Chap 367 She Almost Went Crazy

Xiaoxiao curled her lips and said sarcastically, "Jiang Xun is the one who isn't acting cool. Does she think that just because C.U. almost asked her to be their spokesperson, she will be able to become the ambassador of C brand? Can't you see the difference between C.U. and C brand?"

As soon as she finished speaking, she felt that the atmosphere was not right.

Youlan's face darkened.

Wasn't Youlan the spokesperson of C.U. now?

"Sister Youlan, I'm not talking about you," Xiaoxiao explained hurriedly.

"That's enough," Youlan felt that this Xiaoxiao was getting worse and worse. She didn't even know how to think before speaking.

"But Jiang Xun really can't get the position in C brand," Sister Ran added. "You don't have to keep an eye on her all day. If she's willing to spend her own money to buy C brand clothes, then let her go. She's just coaxing the fans who don't know the truth. The industry is treating her as a joke. She has been wearing C brand clothes and walking around the city for half a day, but C brand didn't even respond to her. In the end, she's the only clown."

"Focus on working with C.U. now," Sister Ran reminded her. "Because Jiang Xun suddenly announced your news in C.U.'s stead, the original official announcement plan can't be used. Right now, C.U. is redoing the plan, and the official announcement time has been delayed."

The delay in the official announcement was their idea. The official announcement would be later than the original time, making it seem that C.U. only found Youlan and started working with her later.

Her dispute with Jiang Xun really wasn't going smoothly.

Jiang Xun had not only disrupted C.U.'s plans, but also their plans.

Their original plan to trample on Jiang Xun could not be executed.

Jiang Xun's original guess was right. Youlan's plan was as she guessed.

In the blink of an eye, it was Friday, the day of C brand's reopening and anniversary celebration after it was refurbished into Asia's largest boutique.

Jiang Xun chose a more capable C brand suit.

That day, during dinner, from her chat with Shulin, she could tell that Shulin didn't want the image of the artistes working with the brand to be too monotonous, and hoped for a breakthrough.

Therefore, Jiang Xun chose a neater style to attend the event in.

Today, the store only entertained the artistes, VVIP customers, and media reporters.

The reporters took photos and posted them on Weibo.

[Jiang Xun actually went too?]

[Didn't you say that you only invited artistes and VVIP customers?]

[Jiang Xun's endorsement deal with Yi Lan has just ended. She has been wearing Yi Lan's clothes all this time, so it's impossible for her to buy her way into becoming a C brand VVIP customer. She can only attend as an artiste. Jiang Xun is actually going to work with C brand?]

[No wonder I've been seeing Jiang Xun wearing C brand clothes for the past few days. She's actually preparing to cooperate with C brand?]

Eating Jiang: [She's a small artiste. She's just going there to be a guest. Don't make any more guesses.]

Spicy JJ: [I won't entertain it unless it's an official announcement. We don't have the habit of coveting resources for Jiang Jiang.]

Youlan saw it too and immediately asked Sister Ran, "Is Jiang Xun a VVIP client of C brand?"

"That can't be, right?" Sister Ran said. "If she's a VVIP customer of C brand, why didn't she borrow clothes from C brand during Feng Videos' grand ceremony?"

"But it's even more impossible that she's a C brand co-artiste!" Youlan would rather Jiang Xun be a VVIP customer of C brand.

Sister Ran made a phone call. After a while, she said to Youlan, "She's not working with C brand, she's just invited."

"Isn't her sugar daddy Qin Mufeng?" Sister Ran said, "It might be an invitation from Qin Mufeng. After all, the C brand store is located in Qin Yang department store."

Youlan felt that it made sense.

C brand opened the store in Qin Yang department store, so Mufeng could have as many invitations as he wanted.

Although Jiang Xun had clearly said that she was in a relationship with Mufeng on the day of the audition for "Path of Life," Youlan didn't believe her.

She was more willing to believe the analysis of some people on the internet. She felt that Jiang Xun and Mufeng were in the relationship for their own benefits.

Mufeng supported Jiang Xun as the financial backer, and Jiang Xun helped Mufeng increase Qin Yang's popularity.

On Weibo, under the news released by the marketing account.

[I don't say. Jiang Xun looks really good in this. I'll go ask my SA.]

[Previously, her studio posted photos of her daily life. Many of them are good-looking and not picky. They're especially suited for her temperament. I've already bought two.]

[I'll be damned. Jiang Xun could even promote rich woman products? I thought her market was for mass consumption.]

[Indeed, there are many clothes from C brand that look good, but I just can't stand it when I wear them. The workmanship and cutting are good, and there's no doubt about the style. It's just that the style becomes dirt on me. I can only say that the clothes are right, but my temperament is not suited for it. But when I tried on Jiang Xun's clothes, I found that I could do it again! I never thought that I would look so good in C brand's clothes!]

[You can actually buy the same style as Jiang Xun? I didn't manage to buy it! I went to SA with the photo and SA said I was the 19th person to ask her that day. However, the store didn't have that much stock.]

[Ever since I started shopping with Jiang Xun, it's become so easy for me to buy bags from SA.]

[Yes. In the past, I used to need accessories when I bought a bag, but now that I bought the same model as Jiang Xun's, it became a natural accessory. I don't have to buy things that I don't like for the bag anymore.]

[Sisters, have you ever thought about Jiang Xun's ability to promote goods? In the future, when you buy the same model as her, do you need to have a matching product?]

Everyone: "..."

[Fuck, just thinking about this possibility makes my scalp go numb.]

In C brand's store.

Yuexi and Nianzhen were invited as VVIP guests.

Before Nianzhen and Chengye divorced, the two of them were frequent customers of C brand.

Although Chengye had never given Yuexi a supplementary card, he rarely restricted the amount of money she could spend.

Nianzhen had divorced Chengye, but the things that Chengye had given her were enough for her to maintain her previous spending standards.

"Mom, isn't that Jiang Xun?" Yuexi saw that Jiang Xun was holding a glass of champagne in the store. She grabbed Nianzhen's arm in surprise. "Why is she invited?"

Nianzhen thought about how Jiang Xun was the one who caused her to get a divorce and caused her to be laughed at by the rich ladies she knew in the past. She glared at Jiang Xun fiercely. "We'll know once we ask."

Yuexi had the same idea. She walked up to Jiang Xun with Nianzhen and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Jiang Xun raised her eyebrows and said, "The brand invited me."

Jiang Xun glanced at Nianzhen. “You, on the other hand, can you afford the VVIP quota even after you’re divorced?”

Nianzhen hated it the most when people mentioned her divorce. She almost went crazy.

Yuexi quickly stopped her and said in a low voice, “Mom, she’s just trying to anger you! If we do something bad here, we’ll definitely be blacklisted by the brand!”
