

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 735

Jiang Nana was shocked and she quickly went to help Mr. Yuan up.

“Mr. Yuan, are you alright?”

“Get lost!”

With one hard shove, Nana fell to the ground.

Although she cried out in pain, she quickly got up and rushed to Yuan Shaoqiang to check his wounds in an attempt to please him.

After that, she pointed at Qin Jun as she scolded, “Are you fking mad? How dare you hit Mr. Yuan? I’ll teach you a lesson...”

Before she got to slap Qin Jun, his palm reached her face first.

Smack!

The slap on Nana’s face caused the corner of her mouth to start bleeding.

“I’ve had enough of your annoying demeanor.”

This slap almost blacked her out.

Yuan Shaoqiang took out his phone to make a call.

“I’m Yuan Shao Qiang, I’m at DiHao Karaoke Bar, get someone here at once!”

Qin Jun didn’t bother to stop him. He usually would wait for bullies of his kind to summon other men for a fight before teaching them a lesson for good.

Jiang Nana sat on the floor quietly. She dared not speak again as she was afraid that the next slap would leave her with a permanent scar on her face.

She whispered carefully, “Mr. Yuan is a big shot in Sheng City! You can’t expect to get away from this easily. Your impulse has gotten both yourself and Linlin into big trouble!”

Linlin realized that they were indeed in great trouble; so she frowned, but she stood firmly beside Qin Jun.

“In the worst case, we just offer him a settlement.”

Deep down, she knew that Qin Jun did that for her and was very grateful for it.

Jiang Nana scoffed, “Do you really think he will accept that? His pocket is already overflowing with money! He may agree to forget this incident if you keep him company for a few nights. Do you think I really want things to end up this way? I would have slept with him if he likes me!”

Linlin was speechless, “Shut your mouth! I don’t have a friend like you, Jiang Nana!”

Nana was startled and remained silent for she was too angry to speak.

“Fine! You ungrateful brat! Let’s see how you’re going to fix this mess!”

Jiang Nana decided to take Yuan Shaoqiang's side to protect herself. She helped the injured man up and waited for his men while sitting on the couch.

Before his employees arrived, the doors to the room opened and a bespectacled middle-aged man walked in with a deep frown etched on his forehead.

"What happened?"

The man sounded firm and confident. His authority and superiority were not to be questioned.

Nana broke into a smile when she saw him.

"Chen Dihao! Mr. Chen!"

Mr. Chen was the owner of DiHao Karaoke Bar, a franchise all over the province with its headquarter in Sheng City. This was the only branch in Donghai, but it was a thriving business.

It would take a person with powerful connections to be able to start up a karaoke business.

Besides that, Chen Dihao was also considered to be one of the most prominent and influential figures in the city.

Jiang Nana stood up and pointed at Qin Jun agitatedly.

"It's him, Mr. Chen! He's the one who beat up Mr. Yuan!"

“How dare you kick up a scene at DiHao Karaoke Bar! Do you have a death wish?” Chen Dihao frowned and glared at Qin Jun coldly.
