

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 686

Covering her face, Hou Jia took a few steps back with a sense of fear and despair. She was infuriated and really wanted to take revenge, but she wasn't capable enough to.

Liang Yi took out his phone and called a number. He pointed at Qin Jun and threatened, "Just you wait! How dare you hit my daughter? You don't know what I do, do you? Let me tell you, I own half of all the pharmaceutical stores within Donghai City. I just need to say a word to make hundreds of people come for you!"

Qin Jun sneered when he realized that Liang Yi was a pharmaceutical supplier. Qin Jun wondered how Liang Yi would react if he knew that the person who stood in front of him was the famous Master Qin.

Just as Qin Jun brought Yaya in to continue their visit, a teacher seemed to notice the scene and walked over to mediate the situation.

"Hi parents, I am Ms. Han, the discipline teacher here. May I know what is going on? Is there anything I can do to help resolve the issue?"

Liang Yi did not wait for Qin Jun to speak and said, "There's no need for mediation! He had the audacity to hit my daughter, I must break both of his legs today!"

Ms. Han felt awkward being caught in the middle of both parents. "Sir, please calm down, we are all here for our children's education, and our school is committed to providing what's needed for them to study well. Look, both of them are adorable kids. Who knows, that they might be classmates later on? It would be better if they could get along."

Liang Yi coldly replied, "What the heck do you know? Do you even have children? If your child gets beaten up, would you be able to accept it?"

Ms. Han looked a little uncomfortable all of a sudden. She sighed, "I don't have a choice, there are some issues with my health that don't allow me to have children. I'm sorry." As she stopped talking, she looked a little dejected.

Liang Yi was stunned momentarily. He didn't think that Ms. Han also faced the same problem. Because of this condition, Liang Yi could not have children of his own although he had been married for many years. Thus, he adopted one. But what he didn't expect was that Ms. Han was in the same boat as he was.

Qin Jun spoke up, "I am a doctor. If you have any concerns, I can help diagnose the problem."

Ms. Han was stunned, "Really? Can you please try?"

After she finished her sentence, Ms. Han extended her hand, and Qin Jun took her pulse just like that in the middle of a big field.

A few minutes later, Qin Jun let go of Ms. Han's hand and said, "There is no big issue. In traditional Chinese medicine, the condition you're currently experiencing is known as having too much cold wind in your body. You lack exercise and do not have a consistent daily sleep schedule. You will have to get rid of these unhealthy habits. I will prescribe a medicine for you, and you should recover fully after three months."

Ms. Han was stunned, "Is this really true? You're saying that my health issue can be treated so quickly?"

Qin Jun smiled, "Don't worry, it's not a big issue."

As Ms. Han listened to Qin Jun speak, she found his voice very familiar. An incredulous thought popped up in her mind, and she asked cautiously, "Are you... Master Qin?"

Ms. Han didn't intend to be serious with her question. She wasn't too sure about her guess. It was just that the voice sounded similar to the one she heard on television.

During the Chinese Medicine Forum, Qin Jun spoke in a very experienced, old-fashioned way. He also wore a mask and a white lab coat which prevented the audience from seeing what he actually looked like.

Ms. Han merely thought that this person had great medical skills and also carried "Qin" as his last name, so she unintentionally connected the dots.

Qin Jun was stunned that he got recognized, but he also felt that there was no need to lie.

"That's right."

Ms. Han stared at him with her eyes wide open. "Who would have thought that you are actually Master Qin! You're so young and capable! It's amazing that my health issue can be treated now!"

Since Master Qin had made his stance on Ms. Han's health issue, she was confident that there was no problem with her health. The other day on television, Master Qin had cured rare, complicated diseases. Curing infertility was an easy matter to him.

Liang Yi, who was standing to the side, looked awfully stunned. "Master...Qin?"
