

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 130 - Pretty Girl!

While having her tea, Grandma Han glanced at Han Zihao's expressions and then looked at Xu Nuan who was wearing a dress but it looked strange since she looked as if she had woken a while ago.

She noticed this as soon as she entered the house but till now she was holding onto her curiosity. However, she finally asked, ' Xu Nuan, did you sleep here last night?' she looked at her and asked suspiciously.

Xu Nuan who was still drinking her coffee choked on the sip that she just had. She coughed and covered her mouth embarrassedly. Han Zihao pursed his lips and passed her a tissue from the tissue box which was placed on the side table beside him.

'Are you okay?' Grandma Han asked while patting Xu Nuan and continued, ' I asked because you are wearing a dress in the morning and it doesn't look like that you're going anywhere right now.'

Han Liang who was watching Han Zihao shook his head seeing him acting like a filial boyfriend. He can't understand his actions at all. His brother, who has always been aloof and cold was acting as if that's his normal self.

His personality is cold and aloof and that's why he stays away from everyone. If Han Liang wouldn't have been this chatty, the relationship between the brothers won't be that good either.

Han Liang knows what Han Zihao is like. He never does obvious things for anyone, he is kind to do things and help them when no one is watching him.

After cleaning her dress, Xu Nuan turned to Lei Yaling and laughed awkwardly. However, seeing her serious expressions, her smile disappeared as she was not sure what to do.

‘ Ah...ermm...It’s like...er..‘ she started stuttering as if her mind was buffering. She wasn’t aware of what she was saying or how she was reacting. She doesn’t want to tell her that she slept at her grandson’s house after passing out.

‘ She came from work at dawn, that’s why she looks like this.‘ Han Zihao replied nonchalantly, which caused Xu Nuan to turn and look at him, surprised.

She blinked and an embarrassed smile replaced the complicated expressions on her face. She was not sure how to respond in front of Grandma Han. Lying was the most difficult part and she doesn’t want to tell her that she passed out after drinking. However, he managed the crisis, not letting her embarrass herself in front of Lei Yaling.

Grandma Han noticed the silent exchange between them and smiled. She didn’t say anything and just nodded.

They stayed for a while and then stood up to leave. Grandma Han looked at Xu Nuan and said, ‘ Actually, I heard from Feng Sheng about Su Xinyue and what she did to you. I apologize to you on her behalf. I came here to talk to Han Zihao about the same as I was worried about how he was doing. Even though she is an adult, she has a childish, immature mindset. Don’t take her words to heart, and if you do, just...don’t be hard against Han Zihao. His mother and he are different. Even if she creates trouble in the future, just come to me. This old grandma will protect you.‘ she patted Xu Nuan’s arm and rub slightly, assuring her.

‘Grandma, you don’t need to worry about that. I didn’t think much about that. Moreover, I wasn’t especially good to her, so it’s equal I guess.’ Xu Nuan responded honestly, making Grandma Han chuckle at her words.

Lei Yaling smiled and nodded, ‘ I am glad that you didn’t think much of it.

‘ And...I will take care of your Mr. Han, you don’t need to worry about him,’ she whispered in a low voice, seeing Han Zihao coming back to the living room with Han Liang.

Lei Yaling raised her brows in surprise hearing her words and since it was coming from Xu Nuan who always acts casual and playful, surprised her even more. But those words reduced her worry. She was worried about Han Zihao that he might have taken that incident to heart and just how his mother had hurt him when he was young, he might have felt the same way.

But seeing his mood, it doesn’t look like the case this time.

After leaving their unit, Lei Yaling and Han Liang get on the elevator. In the elevator, Han Liang turned to her and asked curiously, ‘ Grandma, why do you like Xu Nuan so much ? I mean, she has a good personality, although I don’t personally like her, I don’t hate her either. She is honest with her emotions, at least.’ he said.

Although he fights with her every time, her personality is very honest and he likes that about her. There are not many people who can fight with him or call him dumb. And somewhere he believes that her outgoing personality suits his brother very well since he doesn’t speak much and was a careful person.

‘ But why do you like her so much ? Don’t you like elegant and tender, beautiful girls ?‘ he asked.

Grandma Han frowned and looked at him in confusion, ‘ You don’t know me, don’t you ? Are you really my grandson ? You didn’t get switched with someone at the hospital, do you ?‘ she laughed seeing that he thinks like this about her.

He blinked in confusion. She always posed an elegant, tender image when meeting people, and the way she sits and talks, everything excludes her elegant yet charismatic aura. But he couldn’t understand what she meant by her words.

‘ En ? What do you mean ? Is there something that-

His words were interrupted when the elevator stopped, causing him to shut up and aware of someone else’s existence. He fixed his cap and face mask, covering his face properly.

Although the building is very well built and secure, he can’t take any risk, considering his popularity and idol image, he needs to be careful every time. The life of an idol is not easy, there is no word like privacy in an idol’s life, since they are being watched by the whole country, and paparazzi’s are waiting for them to make a mistake and jump on them like a hungry hyena.

He stepped back, standing in the corner while Grandma Han also quieted down and stood there with serious expressions. Going out with Han Liang has never been easy.

When the elevator opened, a girl was standing there, waiting for the elevator wearing a beige color woolen top, paired with black jeggings with her hair tied in a ponytail, and was doing something on her phone.

Han Liang who glanced at the girl for a moment was surprised to see the girl who looked beautiful without doing anything. She was just standing there in her casual clothes but for some strange reason, he became nervous with her presence only.

Although she was wearing the mask, covering her face, it couldn't hide her beauty.

Luo dan stepped into the elevator and nodded at Grandma Han in greeting as she didn't want to ignore the existence of an elder there. Just like Han Liang, she also fixed her mask and stood in the corner.

Since she was going down as well, she didn't need to press the button.

In the elevator, Han Liang keeps glancing to her side, trying to remember where he had seen her. Because the girl looked quite familiar to him but he can't remember.

Just like him, Grandma Han was surprised when the girl who entered the elevator, greeted her. It's not normal for young people to greet elders who are strangers to them. She was also watching her as the girl looked familiar to her. She pursed her lips and thought for a while before asking, ' You...You're from that girl group, The Queens? Right?' she asked cautiously.

Luo Dan was surprised when the old lady recognized her. She looked at her embarrassedly and nodded, pulling her mask down and greeted, ' Yes, I am Luo Dan from The Queens.' she said politely.

Grandma Han smiled seeing the girl smiling embarrassedly which was making her appear even more cute and pretty. Because of Han Liang, she has seen many other idols but it was her first time seeing such a well-mannered girl.

She greeted her first not because they knew that she is Han Liang's grandma but she greeted an old woman whom she doesn't even know.

Han Liang's eyes widened when she introduced herself. Now he remembered. He has met them at the backstage and award ceremonies multiple times, he knows her but never talked to her personally because they never got a chance to see each other.

He has met Jiang Yue at a reality show but she was alone and her other members were not there. And that meeting was not so pleasant either.

Grandma Han was surprised that she is really from that girl group. She used to follow that group and has heard their music as well. She was also part of their fandom, although Han Liang was unaware of that. She instinctively turned to Han Liang but was surprised to see him standing there like a mannequin, staring at the pretty girl.

’ What? Is he already out?’ she smirked seeing her grandson's rare shocked expressions seeing a beautiful girl.
