

Chapter 742

Chuck didn't want to stay here anymore because Betty was about to pick him up.

"Take good care of her. She has suffered a lot both mentally and physically." Chuck was also puzzled as to why Cheryl didn't stay in her hometown. Why did she have to come here?

"Yes, Young Master!" Maple nodded. She was very curious about why Chuck had taken special care of Cheryl, but she did not dare to ask.

"Okay, I'm leaving. Give her anything she wants. She may come over here for some project. Arrange everything she wants to do, but don't let her know it was me." After Chuck finished his words, he left.

He had to drive to the airport. When he reached the airport, he should be able to meet up with Betty. He had to get back quickly and get Black Rose to wake up sooner.

"Yes! Please take care, Young Master." Maple bowed politely.

Seeing Chuck leave, Maple's heart skipped a beat. As a staff of the hotel, she had witnessed everything that happened in the hotel lobby.

Chuck was too dominant. She couldn't help but be moved as a woman, but Chuck didn't pay much attention to her the whole time.

She felt deplorable.

She was also envious of Cheryl, who was in the room. The woman was actually so doted on by Chuck.

She went downstairs, but Cheryl ran out. "The man, where is that man? He..."

"As I said, he left a long time ago." Maple shook her head.

"No, he sounded familiar to me earlier when he was talking to me. It was Chuck..." Cheryl was aggravated and lost.

She was unconscious just then. But when she came to her senses, she remembered and recognized Chuck's voice.

But why did Chuck leave? She understood that she had just confessed to him. She thought that she was going to die, so she poured her heart out to him.

Chuck was not interested in her. He heard it and wanted to avoid her. This was a silent refusal.

"Chuck. That guy just now was a young man in his twenties with a great figure, right?" Cheryl was nervous. She hoped it was Chuck, but she also didn't want it to be...

Maple was stunned. Did this woman know Chuck?

So Chuck left on purpose?

Cheryl saw the expression on Maple's face. "It was him, wasn't it?"

Maple wanted to nod. But thinking of Chuck's instructions when he was about to leave, she shook her head and denied, "No, Miss. He's not like what you've described. He's slightly chubby and old..."

"Don't lie to me. He obviously sounded young! It must've been Chuck. Stop lying to me!" Cheryl was in agony.

Chuck saved her and gave her a new life, but he also rejected her without saying a word.

"No, it really wasn't!" Maple was helpless.

Cheryl burst into tears. How pitiful she was.

Maple wanted to say something to comfort Cheryl, but she couldn't. Chuck had given an order to her.

"Yes, it was!"

Cheryl ran back to the room crying. As the effect of the drug in her body had not yet worn off, she fell and scraped the skin of her leg. Maple rushed to help her up.

Cheryl bit her lip, got up on her own, and went back to the room.

Trembling, she took out the phone and found Chuck's number.

She called him.

Beep...

Those seconds seemed to last a century.

Finally, the call was connected. "Hello..."

Chuck had arrived at the airport. He answered the phone. Anyway, it was fine as long as he didn't admit it.

"Chuck."

"Yes, what's the matter?" He asked briefly.

Cheryl was in tears. That voice. It was the same voice. It was really Chuck who saved her just now. The only thing she didn't understand now was the reason why Chuck came here.

"I, I was saved by someone. I want to thank him," Cheryl said.

"Okay, then go ahead."

"But he left."

"Oh, maybe he didn't think a thank you was necessary."

Chuck paused for a few seconds, and Cheryl was also a smart woman.

She knew that it was him.

"I know there's a huge gap between us. I'm a divorcee, I have a child, but he's still young... I understand, but I don't feel like emotions can be controlled," Cheryl said as she shed even more tears.

Chuck also heard the sound of tears dripping down her face. He sighed and said, "Maybe he didn't mind that, but he didn't think too much towards that direction, so..."

"I understand, but I'll wait for him. This time, he saved me. I'll be loyal to him..."

Yes, Cheryl felt very disappointed and agonized. However, she decided that even if Chuck did not like her, she would not like anyone else.

"There's no need to do that, " Chuck said.

"No, I will." Cheryl cried, and her voice was firm.

Chuck had nothing to say. He didn't do anything to Cheryl. How could she love him?

It was too late to think about it now. Things had already come to this point.

"You're still young. Don't..." Chuck felt a headache.

"I'm 29 years old. I'm not getting any younger. The best years of my life are over. I'm sorry for telling you all this. Goodbye!"

By the time the phone was hung up, Cheryl was already crying on the ground.

Chuck kept silent. Then, he let out a sigh.

Cheryl was perfect. She was beautiful and had a good figure, but Chuck didn't have any feelings for her. If he did, he could've gotten her when the Champ family was about to collapse.

He didn't like her now, and he never will.

Chuck felt sorry for her. She was still young, so there was no need for her to be so extreme.

Perhaps if he met her in the future, he should talk to her openly. She was only 29 years old and had a lot of time. After all, Cheryl was good at maintaining her appearance. Even if she was in her forties, she would still have a great charm!

Alas!

Whir!

Betty drove the plane over. Chuck put his emotions aside.

"Young Master!"

Betty got off the plane. "Did you get the medicine?"

Honestly, Betty was shocked. How long had it been? Chuck had gotten the medicine in less than a day? That was not something ordinary people could do! It was too fast!

"Yes, I got the medicine. Let's go back now." Chuck could not wait to board the plane.

Betty breathed a sigh of relief. If Chuck really got it, there was a high possibility that Black Rose would wake up.

Betty went to the aircraft controls.

At this time, Chuck's phone rang. It was a call from the hotel.

"Young Master, she has been crying nonstop. What do I do?" Maple was helpless. In the room, Cheryl was wailing so hard that her heart was broken.

"Let her cry. After a while, she will be fine." Chuck didn't say much.

She could only accept it with tears.

Betty was intrigued. What did Chuck mean?

But, she didn't ask much. The plane headed straight for the US.

"Miss, don't cry. Why can't you let go?" Maple was comforting Cheryl.

As a woman, she couldn't endure it anymore.

"He refused me..." Cheryl was pitiable. Maple sighed. It turned out to be what she thought. She now understood why Chuck had left like that. It turned out that Cheryl liked Chuck.

Cheryl liked Chuck, but the latter did not return her feelings.

Chapter 743

"Chuck, we're almost there." Betty was controlling the jet. They were almost arriving in the US.

"Okay." Chuck looked forward to seeing Black Rose again.

"By the way, what's going on with the Yeager family?"

In addition to this question, Chuck wanted to know what was going on with Sabina.

She had been shot. But with her physical strength trained from childhood, she should've been able to withstand it.

Chuck hoped that Sabina would be fine. Yet, he thought of the cold look in her eyes the last time she left. Chuck still felt speechless until now.

Sigh, God knew when the misunderstanding could be solved!

How could it be possible for him to shoot Sabina?

Sigh!

Chuck sighed repeatedly.

"Loomis has become the family head." Betty's beautiful eyes sparkled.

This was to be expected by Chuck. Fortunately, it took him less than a day to find the medicine Black Rose needed.

If he wasted too much time, something bad would definitely happen.

"He should have already done something to my mom, right?" Chuck asked coldly.

With such a sinister character, Loomis was able to kill even his own grandfather to become the head of the family. Was there anything he couldn't do?

"Not yet! About three hours after you went to look for the doctor, Loomis took the seat of the family head."

Chuck understood. It wasn't hard to imagine how arrogant Loomis would be once he became the head of the Second Family in the world.

Chuck could imagine it as soon as he thought about it.

"What does Mom plan to do about it?"

This was the most important issue. After Karen had taken over the Oatker family, her strength had increased greatly. But as a hidden family, there were dozens of generations of inherited resources in the Yeager family.

Although Karen was powerful, the difference between them was definitely there.

"President Lee hasn't said anything yet, but you can rest assured." Betty had followed Karen for so long. Of course, she believed Karen.

Chuck also trusted Karen.

He would ask Karen again once he was back home. But they had to save Black Rose first.

Betty flew the plane back home.

Chuck ran off the plane and went to Black Rose's ward. Karen looked haggard and was cleaning something for Black Rose.

"Mom, how is Black Rose?"

Chuck was tensed. Black Rose had her own story. She was abandoned by her parents since she was a child.

Chuck still wanted to know the story behind Black Rose.

Her pale face still looked beautiful.

Black Rose was the most beautiful woman in the United States that Chuck had ever seen. "God, please don't take her life! " He murmured.

"She's fine. You came back just in time. Where's the medicine?" Karen was relieved.

Chuck came back earlier than she had expected.

Obviously, Chuck had grown up.

"Here." Chuck took out the medicine in a hurry.

"Okay, wait outside!"

The surgery process could not be disturbed. Otherwise, even Karen could make a mistake because the injury was very close to the heart.

The other doctors didn't have a psychological quality like Karen's. Only Karen could perform this kind of surgery.

"Okay, take your time." Chuck left.

The surgery took a long time. Karen was sweating profusely. Finally, the surgery was completed. It was up to God's will whether Black Rose would wake up or not.

Karen had tried her best.

She wiped her sweat in exhaustion and came out of the ward.

"Mom, she..."

"She should be fine now, but it will take some time for her to wake up."

Karen's answer was a relief to Chuck. "I'm glad to hear that, Mom. By the way, if Black Rose wakes up this time, don't assign her to protect me anymore."

It was Chuck who harmed Black Rose and almost got her killed. Chuck really couldn't let her continue to protect him.

"Chucky, you're already better than Black Rose. Indeed, you don't need her protection anymore. But, are you sure?" Karen asked.

"Yes."

"Then I'll talk about it with her, if she wakes up." Karen respected Chuck's ideas.

"Okay, I will tell her when she wakes up." Chuck would give a pile of money to Black Rose.

So that she could find a place to recover.

The money represented Chuck's guilt towards her.

"Mom, how are we going to deal with Loomis? I have time now!" Chuck wanted to have some fun with Loomis.

Karen's eyes sparkled.

She already had an idea!

"Master!"

When the Yeager family members faced the new family head, they all bowed down.

Even though the new head might be younger than most people on the spot, but he was the master now!

Looms enjoyed this kind of feeling.

It was comfortable!

"Well, did you catch Sabina, who killed Grandpa? How did it go?" Loomis asked indifferently.

Indeed, the position of the family head made Loomis' temperament change greatly. At this moment, the feeling of being in control was extraordinarily clear to him.

"Master, I've sent someone after her, but there's still no news!" A man said with his head bowed.

"No news yet? This Sabina is crazy and strong. If you catch her, kill her on the spot. Remember to bring her head back. I want to use her head to pay tribute to Grandpa!" Loomis squeezed out some tears.

Loomis felt that Sabina wouldn't live much longer. She was shot!

How could she escape?

It was impossible!

He just had to wait for someone to bring her head over to him.

"Yes, master! I'm going to deal with it now." The man left.

"Master, how about Chuck and Karen..."

"I already have a plan in mind," Loomis said with a hideous smile.

He had already planned how to deal with Chuck's family!

He would torture Chuck slowly and let him understand that the Yeager family was not one to be trifled with!

"Loomis, Chuck and Karen seem to just be at home," Thomson said. The Yeager family had always received information and news quickly.

"I know. They'd better be at home! Dad, now go find out everyone Chuck knows. I want Chuck to know that his friends are dead because of him!" Loomis laughed menacingly.

Plop!

A woman covered with blood was lying on the ground. She really had no strength left.

Sabina, she was still alive!

She wanted to live, so she forced herself to crawl up. How could she have a rest here?

According to her experience, Sabina knew that she had to find a hiding place immediately.

She went to the bar.

To meet Sean, the man who was dedicated to receiving her.

"Miss Sabina..." Sean was surprised.

"Prepare a quiet place. I want to stitch up my own wound," Sabina said coldly.

"Miss Sabina, this way, please." Sean led the way hurriedly.

Sabina came to a room.

At this moment, Sabina felt that her whole arm was no longer hers. She was stitching the wound herself. A chill ran through her heart and beautiful eyes.

Chuck had actually fired a shot at her!

She let out a scream.

Pained and exhausted, Sabina fell into a temporary coma. Tears flowed out of the corners of her eyes. It was from being betrayed...

Chapter 744

Sabrina had become cold as ice after treating her own wounds. Betrayal by a person she trusted, especially Chuck!

"Miss Sabina, do you have any plans?"

Sean asked with concern.

The current situation was not very promising for Sabina.

Sean already knew that Loomis was in the position of the family head, moreover he wanted to kill Sabina and cut off her head.

Sabina was silent for a while. In fact, she did have a plan!

She definitely had a plan to take back the Yeager family!

The Yeager family belonged to her! How could she let Loomis destroy a family that had been passed down for thousands of years?

That was absolutely not allowed!

"Thank you. I'll leave first, or else I'd get you into trouble," Sabina said. Her sixth sense told her that someone was coming this way.

She must leave as soon as possible because she was seriously injured!

She must be alive to have a chance.

"Miss Sabina, here's some cash. Take it."

Sean took out some money, but Sabina refused. "Thank you, Sean. Please clean up all the traces. If anyone comes by, say that you never saw me. Otherwise, something might happen to you!"

After that, Sabina immediately left. Else, Sean might really get into trouble.

Sean sighed. "Loomis is too irascible. He can't be the head of the family. This position should be Miss Sabina's, so that the Yeager family can have a future..."

Not long after, someone from the Yeager family came over. "Where is she?"

"Who are you talking about?"

"D*mn it!"

Black Rose felt like she had a long dream. She even dreamed of her parents, who abandoned her. She couldn't see her parents' faces, but they kept chasing her.

She was fleeing in agony and then woke up.

When she opened her eyes, the first person she saw was Chuck.

It hurts!

She had been shot. Shouldn't she have died?

When Black Rose was unconscious, she thought she couldn't take it anymore. Yet she was still breathing. This was incredible but true.

"Black Rose, you finally woke up." Chuck let out a long sigh of relief.

Black Rose's face was pale. Chuck's heart ached for her. This woman had protected him for so long.

But he almost got her killed.

"Black Rose, I'm sorry," Chuck sincerely apologized.

"Those men shot me, not you." Black Rose shook her head and tried to sit up, but she wasn't strong enough.

"Don't move. I've prepared everything for you." Chuck had made preparations. Black Rose had just woken up from her serious injury, and the situation was still dangerous.

Now that Loomis would definitely deal with him, he must send Black Rose away.

"Prepared what?" Black Rose was taken aback.

"Have some porridge first." Chuck fed her porridge. Black Rose shook her head and refused, but she did not have the strength to hold the bowl, so she could only accept his service silently.

After she finished eating, Black Rose felt that she had regained a little strength.

"What have you prepared?" Black Rose found that Chuck's expression was solemn. What was going on?

She understood that Loomis was going to take action.

"Here's your card, take it." Chuck took out a card and passed it to Black Rose.

"What are you doing?" She frowned.

"Letting you have a good rest."

"Are you firing me?" Black Rose was mad. She felt furious and coughed violently.

"No, I just want you to have a good rest. I have arranged a place for you," Chuck said. Of course, that was not what he meant.

In the current situation, Black Rose needed time to recover.

Slap!

Black Rose threw the card that Chuck had given her.

"I don't want your money!"

Black Rose turned cold, and she tried to sit up by herself. At this time, her heart was aching as if it had been ripped apart.

Chuck sighed. "Black Rose, don't be like this. This is my apology."

"You don't even know what I want!" Black Rose roared with all her strength!

"What do you want? Tell me, and I will give it to you!" Chuck was stunned.

How could Black Rose be pissed off? Why?

Shouldn't she be happy to receive money?

How could this be?

"You really don't understand what I want." Black Rose shook her head in disappointment.

In fact, she didn't know what she wanted either. Loomis was coming to deal with them. She would never leave just because Chuck told her to.

Even if she was seriously injured, she could not move, nor would she leave!

Black Rose tried her best to walk out.

Chuck caught up with her. "Jet. I've asked Betty to prepare a jet for you!"

"You don't need to be so kind! Chuck, we'll never see each other again, ever!"

Black Rose dragged her body, which was in great pain, away.

Frozen on the spot, Chuck was silent for a long time. He did not expect that Black Rose's reaction would be this.

Chuck could not forget the protection she gave him. She had shadowed him for a long time.

"Where's Black Rose, Chucky?" Karen asked.

She happened to pass by.

"She left by herself."

"Huh? She..."

Karen was surprised. This was out of her expectations, but it was normal, and good enough. Black Rose had protected Chuck for so long, and this time she almost died. She could leave now.

She couldn't let Black Rose give up her life, could she?

Karen was not so overbearing.

"Let her go on her own. If you meet in the future, you can greet her nicely."

"I don't think there will be a chance." Chuck shook his head. He couldn't forget the look in Black Rose's eyes when she left.

That hateful but complicated look.

In other words, he had ended things with Black Rose.

In this way, even if they met again, they would be like strangers!

What a pity. But that was just the way Black Rose was. She was used to being alone.

Chuck did not regret getting to know Black Rose. He just regretted that he had angered her just now.

Sigh!

Chuck followed Karen out.

Boom!

Black Rose's face remained pale as she drove away from the place alone. She felt uncomfortable and abandoned. Why did Chuck do this?

She would never see Chuck again, ever!

This was her personality!

She drove to a place. Yes, she came to Alexandrina again.

When Alexandrina saw Black Rose, she was shocked. In fact, she also knew about Black Rose's situation, but she did not expect her to be so gravely injured.

"Black Rose, you..."

"I'm going to retire. You don't have to call me in the future." That's right, Black Rose wasn't going to be an assassin anymore.

She wanted to go to a place. A place that Chuck could never find.

She was tired and ready to retire.

Hearing this, Alexandrina was startled. "Why?"

Black Rose was the number one assassin in the world. Why would she suddenly retire?

"For no reason. I quit." Black Rose left, and Alexandrina caught up with her in shock. "What's wrong?"

"Nothing, don't worry. If Chuck asks about me, don't tell him about my situation," Black Rose said.
