

Married by Mistake – Chapter 0380

“Mrs. Montgomery, don’t fall asleep. We’re almost at the hospital.” Madeline grabbed Eloise’s shoulder, and when she saw Eloise almost losing consciousness, she kept trying to talk to her.

Her heart was speeding as she was extremely anxious. The corners of her eyes were also wet with tears.

“Mer...”

Suddenly, Madeline heard Eloise calling Meredith’s name.

Her heart was already aching. Now, it was one disaster on top of another.

At this moment, Eloise started pleading weakly.

“You’re also a mother, Miss Vera. I hope you can empathize with me as a mother. The hearing is tomorrow and I’m begging you to please let Mer off the hook. What she did was wrong, but as her parents, we’ve committed an even bigger crime. We didn’t educate her since she was small. Miss Vera, I’m begging you, please?”

Madeline pressed her lips together as she sobbed, her eyes wet with tears.

“Mrs. Montgomery, she’s not worthy of this.”

“She is. She’s my only daughter.”

Madeline bit her lip after she heard that. “She’s not. She’s not your biological daughter.”

“I know you’d say this tonight.” Eloise smiled superficially. “However, I must tell you that she is. She’s my biological daughter.”

After she said that, the car stopped moving.

Sean quickly carried Eloise into the hospital.

Madeline’s white shirt was stained with Eloise’s blood and even her hands were covered with blood.

She walked into the hospital. Since Eloise had lost too much blood, she was sent to the emergency department.

When she was in the elevator, Madeline received a call from Jeremy.

When he knew that Madeline was in the hospital, he canceled all of his online meetings and rushed to the hospital immediately.

When he saw her covered in blood, Jeremy’s heartbeat became erratic.

“Vera!”

He looked uneasy as he grabbed her shoulders frantically.

“I’m fine. This is Mrs. Montgomery’s blood.” Madeline explained.

Finally, Jeremy noticed Sean standing at one side.

After knowing what was going on, Jeremy looked at Madeline. His restless heart finally calmed down.

He never wanted to experience that unbearable pain again.

The door of the emergency department opened at this moment. A nurse quickly ran out and Sean stopped her. “How’s my wife?”

“Mrs. Montgomery’s wound is too deep and she has lost a lot of blood. She’s unconscious right now. Since her blood type is rare, the blood bank doesn’t have the one she needs. I’m about to go get some in our branch. It’ll take at least two hours.

“It can’t be helped.”

“It can.” Madeline walked over. “I can donate my blood to Mrs. Montgomery.”

“You?” Sean looked at Madeline in astonishment.

Jeremy’s eyes lit up.

“Stop wasting time. I’m going to donate blood now.”

Madeline turned around quickly while Jeremy and Sean followed after her.

After asking for some relevant information, Madeline quickly went through the procedure of giving blood. After a while, she donated 500cc of blood.

Jeremy removed his coat and draped it across Madeline’s shoulders.

When Sean saw Madeline giving so much blood for Eloise, he did not know what to say.

When she was about to leave, a nurse walked over. When the nurse saw Madeline, she was surprised.

“Oh? It’s you?”

Madeline was taken aback. She felt that the nurse looked familiar.

“You are...”

“Did you forget? When Mrs. Montgomery was losing too much blood during her surgery, her daughter refused to donate. Thankfully, you donated 500cc of your blood and it saved Mrs. Montgomery.”

The nurse slowly brought back Madeline’s memory.

Before she could deny it, the nurse said to Jeremy, “Mr. Whitman, I remember your son getting hurt and needing blood three years ago. Then, a kind woman donated her blood to him. Back then, you asked me who it was. Here, it’s this woman. She’s very beautiful, so I never forgot about her.”
