

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 706

The female classmates did not ask him out of malice. Instead, they were simply curious about how rich Qin Jun actually was now.

If it were in the past, as the young master of the Qin family, it did not matter regardless of how much money he spent. One million was an insignificant sum for him.

However, now that the Qin Family had collapsed and Qin Jun had become a fallen young master. How was it possible for him to spend more than one million on alcohol?

Chuckling, Qin Jun understood what the female classmates meant.

“Don’t worry and just have fun.”

It was not so simple to explain where his wealth came from. Furthermore, he was not close to them either, so it was pointless to explain. Treating them to alcohol was a way to stop them from asking him further.

Ren Lu was surprised too. “Qin Jun, how can you earn so much as a doctor?”

After chatting for a long time, Ren Lu realized that Qin Jun was a famous doctor. He even learned that he was Master Qin, the main lecturer for The Chinese Medicine Forum which was broadcasted on CCTV a few days ago.

However, even if he were a doctor, his income would not be that high?

He gave away his sports car which cost tens of millions so casually and footed the bill for the wine which cost more than a million.

Qin Jun laughed. "I earned the money through curing patients."

Although Qin Jun had a large fortune, it had been accumulated bit by bit.

Ye Xuanyuan was a rare miraculous doctor.

To be able to afford Ye Xuanyuan's services, the client had to be one of the richest and most powerful individuals in the world.

Bringing Qin Jun along with him, Ye Xuanyuan treated patients for ten years. Qin Jun did not know how much consultation fees they paid, but he would receive some money in his bank after each consultation.

In the end, the amount of money in his bank was nothing but a number to Qin Jun. Furthermore, the number was so huge that it was impossible for Qin Jun to spend it all.

A few girls became interested in Qin Jun's mysterious and calm attitude. They knew that Qin Jun must have struck a fortune and was richer than before.

Although he used to be the son of a rich man, he had now built his own wealth!

They were blind to have looked down on Qin Jun!

It was all because of that dumbass, Yu Qiang. He claimed that Qin Jun's car was rented, but it turned out that Qin Jun was a wealthy man who was hiding his fortunes.

They wanted to suck up to him, but as Qin Jun was chatting happily with Ren Lu, they could not interrupt their conversation. Hence, they had no choice but to give up.

When Tian Lu went to the toilet, she met a muscular man on her way back. Even though the weather was so cold, he was topless. Gold chains hung around his neck and his body was filled with tattoos, exuding a hostile aura.

His body reeked of alcohol, which annoyed Tian Lu. She moved to the side hurriedly to avoid interacting with a man like him.

However, the drunk man thought that Tian Lu was pretty and looked at her again. When he saw Tian Lu's face, he was stunned.

“Oh! Aren't you Tian Lu from the singing show?”

Tian Lu's expression turned awkward. She did not expect herself to be recognized by someone else. Actually, she was not that famous. Disguising herself with a pair of sunglasses and a cap was only for show. When she went out on the streets, barely anyone could recognize her.

Coincidentally, this muscular man, nicknamed Leopard, had seen her show before. He had even told his subordinates that he wished for nothing more than to sleep with her for a night.

Never did he expect that he could meet her in this karaoke bar.

Leopard was jolted back to his senses instantly. Walking closer to Tian Lu, he said with a smile, “Babe, I'm a big fan of yours! Come on, let's have a drink in my room.”
