

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 449

“Hi everyone, I’m Dongxue. I heard that you all missed me. So I’ve decided to come and see you.”

All her viewers became excited and the live-streaming channel became busy and lively all of a sudden.

As Wang Dongxue did not have other talent, she could not just perform a dance, especially not the dance moves that she had just learned.

When she saw an open teppanyaki kitchen table at the food corner, Wang Dongxue walked towards that direction.

“Please wait for a moment.”

Wang Dongxue then switched off her live-streaming and asked, “Jun, do you think I can use the kitchen there?”

Qin Jun nodded his head and snapped his fingers to get Xue Dalin’s attention. He said, “Go and make the necessary arrangements.”

“Sure!” Xue Dalin answered without any hesitation. He would go to great lengths to satisfy his Qin Jun’s request. It does not even matter to him even if Qin Jun were to ask him to buy the entire Golden Titan, let alone this small kitchen.

Xue Dalin sought the help of a few crew members and the teppanyaki table was instantly transformed into a studio with lightings and cellphone tripod being set up. Qin Jun also joined Xue Dalin in playing the role of an in-person audience seated before the teppanyaki table.

After that, the live-streaming channel was back in session and a princess-like chef can be seen on the screen.

In actual fact, many of Wang Dongxue's fans were following her only because of her look. Learning how to cook was secondary to them.

Some had not even attempted cooking in their lives and they treated Wang Dongxue's channel as a cooking show.

Everyone was pleased with what they saw especially when she was about to cook in her evening dress.

"Today is rather special as I'm currently onboard the Golden Titan. We will not be making any home-cooked food but instead We'll be making teppanyaki using this available kitchen."

When it comes to cooking, Wang Dongxue was never afraid. She could easily start at any place using any available utensils.

After Wang Dongxue began her live-streaming session, her popularity shot up and her link was pinned to the homepage of the website.

The channel of Little Miss Fox, which was initially on the homepage, had been moved down.

Little Miss Fox became upset upon seeing this. How did this b**** become so popular? She must have bought her way through!

Although she was upset, she was not able to do anything about it. Many viewers were asking for Wang Dongxue to do a live-streaming and the online traffic all went to her after she tuned in.

Only the die-heart fans were left in Little Miss Fox's channel. Although the number was not great, they all gave some suggestions and ideas to Little Miss Fox.

“Miss Fox, why don’t you go with the flow and do a one-on-one challenge with her?”

“Don’t be silly. It will be embarrassing if I lose another round of one-on-one challenge.”

“Who said that you will lose? Qin Family’s Aunt Feng hasn’t turned up even after half an hour of live-streaming from Dongxue.

“Is that so?”

In the previous two live-streamer challenge, Wang Dongxue won because she was supported by Qin Family’s Aunt Feng who turned the tides and overcame her fans. Even when Little Miss Fox sought the help of a big boss, the end result was still the same.

But when Qin Family’s Aunt Feng was not around, Wang Dongxue would only receive a small amount of rewards from her viewers. After all, she was not the kind of live-streamers who survived through rewards but instead she depended on her own popularity and online traffic flow.

As for Little Miss Fox, she was different. She survived on the support and rewards given to her by her fans. If it wasn’t for the disturbance of Qin Family’s Aunt Feng, there was no chance Wang Dongxue could win in those challenges.

After reading their analysis, Little Miss Fox became excited. She had been humiliated twice and lost to Wang Dongxue in their previous live-streamer challenges. If she could win this round, she would be able to make a comeback.

Little Miss Fox spoke to her fans via the screen, “If I were to launch a live-streamer challenge with her, would all of you reward me?”

“Definitely! Just challenge her! Take your revenge!”

“Sure. I’ll give you everything that I have to support you!”

“I’ll borrow money to reward you. Just launch a live-streamer challenge, Miss Fox!”

After Little Miss Fox pretentiously thanked all her fans, she invited Dongxue to a one-on-one live-streamer challenge.