

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 689

“Are you threatening me?” Qin Jun asked with a frown.

Qin Jun never intended to make a mountain out of a molehill as it was just a petty argument between children. If Hou Jia had not raised her hand against Qin Yaya, he would have stayed out of it.

However, Qin Jun started to feel irritated as Liang Yi threatened him.

“So what? I supply more than half of the medical equipment in Donghai. My network is beyond your imagination. Do you want to fight with me? You can give it a try!” Liang Yi replied.

“Alright, then I’ll have a go,” Qin Jun shrugged nonchalantly.

Then, Qin Jun made two phone calls. The first one was to the new president of the People’s Hospital - Director Li Zhongzhen.

Previously, Director Li had helped Qin Jun acquire his position as a special consultant, so it was apparent that Director Li regarded Qin Jun with the utmost respect.

“Hello, Master Qin. Is there anything I can do for you?”

“Do you know Liang Yi?”

“Of course. He is a supplier.”

“Stop his collaboration with all the major hospitals from today onwards.”

“Mr. Qin, there is no problem for me to give this order to the People’s Hospital, but I can’t do that to the other hospitals,” Li Zhongzhen hesitated a little.

Director Li could only govern his own hospital, and he had no authority over other hospitals. Others might not listen even if he suggested.

Qin Jun laughed. “You don’t have to command them. Just tell them that I had a conflict with Liang Yi, so I will blacklist any hospital that receives its supply from him.”

“Alright, I will inform them right away!” Li Zhongzhen accepted Qin Jun’s orders easily.

After that, Qin Jun made the second phone call.

“Hello, Mr. Qin. This is Pei Liang speaking!”

“Please help me investigate a man named Liang Yi, a pharmaceutical supplier.”

“Mr. Qin, I have heard of this man, Liang Yi. What’s the matter? Has he offended you? I will go kill him now!”

“No, you don’t have to kill anyone. Just get a few men to keep an eye on him. If he misbehaves, you can deal with him as you see fit,” Qin Jun ordered Pei Liang.

“Yes, Mr. Qin.”

Liang Yi’s face turned a little pale after those two phone calls. However, he managed to calm down after some consideration.

“Wow! You are good at acting! Who the hell you think you are? Do you really believe that you can scare me off by just two stupid phone calls?”

Liang Yi’s phone rang before he could finish speaking.

He frowned when he saw the phone number on the screen, and his heartbeat started to accelerate.

“Hello, Director He?”

“Director Liang, I would like to inform you that you don’t have to supply the medical equipment for the oral department of our hospital anymore. Our collaboration is terminated now.”

Liang Yi was shocked to his core. “What happened, Director He? Hasn’t our collaboration been great all this while? Who else could possibly give such a low price?”

“We don’t really care about your price, and we don’t mind paying more for the equipment. Aren’t you aware whom you have offended?”

Director He hung up mercilessly after he said his piece.

Following this, Liang Yi’s phone kept ringing with incoming text messages, WeChat messages, phone calls, and emails.

“Director Liang, I am the director of Donghai Children’s Hospital. Our collaboration with your company is terminated now. Let’s not contact each other anymore.”

“I am Director Zhao of the Oncology Hospital. Our medical equipment will be supplied by Director Sun now onwards.”

“Director Liang, I seriously wonder why you would offend Master Qin. You should know that Master Qin is extremely influential in this industry. You deserve it!”

Liang Yi was stupefied after receiving the torrent of WeChat messages.
