

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 697

After being admitted to a media school, she moved to another city. However, she did not rise to fame or secure any proper jobs. Hence, she became a singer in a bar.

Later, Tian Lu clinched the sixth position in a talent program. Although the position was not high, she caught an entertainment agency's eyes. She signed on with them and became a formal singer.

After debuting, she still did not become popular because of her mediocre singing. Luckily, she was pretty enough to pass off as an idol.

When someone mentioned Tian Lu, everyone looked at Qin Jun.

He had a lot of rumored girlfriends, and Tian Lu was one of them. In fact, she was the closest to succeeding.

As Tian Lu could dance and sing well, and had a cheerful personality, many people liked her. She was very close to Qin Jun. They almost became a couple.

However, Qin Jun had a lot of friends when he was younger, such as Zhu Linlin and Ye Wan'er. How could he ever fall for Tian Lu?

Hence, they drifted apart gradually. In a sense, he had rejected her tactfully. As this incident caused a huge uproar, many people thought that Qin Jun dumped her.

Although this happened more than ten years ago, it was still awkward to think about it. If Qin Jun and Tian Lu were both present, it would be more awkward.

While Qin Jun was now a celebrity with a few hundred thousand fans, Qin Jun did not even have a car. The difference between them was huge.

Yu Qiang laughed. "I actually contacted Goddess Tian. She said that she would come in the latter half and skip the meal. She's afraid that others would recognize her and crowd around for an autograph. It would disturb our meal."

The others could not help but be awed at how different life was after shooting to fame. She even had to dine carefully. This was how a celebrity's life was truly like.

On the other hand, Qin Jun was unbothered. Tian Lu was just an insignificant presence in his life.

When he was still the young master of the Qin Family, there were a lot of girls surrounding him. Naturally, a minor character like Tian Lu would not catch his eye.

"Are you selling cars now?"

"Yeah. Yu Qiang's shop sells all kinds of brands. There are sports cars too! It's such a pity. Although I've sold more than a hundred cars, I can't even afford a scooter. Haha!"

Sighing, Ren Lu drank his wine in one gulp.

Although he was a wealthy kid in the past, he had to budget his life.

Qin Jun laughed. "That's nothing. I can give you a car."

Ren Lu was stunned. Glancing at his friend, he smiled bitterly.

“Stop messing around. In the past, it would be a piece of cake for you to give me a car. But now, you are going through tough times too.”

He stopped talking. It felt like they were in the same boat and taking pity on each other.

Qin Jun said nothing else. Instead, he sent Aunt Feng a message, asking her to find someone to drive the Bugatti over.

He did not like the sports car at all. Although it looked cool, it was impractical.

For a low-profile person like Qin Jun, it was a waste for him to own a sports car. He would rather give it to someone who appreciated cars, like Ren Lu.

When everyone was eating, a few waiters outside suddenly started discussing.

“Look! Is he... The person in the picture?”

On the second floor, there were photos that the restaurant owner took with a few celebrities. The photo displayed at the center showed Xue Dalin and Qin Jun.

Indeed, this Japanese restaurant was owned by Xue Dalin. When the manager saw that his boss' friend had come, he quickly made arrangements.

“People who have their photos displayed on the wall are the boss' VIP guests! Quick, grab a few bottles of good sake here!”
