yang, which can only be done at the Innate realm. At the beginning, it opened up six meridians, including the hand three Yang meridians and foot three Yang meridians among the twelve main meridians, and together with the one meridian Qing Yu had opened up before, it had opened up more than half of the twelve main meridians.

Moreover, Qing Yu felt that the next eight channels were not far away from being opened.

Qing Yu then took a pulse-opening pill from Mr. Mo, and after a long night of exercise, he succeeded in clearing the Punching Vessel in the early hours of the next morning, advancing to the sixth level of Houtian.

With this, only the Ren and Du veins remained.

“It’s time to control the progress, if I’m not careful, I’ll go too far and cross the limit of Mr. Mo’s bet.”

Qing Yu opened the window and looked at the slightly brightening sky, the dawn would come and the world would shine brightly.
