

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 144 - Her Boyfriend!!

Feng Sheng looked at Han Zihao whose expressions turned dark and asked hesitantly, ‘ Sir...what should we do now? I am afraid that if this continued, Ms. Xu’s identity as the adopted daughter of the Gu family is going to be revealed on the internet. If that happens, it’s gonna be hard on her. Someone even found out her number and posted it on the internet. I managed to take it down but if it had gone viral or people had already saved it, then it’s going to be troublesome.’ Feng Sheng informed him worriedly.

Since they already know the reality behind her birth and that she is the real heiress of Gu’s, not Xingren, it’s quite complicated and if the truth was to be revealed to everyone, it’s gonna be a huge scandal for no reason.

Han Zihao rubbed his temples in worry and placed the tablet on the table, ‘ Ask all these media outlets to pull out these baseless articles as they are all fake and not true. And if they don’t pull out the articles, make sure to send them the lawsuits for writing such fake and irrelevant articles. After all, it also put Han Liang in question and they should know what could be the consequences of taking Han Zihao’s brother lightly. ‘

Feng Sheng pursed his lips as he knew that he was doing this for Xu Nuan and not Han Liang. Han Liang is immune to such scandals and they don’t hurt him anymore, he never did anything then why now? It’s because of Xu Nuan of course, but he chose to be quiet to protect his dear life.

‘Also, use legal suits to deal with those who are writing such ridiculous posts and comments. They are writing such stupid things and spreading rumors because they are taking us lightly. We need to remind them who they are dealing with. And when did the news get leaked? How long has it been since then?’ He asked coldly. It was only last night that they were enjoying their time and in the morning this happened.

He frowned remembering that she went to karaoke last night. Did she bump into Han Liang there? Then why didn’t she tell him anything?

‘The videos have been released by the broadcasting station in the middle of the night. At first, someone posted their behind scenes video first and at the dawn, they released another video of the two interviewing together. It was obvious that they were trying to pair them together just to increase their TRP.’ Feng sheng replied.

‘The broadcasting channel has made a mistake for taking Han Liang’s background lightly.’ Feng Sheng shook his head in helplessness.

Feng Sheng left the office after taking the orders from Han Zihao to take down all the misleading articles and talk to the broadcasting station.

Han Zihao decided to call Xu Nuan as he was worried about her. However, when the call was answered, he heard from the other side, ‘Hel...AHhh’ His eyes widened upon hearing her scream which shocked him.

Xu Nuan was already feeling tired as she didn’t get the proper rest last night, on top of that this unwanted scandal was giving her stress. She wouldn’t have minded if they had only released the videos but their suggestive editing had taken the whole drama to another level.

And since the episode hasn't been released yet, these videos were creating chaos in their lives. She walked out of the office while looking at the articles on her phone and scoffed in disbelief, 'How can they zoom in on my face? Ah, I haven't even worn makeup at that time. My face looks so tired and puffy and why the hell they are focusing on my pimple?' she cried, feeling bitter that she got the pimple on the very same day.

It's been so long that she was in front of the camera and the pictures and video didn't satisfy her. She looked paler and strange compared to Han Liang.

'If they had known that I am Jiang Yue, these people would be the first one to ship both of us.' she laughed seeing how they were looking down at her for working as an artist manager.

She was standing in front of her company, waiting for the traffic light to change as she wanted to go to the cafe that was across the road, opposite to the company. She needed some caffeine to reduce her stress.

She was looking at her phone and raised her brows when she saw that Han Zihao was calling her. She frowned and wondered if he found out about the articles.

She swiped right on her screen to pick up the call when she suddenly felt someone pushing her.

'OH?' Her eyes widened when she was suddenly pushed towards the road, she failed to manage her balance and fell on the busy road. Her eyes widened seeing the truck coming towards her.

Everything happened so quickly that she didn't have the time to react. Just as she thought that she is going to get hit by the truck, a hand came from nowhere, pulling her back to the pedestrian.

Everyone who witnessed the incident sighed in relief seeing that the girl was pulled back and was safe and managed to avoid the accident in time.

-

‘ Are you okay ?‘ The man looked at Xu Nuan who was holding onto him tightly, with her face hidden into his jacket and was shivering like a scared kitten, asked in worry.

Xu Nuan who had her eyes closed and was holding onto the person who saved her for her dear life and was shivering uncontrollably, thinking that she almost died for the second time. Her lips quivered, however when she heard a gentle yet worried familiar voice, she looked up with her teary eyes and called out his name, ‘ Lin Hui.’

She burst into tears seeing him in front of her and her whole body shiver remembering that the truck was so close to her and almost hit her. Since Xu Nuan died from an accident, her unconscious mind might have remembered the scare of that night and she could feel anxiety hitting her hard.

Lin Hui sighed seeing her crying so miserably and pulled her into a tight embrace. It was his first time seeing her crying like this, hiding in his embrace.

He was glad that he decided to visit her company, to see if she is fine. However, when he reached, he saw her standing by the road, waiting for the traffic light to change. But when he looked behind her, he saw a girl dressed in a black hoodie with a cap and a mask covering her face and was planning to do something to her.

Before he could shout to aware Xu Nuan, the girl pushed her on the road, if he hasn’t acted on time and pulled her back...he would have lost her for the second time.

The girl ran away immediately seeing Lin Hui but he cannot be bothered to think about that girl at this moment.

He let her rest her head against him while he patted her back to stable her emotions. However, her body suddenly started to get heavy and slide down which shocked him.

He held onto her and shouted in fear seeing her pale complexion, ‘ Xu Nuan, Xu Nuan.’ he held onto her tightly, not letting her fall on the ground.

‘ You should take her to the hospital. She must have fainted due to shock.’ The lady who was standing close to them said to him seeing him panicking in worry.

-

After Lin Hui took Xu Nuan to the hospital in his car, the lady noticed her phone lying on the road which she probably had dropped earlier.

‘ Oh! Seems like the girl dropped her phone earlier.’ She turned on the phone to see if she can contact anyone to return the phone.

Just as she turned it on, a call came on the phone. She picked up the phone and before she could say anything, she heard a man speaking on the other side.

‘ Xu Nuan, why did you disconnect the call earlier? And why did you scream? Did something happen? AH, wait, don’t do anything. Just stay there. I am coming to you.’ Han Zihao said in worry and was relieved that she finally picked up his call.

The lady was caught off guard seeing the man worrying about the girl enthusiastically. She thought that the man who saved her was her boyfriend but this call confused her.

‘ Erm...Excuse me,’ she said in a low voice which alarmed him.

‘ You’re not Xu Nuan ? Then who are you ? Where is Xu Nuan ?’ He asked coldly. The woman frowned seeing the man’s voice changing instantly turning cold.

She cleared her throat and replied, ‘ The owner of this phone dropped her phone on the road and I picked it up. She almost got into an accident and fainted due to shock. Her boyfriend took her to the hospital, but her phone is with me. If you...’

Han Zihao’s mind went blank when he heard she got into an accident. Before the woman could continue, he asked, ‘ What place is this ? What is the name of the nearby hospital ?’

Hu arypazut fgmpo ovu nifhu dzmq jvuzu lvu nahcut pn ovu nvmru frt vpre pn fdouzjft jaovmpo ialourare om vuz zuqfarare jmztl.

‘ What is this ?’ she couldn’t help but wonder what is the problem with this man. She was shocked to see how fast his voice changed when he was talking to that girl and when he found out that she is not her.

‘ I feel bad that this happened to her, but she is kinda lucky. Two men are going crazy over her, while I can’t even find a decent man for me. Life is so unfair.’ she murmured while shaking her head disappointingly.