

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 483

The family now lived in Qingmei Manor, and it was convenient for Qin Jun to go there.

After Zhu Linlin hung up the phone, Zhu Ming, who was beside her, frowned and said, "What's the use in calling him? I've already summoned a doctor who is well-known nationwide. Do you think he can be compared to this doctor?"

Zhu Linlin replied, "Jun's medical skills are superb. When grandpa was sick, Jun was the one who treated him."

Zhu Ming pursed his lips and said, "Whatever, he doesn't even have a professional medical qualification. I don't know how he did it last time, but it was probably just sheer luck. Perhaps he had encountered the same illness before, that's why he knew how to treat grandpa. How can you trust him?"

Zhu Linlin was stumped for words. "Uncle, how could you say such things? Don't forget, the house that you're living in right now belongs to Jun!" she said to him.

Zhu Ming snorted, "He only inherited this house from his forefathers. Do you think he would be capable of managing such a big property if it weren't for us living here? Quit joking!"

"You..." she stuttered.

Zhu Linlin was at a loss for words. She had never met someone so shameless. He was living in Jun's house, yet he talked so mightily from his high horse.

Aunt Zhu rolled her eyes and said, "That's enough arguing. Right now, mum's health is the most important. Having more than one doctor isn't an issue. What do you think, mum?"

The old lady, Ouyang Yanyan, was leaning against a rattan chair. She was a bit weak, but her overall condition wasn't too bad.

"I still don't have much appetite. I feel hungry, but I just don't feel like eating," she said.

Old people were capable of getting all sorts of illnesses. A few days ago, the Old Madam had suddenly lost her appetite and kept throwing up everything she ate. She couldn't even keep her favorite food down. The next day, she became very weak to the point that she trembled from the hunger.

Her family had no other choice but to give her a few intravenous glucose injections. Ouyang Yanyan's condition improved but she still felt weak from head to toe as though she was dying.

She let out a big sigh and said, "I'm really growing old. I have been overworked lately."

After the merger of Zhu Pharmaceutical, the company grew to a very large scale. Since Ouyang Yanyan was the president, she had to put in extra hours to manage the company, and she felt sick after working so hard.

The family consulted a number of doctors but it was to no avail.

Western medicine wasn't of much use since the symptoms weren't severe. The doctors' only advice was to rest and recuperate.

Many suggested for them to consult a TCM practitioner and let the Old Madam to take traditional Chinese medication. Western medicine was too harsh for someone her age, and there were risks of her developing other ailments or side effects.

Ouyang Yanyan looked at her younger generation and said, "Whoever who can find a doctor to treat me well will inherit my position as president of the company."

Everyone was startled when they heard that Ouyang Yanyan was going to abdicate her position.

This was big news indeed. They never thought that the old lady would give up her position just because of her illness. After all, she was the matriarch of the family, and she had always been the one to determine the family's direction. If she were to vacate her position as president, it would mean retirement for her.

The choice would only be between Zhu Linlin and Zhu Ming.

The only promising ones in the Zhu family who were capable of taking over the family business were Zhu Linlin and Zhu Ming.

Ouyang Yanyan wasn't entirely sure who the right person was, so she used this opportunity to make the decision.

Zhu Ming perked up as soon as he heard what Ouyang Yanyan said. He felt good about this. The doctor he summoned was the most famous doctor in the capital. He would definitely be able to cure the Old Madam.

Once she has recovered, he would become the patriarch of the Zhu family and also the new president of Zhu Pharmaceutical!

The first thing he planned to do was fire Zhu Linlin!
