

Chapter 684

"Elise, what nonsense are you talking about?"

Sophia was flustered. She knew that Elise was smart to tell that she had feelings for Chuck.

Sophia thought that she must have given herself away.

She was so nervous that her heart almost skipped a beat. How could she face her own daughter if Elise found out?

Sophia was ashamed to face her!

"Mom, what I meant was whether you have any other agreements with Chuck. Is that why he's helping you?"

Elise did not think too much about it at all! She couldn't!

Sophia was her mother, and Elise knew that Sophia paid special attention to herself. After all, her mother was a beauty and a single woman. None of the men could be a match to her.

Therefore, Elise did not think about that at all.

Furthermore, it was Chuck they were talking about!

The two of them were not a match for each other at all!

It was even more impossible due to the age gap.

Hence, her opinion of Sophia and Chuck's relationship was thoroughly simple Hearing Elise's words, Sophia let out a sigh of relief. It turned out that Elise didn't think much of their relationship. She was the one who was overthinking things.

"Yes, we have several agreements between the two of us. We're business partners. He doesn't want anything to happen to me," Sophia felt guilty for lying to her daughter.

She was actually planning to lie to Elise for as long as she could.

She felt guilty, but she was also very worried. There was bound to be a day when they would be exposed. What should she do when that happens?

"I see. Mom, what do you think of Chuck?" Elise asked, fully enlightened by her mother's explanation.

It seemed that Sophia had gradually changed her attitude towards Chuck because of their cooperation.

Elise was glad to know that.

"He's... a decent person," Sophia was silent for a moment.

"Oh, I also think he's a pretty nice person. Mom, do you know? When I looked for him just now, he immediately came over after finding out that something had happened to you," Elise said.

"Is that so?" Sophia let out a sigh in her heart. She was touched.

She did not regret the affair she had with Chuck that day. If it didn't happen, she would not be able to experience intimate moments with him.

Yet, she had dragged him down this time!

"Yup, Chuck really respects you."

"Respect?" Sophia found it hard to continue the topic. She was embarrassed.

"Yes, respect. He's working with our family, so he respects you," Elise felt that it was normal.

However, Sophia didn't know how to respond to Elise.

"But what should we do when the hidden family gets here five days later?" Elise asked. She was anxious.

The hidden family was just too powerful!

Sophia kept silent. A while later, she asked Elise to return to her room. She then took out her phone and wanted to stop Chuck from going over, but found that she couldn't reach him.

Sophia was about to call him again when Chuck sent her a message that said, "Trust me. Have a good rest."

When Sophia saw his message, she felt a sense of warmth in her heart. Her face was full of tears. She was touched and it had been a long time since she last felt like this.

Sophia was perturbed for five whole days. She had ordered her men to send the explosives over. She really hoped that Loomis would be here soon, and not Chuck.

In fact, Elise also wanted to be there, but Sophia refused her request.

She didn't want her daughter to be beaten up by Loomis too.

While waiting anxiously, Sophia suddenly received a call. She thought that it was from her bodyguard who was going to inform her that Loomis had arrived.

However, when she answered the call, she heard Chuck's voice.

"Let me in."

"Chuck, it's you? Please leave," Sophia's beautiful eyes were teary, looking touched but also tainted with fear. She was afraid that Chuck would hurt himself for her sake.

"Trust me," Only a few words from him were needed for her to tear up.

She was silent for a while and finally gave in. She sobbed, "Fine, come in!"

Around 30 seconds later, Chuck walked in with Black Rose.

Black Rose also found out about it.

Hence, she tagged along with Chuck.

When Sophia saw Black Rose, she quickly lowered her head while forcing back her tears.

She could not afford to let others find out about the relationship between her and Chuck.

If that happened, she would put Chuck in an unfavorable position.

Chuck shrugged and asked, "When will he be here?"

"I don't know. He only said that he would be here today," Sophia shook her head.

"Black Rose, find a place to hide first," Chuck still wanted to be careful. He asked Black Rose to bring along a sniper rifle. In case of any emergency, he could ask her to settle things quickly.

It would be a foolproof plan.

Black Rose replied coldly, "Ok."

She looked around and soon found a hiding place.

"It's my fault you're involved," Sophia shook her head dejectedly.

"Believe me, I know Loomis too," Chuck's eyes were cold.

"You know him?" Sophia was startled. Now that she thought about it, it was possible for Chuck to know Loomis given Chuck's status.

However, it was useless for him to just know Loomis. The hidden family's status and strength had surpassed many families.

There was a huge gap between them!

How could Chuck stand up for himself, let alone for her?

"Yes, I do. Since he slapped you twice, I'll make sure that you can slap him back until you're satisfied. Will 20 times be enough?" Chuck smirked.

"You..." Sophia was astonished and let out a sigh.

It must be words of comfort.

Loomis was so powerful, so how could Chuck even lay a hand on him?

In fact, Sophia had already made up her mind. If Loomis got angry later, she would bear all of his anger alone!

She did not want someone she loved to get hurt!

"Don't worry. Trust me!" Chuck grinned.

"Oh fine," Sophia sighed.

Black Rose had already found a spot to hide. She looked at Chuck and muttered, "What on earth are you talking about with her? Why are you talking so much?"

She couldn't be bothered to look at them anymore.

Just then, outside the Lawrence family mansion.

Loomis was driving the most expensive car in the world!

There were two bodyguards with him.

Soon, they arrived at the entrance of the mansion.

Loomis smiled ominously.

"Young Master!" A bodyguard called out. He was staring at the heavily guarded door.

"It's alright. Sophia is a tough one. I'm growing interested in her," Loomis said with a faint smile. He looked very sinister.

Once Loomis got hold of the explosives, he would have an upper hand against Chuck!

He could already picture Chuck dead. He'd blast that wretched man away!

Loomis got out of the car lazily!

Two bodyguards got out of the car as well. One of them walked over and gave Sophia's bodyguard at the door a good smack. It was so hard that the bodyguard spat out blood.

"Aren't you going to open the door for us yet?"

The bodyguard was furious, but Sophia had already instructed him not to resist.

He quickly opened the door. Loomis laughed and was about to go in, only to suddenly think of something fun. He casually said to the bodyguard who was bleeding, "Go in and tell Sophia... I'm here, so why is she not here to welcome me?"

"What? How dare you!" The bodyguard was pissed. How could he expect Sophia, the head of the Lawrence family, to be out here to welcome him personally?

Smack!

Another bodyguard slapped him again, causing him to pass out almost immediately.

Loomis sneered at the Lawrence family's bodyguards, "Go now! Tell Sophia that if she doesn't come out to greet me, I'll smash her house!"

The bodyguards glanced at each other and one of them immediately went to inform Sophia.

Loomis felt that this was really fun. If Sophia came out and he got her to kneel down and welcome him, it would be really interesting to see!

While Loomis was waiting, his bodyguard received a call and was shocked. He immediately informed Loomis, "Young Master, the Old Master's condition seems to be worsening. They are asking you to return home quickly."

Hearing this, Loomis laughed sinisterly, "Oh, really? It has already been so long. Why isn't he dead yet? If he doesn't die, how will I be able to replace him as the head of the family?"

Loomis had wanted to be the head of the Yeager family a long time ago, but Chuck had stepped in and ruined his bright future!

Now that Brooke was on his deathbed, he stood a chance to climb to the top. Loomis was too lazy to go back and pay the last visit.

It didn't matter if he died anyways.

What was the big deal?

The two bodyguards looked at each other in dismay. Wasn't it inappropriate for him to say that?

"Tell my father that I have urgent matters to deal with right now," Loomis instructed.

"Yes, Young Master!" The bodyguard called his father immediately.

Loomis felt that the whole matter seemed a bit strange. Brooke had suffered from a sudden illness, causing many other diseases to crop up. He had been in a coma for a long time and was already as thin as a rail.

None of the doctors could find the cause of his diseases.

What on earth was going on?

Just when Loomis was excited, the Lawrence family bodyguard emerged from the house.

"Where's Sophia? Is she still not coming out? I'm going to smash her house if she doesn't!" Loomis cackled loudly. Sophia would definitely be out to greet him!

This was fun!

Chapter 685

Loomis laughed maniacally. Did Sophia not dare to come out?

If that was the case, he was going to annihilate the Lawrence family!

A few bodyguards of the Lawrence family stared at each other in dismay. A taller one resisted the fear and said, "The Madam asked you to..."

"To do what?" Loomis taunted. Why was she not out to greet him given the circumstances?

He would only find it interesting if Sophia was out to welcome him. Otherwise, why would he be there in person?

He just wanted to tease Sophia!

"Get the f*ck in!" The bodyguard continued, cold sweat forming on his forehead that very instant.

After all, Loomis looked terrifying!

Bang!

Before he could finish, Loomis' bodyguard's face was livid as he roared, "How dare you talk to the Young Master like that?"

With that, he threw a punch.

The tall bodyguard screamed. He fell to the ground and stopped moving.

Everyone was scared out of their wits.

The expression on Loomis' face changed and coldness appeared in his eyes. He muttered under his breath through gritted teeth, "Sophia, you're playing with fire!"

In Loomis' eyes, the Four Greatest Households were nothing but trash!

It would be too easy to get rid of her. However, how could she ask him to go in himself?

Hah!

This was the first time in so many years that someone dared to talk to Loomis like this!

Loomis was intrigued by the new treatment. He decided to torture Sophia after going in. He would let her know that what she had just said to him was absolutely forbidden.

"Young Master, do you want me to call someone over now?" His bodyguard asked.

Loomis was quite important to the Yeager family. With just a word, he could have the Yeager family take action to wipe out the entire Lawrence family!

"No, since Sophia wants to play with me, why not I play along?" Loomis laughed ferociously.

"Yes!" The two bodyguards didn't say much.

"Sophia Lawrence, you'd better prepare for a storm that's coming!" Loomis announced as he strode inside.

His men followed behind him closely.

The sinister smile on his face grew wider. Loomis was still thinking about how to torture Sophia. As soon as he entered the house, he saw her.

He smiled.

"You're playing games with me, aren't you, Sophia?" Loomis walked in with large strides.

Suddenly, a slap fell on his face!

Smack!

Loomis fell to the ground while shrieking in pain!

The two bodyguards were astonished!

"What the hell! Who was it? Who hit me? I want him dead!" A ferocious expression appeared on Loomis' face. He was fuming with rage.

He couldn't believe that he had been slapped!

The moment Loomis looked up, he saw an expressionless person standing in front of him!

The person didn't seem to be scared at all.

He stood there, as sturdy as a statue.

The person's gaze was plastered on Loomis' face in disdain.

The entire atmosphere froze.

Sophia gasped softly.

She was startled. Chuck was just too fast and she couldn't stop him at all!

With that, he had slapped Loomis across the face. She saw Loomis' distorted expression as his face changed from being livid to absolute fury and anger!

Sophia trembled and her eyes were filled with fear. She sighed. Her family was finished, and Chuck was going down as well!

How could she get Chuck into trouble?

She felt guilty!

However!

Just when she was wallowing in despair and guilt, she was suddenly dumbfounded!!

Loomis' expression had changed again, from a look of malice to shock, and finally to utter disbelief!

"Chuck Cannon, why on earth are you here?" Loomis was stunned!

His bodyguards who were ready to fight were also dumbfounded!

"You wanted to cause a storm here in Sophia's house, right?" Chuck's eyes looked murderous.

"No, it's a misunderstanding. Why are you here?" Loomis was angry, but he still did not dare to make a move.

After all, Chuck had one of his weaknesses!

Loomis didn't dare to move!

What? A misunderstanding?

Hearing this, Sophia was shocked. What was going on? Why was someone like Loomis, who was from the hidden family, acting like this?

Was he afraid of Chuck?

All of a sudden, Sophia thought of whatever Chuck had been saying to her before this, which was to trust him!

She was in a daze.

"Why can't I be here? Why do you want to buy explosives? Oh, I know, you want to secretly blow me up, don't you?" Chuck walked over towards Loomis.

"Of course not, it's a misunderstanding!" Loomis shook his head. The anger on his face disappeared without a trace.

"A misunderstanding?" Chuck slapped him again!

Loomis fell to the ground. He got up angrily and roared, "Chuck Cannon, how dare you?"

"Oh, why wouldn't I dare? You don't seem to have a good memory. Should I remind you of what you did?" Chuck approached him slowly.

Loomis was afraid and said, "There's no need!"

Smack!

Smack!

Smack! Smack!

Chuck slapped him repeatedly!

Loomis didn't dare to fight back at all. If he did, his secret would be exposed and he would be dead.

20 slaps!

Soon, Loomis' face swelled up like the size of a football. It was funny and ironic since he had walked in so arrogantly just a while ago.

But now? He was completely humiliated!

"Chuck, please stop!" Loomis implored. If Chuck continued slapping him, he would probably suffer from some sort of brain damage.

"Kneel down and apologize to Sophia!" Chuck yelled loudly.

His voice was so thunderous that Loomis involuntarily fell to his knees.

Chuck's eyes were as sharp as an eagle's.

Loomis was actually in fear! What was going on!

Chuck only grabbed hold of one of his weaknesses.

But why would he be afraid?

"Prostrate yourself!" Chuck's voice boomed in the room.

Loomis followed.

Thud!

His head hit the floor with a loud smack.

The two bodyguards were shocked at the sight of their Young Master.

It was hard to describe what they were feeling now. Their Young Master actually knelt down and admitted his mistake!

Sophia was dumbfounded too!

Was this a dream?

Loomis Yeager from the hidden family was actually begging her for forgiveness.

Sophia was sure that it was not a dream. She looked at the man who gave her such warmth in a daze. In an instant, she was full of tears and was really touched!

The second man in her life who had taken her heart was really kind to her.

"Ah!"

Loomis was terrified. Chuck grabbed him by the neck and threatened, "If you dare to come here again, I'll make sure you die a horrible death!"

In fact, Chuck really wanted to kill him that day. However, Karen had told him to instruct Loomis to start their plans.

Therefore, Chuck had to let him go!

"No, I wouldn't dare to!" Loomis was in a daze from all the slaps.

"Go back and have a good rest. I'll wake you up tomorrow!"

"What... What on earth do you want me to do?" Loomis was terrified.

Chuck's voice sounded too malicious.

He was trying to kill him!

"I'll wake you up tomorrow and I'll tell you! Now, scram!" Chuck kicked him in the stomach.

Loomis howled and ran out in fear.

"Young Master!"

The two bodyguards chased after him.

At the door, the bodyguards of the Lawrence family were dumbfounded. They saw Loomis, whose face was swollen to the size of a goldfish tank. What had just happened?

"Young Master!"

The two bodyguards caught up with Loomis. When he got into the car and saw his ugly appearance, he was furious and muttered, "Chuck Cannon, I swear, I will tear you into pieces!"

"But Young Master, he has dirt on you!" One bodyguard reminded him.

Smack!

Loomis gave the bodyguard a slap out of sheer rage.

"You son of a b*tch! Do you think that I'm unaware?" Loomis was enraged.

The two bodyguards didn't dare to say another word.

"Chuck, what on earth do you want me to do? Your ominous gaze... it scares me," Loomis was deep in his thoughts.

He felt that Chuck was planning to make him do something big!

Loomis suddenly regretted it. Was he going to be blackmailed for the rest of his life? Was he going to have to listen to Chuck forever?

He was the Young Master of a hidden family!

It was absolutely not allowed!

"Let's go back!" Loomis grunted.

He had to go back and seek treatment for his face immediately. If his family saw it, he would be shamed for sure!

With that, he left reluctantly.

Meanwhile, the Lawrence family bodyguards were curious, "What happened?"

"I don't know. Chuck Cannon beat him!"

"What? He didn't fight back?"

"He didn't strike back. It was terrifying!"

The bodyguards became more shocked as they spoke!

"No problem, I'll go!" Black Rose didn't have to do anything at all!

If Loomis' two bodyguards attacked, she would not hesitate to pull the trigger on them.

However, they didn't.

"Yes," Chuck nodded and said, "Thank you."

She left.

Chuck was lost in his thoughts. At that moment, Sophia walked over in shock and asked, "Chuck, what the hell is going on?"

She really couldn't believe it!

Loomis was the Young Master of the hidden Yeager family, but he was beaten by Chuck!

"I have some dirt on him, so he didn't dare to kill me," Chuck explained briefly.

"What weakness did you manage to discover about him?" She couldn't stop herself from gasping in shock!

Chuck smiled and told Sophia about it. Sophia was stunned, "You..."

"That's why he didn't dare to fight back... By the way, whatever happened between us wasn't caught on camera, was it?" Chuck joked to ease the atmosphere.

"No. Don't scare me, okay?" Sophia was scared out of her wits.

If it was photographed by someone else, she would not be able to face Elise.

"Alright, I won't scare you anymore," Chuck laughed.

It was only then that Sophia came to her senses. She looked tenderly at Chuck and said, "Thank you."

Without Chuck's help, she would definitely be utterly insulted by Loomis!

After all, she couldn't fight back. For the sake of the Lawrence family, Sophia had to bear the consequences alone!

However, Chuck saved her.

She really enjoyed the feeling of being protected by a man.

"Why thank me? You're treating me like a stranger," Chuck shook his head.

"I..." Sophia lowered her head.

"There's something between the two of us, isn't there?" Chuck laughed.

"True," Sophia sighed, "I'm sorry that I..."

"Don't say that. It was an accident. Neither of us could control what have happened."

"Okay," Sophia felt much better and said, "You'd better go home. Don't let Yvette find out. Otherwise, I'll feel even more guilty."

Chuck was silent. He also felt guilty, but things already happened. There was no way to pretend that it didn't exist in the first place. After all, he tried to avoid talking about it with Quinn and caused many misunderstandings to happen.

Hence, he was willing to admit it.

"I am also..."

"No, I'm the one at fault. You're so young," Sophia sighed.

Sophia felt like she was dreaming, but the warmth given to her by Chuck was real.

"Alright, let's stop here and have a good rest," Chuck was about to leave when Sophia grabbed his hand. She took out the bombs that she was prepared to give Loomis and said, "Here you go. I will only make this for you."

Chapter 686

Sophia was indeed very touched that day.

Chuck gave her hope. He beat Loomis up and protected her.

Sophia therefore decided that she would only make the explosives exclusively for Chuck. He deserved to have it, and he alone would be able to get it from her. As long as he asked, she would give it to him. No one else could do so.

Sophia had given him a few bombs previously, and she was already giving them to him again. Chuck kept it without hesitation and said, "Thank you."

"Don't be so polite. I'm willing to do this. In fact, I'm willing to do anything for you," Sophia said softly.

"Don't feel stressed. I won't need anything from you. Just don't hide anything from me," Sophia looked at Chuck.

She felt guilty and couldn't look straight into Chuck's eyes. After all, he was too young.

"Alright, I won't hide anything from you," Chuck shook his head and promised her.

He already understood that he had to take responsibility for his own matters.

He could no longer treat Sophia like he did with Quinn back then.

In fact, Sophia was a pitiful woman.

Chuck understood she was tired and stressed out. She had to take charge of such a huge family. The responsibility was so heavy and the pressure was great since she had to avoid being devoured by other families.

It was already very difficult for her. He felt happy that he was the one to open her heart.

"Thank you," Sophia let out a sigh of relief. If Chuck avoided her, she would be heartbroken.

"Aren't you tired managing such a big family?" Chuck asked.

"I am. Do you want to help me?"

"Um, how am I supposed to help?" Chuck shrugged. If he helped her, he would be interfering with the affairs of the Lawrence family. Her other family members would definitely be against it.

"It doesn't matter, you can help however you want to," Sophia said gently.

"Aren't you afraid that I will take over your family?" Chuck joked around. Of course, he wouldn't do that.

There was no reason for him to do so. Furthermore, he even had a relationship with her.

"No worries. The Lawrence family has been passed down to me for some time now. Although I am unable to change the fact that it will always be the Lawrence family..." Sophia stopped and lowered her head.

"What?" Chuck was curious.

"Whatever is mine is yours," Sophia could not bring herself to say it. She did not realize that she accidentally said it out loud.

Maybe it was the wave of emotions that she had been feeling that day, or the fact that her attitude had done a 180 degree change. It was as though she was experiencing her first love all over again.

"Oh, I understand," Chuck finally understood what she meant. She was hinting him that he could become the boss behind the Lawrence family!

It was a bit out of his expectation!

It was an interesting idea, but he couldn't do it. If that happened, Sophia would become the sinner of her family.

"It's good that you understand. Although you won't be short of money, you can ask me when you need more. I'll give you lots of money," Sophia offered.

"How much do you mean?"

"A lot. I'll give you all I have," Sophia replied seriously.

Chuck was silent for a moment. A woman like Sophia was really amazing.

All of a sudden, he felt a bit reluctant to leave.

It felt like the air between them was frozen.

Sophia lowered her head and muttered, "Chuck, don't you regret being with me back then?"

Chuck didn't respond.

Sophia raised her head. Her beautiful gaze was filled with disappointment, "You regret it, right? I'm really sorry..."

"No, I don't," Chuck shrugged.

"Really?" Sophia's voice was pleasantly surprised.

"Yes," When Chuck nodded, he suddenly heard Elise's voice that said, "Mom....."

Sophia let go of Chuck and kept a distance away from him. However, she said, "Chuck, don't let Elise know about what happened between us."

"Okay," Of course, Chuck would not tell Elise about it.

When Elise came in and saw that her mom was looking fine, she was shocked. She had been locked up in her room by her mother. It was not easy for her to escape, but she was still worried about her mom.

Thankfully, nothing seemed to have happened. Elise was so glad that she burst into tears!

She gave Sophia a big hug.

Sophia comforted her lovely daughter. She patted Elise on her back while looking at Chuck.

"I'm leaving," Chuck mouthed silently.

Sophia nodded reluctantly.

After Chuck left, Elise asked for more details. There was nothing to hide, so Sophia told her the whole story. Elise was dumbfounded.

"How did Chuck do it?" Elise widened her eyes and asked. How did he manage to get hold of Loomis' weakness?

"I'm not sure," Sophia replied. Of course, she did not know about it, but from that day onwards, she knew that the man whom she loved... Was a real man!!

Although Chuck was young, he could protect her.

She could feel the warmth in her heart.

"Mom, Chuck has helped us a lot. We should thank him," Elise said sincerely.

If Chuck wasn't there, the situation would be completely different.

"Yes, I will. I'll give him whatever he wants from now on..." Sophia lowered her head and blushed. She didn't know if whatever they did last time could be considered her way of saying thanks.

It probably wasn't. After all, she had taken advantage of him. What sort of thanks was that?

"Mom, don't do that. What if he wants me to sleep with him?" Elise lowered her head and whispered.

Sophia was startled upon hearing this...

.....

When Chuck came out of the Lawrence family mansion and saw Black Rose, he walked over and said, "You did a good job just now."

"I don't need you to praise me," Black Rose replied coldly.

Chuck was speechless, "Can't you talk normally?"

"No!" Black Rose hissed.

It was better for him to just go home. He got into the car and drove home, with Black Rose following behind him after snorting gently.

When they arrived, Karen asked Chuck to meet her at the office.

Willa and Betty were all there, while Yvette was out.

Willa looked at Chuck tenderly. Since their drunken affair at Patricia's house previously, her gaze was plastered on him all this while, unable to move away.

She didn't regret what had happened with Chuck at all. However, he didn't know anything about it. Hence, all she wanted to do was to observe him silently.

Chuck felt her gaze and smiled at her.

She immediately felt her heart warm up. Chucky...

The meeting then started.

The main discussion in the meeting was how to take control of Loomis, something that Karen had brought up previously. Chuck was pretty amazed at what his mother said.

Willa was the first to say, "Does Loomis have such strength?"

Chuck looked at his mother.

Karen said, "No, he doesn't."

"Then why are we helping him become the head of the Yeager family?" Willa asked.

That was right!

Karen's intention was to make Loomis the head of the Yeager family!

After Chuck heard the suggestion, he was particularly surprised.

"Yes, if Loomis really became the head of the Yeager family, it would be great. It would be even easier to deal with them. If he can't, it would also damage the Yeager family badly. Regardless of whether he succeeds, it will be of much benefit to us," Karen explained.

Chuck understood his mother's suggestion.

There were a lot of benefits. Since they were helping Loomis to take over the position as the head of family, he would definitely go all out to succeed. In order to get rid of Chuck's dirt on him, Loomis could only give it his all to become the head of the family. Once he succeeded, Chuck would not be able to blackmail him anymore.

Everyone was clear.

Wasn't it good for Loomis to mess up the Yeager family right now?

In a sense, they were going to encourage the Loomis' family's infighting.

Willa understood it too.

Chuck asked, "How can we help?"

That was also a problem. If they secretly supported Loomis, he would be aware that they were using him. However, to avoid being blackmailed, Loomis wouldn't resist them.

However, there was still a need to explain in detail how they would do so.

"Well..." Karen grinned.

Chuck, Willa and Betty listened to Karen carefully...

.....

Loomis glared at his reflection in the mirror angrily. He had been beaten up the previous day and his face was still swollen. Furthermore, Chuck had not called him yet. What exactly did Chuck want him to do?

Amongst his sinister thoughts, his cell phone suddenly rang. He glared at it and picked up the call.

"Hey!"

"Oh, you're up so early?" Over the call, Chuck could be heard laughing.

Loomis was furious and gritted his teeth, "Chuck Cannon, what do you want me to do?"

"I'll make you better."

"Make me better? Chuck, do you think that I'm a three-year-old?"

Loomis was furious.

"Whatever. Let me ask you a question now. Do you want to be the head of the Yeager family?"

Loomis narrowed his eyes, "What do you mean by that?"

"You should understand. What I want you to do is to make you the head of your family. How does that sound? I'm being nice, aren't I?"

Loomis' eyes lit up as he sneered silently. Moments later, he said, "Oh, you want me to be the head of the Yeager family? Are you capable of doing so?"
