

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 100 - Evil spirit possessing Xu Nuan?

The next day, Xu Nuan was sitting in a cafe opposite the shining bright and was waiting for Lin Hui to arrive. She messaged him the location of the cafe to come and meet her since they have so much to talk about.

She knows that he must have a lot of questions and she has no choice but to hold a date for this trial.

She was sitting on a corner table with her caramel frappe and her lips curled up in a smile seeing Han Zihao's reply to the message that she sent a while ago. Just like every day, she sent today as well, like her daily routine.

Xu Nuan: 'Mr. Han, earn lots of money and prepare for our wedding. I am not someone to be pleased by a marriage certificate only.' she sent this message a while ago, jokingly with a winking emoji.

But she was shocked when she finally got a reply from him, for the first time.

Han Zihao: 'Didn't you say you will support me even if I went bankrupt?'

She laughed seeing his witty response. 'Very well, Mr. Han. It's good that you're not ignoring me anymore. It's okay. I will wait for you until you deal with your complicated feelings. I'll be patient only this time.' she said while looking at her phone screen lovingly.

It was a great improvement that he replied and not ignored her like other times. It means he is accepting her existence. Well, she is not someone that one can easily ignore so...

After their conversation, his attitude towards her has changed a lot. Although he looked awkward seeing her in the morning and kept avoiding her presence. But he still replied.

'Tsk, trying to be cool only on messaging. Coward.'

It must be hard for a guy as indifferent as him, to come out with his feelings. However, at least he is not ignoring her texts anymore. It's good then.

'Why are you smiling on your own?' she raised her head and looked towards the side, and saw Lin Hui walking to her table.

She shook her head and said, 'Nothing. I have already ordered your black coffee.' she said while sipping on her caramel frappe.

Lin Hui looked at her drinking that sweet drink because in the past she prefers to drink black coffee over other drinks.

'You're not drinking black coffee?' he asked while picking up his cup.

She shook her head and said, 'It's bitter.'

He frowned in confusion and asked, 'Weren't you used to like black coffee? You always ordered black coffee whenever we went out.' he said.

She could see his suspicious gaze and chuckled, 'It was because I had no choice back then. I used to order it not because I like it but because I don't want to drink these sweet drinks and gain weight. Beverages like these make me gain weight faster than anything else before.' she sighed.

' And you know how strict Qin Ju was about our weight maintenance.' she sighed while remembering the struggles she had suffered to get that hourglass figure.

On the internet, everyone called her lucky to have that kind of body but they never acknowledge her efforts to get that body. She was beautiful but not as much as during her career, she was not born with that body, it's because she worked hard on her body. Being an idol is the most difficult thing one can do if she has to say.

Lin Hui's expressions turned dark upon hearing Qin Ju's name. He held onto the cup tightly and stared at her while noticing her indifferent expressions. He thought that she would be upset about what Qin Ju did to her but why does she look so nonchalant while talking about him? As if she doesn't care?

' So...now you don't care? You're okay with gaining weight?' he asked while looking at her amusingly.

' Who likes to gain weight? It's such a stupid question.' she scoffed. She wiped the cream on her lips with the napkin and continued, ' It's just....I don't need to keep that body anymore. I am not an idol, I don't have cameras all the time following me, no eyes are judging my physical appearance all the time and criticizing me for how I look, what I wear, how much makeup I apply, how I walk, or even eat. I am just a girl who is working hard to make money and support her future boyfriend.' she said calmly.

He chuckled. She always likes to make such comments so he didn't think much about her words for supporting her future boyfriend.

‘So...will now tell me, what is all this about? How did it happen? How did you become..like this?’ he asked as he leaned forward and looked at her seriously.

Xu Nuan raised her head and looked at him. She sighed lightly and recounted all the things that happened. She told him how the last thing she remembers was that she was carried higher by the harness and the pain that she felt when she fell off the harness and when she opened her eyes....she was in a hospital as Xu Nuan.

Lin Hui stared at her with his mouth parted in shock while hearing her story. He never believed in such things but her words were making him dizzy.

He was glad that she was alive and well, but...it was just unbelievable.

‘ _ _ ‘

Xu Nuan saw his shocked expressions and he was staring at her as if she was an alien. She scoffed and asked, ‘ Am I an alien? Why are you staring at me like this?’ she asked while shaking her head in disbelief.

‘ Ah, I am sorry but...it’s just so...‘

‘Unbelievable right?’ she asked while raising her brows.

He nodded agreeing to her words. It’s so unbelievable yet it happened and why did it only happen to her? He is happy for her but how can it happen?

He took a deep breath trying to settle all the things in his head. He gulped down his now cold coffee and looked at her in a puzzle.

He pursed his lips and leaned closer, ‘ So...you’re not a ghost right? I mean, in the horror movies aren’t there an evil spirit who takes over someone's body? You're not that kind of spirit right? Did you possessed her?' he asked while pointing at her, Xu Nuan.

She was stupefied upon hearing his question. However, when she stared at him, it made her wonder as well. What is she? Is she a ghost? An evil spirit possessing Xu Nuan's body?

Her eyes widened as she couldn't answer his question. How can she? She doesn't even know if she is a ghost or not.

' I think I am a...human?' she said with her brows knitted.

Lin Hui blinked his eyes and asked, ' You're asking or telling me? And you think? Don't tell me you have superpowers to read others' minds or something like going from here to there in a blink?' he gasped.

If she had superpowers why the fućk she would have sitting in front of him and was trying to make him understand this shitty story?

She could just go and earn billions with her new superpowers. But here she was trying to manage her financial life with the menial salary of a manager, where she has to spend most of the money on girl's food or other things since the company doesn't give anything for them.
