

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 468

Right at that moment, even the slightest bit of movement from her would have agony flaring from her face. Liu Qingqing did not care that Qin Jun was a man anymore, after all, he was a doctor. She would have to bare herself sooner or later anyway.

Since she was unable to even move, Qin Jun and Ye Wan'er had no choice but to cut her clothes off of her with a pair of scissors.

Once her clothes were removed and they caught a glimpse of her full body, Ye Wan'er could not help but sympathize with the woman. No wonder she would choose the faster way to be cured even though it was so painful.

Qin Jun continued with his work, painstakingly carving away the dead skin. He made liberal use of the powder and acupuncture, hoping to alleviate some of Liu Qingqing's pain. In the end though, there was still a huge difference between being anesthetized and not, so she still had to suffer the agony of having her skin sliced off.

The entire procedure lasted nearly eight hours because Qin Jun had been wary of working too fast. This was technically plastic surgery, so he had to do it as perfectly as possible.

It was a good thing he had extraordinary stamina. If it had been anyone else, they would have been exhausted within the hour, especially since this was such a high-intensity situation.

As it were, Kong Fanlin, who had been grinding the powder non-stop, was close to exhaustion. Respect for Qin Jun swelled in him. No wonder the man was a master; no one else could beat that stamina!

Throughout the procedure, Liu Qingqing had fainted twice from the pain and the excessive stress before waking up from the pain again.

Finally, the surgery was complete. Nearly all of the scar tissue and acne had been cleared off. What remained were some dark spots and acne scars that did not need to be removed by cutting them out. They would gradually disappear in a few months as long as she took some medicine for it.

Liu Qingqing's breathing was erratic as she asked weakly, "Doctor, are we done?"

Qin Jun shook his head and replied, "You can rest for a while first. Don't worry though, what comes next won't hurt a single bit. Ms. Liu, I would like to be the first to congratulate you on a successful surgery."

While it had been a difficult few hours for him, it had also been a draining experience for Liu Qingqing. She had had to endure such intense agony; not just anybody could have done the same thing.

"Are the herbs ready?"

Kong Fanlin nodded as he answered, "I've prepared them all."

"Good."

Turning to his patient, he said, "Ms. Liu, I have to move you into a tub now. Please bear with me."

Walking towards her, he carefully slid his arms underneath her before lifting her up.

The instant their skins touched, Liu Qingqing felt like needles were being stabbed into the raw nerve endings all over her body. Sucking in a deep breath, she stubbornly held back her cries of pain.

The tub he was referring to was filled with ice cubes and cold water. Carrying her over, he gingerly placed her into it.

Once she settled in and the icy water covered her neck, she felt a lot better.

Kong Fanlin was shaking his head as he spoke mournfully, "Such a waste. Master Qin, the contents of this tub are probably worth more than a million in total."

Other than ice, the tub was also filled with expensive herbs like ginseng, snow lotus and cordyceps. Everything that was beneficial for the body was dumped inside in massive amounts.

This would not have mattered much if it were not for one important factor.

Qin Jun had insisted on using cold water. Placing such expensive ingredients in ice water was basically a waste as they were unable to release their beneficial compounds much.

Qin Jun shrugged and stated, "If she can absorb even one percent of that, it would be better than nothing.

"Oh yeah, once she wakes up later, tell her the price."

From a quick glance earlier, he could tell the woman's clothing was simple but expensive. Money was probably not an issue for her.
