

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 419

Even though Zhu Linlin saved the company this time and garnered the support of many staff, Ouyang Yanyan became wary of her because of the rumors spread around the office. As such, she did not reward Zhu Linlin and merely reinstated her as a shareholder, nor did she increase her shares. Hence, Zhu Linlin remained as the third-in-command at the company.

However, Zhu Linlin did not express any discontentment since she was not an overly ambitious person. If she was, she would never have agreed to merge their companies.

The dust finally settled at the Zhu family. Qin Jun managed to teach Ouyang Yanyan a lesson and shed light on how important Zhu Linlin was to the business.

If something similar happened again, it would not be as easy to resolve.

Ding dong!

The screen flashed with Wang Dongxue's message on WeChat.

"Jun, are you free the next few days?"

"Yes, I am free. What's up?"

"I...I would like you to send me home. Are you alright with that?"

“Sure, no problem.”

Even though he never visited her home, he met with Wang Dongxue’s mother. She was a grounded and kind-hearted person and even gave Qin Jun a jade Guanyin, which he wore on a daily basis.

Wang Dongxue stared at the message on her screen as her heart raced.

Qin Jun and her became closer recently. It was as though a layer of ice broke between them and Wang Dongxue felt that it was time for him to visit her home.

He should see how she lived since she was young.

Wang Dongxue came from a poor family and when she was a child, she had to help her mother on the farm while going to school at the same time. Her parents were farmers and they lived within the four walls of their small home.

Wang Dongxue wanted to go on to the next stage with Qin Jun, and hence, she wanted him to take a look at her living conditions so that she would not be disliked later on.

Of course, she believed that Qin Jun would not dislike her just because she was poor.

Since he was sending Wang Dongxue home and they were headed to the villages, there was no way he could drive his sports car. As such, Qin Jun phoned Chen Shu to borrow her Mercedes-Benz G Class SUV.

Chen Shu agreed immediately since this car was gifted to her by Qin Jun in the first place.

As he arrived at the school in the car, he realized that Wang Dongxue had luggage of various sizes with her. There were her clothes, and then the gifts for her parents.

“Jun, we are celebrating my uncle’s birthday this time. Why don’t I get two bottles of wine and say that it’s from you?”

This was Qin Jun’s first time visiting and it was natural that he should bring some welcome gifts. However, Wang Dongxue did not want him to spend too much, and so, she thought that it would be better if she bought it in his name instead.

Qin Jun laughed and remarked, “Well, it’s no trouble. Since it’s your uncle’s birthday and he likes alcohol, I will get someone to send a few bottles over.”

After which, Qin Jun dialed Meng Wengang and asked him to deliver a couple of bottles of alcohol.

Very quickly, Meng Wengang’s secretary arrived with a box of Maotai. It was different from the ones sold aside and the packaging specified that it was made in Guizhou.

After all, whatever Meng Wengang drank was definitely authentic and different from others.

After packing the box into the boot, the duo set off. The journey was not a long one but the roads were bumpy. Fortunately, the SUV lived up to its name and they arrived after just a few hours.

As the car approached the entrance of the village, they spotted a couple standing there waiting to welcome them.

“Jun, that’s our village.”

It was a normal village and there was a big sign in tatters at the entrance stating “Lotus Flower Village”.

The couple that stood at the entrance were Wang Dongxue's parents, Xu Juan and Wang Aimin. Her uncle, Wang Yongsheng, was also there.
