

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 477

The BMW signaled and drove into the parking lot next to the mall. A man and a woman alighted from the car, dressed to the nines with sunglasses on.

“What’s the matter? It’s only a little splash of water. That’s what you get for standing by the roadside,” the woman said arrogantly.

She was dressed with style, but she sounded obnoxious as soon as she opened her mouth. She acted like she was more superior just because she had a car.

The man walked over, and just as he was about to speak, he saw Wang Dongxue and was stunned. “Dongxue? Is that you?” he asked.

Wang Dongxue was equally stunned. With an awkward expression, she looked at him and said, “President Yan?”

Lingling furrowed her brows and put up her guard. She also knew who the man was. He was Yan Peng, the owner of the cosmetics shop that Lingling and Wang Dongxue used to work at.

He was basically their ex-boss.

Yan Peng was a married man who thought highly of himself just because he had money. He liked fooling around with college girls, and he often harassed Wang Dongxue.

When Yan Peng’s wife found out about his infidelity, she created a scene in the store. Wang Dongxue couldn’t tolerate such people, so she quit her job. Naturally, Lingling followed suit.

The woman next to Yan Peng scowled and lowered her sunglasses, revealing her face. Although her face was covered with a thick layer of face powder, it was obvious that she wasn't that young.

"You again? What a coincidence! Are you here to seduce my husband again?!" she yelled.

The woman looked at Lingling condescendingly, her face flushed with anger.

Lingling quickly pulled Wang Dongxue towards her and shouted back, "What the hell are you talking about? Who would want to seduce your husband?"

The woman snorted and said, "Oh, so the girl doesn't want to take responsibility for her actions. How dare you defend her? I've seen the flirty messages that they've exchanged."

Lingling knew exactly what was going on, so she stood up for Wang Dongxue and said, "You better get your facts right. It was your husband who made the first move on Dongxue, but she rejected him. You can't even keep your man in check, so you'd better watch what you say!"

The woman scoffed, "Well, it takes two to tango. My husband wouldn't be led astray if it weren't for her skimpy dressing."

What the woman said was despicable. She basically accused Wang Dongxue of acting innocent and playing hard to get to intentionally seduce her husband.

Wang Dongxue was humiliated, she never thought that she would bump into Yan Peng's wife downtown. She turned and said to Lingling, "Lingling, let's just go."

She didn't want to continue being involved with such people, so it was best to leave.

The woman unexpectedly grabbed onto Wang Dongxue and shouted at her, "Feeling guilty? Who said you can go before I finish talking?"

"Everyone, come and take a look at this homewrecker!" she continued shouting.

Her remark attracted the attention of countless people in public. They were in the main promenade in the busiest part of town, and there were shops all around. People started crowding around Wang Dongxue, embarrassing her even more.

Qin Jun furrowed his brows and made the woman let go of Wang Dongxue.

He said to her grimly, "If you want to speak, go ahead. But don't get physical."

The woman was immediately enraged when her arm was pulled away by Qin Jun.

"You little piece of shit, how dare you touch me? I'll give you a taste of your own medicine!" she shouted at him and raised her arm towards Qin Jun.

The woman had always been insolent and arrogant. To her, Wang Dongxue was just an ordinary commoner who used to work in her husband's store, so she didn't give two hoots about Qin Jun.
