

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 442

The scene was really awkward.

Just like what Dongxue's classmate had pointed out earlier, the two evening dresses were complementary to each other, in a similar fashion to what a bride and her bridesmaid would wear.

But at a cocktail party, no one would want to be seen as an accessory. If Kong Lingling was to attend this party by herself, the situation would still be acceptable. However, with the presence of Wang Dongxue, she instantly became an accessory, just like a maid. This made Kong Lingling extremely unhappy.

She would never have expected that this evening dress was purchased by Wang Dongxue!

The atmosphere in front of the mirror with both of them standing side by side was extremely awkward.

Kong Lingling's expression got gloomier and she walked towards Wang Dongxue slowly. She grabbed hold of Dongxue's evening dress and said in an imposing manner, "Give me the dress!"

Wang Dongxue struggled for a while and replied, "This is my dress..."

Kong Lingling snorted, "So what if it's your dress? You only paid twenty thousand for it anyway. I will give you the same sum and you better take it off now!"

"I... I'm not selling..."

Wang Dongxue really liked her dress and it was a gift to herself. Furthermore, who wouldn't want to be dressed up in their best form for such occasion. Of course she would refuse to sell it.

Kong Lingling gripped Wang Dongxue's dress tightly and said further, "If you don't sell it to me, I will rip your dress apart and you will have nothing to wear!"

"You..."

Kong Lingling looked at Wang Dongxue ferociously and insisted on getting the latter to remove her dress. If Wang Dongxue refused, her dress would most likely get rip apart.

Kong Lingling actually did not mind wearing her pink evening dress as long as Wang Dongxue was not wearing the white one.

By threatening Wang Dongxue, Kong Lingling was able to snatch the evening dress by force.

After putting on the white princess-liked evening dress, Kong Lingling was fully satisfied. When she saw the red ruby necklace on Wang Dongxue's neck, she became greedy and snatched it from Wang Dongxue.

"You are lending me this necklace tonight."

Kong Lingling then ran out of the changing room after taking the necklace with her.

"No way!"

Wang Dongxue wanted to chase after her but she was still in a mess and was not ready to step out.

Under such circumstance, she had no choice but to put on the pink evening dress and ran after Kong Lingling.

When she stepped out of the changing room, Wang Dongxue saw Qin Jun waiting for her at the corner of the ballroom. But she did not approach him as she wanted Qin Jun to see her in her best form.

She tilted her head and covered her forehead with her hand and walked quickly across the ballroom to the second floor.

“Kong Lingling! Give me back my things!”

Kong Lingling, who was wearing Wang Dongxue’s dress and necklace, only looked at her arrogantly and said with a smirk, “I don’t understand what you are talking about.”

Wang Dongxue approached her and wanted to snatch back her necklace but she was pushed away by Kong Lingling and fell to the ground.

After that, Kong Lingling summoned a man over.

“Young Master Ding.”

Ding Hang heard his name being called and walked towards Lingling. He said, “You looked really gorgeous tonight, Lingling. What’s the matter?”

Kong Lingling pointed at Wang Dongxue and said, “I’ll let you play with this girl tonight. What do you think?”

Ding Hang took a glance at Dongxue and was amazed by her beauty.

What a gorgeous girl!

Her fair skin tone, curvaceous figure and long legs are really incomparable.

And couple with the sweetness of her face and her cherry lips...

But Ding Hang still managed to calm down and replied reasonably, "Lingling, don't joke with me. Those who boarded the Golden Titan are either the wife or daughter of the rich. How would I dare to play with anyone here?"

Kong Lingling smirked and replied, "This girl is not the wife or daughter of any rich person. She won her cruise ticket from a lucky draw. She's actually my classmate who had to rely on the university's student grant to foot her bills in the last semester."
