

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 710

The manager was very respectful and possibly even more so than meeting his employer.

Tian Lu stood behind them, dumbfounded.

She remembered how she had insulted Qin Jun before.

I mocked him for being a cowardly pauper without status.

And now?

Qin Jun turns out to be a big shot!

A small KTV bar like this means nothing to Qin Jun.

Previously, she thought Qin Jun was faking everything. However, he really owned cars and fine wine. All that was real.

She made the wrong presumptions, concluding that Qin Jun was a loser!

In the end, the embarrassment was so humiliating to Tian Lu that it felt like a slap on her face.

She jumped in fright when she saw Leopard looking at her.

One should be held accountable for one's actions.

After their altercation just now, during which Tian Lu made some rude accusations, she could not expect Qin Jun to help her.

Scared out of her wits, she hurriedly exclaimed, "I'm a friend of Mr. Qin. We even had a relationship before. Don't you dare be rude to me!"

Leopard was momentarily stunned. It was no wonder Tian Lu had been so arrogant. She was Jun's ex-girlfriend.

Dealing with a former flame was tricky. Leopard did not dare to be rash. After all, there was no telling if they would reconcile in the future?

He thought of teaching Tian Lu a lesson in private, but he changed his mind.

Qin Jun did not hear their conversation.

After leaving the KTV, Tian Lu quickened her steps in her high heels, shamelessly trying to catch up with Qin Jun.

The other schoolmates felt awkward by her actions and let her be.

After a few blocks, Tian Lu turned a corner and saw Qin Jun. She suddenly blushed and lowered her head, feeling embarrassed.

"Why are you following me?"

Tian Lu was fidgeting as she replied, "I wanted to apologize for the things I said. I was wrong."

Qin Jun shook his head. "I didn't mind. If there is nothing else, you may go now."

"Wait!"

It was not easy for Tian Lu to get this opportunity to talk to him alone. She bit her lip and continued, "I said those things about you because I liked you so much, but you couldn't care less about me. Actually... actually, I still like you."

She changed her approach. After knowing that Qin Jun was now powerful, she deeply regretted her past mistakes.

If she had been more enthusiastic during the reunion and rekindled past memories, she might be closer with Qin Jun now based on her present physical appearance and grace.

It was quite embarrassing now for her to make amends.

Qin Jun showed no emotion as he spoke, "You have said your piece. I did not fancy you in the past and I do not fancy you now."

Tian Lu was ashamed. She sighed and pretended to look disappointed.

"Then, can we take a selfie together for memory's sake?"

Qin Jun frowned, wanting to refuse. On second thought, there was no harm in posing for a photo together. He nodded his head.

Tian Lu took out her mobile phone, and they posed casually for a photo together like any normal acquaintance would.

She didn't stop him from leaving after the photo.

Immediately, Tian Lu called a cab and went home. She edited the photo simply and shared it on social media.

Official Announcement: Times are better quiet; moments are better with you.

This was followed by a heart-shaped emoji so that it looked a couple's photo.

The post now seemed suggestive, as if it were an official announcement of the start of a relationship.

Although the post did not mention that this was a boyfriend or a girlfriend, one could read between the lines with the emoji.
