

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 741

Leaping down from a hundred meters was no joke. The impact could cause a man of steel to disfigure.

Well-trained folks with good physiques, the special forces, and firefighters could, at most, leap from the height of about ten meters. Anything beyond twenty meters would have put their safety at risk.

Yet, this old master easily leapt from a thirty-story building and landed safely on the ground. How was it possible?

Qin Jun smiled. "I guess so."

Qin Jun did not know how powerful Ye Xuanyuan was, but he remembered as a child, he would always lose whenever he engaged in a fight with the master.

As he grew older, he could dodge the master and even retaliate, but he would still lose at the end of each fight.

Hence, Ye Xuanyuan's actual capability was unpredictable.

Qin Jun could leap from a building over a hundred meters tall. However, he couldn't do it as effortlessly as his master.

The two of them talked as they walked to the school. After contacting the school, the principal personally escorted Qin Yaya out to meet him.

"Mr. Qin, Yaya is an exceptional student. She blends in with the other students very well. The teachers like her, too."

To the principal, it did not matter if the positive remarks were true. It was more important for him to say good things in front of Qin Jun.

Qin Yaya was glad to see Qin Jun. "Hello."

Likewise, he was also pleased to see his sister, who was looking chubby and spirited.

"Good. Thank you for taking such good care of her."

"I'm flattered. It's our job to take good care of her. Goodbye, Mr. Qin."

Qin Yaya held Qin Jun's hand. Happiness was written all over her face. No one cared for her since young. Everyone despised her and kicked her around like a rag doll.

With a family member by her side, she was no longer alone in this world, and she even got to attend school. To her, all these were the greatest blessing in her life.

"This lady is so pretty. Is she your wife?"

Qin Yaya had been studying Lei Hong the whole time but dare not ask. She thought Lei Hong was exceptionally gorgeous and exuded a domineering aura.

The latter could not help but blush at the compliment. Her rosy cheeks became more apparent to her fair complexion.

Lei Hong smiled but said nothing.

Qin Jun rubbed Qin Yaya's head. "She's my friend. You can call her Lei or Hong."

"Oh, okay."

After picking Qin Yaya up, Lei Hong had no intention of leaving. She still wanted to chat with Qin Jun a little while longer, and he was willing to accompany her.

The three of them walked for a bit, and Qin Yaya's eyes were glued to an ice-cream stall nearby. She kept swallowing her saliva. Qin Jun looked at her and shook his head.

"You're still young, and you need to watch your health since you're always feeling unwell. No cold food for you."

As a Chinese physician, Qin Jun thought she needed to develop a healthy dietary habit. Since Qin Yaya was not particularly healthy and she had never had enough nutrition, he wanted her to avoid cold food.

Lei Hong grinned. "How about just one? My treat."

Qin Yaya responded with a sweet smile. "Lei is the best! How I wish you're my sister-in-law."

Once again, Lei Hong felt awkward. The tinge of pink in her face became brighter.

Qin Jun could only shake his head and tolerate them.

Once Qin Yaya had gotten her ice-cream, a voice emerged from a distance. Qin Jun and Lei Hong looked into the trees nearby.
