

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 471

Who would have known the president of the most popular cosmetic brand in China would be a heavily scarred and ugly woman? No wonder she had not dared to appear in front of the audiences.

This was why Ye Wan'er had not recognized the woman when she first walked in.

Qin Jun chuckled as he replied, "Wan'er, maybe next time you might get a discount when you buy your cosmetics."

"Oooh, that would be great!"

It had been an exhausting day for everyone, so Qin Jun sent them home to rest and gave them the day off tomorrow. He would handle the patients himself.

That night, all social media and news channels exploded with the exact same news.

The president of Stratus Beauty had finally shown her face!

A short two minutes video had been recorded, showing Liu Qingqing wearing a long dress as she held a press conference about developing some new products.

Normally, press conferences like these would not garner much attention. However, the moment news of this press conference got out, the whole world was in a furor about it as everyone scrambled to report and comment on the news.

And the reason for all the excitement was because of Liu Qingqing. The president of Stratus Beauty had always been an elusive figure; for her to suddenly appear in the news after all these years was truly shocking. The extent of her beauty did not help matters.

The internet was ablaze with comments about how unfair it was that she was rich and beautiful.

Other celebrity gossips, even ones orchestrated by the managers of those celebrities, were all thrown aside in favor of this huge piece of news as everyone talked about the woman that was Liu Qingqing.

The image of the founder of a company was truly very important to that company. Immediately after Liu Qingqing had her press conference, Stratus Beauty's share prices skyrocketed.

Naturally, the net worth of the woman herself shot up as well. In fact, if several overseas companies decided to invest in Stratus Beauty, she would be China's richest person by next year!

The next morning, the news channels were still reporting on Liu Qingqing. Experts began to guess this was all a ploy on her part, as she waited till her company was in a tight situation before revealing herself, allowing the company shares to increase.

Qin Jun shook his head in exasperation at these so-called 'experts'.

Just then, the woman in question appeared. Other than her bodyguard Sha Qiang, Liu Qingqing had also brought a female secretary with her.

Taking off her sunglasses, she walked inside the clinic and sat beside Qin Jun. There was a smile on her face as she greeted him, "Mr. Qin."

"You look well, Ms. Billionaire."

The woman shot him a sweet smile. "Thank you. I'm here for my follow-up."

“Alright. Let me take your pulse.”

She placed her hand on the wrist pillow and Qin Jun reached out to take her wrist.

The moment his hand touched hers, a shudder went through her body as her cheeks flushed lightly.
