Chapter 471 The little girl did not reject his embrace this time. She allowed her father to carry her around as she peered at him with her big eyes. Ben also watched the father and daughter while holding Liam in his arms. Odell soon noticed the brother and sister looking at him. He asked, "Why are you two staring at me?"

Liam asked, "Daddy, why did you go into the female toilet?"

Isabel blinked innocently and echoed, "Yeah, I heard the ladies inside call you a pervert."

Odell's expression turned grim. "Quit."

Isabel and Liam pursed their lips. They wisely abandoned the topic and secretly sighed a breath of relief. They were relieved that their father did not find their mother.

Odell wore a glum expression as he went downstairs with the two of them. His mind, however, was still thinking about the familiar cry and the figure that ran past him. The cry was obviously Sylvia's, and the figure he spotted highly resembled his presumed dead wife.

His gaze shifted and suddenly stopped walking

Ben followed his boss to a shadowy corner. Isabel looked at him and asked, "Big meanie, why are you stopping?" However, Odell ignored the girl and looked up the stairs. Moments later, he spotted the young woman that he had barged into in the female toilet. With the same hairstyle, the same jacket, and her physique that highly resembled Sylvia, he was now convinced that he had mistaken her for Sylvia.

He felt slightly disheartened after finding out the truth.

Without further ado, he carried Isabel out of Lush Heaven together with Ben and Liam.

Meanwhile, back in the bedroom, Sylvia stood by the window as she watched Odell carry the kids into the car.

The car's engine roared to life, and it swiftly joined the traffic on the road.

Sherry suddenly rushed into the room and nervously asked, "Syl, I heard that Odell went into the female toilet. Did he see you?"

Sylvia hummed a reply and explained, "Yeah, but I ran into Sammy in one of the stalls, and I swapped my jacket with her, so we managed to fool him." Sherry sighed a breath of relief. "Thank goodness." "Sherry, I want to make this public." "Huh?" Sherry failed to understand her friend.

Sylvia turned around and looked at her. "What is the entire Westchester finds out that Odell Carter chased a woman into the female toilet at Lush Heaven? What would happen then?"

Sherry wore a malicious grin. "Syl, you are trying to make a joke out of him? Evil, I like it." Odell never would have expected that his search for Sylvia in Lush Heaven would be twisted into him chasing a woman into the female toilet. It would definitely leave a dent in his reputation and upset him.

Sylvia giggled. That was not all that she sought.

Tara was eager to become Mrs. Carter, and if she found out that Odell was chasing after some woman in a nightclub, how would she react? Would she be more anxious than before?

"Alright, I'll spread the news." Sherry then left the room. She was also eager to see Odell become a public joke.

Midnight marked the climax at Lush Heaven.

Sammy and the other dancers were twirling on stage, and the audience enjoyed their company. After the first song, Sammy stopped and went off stage. She seemed to be in a soul mood as she strode to the bar for a drink

Her fanboys who were there only for her surrounded her immediately

"Sammy, what's wrong with you today? Are you having a bad day? Did someone bully you?"

"Come on. Tell me. I'll beat the bastard up." Sammy took a gulp from her glass and crumbled, "I'm so pissed. I have never seen someone as horny as him."

Her fanboys were intrigued. "What happened? Come on, tell me, which bastard bullied you?"

Chapter 472 Sammy said in a small voice, "Forget about it. Not even all of you together can do anything

The healed discussion spread actors the Moor and soon became the topic of the night in Lush Heaven

Later that night, the news even trended on social media. The title ‘Odell Carter chases a woman into the toilet in a nightclub’ became the headlines for many online media outlets

Ortell had just come out of Isabel and Liar’s room when he received a call from Cliff Cliff said in a small voice, “Sir, your name is trending on social media.” Odell askund, “My nane? What about? Finance? Or something else? “No it’s possip chiff breathed deeply before he blurted out everything, “People are tallong about you chasing a woman into the toilet in Lush Heaven and that you even stopped her in front of one of the stalls.”

Cliff noticed his boss did not sound overly bothered, so he sighed a breath of relief and said, “ We’re working on it, but a lot of people are sharing and retweeting, so it might take some time.”

Odell put his phone away and returned to his room.

There was a table on the balcony, and there was an uncorked wine on top of it.

He picked up the bottle of wine and drank it directly from the bottle. After he drained it to the last drop, he returned to his room.

At Lake Victoria Villa, Tara saw the trending news after it went viral. She texted Odell immediately to find out what happened, but several hours went by, and she still did not get a reply from him. The online discussion garnered a lot of attention. Although the first few tweets and posts were taken down, a lot of netizens believed that they were removed because Odell felt pressured, so they bounced back stronger than before. Tara refused to believe it at first. Given her understanding of Odell, he would never go to a place like Lush Heaven to find some cheap woman. She believed someone must be trying to stir up a scandal and hurt his reputation, so she went on her secondary account and tried to defend him.

Sherry was the owner of Lush Heaven, and since she was friends with Sylvia, Tara believed the news must be fabricated by Sherry who wanted to avenge her friend.

However, when she saw the picture released by a dancer in Lush Heaven, whose account was verified, she was awestruck. The picture showed the dancer in Lush Heaven's female toilet.

'Did he really chase some woman into the toilet?'

Tara's face turned pale and anxiety rose.

'Has he fallen for some other woman again? No, I got rid of Sylvia. I can't just let some other woman snatch him away from me!'

The next morning.. Tara dressed up and went to Carter Tower.

The security guards and reception recognized her, so she gained free access to the office. Tara got into the elevator and went straight up to the highest floor.

Inside the spacious office, the man in a handsome black suit was behind the desk working his way through a stack of documents.

The door opened, and he looked up to find Tara at the entrance. There was a hint of annoyance in his expression.

Tara clearly knew he disliked being disturbed while working, but she could not care about it anymore. Her eyes were teary as she ran over to him with hurt on her face. Her fair skin was glowing while her alluring physique was emphasized by the tight dress she wore.

However, Odell was not attracted by the features she emphasized. He suppressed his annoyance and looked at her face. "What are you doing here?"

Tara asked in a small voice, "The whole internet is talking about you chasing a woman into the toilet. Is it true?"

Odell's frosty look remained. "It is."

Tears rolled down her cheeks and she broke down in tears.

"Why are you crying?" He was baffled by her reaction.

Tara sobbed. "Odell, you'd rather chase some woman in a nightclub than accept me again?" She looked pitiful with her tears and weeping.

Unfortunately, Odell frowned and was irritated by her crying. He just wanted to work and did not want to waste his time on nonsense, so he did not bother to explain the situation to her. Nonetheless, her crying gradually got out of hand, and it seemed like she would not leave without an explanation.

"Yeah, I chased a woman into the toilet, but it's not like what the internet said. I'm not there for that woman."

Tara's teary eyes gleamed. "Really?" Odell hummed a reply. Tara then frowned. If Odell had not been there for the woman, why did he chase her into the toilet?

However, the man refused to explain further. Tara still did not get a complete answer from him, so she stood there and looked at him with a pitiful gaze. She even subtly removed the shawl on her shoulder. Odell shifted his attention back to the documents on the table. "I still have to work. Go home."

Tara's gaze shifted. She ran to his side and hugged him tightly. "Odell, please let me return to your side. I want to be with you. I can help you take care of the kids and look after Grandmother."

The man frowned as he removed her arms from himself, but she hugged him again and even threw herself into his arms.

As Odell's expression turned frosty, he pushed her to the ground, and she looked at him in disbelief. Her eyes were teary as she wore a wronged expression.

Odell then coldly said, "I don't have the mood for this now. Go home now."

Sylvia had been dead for four months, and he still could not find the body. Aside from the fact that he no longer had feelings for Tara, even if he felt something for her, he would not choose to be with her at this sensitive time.

Chapter 474 Tara wept. "Odell, are you in love with another woman?"

Odell shut his eyes in annoyance.

If Tara had not accompanied him in his darkest times, he would have called security to throw her out of the office.

Luckily, he suppressed his irritation and explained, "No. The things on the internet are all fake. I'm not interested in some dancer." "Then, why won't you be with me? You have no idea how ugly things are online. Many dignitaries and influential figures of Westchester have even started to mock you and laugh at you. If we get together again, we will be able to clear all the rumors and scandals."

Odell's frosty look remained. "I don't care about all those, and you don't have to either."

Cliff was already dealing with the situation. If he could just leave it for a few more days, the heat would cool down and people would eventually forget about it.

Tara froze. She had purposely dressed herself up and cried her lungs out, yet he showed no intention of being with her.

Could it be that he no longer wanted to be with her? Or had he really fallen for some other woman?

The thoughts fueled Tara's anxiety.

A while later, she feebly got to her feet and said in a gravelly voice, "I'm sorry. I didn't mean to disturb you, Odell." She then beaded towards the door. She wobbled with each step, and right before she stepped out of the door, she fell to the side.

Odell noticed her unusual reaction from the moment she got up, so when she finally fell, he ran to her and caught her. He saw her teary eyes and pale face which worried him. "Tara? Tara?"

Tara merely lay limp in his arms feebly.

Odell carried her out of the office.

Back in Sylvia's room in Lush Heaven, she was carving when Sherry came in. Sherry immediately said, "Syl, you're right! I sent someone to follow Tara, and she went to Carter Tower early in the morning to see Odell. A while later, Odell carried her out of the building, and she seemed to be unconscious. I wonder why she passed out." Sylvia grinned. "I'm pretty sure she faked it." "How do you know?"

Sylvia understood Tara's tricks better than anyone. "She should have seen the news online and suspected that Odell has fallen for another woman, so she probably faked it to earn his attention."

"Tsk, ts. And here I was wondering why she passed out. So, what should we do next?" Sherry asked.

"Nothing. We just have to wait for Odell to agree to marry her."

Sherry was surprised. "What? Why?"

Sylvia calmly said, "She spent a lot of effort just to erase me from the picture and played the role of best caretaker to take care of Grandmother for four months now, but the news of Odell chasing another woman in the nightclub surely fueled her anxiety. She must be anxious now. Only marrying Odell will calm her down and rest her mind."

Meanwhile, at the hospital, Tara was transferred to a VIP ward after being discharged from the ER. She was sleeping on the sickbed. The doctor said to the man beside her, "Master Carter, reports show that Ms. Avery is physically healthy, but the shock that she received must have taken a toll on her weak body. Don't worry, she'll wake up soon." Odell eased his furrowed brows and hummed a reply.

The doctor then went out. Odell had a glance at his watch and saw that it was almost noon.

Chapter 475 He had a meeting to attend later in the afternoon. He had another glance at Tara and noticed a healthy glow on her face, so he planned to get up and go back to work. All of a sudden, Tara bolted up with a scream.

Odell turned around to her, and she threw herself into his arms. She hugged him with her trembling arms and said, "Odell, I'm very scared."

Odell patted her back. "Did you have a nightmare?"

"I don't know why, but I dreamt of the baby we would have had. My stomach was big...and I fell down the stairs."

Odell frowned. "It's over now. Don't think about it anymore." She started crying, "Odell, can you stay a little longer?" Odell remembered Sylvia pushing Tara down the stairs and causing the miscarriage. Back then, he was rather surprised that Tara had gotten pregnant after having sex with him just once.

Sylvia was also pregnant then, and she was his legal wife, so he actually had a thought of making Tara abort the baby.

However, the doctor had said that her body could not sustain the damage and that the child must not be aborted. Therefore, he had gifted Tara the villa at Lake Victoria and told her to take care of herself until she was due for labor.

He felt like he owed her a lot, so he often would drop by the villa to visit her.

Then, Sylvia showed up and pushed her down the stairs, causing her to miscarry and damaging her body permanently. She could never be pregnant again.

Ultimately, he was responsible for what happened. "Okay, just lie down first."

He sat down beside the bed and Tara simply lay in his arms, hugging him tightly. He pitied her for having a nightmare, so he did not push her away this time.

He then pulled his phone out to call Cliff.

"Delay the afternoon meeting by an hour." Tara secretly curled her lips into a grin. After the call, she looked up at him and said meekly, "Odell, am I disturbing your work?" He answered softly, "It's okay, don't worry about it."

Tara sniffled and continued in a sobbing tone, "Odell, why won't you marry me?" She shot a soft gaze at him.

Odell was displeased by the request and furrowed his brows.

She immediately explained, "I know it has only been four months since Sylvia has been gone, and the timing is inappropriate, but you have to work and you need someone to take care of the kids and Grandmother at home. By marrying me, I can share your burden rightfully, or else people will keep talking about it." In the end, she lowered her head and feigned a sorrowful look. Odell asked, "Who's talking about it?" Tara pursed her lips in silence. "Is it Aunt Tonya? Or someone else?" Tara lowered her head further and said meekly, "I can't take it, so please don't ask anymore." Odell stared at her in silence. She was as kind and understanding as always and would be the perfect wife to take care of his house. However, he really did not have the intention to marry her.

Tara then said, "Odell, if Sylvia were still here, I wouldn't make you marry me. I just don't want to see you so tired, taking care of work and family together. Besides, I can no longer give birth, and if you don't want me, I don't know what reason I have to be alive." Her words made Odell choke. The woman used to carry his child and accompanied him through his darkest days. It was not an exaggeration to say that without Tara, he would not have made it today. In return, she had lost more than she gained from him and could never be pregnant anymore.

He owed her more than he could ever return. A long silence later, he said, "Give me some time to think about it." Tara's eyes gleamed. She said meekly, "Okay."

Chapter 476 The next day, at the Carter residence.

Tara arrived as usual. She was also carrying two delicate boxes. After entering the living room, she bumped into Sebastian and Aunt Tonya. She changed her expression and showed them a smile.

“Sebastian and Aunt Tonya, good morning.” Sebastian replied, “Hello, Ms. Avery.”

Aunt Tonya simply snorted coldly and turned her head to the side, pretending not to see her.

Tara secretly cursed at the woman in her heart, but she walked up to Aunt Tonya with a smile on her face.

“Aunt Tonya, these are gifts that I picked out for Isabel and Liam. Could you please help me take it to their room?” She handed over the boxes to Aunt Tonya. Aunt Tonya’s face instantly went cold. “Tara Avery, what kind of tone is that? Do you consider yourself the master here?”

‘How dare she directly order me to do something?’

‘Does she think I’m too old and stupid to understand her meaning?’

Tara immediately put on an innocent expression. “That’s not what I meant, Aunt Tonya. Isabel and Liam are the closest to you. I can’t go up to their room, so I just thought that I could ask you to help me take it over to them.” Aunt Tonya became furious when she saw Tara’s one-man act. “Out of everyone here, why did you ask me to help you? You’re just deliberately asking for a fight!” Tara’s eyes reddened as if she was about to cry.

Aunt Tonya could not help but roll her eyes.

Seeing the situation, Sebastian moved forward and tugged Aunt Tonya to her to stop shouting at Tara. Then, he said to Tara, “Ms. Avery, I’ll help you take the things to the children.” He extended his hand toward Tara.

However, Tara continued to explain anxiously, “Aunt Tonya, that’s really not what I meant. I don’t think of myself as the master here. I just wanted to come see Grandma and help Sylvia take care of the children.”

Aunt Tonya was incensed at her words. “Don’t you dare speak Syl’s name! You’re not worthy!” Tara said aggrievedly, “I know that you watched Sylvia grow up, and her passing has made you very sad, but don’t worry. I will take care of you on her behalf.” Aunt Tonya felt like her lungs were about to explode.

‘In all my years of living, I’ve never seen such a good actor! ‘Not only is she good at acting, she even deliberately picked out words that I don’t like to hear. She acts like she’s kind while also pretending to be hurt, thus making me look like an unreasonable person.’

Seeing Tara’s weak and soft look as if she was about to cry, Aunt Tonya could not hold back anymore and rushed up to slap her face. Smack!

Tara let out a scream and fell to the ground. Aunt Tonya pointed to her and scolded, "You really know how to act, little girl. So, you'll take care of me? Huh.... I'm sure that if you ever married into this family, the first thing you'd do would be to kick me out!"

Tara covered her face and cried. "That's really not what I meant..." "Stop acting already! I'll beat you to death!" Aunt Tonya was about to charge at her. Sebastian saw that things were looking bad and quickly tried to stop her. At that moment, a tall figure came down the stairs. When Sebastian saw that Aunt Tonya had not noticed Odell's presence and was about to hit Tara, he quickly shouted, "Master Carter!" Aunt Tonya froze and turned to see Odell's dark and displeased face. Tara immediately cried and looked at Odell. "Odell, I just wanted to give Isabel and Liam a gift. I didn't mean anything else." Odell walked straight up to her and helped her up from the ground. "I know." He had overheard her conversation with Aunt Tonya from upstairs. Tara had been compromising since the beginning. It was Aunt Tonya who was being unreasonable.

LE

Tara suddenly fell into his arms and sobbed pitifully.

Chapter 477 Odell looked at Aunt Tonya coldly.

Aunt Tonya shrank back, but she still said indignantly, "She clearly meant something else. She just wants to take Syl's place as the mistress of this mansion!" He continued to look at her coldly. "Aunt Tonya, didn't Sylvia tell you that Tara is a very important person to me?"

Aunt Tonya choked.

Odell said, "I'll let you off for Sylvia's sake this time, but if it happens again, you won't have to stay here anymore."

Aunt Tonya's eyes widened. She was so angry that she wanted to leave immediately.

However, Isabel and Liam were still so young. If she left too, how would they fight back against Tara in the future?

She forced herself to swallow her anger and said, "Understood."

Only then did Odell's expression ease up a little

Then, he took Tara upstairs,

Aunt Tonya stood where she was as she watched their intimate figures, wanting nothing more than to go up to them and tear them apart.

Sebastian sighed beside her and said, "Don't look, Tonya."

Aunt Tonya's eyes reddened with anger. "Syl has only been gone for a short time. How could he do this?"

"Master Carter has always cared a lot for Ms. Avery. The Madam has been gone for four months now. It's only a matter of time before they get together. Please, just put up with it for the sake of the Young Master and Young Miss."

Upstairs, Odell led Tara to the study.

He led her to a chair where she could sit before taking out an ointment that could reduce swelling from the first aid kit and applied it evenly to her face. Tara raised her head and looked at him with watery eyes. After applying the ointment, he put it back into the first aid kit and asked, "Does it still hurt?" Looking touched, she said, "No. It doesn't hurt at all." Odell pursed his lips. "If it doesn't hurt, then you may go outside. I still have some things to take care of." Tara instantly looked disappointed but hummed in reply. When she stood up, she suddenly thought of something and said, "Odell, Aunt Tonya watched Sylvia grow up. Although Sylvia isn't around anymore, Aunt Tonya probably doesn't want anyone to take her place, so I can understand why she hates me. However, Isabel and Liam like her, so please don't be angry with her."

Odell suddenly remembered Aunt Tonya's arrogant appearance as she scolded Tara downstairs.

Although she truly loved Isabel and Liam, if she continued to raise them, who knew what the little ones would learn from her?

It was obvious that the woman in front of him now was more suitable for educating the children. After a few seconds of silence, he looked at her and said, "Go back and rest well. We'll get engaged at the end of the month and discuss the marriage later." Once they were engaged, she would be considered as the mistress here. Even if Aunt Tonya hated her, she would not dare to make things difficult for her. As for Tara, her eyes widened with joy at hearing what he said. Then, excited tears flowed out of her eyes. She choked and said, "Okay." Then, she left the study and walked down the stairs to the living room. Sebastian was still there. She kept a polite smile when she saw him. Sebastian returned her smile. Then, she walked out of the living room into the yard.

Aunt Tonya was trimming the flowers and plants in the garden and instantly glared at Tara when she saw her.

Tara maintained her smile as she walked up to her. Then, her expression suddenly changed as she looked at Aunt Tonya contemptuously. "You're right, Aunt Tonya. When I become the mistress of this place, the first thing I'll do is kick you out, you old b*tch."

Chapter 478 Aunt Tonya instantly turned ashen with anger.

Tara quickly took two steps back and said, "Don't be angry, Aunt Tonya. I'll leave right now."

Aunt Tonya choked in place. When Tara saw her about to explode with anger, she could not help but laugh. Then, she turned around and walked out.

That night, in Lush Heaven.

After Sherry got the news, she hurriedly went to Sylvia's room and said, "Syl, the person who was sent to follow Tara said that she went to several bridal dress stores today. It seems that she wants to book a dress for an engagement."

"Oh, okay."

Sherry observed how Sylvia merely continued to carve the wooden block indifferently and could not help but say, "Odell is going to become engaged to her. Why are you so calm? Do you really want her to get her way and marry him?" Sylvia looked at her and asked, "Sherry, do you think Melanie will show up when they get engaged?" Sherry was stunned for a moment before she grinned in understanding. "Oh, so you want to use this method to lure Melanie out."

At Lake Victoria Villa.

Tara just returned here by car. After entering her cloakroom, she went to look at her jewelry. Whether it was a diamond necklace or a jeweled bracelet, each and every one of them was very expensive. All of them had been gifted by Odell or bought using the allowance that he had given her. However, she had already worn all of these pieces. It would be better to wear a new one during the engagement party. She quickly dismissed the idea of picking out any jewelry for the engagement party from this selection. Instead, she called the maids to draw a bath and give her a massage to help her relax and unwind.

She was comfortably soaking in the bathtub when her cell phone rang. Seeing the caller ID, she shot a glance at the maid. The maid immediately understood and left the room.

Tara answered the phone. On the other end, Melanie asked the usual question. "Tara, how has your progress with Odell in the past few days been like?"

The corners of Tara's mouth curled up and said, "Odell has agreed to marry me. We're getting engaged on the 28th of this month."

"Really?!" Melanie raised her voice in excitement.

"Of course. The venue has already been set, and the ring has been chosen." It was a six-carat diamond ring. Melanie asked happily, "Where's the venue?"

"Westchester Hotel."

"So... May I go?" Melanie asked.

Tara frowned.

She did not want Melanie to come to Westchester City, and she especially did not want her to appear in front of Odell's eyes.

However, she had been introduced to Odell as her aunt before. He had even mentioned her that day and asked her to invite Melanie over.

Tara pondered for a few seconds before replying, "Sure, but you'll have to leave the same day."

She could not let her mother stay. It would be bad if Odell noticed something.

Melanie quickly responded, "Yes, I know." She had never been to Westchester Hotel before in her entire life. Furthermore, this time, she would be going to the engagement party between her daughter and the master of the most powerful family in Westchester City. Her old friends would surely die of jealousy just from looking at the pictures!

A few days later, at the Carter residence.

The news that Odell would be getting engaged to Tara had spread all over.

Aunt Tonya was so angry that she lost her appetite to eat for two days. However, when she saw Isabel and Liam's tiny appearances, she forced herself to eat.

That morning

Isabel and Liam went to school. After Aunt Tonya had sent them to preschool, she came back to help trim the garden. At that moment, Tara walked in through the door.

She wore a beautiful dress and looked as if she was full of spring energy. It was obviously different from the weak and fragile look that she was used to showing when she came over. Sebastian's eyes slickered as he took the initiative to greet her. "Good morning, Ms. Avery."

Chapter 479

Tara hummed in reply and continued to walk inside.

Passing by the garden, Tara noticed that Aunt Tonya was there.

Aunt Tonya knew she was coming but since did not want to see her at all, she turned her back. Tara glanced at her coldly and headed straight for the living room. There were several young maids in the mansion. When they saw her coming, they gathered around to greet her. "Good morning, Ms. Avery." "Ms. Avery, would you like some tea?"

She turned around and sat on the sofa.

A maid immediately poured her a glass of lemonade. Tara elegantly picked up the glass and took a sip, then said, "Call Violet." "Yes, Ms. Avery."

A maid quickly went to Madam Carter's room and called Violet over.

When Violet saw Tara acting like the mistress of the house, she lowered her head and asked in a low voice, "Why did you call for me, Ms. Avery?"

Tara looked at her arrogantly and asked, "How is Grandma's health these days?" Violet replied, "She's the same as before. All her indicators are normal." "Hm." Tara took a sip, paused for almost a minute, and continued to ask, "What about Liam and Isabel? How are they doing?"

Violet secretly clenched her hands.

Violet felt that Tara was obviously trying to give her a hard time. If she answered her again the way she had the last time, she would not just stop at slapping me. She would definitely chase her out as well.

Violet swallowed her anger and replied, "The Young Master and Young Miss are also the same as before. They go to school and come home at the same time every day. They also eat and sleep on time." "Do they ever call for their mother?" Tara looked at her coldly. Violet thought about it and said, "I'm not sure. I spend most of my time here in Madam Carter's room, so I rarely see them." "Fine. You can go back to take care of Grandma now."

"Yes."

Violet quickly turned around and left.

Tara snorted contemptuously. At least she was knowledgeable, otherwise she would be the first person that she would get rid of.

After a while, she said to a maid, "Call Aunt Tonya over. Tell her that I have something very important that I would like to say to her alone."

The maid agreed and went out. Before long, she led in Aunt Tonya, who came in with an indifferent look on her face. Tara said to the maids, "All the rest of you may go downstairs. I want to talk to Aunt Tonya alone."

The maids did as they were told.

The living room was quiet.

Aunt Tonya said directly, "Get to the point. I'm busy."

Tara smiled and stood up to walk to Aunt Tonya's side. Then, she raised her hand and slapped the woman's face.

Smack!

Aunt Tonya was instantly stunned.

Before she could react, Tara slapped her on the other side of the face as well.

Aunt Tonya's eyes widened. "Tara Avery, you—" Smack! Smack!

Tara slapped her two more times. Then, the corners of her mouth curled as she said, "This is just a little punishment for you in return for disrespecting me. If you're not happy, you can pack your things and get out now. I won't stop you." Aunt Tonya had never been hit like this before. Although she had always been responsible for taking care of Sylvia, Sylvia had always been a good girl since she was young. She had never even scolded Aunt Tonya before, let alone hit her! However, this woman, who was not even engaged to Odell yet, dared to hit her! She wanted to slap Tara in return, but she could not help from thinking of Isabel and Liam. The two poor little ones had already lost their mother. If she left as well, Tara might abuse them in the future.

Chapter 480

Aunt Tonya stood still and glared at Tara. "Unless I die, don't even think that you can make me leave."

Tara snorted and looked at her contemptuously. "Then you'd better be more respectful to me in the future, or be prepared for your life to become uncomfortable."

Aunt Tonya pursed her lips hard.

Tara elegantly sat back on the sofa and ordered, "Come and pour me a cup of tea."

Aunt Tonya endured her anger, swiftly stepped forward, and poured a cup of tea before placing it in front of Tara.

Tara took a sip before suddenly throwing the teacup at Aunt Tonya's face.

Thud!

The teacup hit her head and fell to the ground, and the bottle also slowed down her face.

Tara screamed in anger, "How could you pour such hot tea for me? Are you trying to scald me?!"

Aunt Tonya's eyes reddened in anger.

The tea was indeed hot, but it was not to the point where it was undrinkable. Tara was doing it on purpose!

However, when she thought of Isabel and Liam, she endured it,

She poured another cup and waited a short while for it to cool down. Then, she placed the cup in front of Tara.

Tara took a slight sip and smiled in satisfaction. "Get lost. I don't want to see you now." Aunt Tonya instantly turned around and walked out of the living room.

Tara grinned and looked around the living room.

She observed that the furnishings here were a bit old and had probably all been touched by Sylvia. When she moved in after getting engaged to Odell, she would have to immediately replace everything.

Meanwhile, in the corridor behind the living room that led to Madam Carter's room.

Violet had been crouching there for some time,

She had stayed there from the moment Aunt Tonya had been called,

She had thought that Tara would say something to Aunt Tonya, so she had taken out her phone and recorded a video. However, she had never thought that Tara would be so arrogant as to directly slap Aunt Tonya four times! After all, although Aunt Tonya was responsible for taking care of Isabel and Liam, no one had ever treated her like a servant before. Even Odell was always polite to her.

SEIL LITE

Violet was furious. After she returned to Madam Carter's room, she immediately sent the video that she had recorded to Sylvia.

In Sylvia's room in Lush Heaven Hearing the phone ring, she put down the carving knife in her hand and picked up her phone.

After opening the video, she saw the Carter residence's living room. Tara was sitting on the sofa as if she was the mistress of the house.

She saw Aunt Tonya walk into the room.

After Aunt Tonya said something to Tara, Tara walked up to her and slapped her four times.

Aunt Tonya seemed to swallow her anger, most likely thinking of the two children.

However, Tara still did not let her go. She deliberately made things hard for Aunt Tonya and even threw a teacup at her head.

Even so, Aunt Tonya had endured and poured her another cup...

Sylvia stared at Aunt Tonya's reddened eyes and Tara's arrogant appearance in the video. The hand that she was using to hold the phone could not help but tighten, and her gaze also went cold.

At that moment, Violet sent her another message. "Madam, please come back quickly. I saw Aunt Tonya crying." Sylvia frowned and replied, "I'll be back soon. Please help me comfort Aunt Tonya." Violet said, "Okay. I'll go to her after Tara leaves."

Sylvia looked at the date. It was the 21st today.

There was still one week left before Odell and Tara got engaged.

The hand that she was using to hold her phone shook.

All the things she had experienced in those days and the past few years flooded her brain.

She had been framed and slapped sixty times, her children had been snatched away, she had been chased away, then she had been framed again and had her leg broken. In the end, her leg had been broken once again and she had been pushed into an icy cold lake... All these scenes, whether it was of Odell's indifference and distrust of her, or Tara's schemes or provocations to her, rushed through her mind one by one. They had done so much to her and were finally together. She just had to give them a big gift in return!

A week later.

It was a very foggy day in Westchester City. The sun had hidden behind the clouds since the early morning, so it was gloomy and dreary.
