

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 487

Wang Yun wasn't happy when she heard the two of them singing along to each other's tunes.

"Brother, How could you lie through your teeth? It's obvious that mum was cured by Qin Jun's acupuncture. How could you say that her recovery was due to Dr. Lu's efforts?" Wang Yun said angrily.

Zhu Ming snorted and said, "Do you think mum is not aware of whose effort it was? Clearly, it was Dr. Lu's scrape therapy that did the magic. Qin Jun just happened to take advantage of that opportune moment after the scrape therapy. The results are a mere coincidence."

"Tell me, which traditional Chinese treatments have immediate effects? All treatments only produce results after a period of time, isn't it?" he added with contempt.

Wang Yun scrunched her brows and said, "Brother, your reasoning is flawed. Everyone in this house witnessed what happened just now. You are simply talking nonsense!"

"Me? Talking nonsense? That Qin kid is fairly young. Do you think his medical skills are anywhere close to Dr. Lu's level? You didn't even ask around about his skills before inviting him over. Dr. Lu, on the other hand, is the most renowned doctor in Beijing and his position is highly regarded. These two could never be compared to each other!" Zhu Ming retorted.

Suddenly, Ouyang Yanyan banged the table and shouted, "That's enough! Stop bickering!"

She then spoke up, "I really felt a big difference after this genius doctor did scrape therapy on me, and the effects were long lasting. On the other hand, I didn't feel a thing when I received acupuncture treatment from Qin Jun here."

With those words, the results were finalized.

Wang Yun's face turned white and she wanted to argue back, but since Ouyang Yanyan had made the final decision, she could only admit defeat.

Qin Jun sneered. The Old Madam will know who her real healer is soon, he thought to himself.

Scrape therapy was not only ineffective but would also aggravate such illnesses. So, to say that scrape therapy made her feel better was absolutely ridiculous.

On the flip side, Qin Jun's acupuncture techniques were able to produce instantaneous results. As soon as he pierced her finger with the needle, the Old Madam would feel a significant difference.

Ouyang Yanyan made her decision based on bias as she favored Zhu Ming.

She wanted to use this opportunity to hand over Zhu Pharmaceutical to Zhu Ming.

Zhu Linlin frowned in displeasure. Even though she was dissatisfied, she didn't say anything further.

Ouyang Yanyan then said, "From next month onwards, I will hand over all company matters to Zhu Ming, and he will become the patriarch of the Zhu family."

As soon as she said this, everyone felt great relief. Only Wang Yun and her family looked unhappy.

Ouyang Yanyan was way too biased. Zhu Pharmaceutical depended solely on the sales of Zhu Linlin's products, but the company was being handed over to Zhu Ming instead! This was unfair!

When Ouyang Yanyan finished speaking, someone informed them, "The people from He Real Estate are here."

He Real Estate? Everyone was stunned for a second. Why did He Real Estate came to pay them a sudden visit? Both parties did not have any business dealings with each other before.

Although the family didn't know He Real Estate, they didn't want to miss any potential opportunities. Ouyang Yanyan quickly stood up and said, "I'll go out and welcome them personally!"

At the entrance of the manor were a man and a woman dressed in formal wear.

"Hello, we are the managers from He Real Estate. My surname is Sun," one of them said.

Ouyang Yanyan quickly reached out to shake her hand. Manager Sun held high status as a manager in He Real Estate, so the Old Madam treated her with great respect.

Manager Sun then said, "He Real Estate is hosting a product launch next month, and we would like to invite the management of Zhu Group to attend the event. Here is your invitation card. We sincerely hope that you will accept our invitation."

Ouyang Yanyan was flattered. "Of course! We'll definitely be there!" she declared.

The Zhu family had never been invited to such a grand event before, and the invitation from He Real Estate came unexpectedly. She was indeed overjoyed.
