

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 698

The manager did not have to inform the boss about things like this. As the manager of the restaurant, his capabilities should not be doubted.

Since his boss' friend came without informing his boss, it meant that the friend simply wanted to dine there. Hence, there was no need for them to call Xue Dalin. It was sufficient to just display their sincerity.

When Qin Jun and the others were eating, a waiter pushed a small cart into the room. There were a few bottles of alcohol and glasses on the cart.

“Hello, sir. These are our restaurant's specialties. Please enjoy.”

Then, the waiter placed the drinks on the table and left.

Yu Qiang was shocked. Why was there sake?

Although Japanese sake was indeed a specialty, they did not include it in their buffet.

Alcoholic drinks were quite expensive. However, to afford such an expensive buffet, the guests would not contend themselves with cheap drinks either. The restaurant did not include alcoholic drinks in the buffet set, but the beverages and beer were free.

They would need to pay separately for the Japanese sake.

When Yu Qiang grabbed a bottle and glanced at it, he was taken aback.

“This... This sake is from Takagi Shuko!”

Everyone exchanged glances of bewilderment. Some started searching it up on the Internet and soon found out what Takagi Shuko was.

“Oh, my God! It’s a famous brewery!”

Each country had its own representative alcohol. China’s Maotai and Wu Liang Ye were famous alcohol brands.

Takagi Suko was the top sake brewery in Japan.

Their sake was extremely expensive. As they were produced in small batches, they cost even more than Maotai.

Yu Qiang inspected the bottle, and his eyes widened in shock.

“This isn’t a normal sake from Takagi Shuko. It’s a Juyondai!”

Takagi Shuko was founded in 1615 and had over four hundred years of history. The most famous sake by Takagi Shuko was the Juyondai, and there was no one in Japan who had not heard of it. It was as famous as the 1982 Lafite.

As it was so famous, it definitely costed a lot.

This 250ml bottle of sake from Takagi Suko probably cost over fifty thousand.

As sake had a lower alcoholic content than Baijiu and an average man could easily drink 250ml, the waiter brought a dozen bottles of sake which would add up to eighty thousand!

The Juyondai sake was not expensive because of how aged it was. Instead, the reason was that the Juyondai sake was produced in very limited amounts, with only 80 bottles produced yearly in Japan. Hence, it was extremely costly.

It shocked Yu Qiang greatly.

“Let me ask what’s going on.”

Yu Qiang called the waiter over.

“We didn’t order any sake. What’s going on with this?”

The waiter smiled. “Nice to meet you, sir. These are gifts from our restaurant owner. Please enjoy.”

After speaking, the waiter even glanced at Qin Jun.

However, he did not look at Qin Jun for a long time, afraid of offending the VIP.

Yu Qiang frowned. A gift?

When everyone heard that, they started opening the bottle and drank.

“Yu Qiang, you have such a great reputation. I can’t believe that you can be gifted with sake just by dining here! These are even such expensive wine.”

“Wait a moment!”

Just when the rest were about to open the bottles of sake, Yu Qiang stopped them.

“Don’t open them yet. Think about it! Our meal only cost 888. With around twenty of us, how much money can they earn? At the very most, it’s ten or twenty thousand. It would be logical for them to give us one bottle of Maotai. But they gave us Juyondai sake that cost fifty thousand a bottle? They even gave us a dozen bottles! Do you think that it’s possible?”
