

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 651

Director Gao smiled with a tinge of sadness, “Doctor Yan, don’t underestimate the young doctor. He is very capable. He was the one who successfully treated President Liu Qingqing of her disease.”

Dr. Yan frowned. He, too, had treated Liu Qingqing.

“He healed her? I would like to meet him.”

Liu Qingqing’s disease could be regarded as a well-known case in the medical industry. Her genetic skin disease spread from a small area to the whole body. Their major specialists were helpless; even Dr. Meng who specialized in surgery was clueless. There was no cure.

I thought that Liu Qingqing’s illness was cured by some high-tech methods abroad, but she was cured by a young Chinese doctor with Traditional Chinese Medicine skills?

Even though Qin Jun had not made his appearance, everyone was full of curiosity and interest in him.

Finally, Zhao Likun received a call from Qin Jun. She hurriedly went out to greet him and led him into the studio.

When everyone saw how young he was, the three elderly specialists frowned. Can it be true that someone so young had cured Liu Qingqing? Could it be a scam?

After mutual introductions, Director Gao said, “Mr. Qin, I’m really sorry. It is well known that your medical skills are amazing but you are so young after all. Our program team needs to test you. I hope you can show your medical skills. Please forgive me if this is in any way, offensive to you.”

Qin Jun nodded. Before coming, he had already known what they were going to do and it was interesting to compare medical skills with a few veterans.

“What methods shall we use to learn from one another?”

If we sit here and talk about it, I’m afraid it will be difficult to tell who the winner is.

Director Gao said, “I have prepared three patients, we would like Mr. Qin to kindly make a diagnosis on the spot.”

“Fine.” Qin Jun nodded his head in agreement.

Soon, an adult woman came over.

The woman seemed to be about forty years of age and she limped a little while walking. She looked a little sickly.

The moment he saw this woman, Dr. Yan frowned.

“Aren’t you the ... lady who had a stroke?”

The woman nodded her head and sat down on a chair.

Dr. Yan’s expression changed a little. Obviously, he knew the lady and had treated her before.

This was interesting. Who would have thought that the first patient would have this condition?

Qin Jun asked, "Madam, do you feel sick?"

The woman shivered suddenly and said, "Can you turn off the air conditioning?"

Zhao Likun was taken aback and she quickly spoke to her assistant, "Switch off the air-conditioning first."

After the air-conditioning was turned off, the woman was relieved and she spoke to Qin Jun.

"Doctor, I've had this sickness for a long time, about three or four years, perhaps. Every time I feel the wind blowing on me, I feel sick. My whole body breaks out in cold sweat."

The woman was telling the truth. Just now when the air-conditioning was turned on, she was covered with cold sweat and the front of her blouse was wet. There were drops of perspiration on her forehead.

She continued, "Three years ago, I consulted Doctor Yan. He revealed to me that I was suffering from a stroke and he diagnosed and prescribed medicine for me. The prescription was Pueraria lobata and Guizhi. After three days, I got results. For a long time, there were no more episodes."

But a few days ago, when I was in the bus on the highway, the passenger in front suddenly opened the window and a gust of wind blew directly on me. I fell ill immediately. I felt weak and broke out in a cold sweat. I had thought that I was done for, and that I was sick again."

"After the trip, I realized that I had a relapse."
