Married by Mistake – Chapter 0360

She was so impressed with her decisiveness.

Indeed, the best ending would be Vera dying.

If not, Jeremy would never return to her as long as this woman was alive.

Jeremy looked for her along the steep incline. However, he could not pinpoint where Madeline had fallen from.

He felt as if he was going insane. He could not focus. He could not think nor deduce.

It was as if the rain was falling straight into his heart, interfering with his emotions.

The more time had passed, the more danger she would be in.

Jeremy went back to where Meredith was. His handsome face was drenched with rainwater and it was filled with coldness.

At this moment, Meredith got out of a car. Eloise had arrived unbeknownst to him. She hurried out of the car to hold the umbrella for Meredith.

Meredith ran in front of Jeremy and asked, her voice all choked up from crying, "Jeremy, have you found Jack's body?"
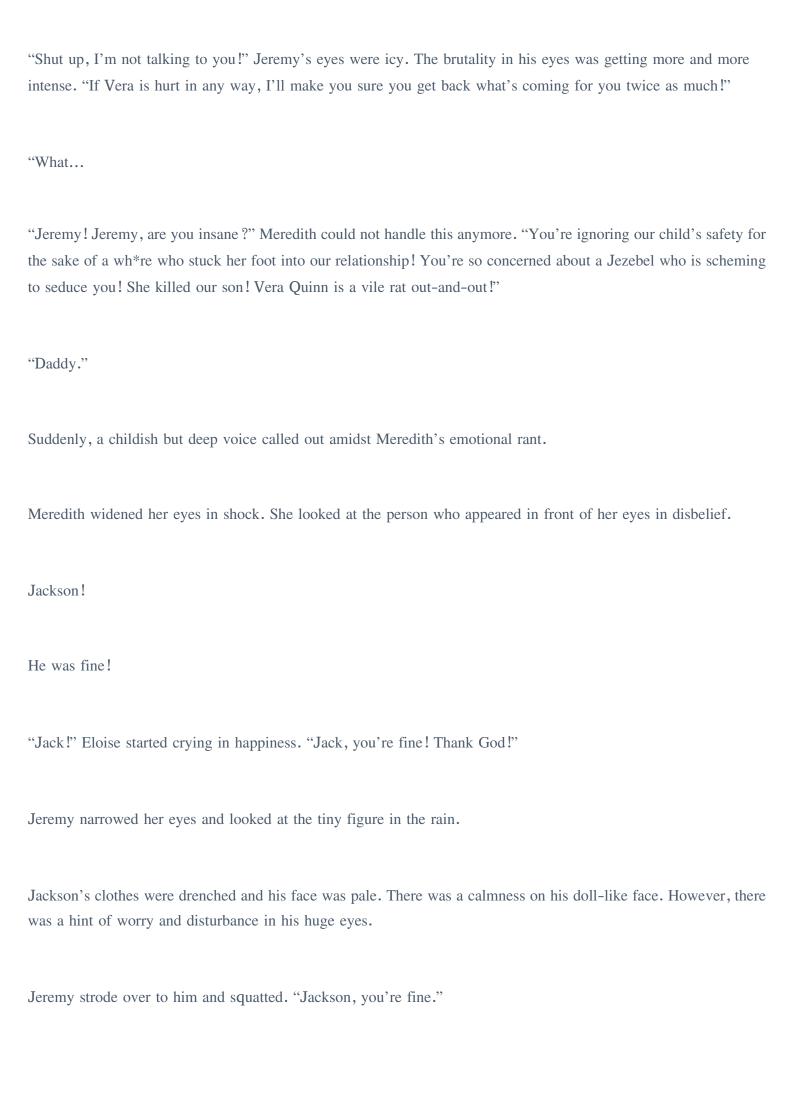

Jeremy's eyes darkened. There was a fit of intense anger in his eyes. "Body? How are you so sure that Jackson's dead?"

"V-Vera was the one who admitted this! She told me that she wanted to kill me and Jack so that she'll be able to have you all to herself," Meredith said confidently, "I didn't expect her to be so vicious. However, perhaps she has to suffer the consequences of her bad deeds, so that's why she fell."

"Jeremy, are you happy now? You killed your own son for a heartless wh*re!" Eloise accused Jeremy with her eyes red from crying. "My poor nephew. He's just five and he's been killed. Jack…"

Jeremy scanned Eloise's face with a grim expression on his face. Then, he looked at Meredith's devastated face. "Do you think that I'll still believe your one-sided story?"

"…" Meredith stopped crying as she lifted her stumped face.

Eloise was livid. "Jeremy! You're too much! How can you say that to Mer?! Do you think Mer's the one who killed Jack?"

Meredith's heartbeat accelerated as she cursed in her heart.

She was indeed the one who killed him.

When she thought about that in secret, Meredith received a bone-chilling gaze from Jeremy.

"Tell me. Where did Vera fall from?" he asked furiously. The patience in his eyes was diminishing gradually.

"Jeremy, y-you're still concerned about that wh*re at this moment!"

"Shut up, I'm not talking to you!" Jeremy's eyes were icy. The brutality in his eyes was getting more and more intense. "If Vera is hurt in any way, I'll make you sure you get back what's coming for you twice as much!"

"What…

"Jeremy! Jeremy, are you insane?" Meredith could not handle this anymore. "You're ignoring our child's safety for the sake of a wh*re who stuck her foot into our relationship! You're so concerned about a Jezebel who is scheming to seduce you! She killed our son! Vera Quinn is a vile rat out-and-out!"

"Daddy."

Suddenly, a childish but deep voice called out amidst Meredith's emotional rant.

Meredith widened her eyes in shock. She looked at the person who appeared in front of her eyes in disbelief.

Jackson!

He was fine!

"Jack!" Eloise started crying in happiness. "Jack, you're fine! Thank God!"

Jeremy narrowed her eyes and looked at the tiny figure in the rain.

Jackson's clothes were drenched and his face was pale. There was a calmness on his doll-like face. However, there was a hint of worry and disturbance in his huge eyes.

Jeremy strode over to him and squatted. "Jackson, you're fine."

When he looked into his father's narrow eyes, Jackson said, "Please save Vera."

Jeremy's eyes lit up. "You know where Vera is?"

Jackson nodded. He looked at Meredith who was looking frantic at one side. "I saw Mommy pushing Vera down the incline with my own two eyes."