

Chapter 728

"Did you hear what I said? The sniper isn't a joke!" Black Rose's expression was serious and cold.

"The bullet could have killed us both too, even if you'd gotten in front of me!" Chuck was still wearing the shirt Karen had given him.

Karen said that it could be used as a bulletproof vest.

As the assassin, shouldn't Black Rose be wearing that kind of portable bulletproof vest?

"I have a bulletproof vest," Black Rose said.

"I'm touched that you're protecting me whole-heartedly," Chuck said truthfully.

Black Rose was too dutiful.

"What's the point? Your mother, Karen, sent me here to protect you." Black Rose snorted. Unconsciously, her tone softened.

But Chuck's words made her feel comfortable.

"Well, can you find out where this person is?" Chuck glanced around.

Yeager's house was in the mountains, surrounded by trees, which greatly hindered their view.

"Wait a minute. Let me have a look."

Black Rose used the scope on her sniper rifle to glance at their surroundings. Chuck plopped down next to her.

"I told you to stay behind me! Do you want to die?" Black Rose was mad.

She'd never seen Chuck so disobedient!

"No, I don't." Chuck obediently hid behind Black Rose.

His eyes were also looking into the distance.

There should only be a few people in the world who could compare to her. She was wary, which meant that the skill of the sniper just now was not inferior to hers.

"How is it?" Chuck asked. A minute had passed.

"I can't find the guy," Black Rose shook her head.

"Then let's move forward a little." Chuck did not want to wait any longer. It had been too long, and he did not know if the shot had hit Sabina.

After all, Chuck had a bad feeling.

"Are you rushing to hell? The sniper's shot is accurate. You won't be able to escape him if you go out rashly! Don't move around. Do you hear me?" Black Rose scolded.

"Okay, I'll listen to you, Rosie." Chuck nodded.

"Go to hell, who said you could call me that?"

Hearing this, Black Rose felt annoyed.

At the same time.

Chuck and Black Rose were captured in a telescopic sight.

After a moment of silence, the man took out his phone and called someone.

In a luxurious room.

When Nelson received the phone call from the sniper, he was surprised. Instead of hanging up the phone, he asked, "Miss Adriana, Brock said that he saw Chuck and Black Rose!"

Adriana, who was sipping a cup of tea, frowned and asked, "Why is Chuck at the Yeager's?"

"Well, Chuck tried to kill Sabina before, but he didn't succeed," Nelson said.

"Why didn't you tell me about this?" Adriana smashed the antique cup in her hand into pieces.

Immediately, Nelson quivered and replied, "Miss Adriana, please calm down. There is nothing between Chuck and Sabina."

"Nothing? Then why is Chuck at Yeager's house at this time?" Adriana stood up coldly with her captivatingly long legs.

"To Sabina, Chuck is just a friend, so he probably went to her out of their friendship. After all, they can't fall in love in just a few days," Nelson analyzed.

In Nelson's opinion, Sabina acted nothing like a woman. He didn't like her anyway.

"Probably. But why didn't you tell me when I asked Sabina to suppress Chuck just now?" A cold light flashed in Adriana's beautiful eyes.

"I just learned about it." Nelson was so frightened that he began to tremble.

"Well, it's fine." Adriana sat down again and knocked against the sofa with her long legs.

She could read Sabina's mind, and there was no sentiment in Sabina's eyes. She was cold, not the kind of woman who could show affection to a man.

Therefore, Sabina should be Chuck's friend. They knew each other from the fight.

"How about Brock's mission?" Adriana asked.

"Brock said he succeeded."

Nelson breathed a sigh of relief." Miss Adriana, why did you suddenly let Brock fire a shot this time? You clearly wanted Sabina to become the head of the Yeager family. Why did you shoot her just when she was about to succeed?"

"How would you know what's on my mind? You've been with me for so long, so it's fine if I make it clear to you." Adriana glanced at Nelson.

She explained lazily, "Loomis killed Brooke to claim the position of the head of the Yeager family. He almost succeeded, so why don't I let him take the seat first?"

"Miss Adriana, what's the meaning of this?" Nelson was curious.

"Last time, I thought Sabina was able to kill Loomis directly, so I decided to let her become the head of the Yeager family. However, Loomis surprised me this time. He took it into his own hands, so he was more likely to take the position, and I changed my mind. I don't want to give up Loomis as a pawn. I wanted to use him even more!" Adriana smiled.

"Are you going to let Loomis become the head?" Nelson asked.

"Exactly! Loomis' character will be more vicious in dealing with Chuck, compared to Sabina, who might be soft-hearted. I can't wait too long. Loomis is better suited..." Adriana said.

Nelson was really appalled. He couldn't keep up with Adriana's thoughts.

Adriana's mind would change at any time.

The main reason was that Loomis had suddenly killed Brooke. Adriana's scheme changed accordingly.

"Actually, Sabina could have killed Loomis just now," said Nelson carefully.

"I know, but I changed my mind. Loomis can't die yet, so Sabina has to follow my plan! I've stopped her this time, so what will she become? You can figure it out." Adriana sneered coldly.

"Miss Adriana..."

"She will become colder and stronger! In fact, I'm training her. She will be my opponent in the future. It will be boring if she's too weak." Adriana shrugged.

Nelson understood.

It made sense. Adriana was so smart that she would soon be the head of the Whitlock family. If she couldn't find an opponent, she would be bored out of her mind.

Adriana took a fancy to Sabina to be her opponent.

She was barely a match for Adriana.

"What's more, Sabina has a good relationship with Chuck. That's why I had to do this. If Sabina becomes the family head, she definitely won't listen to my orders. I had to let someone else do it, and Loomis was a good choice."

Adriana said.

"Chuck and Black Rose are now at Yeager's house. What do you think about it? I'll tell Brock right away," Nelson asked carefully.

"Oh? Sabina has already been shot. Is she still alive? It's no fun if she's dead."

"No, Brock shot according to your order. He hit Sabina on the shoulder, but Brock said that Loomis and his bodyguards are still alive. Sabina might not be able to escape..." Nelson said.

"If she can't get out of there, what do I need her for?" Adriana shook her head. "She'll get out, but I don't want to see her and Chuck stay on good terms. Do you have a solution?"

Chapter 729

Chuck was a man, and Sabina was a woman. Something would happen sooner or later.

Adriana didn't want Chuck and Sabina to go on like that. It would be best if their relationship was destroyed!

It was best to become enemies.

Adriana would never allow even the slightest chance!

Nelson thought for a long time and said, "Miss Adriana, how about this..."

With her voice lowered, Adriana said, "Nice, that's why I let you follow me. This is the reason. You can give me some great ideas!"

"Thank you for your compliment, Miss Adriana." Nelson was delighted. "Miss Adriana, shall I talk to Brock about this?"

"Go ahead," Adriana said lazily.

Nelson immediately informed Brock over there, "Hey, Miss Adriana said..."

...

"Black Rose, how is the situation?" Chuck also had a feeling that they were being watched.

But they just couldn't find the person who was watching them. Where the hell was the guy?

"Don't be anxious. I'm looking now. Hey, don't look out! Do you want to die?"

Black Rose shouted at Chuck. Although he was behind her, he still stuck his head out to look around. Does he want to be shot?

Black Rose pressed Chuck's head down heavily with her hand. Chuck felt speechless. "That hurts."

"Hurts? I still want to throw you a slap!" Black Rose said coldly, "Remember, you only have one life. Don't joke around!"

"Got it, Rosie." Chuck nodded.

Black Rose glared at him, but this time she did not say anything. She acquiesced in Chuck's nickname for her.

"There's a sound." Black Rose hushed him. "Over there. I'll go and take a look! You hide here." She climbed forward.

Chuck wanted to go with her. He wouldn't drag her down.

"I said stay here!" Black Rose hissed.

"Stop it. I'm not that bad. Let's go, Rosie." Chuck smiled. Black Rose was too overprotective.

Chuck felt like he was being held in the arms of an elder sister.

Black Rose was mad and wanted to kick Chuck. In this situation, why was Chuck still cheeky and smiling? Wasn't he afraid of death?

Black Rose had nothing to do with Chuck.

They approached the place where the sound came from.

Black Rose was worried that Chuck would be shot, so she pulled him all the way behind her and protected him with her body.

"Stay here, and I'll check it out! The person is probably gone. For killers, they wouldn't shoot at people other than the target after completing their mission." Black Rose analyzed according to her experience.

That's what she did. She wouldn't fire half a million dollars worth of a bullet simply. Besides, to shoot someone other than the target, it would mean creating a nuisance. It would plant a hidden danger to themselves.

Top killers were especially aware of this.

Black Rose drew closer, and she hid behind a stone. She noticed something on the ground and frowned. Chuck ran over and asked, "Rosie... Hey, what's going on with this guy? Why did he throw his gun?"

There was a sniper rifle on the ground.

Chuck was stunned. A sniper rifle was very important to a killer, wasn't it?

The sniper rifle was a killer's weapon and a tool for the killer to make money. Why would the killer throw it?

"Don't move, there may be a trap!" Black Rose used her body to protect Chuck.

She watched around for a while, but she did not feel anything strange.

"Why did this person leave the rifle behind?" Black Rose was using her gun to patrol.

She didn't find anyone else.

"Let me see." Chuck picked it up and looked at it with interest. "It's not bad. There are still bullets in it!"

This was a sniper rifle made in the United States. It was heavy!

"Don't take it. Put it down," Black Rose said angrily.

"I just want to have a look. Maybe I can ask my mom to give me one," Chuck said. However, it was better to find Sophia, who specialized in the creation of weapons.

In terms of guns, Sophia must be more professional than Karen. There were many types of guns.

Perhaps he should ask Sophia about it and let her design a sniper rifle personally for him.

"Chuck!"

Suddenly, a person rushed out of the forest. Her face was pale, and there was a bloody gash on her shoulder.

Chuck was startled. "Sabina!"

It turned out to be Sabina who appeared in front of Chuck. She was shot just now. She couldn't control her hand, and her dagger fell to the ground. Seeing how the situation turned out, Loomis was ecstatic. He turned around and took the opportunity to kick Sabina away!

Sabina was seriously injured. The shot was about to ruin her arm.

She had no choice. Faced with the siege of four bodyguards, she tried her best to escape.

There were still many bodyguards chasing after her. In fact, Sabina was the one who would seek revenge for the smallest grievance!

Therefore, Sabina wanted to find the guy who shot her!

She didn't expect to see Chuck holding a rifle as soon as she found the place using her sixth sense.

Sabina knew a lot about guns. The gun that hit her was definitely the rifle in Chuck's hand!

If Chuck had it in his hand, it meant that the person who shot her earlier was him?

At this moment, Sabina felt betrayed and infuriated!

Why did Chuck hit her? Why?

Did she misjudge? Was Chuck actually a hypocritical and backstabbing guy?

"Chuck, I'll kill you!" Sabina murmured to herself.

Facing the bodyguards behind her, Sabina didn't waste any time. She was shot in the shoulder. She had to escape to survive!

Her eyes were cold, and so was her voice.

There was anger hidden in her voice.

Chuck was astonished. He finally found Sabina and was pleasantly surprised. Sabina was still alive, but she was badly injured.

Chuck felt distressed. Sabina, the friend he hadn't known in a long time, was injured heavily.

Chuck wanted to take her away.

However, the indifferent look in Sabina's eyes was unfamiliar.

What happened?

Chuck was at a loss. "Sabina," he said.

"Fine! I regret letting you go. I regret it!"

Only Sabina's cold voice could be heard. She rushed into the forest with a whoosh and disappeared in an instant.

What the hell was going on? Chuck was confused. Why did Sabina say that to him?

Chuck was dumbfounded when he saw Sabina's eyes. She had a murderous look!

In other words, Sabina wanted to kill him just now!

"Sabina thought you shot her." Black Rose immediately understood what's going on. If it was her, she would have thought so too.

As a killer, she would not abandon her rifle unless she was dead!

Chuck's hand was holding the rifle that had hit her. Of course, Sabina treated him coldly.

"Me? Why would I shoot her?" Chuck understood and threw the rifle in his hand.

"Rifle. No sniper would ever lose his rifle. It's common sense. You had the sniper rifle, so she thought you shot her," Black Rose said.

Chuck was speechless. This was a serious misunderstanding. Sabina really wanted to kill him just now!

"Sabina, it's not me. It's not me..." Chuck chased after her, but Sabina's speed was too fast. She disappeared in the blink of an eye.

But all of a sudden, Black Rose turned pale with fright!

"Chuck, get out of the way! There are bullets!" She pushed Chuck away.

In fact, Chuck had already felt the shots. He was about to hide when Black Rose pushed him.

Boom!

A bullet hit a tree.

The explosion sound was extremely harsh!

Black Rose was lying on Chuck's body. "Someone's coming. There are guns, many guns... Let's hide!"

Chapter 730

Chuck also heard the sound of footsteps coming after them. No wonder Sabina ran so fast.

Loomis' subordinates were chasing after her!

He wanted to kill her!

At this time, Sabina was seriously injured, so she could only flee.

However, Chuck was puzzled about the identity of the rifle's owner. Who was the guy?

Chuck knew he had been set up. Someone deliberately left the rifle there, biding their time for the fleeing Sabina to see him.

This was an attempt to sabotage his relationship with Sabina. This person must have an ulterior motive. Who was it?

Chuck felt furious. Sabina had stared at him as if she didn't know who he was. However, Chuck didn't blame her because he happened to be holding the sniper rifle.

It was normal for Sabina to misunderstand the situation.

Chuck sighed. He thought of how badly injured Sabina was. He didn't know if she could survive.

"Go!" Black Rose pulled Chuck away.

There were too many people coming from behind them, all armed with guns! They wanted to kill Sabina.

"Okay, Rosie." Chuck did not stop and ran quickly with her.

Chuck's running speed was extremely fast, just like Black Rose's. It was almost the same as Sabina's.

Loomis had too many people and they couldn't fight head-to-head against them.

More than a dozen people came out of the woods!

Each of them had guns in their hands!

They looked fierce and vicious.

Suddenly, a sharp-eyed leader spotted Chuck and Black Rose!

He immediately made a call.

A video call.

The call was connected.

"Young Master! We've found the other two. Should we kill them?" The leader of the group pointed the camera in Chuck's direction.

When Loomis saw the person who appeared on the screen, he smiled sinisterly. "What an ingrate! I don't care why Chuck came looking for me. This is just like a sheep entering a tiger's den! Kill! Kill all three of them for me! Bring that man's head back to me!"

Loomis had just been caught by Sabina, thus his mind had changed dramatically.

The shame that Sabina had given him, he would pay back twice as much.

"Yes!"

The man who took the lead hung up the phone and ordered, "Kill the two people who just ran away. Young Master wants the man's head!"

These bodyguards rushed out with killing intent!

Whoosh!

Guns and bullets rained down.

Chuck and Black Rose were running ahead. Chuck could even feel the bullets slide past him.

This made his scalp tingle. While Black Rose looked calm and steady, her face did not change at all. What a psychological contrast.

"Go there!" Black Rose saw a high spot. She needed to use her sniper skills to quickly kill all of these people!

Chuck glanced at the direction that Black Rose mentioned. The two of them ran over and instantly found a rock to take cover behind. Black Rose's blue eyes were ice-cold!

Crack!

Her fair finger pulled the trigger.

The bullets fired out!

The next second, there was a scream!

Somebody was shot dead.

He didn't even struggle. His head merely exploded, and he died!

The men were all in shock!

Chuck breathed a sigh of relief. As the top killer in the world, Black Rose had the ability to fight back!

Now that Black Rose had stopped the men, they could kill them one by one as soon as possible. At least, they could buy some time for the seriously injured Sabina.

Chuck still had someone else's sniper rifle in his hand, and he had never fired it. He followed Black Rose's actions and fired his gun as well!

Bang!

A bullet shot out and hit a man's leg. Screams rang out from all directions!

"Not bad, you can hit someone on the first try," Black Rose said.

In fact, Black Rose felt surprised. Chuck was steady and smart enough. He was a person who was really a genius in fighting and killing!

Black Rose felt that with such a scary talent, if he didn't study at that time and became a mercenary directly, he could probably stand out quickly!

"Be careful!"

Black Rose suddenly shouted. A bomb was thrown over! She was going to pull Chuck away, but he had already grasped her first.

His reaction speed seemed to have exceeded the top killer's.

Black Rose was astonished!

Chuck jumped away with her in his arms!

Boom!

The bomb exploded.

It was earth-shattering!

"I'm supposed to be protecting him, but now he's protecting me instead?" Black Rose thought.

She didn't expect it.

Plop!

She fell on Chuck's body and Chuck used his body to protect her. In this moment, she felt warmth flowing through her heart.

She didn't understand, but she was in a daze.

Was this the feeling of being touched?

"Let's move!"

Chuck got up from the ground and pulled Black Rose to run. They had bombs. If they did not run, they would be waiting to die.

"Chuck..." Black Rose was at a loss.

She felt like she was in a dream. She never thought that she would be protected by a man.

It was the first time she had felt so good. This feeling was amazing.

She enjoyed this feeling. "Crack!"

In a heartbeat!

As they ran, Chuck suddenly felt Black Rose's speed slow down. He turned to look and was astonished.

Black Rose was shot!

She was bleeding out!

"Rosie, are you okay?" Chuck immediately held her. Black Rose's face had already turned pale.

Chuck felt guilty and ran off with her in his arms!

Chuck didn't expect her to get shot.

"Rosie, how are you?" He was worried and angry.

"I'm fine." Black Rose shook her head and closed her eyes.

Her body felt heavy, like something was pulling her body down.

Chuck was furious and shocked when he saw Black Rose covered in blood. Was she dead?

He seemed to have gone crazy and started shooting with the rifle.

Boom!

Bang!

Each shot represented Chuck's fury!

More than ten people chased after them, all trained masters!

The gunfight broke out instantly.

Suddenly, there was a scream!

It was like a watermelon had exploded. Blood filled the sky!

Someone got their head blown off!

A bullet appeared in the air and shot a person's head!

Chuck looked up and saw a jet.

Karen was up there.

Boom!

Karen's eyes were piercingly cold. Her marksmanship was a godsend, hitting her target accurately with every shot. Every time she pulled the trigger, there was a scream!

"Master! A master! Get back quickly!"

The men over there exclaimed and were completely frightened by Karen's shooting.

They escaped and rushed back immediately. Chuck kept pressing the trigger until there were no more bullets.

"Mom, Black Rose was shot!" Chuck shouted.

The jet dropped down a rope. Chuck grabbed the rope and climbed up with Black Rose in his arms. After that, the jet took Chuck out of there.

Black Rose needed first aid.

Otherwise, she would die!

Chuck climbed up the jet to see that Karen, Betty, Yvette and Willa were waiting for them.

When Yvette and Willa saw the bloodstains on Chuck's body, they felt distressed.

Karen held Black Rose. She ripped her clothes off and began to operate on her. She was going to remove the bullet for Black Rose. Karen was fast and very professional!

The jet had the required medical equipment on board.

The whole process lasted half an hour, and they had almost reached home. Karen wiped the sweat from her forehead, but Black Rose still had not woken up. Chuck got nervous. "Mom, how is Black Rose?"

She was motionless and looked pale. Was she dead?  4
