Chap 366 Mufeng Was Actually Serious

She had even met Mufeng's closest friends and his friends' family members.

She was probably here for marriage.

There were many rumors about Mufeng.

In addition to the cold and ruthless rumors in the business world, he was most famous for not being close to women.

Regardless of whether it was the heiresses or the female celebrities who were at the top of China's beauty charts, they all rubbed their fists and wiped their palms at Mufeng in the beginning, but later on, they kept a respectful distance from Mufeng.

Of course, there were still some rich socialites and female celebrities who were extremely confident in themselves and felt that they might be an exception.

However, the result showed that all of them failed.

Those female stars who refused to admit defeat and felt that they might be an exception had long disappeared from the entertainment industry.

Because of these examples, everyone felt that even if Mufeng would eventually get married, he would only choose to connect through marriage between families. He would start a marriage that had no feelings and only benefits.

However, she did not expect that Mufeng would still end up with a female celebrity after going around in circles.

"I really didn't expect the Fengjiang ship to be real." Shulin couldn't hide her shock.

Who would have thought that Mufeng was actually serious?

Jiang Xun also laughed. "I didn't expect you to know about the Fengjiang ship."

"It's so popular, how could I not know?" Shulin said with a smile.

She even knew that C.U. had originally planned to hire Jiang Xun as their spokesperson, but Youlan took the spot instead.

Although C.U. was not on the same level as their C brand, they were all in the same industry and she had more or less heard of it.

In addition, Youlan had originally intended to compete for the ambassador position of C brand, so they had already decided to use her.

She didn't expect Youlan to suddenly turn to work with C.U.

It was impossible for her not to know about the “Love-hate relationship” between C.U., Youlan, and Jiang Xun.

If Youlan knew that she had really missed her chance as the C brand ambassador, she would be so remorseful.

Youlan might have only gotten the ambassador position of C brand, but C.U. had given her the spokesperson position.

However, a C brand ambassador was much more superior than a C.U. spokesperson. There was no way to compare the two.

Today, Mufeng suddenly brought Jiang Xun over. Thinking of what happened between Youlan, Jiang Xun and C.U. yesterday, Shulin had a rough guess.

She did not expect Mufeng to personally act as a matchmaker for Jiang Xun.

However, Shulin was also surprised to see Jiang Xun in this outfit.

Jiang Xun’s pairing had broken the impression that their brand had left on the public.

The public’s first impression when C brand was mentioned was that it was elegant, gentle and feminine.

However, Shulin had always felt that it was a mental constraint, a fixed impression of women.

If C brand wanted to develop, it must not be confined to such a stereotype.

C brand required a breakthrough and a difference.

Who said that womanly ones were good-looking?

Who said that only a gentle and elegant woman could be called a woman?

Women could also be handsome and powerful.

Jiang Xun’s outfit today gave her such a feeling.

It was also in line with the breakthrough she wanted to bring to C brand.

As for Jiang Xun’s status, she was too special in the entertainment industry now.

She might not be famous enough, but her popularity could reach the top level.

Of course, this did not include the Fengjiang ship.

Every time Mufeng and Jiang Xun appeared on the show together, Jiang Xun’s popularity was indeed higher than her own.

However, as long as Jiang Xun was still together with Mufeng, Mufeng would always help Jiang Xun. Jiang Xun would not lack popularity.

Moreover, Jiang Xun’s current level was not enough for C brand?

But she was even wearing the super-seasonal ES dress.

Although she said she bought it herself, it was recognized by ES and they personally posted on their social media account that they were very satisfied with Jiang Xun's performance.

She had heard from ES that if Jiang Xun wanted to borrow clothes from ES in the future, ES would definitely lend her.

After all, not to mention in China, in the whole world, there was no female celebrity who could wear an ES super-seasonal outfit every time.

It was rare to be able to wear it once, but wearing it twice was enough to make it to the world's hot news.

Although ES did not explain in detail, she guessed that even though she could not borrow it from the super-seasonal outfits, if Jiang Xun really wanted to, she might be able to borrow from the current season.

Just based on this point, Jiang Xun seemed to be qualified to be the ambassador of C brand.

The four of them sat down and talked. Shulin asked Jiang Xun, "Miss Jiang, are you free next Saturday?"

"C brand was originally in Qin Yang department store. We want to expand the store to become the largest store in Asia, so we closed the store for maintenance," Shulin said. "The original C brand boutique was on the first floor of Qin Yang department store. After discussing with Qin Yang department store, we also rented the two stores on the second floor directly above the C brand store."

"We've spent a lot of effort to get these two stores," Shulin said with a smile.

The stores in Qin Yang department store were so popular that even though the rent and share were much higher than other stores, there were still many brands fighting to enter Qin Yang department store.

"Next Friday will be the fifth anniversary of C brand's entry into Qin Yang department store. We can take this opportunity to reopen it with a new look. We've invited our VVIP customers and celebrities who have worked with our brand for our anniversary. I wonder if Miss Jiang is free to attend?" Shulin asked politely.

"Sure, I'll definitely be there."

Hearing this, Shulin took out an invitation from her bag, but the seat for the invited person was still empty.

Shulin wrote down Jiang Xun's name and handed it to her.

Shulin even exchanged contact information with Jiang Xun, and Zhiqing took note of it. After the meal was over, on the way back, Zhiqing found Jiang Xun's WeChat in the 8×8=64 group chat and added her as a friend.

Jiang Xun immediately accepted Zhiqing's friend request when she saw it.

Zhiqing: [How many sets of C brand clothes do you still have at home? If you have them, you'd better wear C brand clothes when you go out.]

Jiang Xun: [There are still quite a few. Do you mean that I've entered the probation period for C brand?]

Jiang Xun was no longer a newbie in the entertainment industry.

Thanks to Youlan's actions, Jiang Xun also learned that big brands had a probation period for their artists.

"Yes, these brands will let their artistes wear their clothes to see the effect before they officially cooperate with them. You don't have to wear it all, as long as you have on items from the brand."

Jiang Xun thanked Zhiqing and began to ponder.

In the following days before C brand's anniversary celebration, the studio would occasionally send out Jiang Xun's daily clothes.

For example, Jiang Xun's photos at school, her way to school, and her walk on campus.

Jiang Xun had a lot of C brand single items on her.

"What?" Youlan sneered. "Jiang Xun can't be thinking that she's trying to become C brand's ambassador just because I stole her C.U. endorsement, right?"
