

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 734

Zhu Linlin frowned at the notion of the interest. It was an expensive deal, but not completely ridiculous.

These days, the cost of enlisting help from another company for fund transfers was more or less the same as borrowing money from loan sharks.

Linlin was considered lucky to get the interest rate as she only needed the money for a period of twenty days.

“What do you mean by being at your beck and call, Mr. Yuan?”

He responded with a smile, “Oh, you don’t get it? Let me make myself clearer. You don’t have to pay the thirty million if you show up every time I feel like having sex.”

Linlin was alarmed and shocked by his suggestion.

She got on her feet, “Please show some respect, Mr. Yuan!”

The man frowned as he did not expect her to get angry.

“Stop putting on the act! Hasn’t she told you about this before you came here? This is not a charitable act! In fact, I consider myself quite generous to be waiving the interest in return for your company in that twenty days. Do you really think so highly of yourself that even thirty million is not enough for your service?”

Zhu Linlin was so angry that her whole body was shaking. She clenched her fist and glared at Jiang Nana.

Nana had an awkward expression on her face. She thought that Linlin understood her hint before that.

She hurriedly put down the microphone and rushed towards her friend.

“Don’t ruin this chance, Linlin! You won’t be able to get the money from anywhere else except for him. Furthermore, he is willing to waive the thirty million interest. Think about it, we are talking about thirty million! You won’t be able to find such a good deal anywhere else. Just bear with him for twenty days!”

Linlin almost strangled her best friend when she heard her outrageous reply.

“For heaven’s sake! Do you think I’m a whore?”

Jiang Nana said hurriedly, “No, that’s not what I mean. I think that Mr. Yuan is a perfect guy for you! If you marry a boss like him, you’ll never have to worry about money anymore!”

Linlin was left speechless. What happened to her best friend? How could she possibly do this to her? Did her moral ethics dwindle so much in the past few years?

“I don’t need this from you, Nana. Forget it, I don’t want the money anymore. I’m leaving now.”

She could not stay there any longer.

Yuan Shaoqiang got up and blocked her from leaving.

He frowned, “Ms. Zhu, do you think this is funny? I did not come all the way here for you to reject my offer!”

Linlin frowned in disgust at him.

“What do you want then?”

He sneered, “Since I’ve chased the girls away for this meeting, I’ll call it quits if you spend a night with me.”

“Over my dead body!” She gritted her teeth angrily.

Mr. Yuan snorted, “This is certainly not your call.”

Right after that, he took off his shirt, revealing his protruding belly, which was a rather disturbing sight.

As he stretched out his hands towards Linlin’s body, Qin Jun raised his foot.

Slam!

Qin Jun’s kick was aimed directly at Yuan Shaoqiang’s belly. The kick was so intense that there was a reddish footprint-shaped mark on his belly.

Yuan Shaoqiang was sent flying backwards and landed on a glass coffee table. As a result of that, his back was embedded with glass shards and covered in blood.

He looked like a gigantic red worm squirming on the floor before he finally managed to get up.

“How dare you beat me? You’re doomed, you scumbag!”
