

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 103 - Sturdy chest bitten by a dog.

Xu Nuan hangs up the phone while chuckling and said, ‘ Mr. Han, you know the way you’re acting, even boyfriends don’t do like this. Then...are trying to act like my husband now?’ she said while raising her brows and looked at him suggestively.

She was being truthful when she said this. In her three years of relationship, she never got to see a day when Qin Ju came to pick her up and not said that he was busy or just reached the venue of their meeting rather than picking her up.

Now if she thinks about it, he was a jerk from the start. It was just her who was stupid and act like a stupid to accept it when he confessed to her. Never believe a handsome face only. That’s what she learned from their relationship.

Han Zihao’s cheeks turned rosy pink upon hearing her words. She jumps to the conclusion quite fast. Husband? What...what he did was just a gentlemanly act and nothing else.

They aren’t even dating yet and what husband? He turned away to hide that sneaky smile which was forcing its way to his lips.

After a few moments, he took a deep breath and said, ‘ Stop watching those stupid dramas. Because of them your mind is getting messed up.’ he said.

She chuckled and said, ‘ I don’t watch those dramas because I like them. I watch them because they are stupid. Which stupid woman would hide her relationship with her billionaire husband just because people will look down on her for being from a poor family or not being educated enough?' she shook her head and let out an annoyed sigh remembering how frustrating it is to watch those stupid dramas. But what choice does she have? That's the only thing she can watch on TV without using her brain.

He raised his brows and asked, 'Then what will you do if you were in their place? Would you rather be called a gold digger or hide your relationship to maintain your reputation?' he asked curiously.

Even he doesn't know why he did that but for a moment he wanted to know what she would do if they managed to get into a relationship somehow.

Xu Nuan yawned tiredly and threw her purse on the backseat through the window and looked at him lazily, 'Well, this question is so stupid. Of course, I prefer to be called a gold digger bitch. It suits my character you know.' she flips her hair back proudly.

'--'

Han Zihao scoffed seeing her actions and the way she attached the additional word to what he said. He shook his head helplessly and opened the door of the driver seat. What was he expecting from her when he asked this question? This is what he was expecting from her. At least, she knows her priorities.

After they both settled in the car, they left the area. From afar Lin Hui watched as the car drove away. He tightly grabbed on the steering wheel as his eyes watched the direction from where the car left.

He tried to call Xu Nuan but her phone was constantly busy and he came to give her a ride back home in case she was still at the studio. However, when he reached, he saw Han Zihao standing in front of the studio building and saw as Xu Nuan made her way to his car.

At first, he had thought that both of them are just neighbors and was thinking that Han Zihao likes Xu Nuan. However, now he realized that it was not only Han Zihao who looked at her strangely.

The look in Xu Nuan's gaze was unfamiliar and exceptionally warm when she came out of the building. He never saw her smiling like this even when she was with Qin Ju in the past.

' Jiang Yue, do you love that man that much ?' he murmured as his grasp on the steering wheel tightened.

-

Ir ovu hfz, Hfr Zavfm eifrhut fo Xp Npfr jvm duii fliuun mr ovu jfw, jaov vuz vuft gpqnare fefarlo ovu jartmj.

He sighed seeing that the road in the area was quite bumpy and if she continued to sleep like this, her forehead would become swollen as a potato in the morning. He sighed and reduced the speed of the car while stretching one hand to carefully moving her to his side and putting her head on his shoulder.

He was in an awkward position as he leaned closer to her while offering his shoulder to her and holding onto the steering wheel while driving. It strained his neck but strangely he doesn't want her to wake up.

-

Xu Nuan stirred up in her sleep and turned to the side while hugging a warm pillow. She rubbed her head against the pillow but frowned realizing how firm and hard it is.

' Ah, why is it so hard ? Did Gu Zhang looted me by giving me this rock-like pillow ?' she mumbled in her half-sleep state.

She frowned as she felt annoyed thinking that he bought a cheap quality pillow rather than a soft one. She rubbed her head violently against it before parting her lips to bite that stupid pillow.

‘Ahh...’ Han Zihao who was watching her intently and was amused by her actions and the way she was cursing his chest for being hard and sturdy was shocked when she bit him in her sleep.

All that admiration and care vanished when she showed her beastly side. He held her face and pushed her away from him, pushing her with his palm.

Xu Nuan, who was talking in her sleep, opened her eyes in shock upon hearing his groan and looked at him in shock with her eyes wide open. She was still in a daze but slowly her eyes followed his hand, which was pushing her away.

She blinked and looked around. They are in the car? Wasn't she sleeping in her bed? And that hard pillow...her gaze went down his face and her eyes widened in shock realizing that a few upper buttons of his shirt were undone, exposing his bare chest to her. Not only that, there were clear signs of teeth on it, making her feel guilty about her crime.

She bit her lower lip in embarrassment upon realizing that she bit his chest in her dream and not the pillow.

‘What the fućk Jiang Yue? What are you? A dog? How can you bite a person like this?’ she felt extremely guilty seeing those teeth marks. It must have hurt.

‘Why are my teeth so strong?’ she sighed.

Han Zihao frowned and stared at her looking at his chest blankly while making a puppy face. He could see that many things are going on in her head but he wasn't sure what new trick she was planning now.

' This girl is so shameless that her actions are so natural even in her sleep. What does she watch all the time to act like this in her sleep?'