

MEDICAL GOD CHAPTER 744

Hades was dumbfounded.

The little girl's ice-cream?

He did not even pay attention to her ice-cream!

Qin Jun had repeated that three times, but he did not bother to listen to what he said earlier. Hades could not believe the man did all this just because of the little girl's ice-cream!

It was as if Qin Jun thought of him as an ordinary pedestrian, even though he was a renowned assassin. If it was not because of Qin Yaya's ice-cream, Qin Jun might not even view him as a threat.

That was the biggest insult Hades had ever experienced in his life.

"Go to hell!" He spewed these few words while Qin Jun was still strangling him.

He then grabbed Qin Jun's arms, knocked his ankles against each other, and ejected a 3cm sharp blade from the toe cap on his right foot!

Hades raised his leg and kicked Qin Jun. As a professional assassin, he had secret weapons hidden all over his body, and these blades contained a deadly poison that could easily kill the opponent!

Qin Jun responded with a smirk. Out of all the people he had dealt with, Hades was the only one who could attempt a comeback.

Suddenly, Qin Jun arched his arms!

Bang! Crack!

He got hold of Hades and held him like a defenseless chick. He then threw the assassin to the ground and broke his legs in the blink of an eye!

The poisonous fluid that oozed out from the blade seeped into the ground.

“Argh!”

Hades shrieked in pain. He could not believe how powerful Qin Jun was.

“Last chance. Apologize to my little sister.”

“I-I’m sorry! Here, I have money, I’ll buy you a new one.”

He might be a tough man, but the pain was simply unbearable. Hades had no choice but to take out some money and threw it on the ground.

Qin Jun released his grip on Hades’ neck, and then he cracked his shoulders.

Just like that, he broke Hades’ shoulders.

There was no doubt about Qin Jun’s strength. No one could heal these broken bones besides Qin Jun himself.

Now that his four limbs were all broken, Hades was as good as dead. He could only lay on the ground in desperation.

Lei Hong was shocked by what she witnessed.

What a powerful man Mr. Qin is. Even someone like Hades is no match for him!

If Qin Jun were to become a professional assassin, he would have been the crème de la crème!

Perhaps he was just not keen to be involved in this kind of dirty job.

Top assassin, to him, might just be an insignificant title.

Lei Hong regained her composure and went up to Hades. When she was about to ask him some questions, he tilted his head aside and killed himself by sticking his neck into the triple-edged dagger.

She let out a sigh. She could never find out who the mastermind was anymore.

“Mr. Qin. Thank you so much. I’ll definitely repay your kindness in the future.”

“You’re welcome, Hong.”

Lei Hong thought about the way how he addressed her. She tilted her head and blushed. “Please, you’re being too polite with me.”

“Okay.”

“Alright, Mr. Qin. I think you better get going. I’ll have to take care of this first.”

Qin Jun nodded and left with Qin Yaya. Before leaving, he bought her another ice-cream, and this put a smile on her face again.

He spent the entire afternoon with his sister and sent her back to school reluctantly afterward.

Then Qin Jun gave Zhu Linlin a call to follow up on the investment. He made several calls, but no one answered.
