

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 673

The Chinese Medicine Forum dominated the top ten trending searches. The entire Internet was filled with information about it and short clips of the live-stream.

There were already a lot of discussions surrounding Traditional Chinese Medicine. Due to how engaging the Chinese Medicine Forum's live-stream was, and the shocking revelation by Qin Jun that he was the old living deity's disciple, the public started discussing it frantically. It had even become the gossip of the day.

When Qin Jun was removing his make-up and changing his costume backstage, he received a message from Su Wenqi.

"It's you?"

Qin Jun played dumb. "What do you mean?"

"Master Qin, I recognized you. Stop pretending."

Qin Jun smiled. Actually, he dressed up in a drastically different style as usual. He did not expect Su Wenqi to recognize him.

As he had to talk on behalf of Traditional Chinese Medicine, he needed to be serious. Hence, Qin Jun's hairstyle, costume and tone were different from usual. He seemed like an old man.

However, Su Wenqi recognized him instantly.

“If everyone knows that you are my rumored boyfriend, you’ll probably become popular again. I can even leech onto your popularity.”

Qin Jun chuckled and replied, “You can just use me for publicity. Anyway, people can’t see my face.”

Su Wenqi replied, “Are you serious? If you agree, I’ll actually use you for publicity.”

“Go ahead.”

Within half an hour, another news went viral on Weibo.

A netizen revealed a photo of Su Wenqi visiting the night market with her rumored boyfriend a few years ago. When compared to Master Qin, people discovered that they had very similar figures and heights. They looked like the same person.

At the same time, when people observed Su Wenqi’s Weibo, they realized that she had shared a lot of posts about The Chinese Medicine Forum and Master Qin’s photos.

Guessing from all these, it could be concluded that Su Wenqi’s mysterious boyfriend was Master Qin!

Initially, Su Wenqi’s rumor was a scandal as people said that she was the sugar baby of a big CEO. However, people did not expect the guy to be Master Qin!

“They are a match made in heaven!”

“That’s right! Anyone else would not be worthy of Master Qin.”

“You’re wrong. It should be that anyone else would not be worthy of Su Wenqi.”

“My goddess has a boyfriend... Congratulations!”

Although Su Wenqi did not respond to the rumors directly, it was as if she had confirmed it.

Headlines about Master Qin from The Chinese Medicine Forum and Su Wenqi were plastered across the major news websites.

Of course, everything was manipulated by Su Wenqi’s team. Actually, she would be quite unwilling to be involved in a rumor with other people. However, when it came to Qin Jun... She was quite keen.

After exiting the studio, Lin Yueyao tried to enter the backstage, but she could not.

There were too many people trying to find Master Qin as they all wanted to meet him. Other than him, the other Traditional Chinese Medicine masters were their idols too. They wanted to ask them a few questions, or at the very least, take some photos together.

Hence, Lin Yueyao was deemed as one of those people and was blocked outside.

After a while, Qin Jun had changed into his casual clothes and exited. No one recognized him and he reached the entrance quickly.

When Lin Yueyao saw him, she was stunned. “Where did you go? Why weren’t you there?”

Qin Jun was the one who gave her the ticket. Lin Yueyao spent a long time looking for him.

Qin Jun said, "I managed to slip into the backstage. I watched the show from behind."

When Lin Yueyao heard him, she became very excited. "So did you see Master Qin?"
