

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 713

Su Wenqi giggled heartily as she replied to the text. Don't you feel the pain? blacklist your old flame?

What kind of old flame is she? If there's a list, we can regard you as my eternal flame.

What? Are you hinting that I'm old?

She caught Qin Jun off-guard.

They chatted for a while before she asked via the text.

In a few days' time, I may have a short break to take a rest. Can we go on some fun date?

Qin Jun was quiet for a moment. I have a reunion with relatives.

Oh? Relatives' reunion? Do you want to bring me along to liven up the party?

Qin Jun laughed. You can come if you wish.

Good, it's a promise!

They had barely finished when his aunt called him.

"Jun, tomorrow, relatives are coming from my side of the family. My brother and his wife will be here. Didn't you mention you have a girlfriend? Bring her along so I can meet her!"

“Okay.”

Since Su Wenqi wanted to join in the fun, Qin Jun decided to make use of her. In the past, someone had always invited him to gatherings acting as their boyfriend. It was high time he asked someone along to pretend to be his girlfriend.

After ending the call, Qin Jun informed Su Wenqi about the reunion. Then he hurried to his aunt’s home to help with the arrangements.

At his aunt’s place, Lin Yueyao asked eagerly, “Jun, when you attended The Chinese Medicine Forum, did you get to know Master Qin?”

Qin Jun laughed. His younger cousin, Lin Yueyao, seemed fascinated with Master Qin.

“No, why? Do you want to meet him for any reason?”

She blushed. “Well, you already have a girlfriend. I need to find someone to accompany me to gatherings too, lest I be left out.”

Qin Jun thought it was hilarious that she actually imagined getting Master Qin to be her boyfriend.

“I doubt he can do you this favor.”

Lin Yueyao sighed in resignation, as there was nothing to be done about that.

“Oh, Mom, will Uncle and Aunt be showing off as usual? I heard their son has found an actress girlfriend.”

Tang Min replied, "I heard so too. She's supposed to be a singer and quite famous. That's the personalities of your uncle and his wife. If they want to show off, let them."

Lin Yueyao rolled her eyes, helplessly.

"If I have my way, I might well cancel these reunions. What is there to talk about?"

Tang Min glared at her. "These are family members. Though we longer live together, we are relatives. I have other siblings besides your third uncle and aunt. Shall we book a grand venue tomorrow?"

Qin Jun replied, "Sure, I'll arrange it."

Lin Yueyao curled her lips in a sneer. Can you really arrange a good place? If the environment is average, or the place isn't posh enough, you will be criticized again.

Qin Jun brought out his cell phone and dialed Meng Wengang's number.

For this type of arrangements, it was best to get a local. The latter was familiar with Donghai. He worked in the city for many years, and half of the businesses in the food and beverage industry belonged to his family members. It was only natural that he would know the best places.

"Hey, Senior. What can I do for you?"

"Tomorrow, I have a family gathering. There'll be over ten people and I need a restaurant with a pleasant environment on the classy side."

Qin Jun knew full well that the third uncle and aunt were extremely snobbish. Although many years had passed, their personalities had not changed, so it was necessary to arrange for a high-end restaurant.

“Right, I’ll see to it.”

Meng Wengang arranged for Qin Jun and the others to hold the gathering at a very special manor named ‘Ding Bamboo House’.

The environment was elegant and posh. Meng Wengang planned to close this establishment for one day just to entertain Qin Jun’s family alone.

It was considered grand by any normal standards.
