

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 148 - I'd be a fool if I let him go.

After taking a shower, Xu Nuan was standing in front of the mirror and looked at her reflection while running a hand on her dripping wet hair. She was wearing a white shirt and black trousers that Han Zihao has given her to wear.

The dress that she wore in the morning had the disinfectant smell of the hospital and on top of that, she can't sleep if she doesn't wear comfortable clothes to sleep. While looking at herself in the mirror, she let out a heavy sigh thinking about how things turn out.

She was planning to call a few broadcasting stations in the afternoon to talk about her group which is gonna debut in less than two weeks. She needs some reality shows to promote the group and it's very hard to find a suitable show for the newbies, especially if the company has no strong background.

In Wang Meili's case, she was experienced and has connections in the industry that can get her some shows but she doesn't have any name as Xu Nuan in the industry. However, because of the scandal, she couldn't do anything and even got herself into an accident.

She thought that the interview would help her to get some public attention but too much attention can be harmful. She sighed and hit her chest with a fist in frustration, ' Jiang Yue, why are you so frustratingly bad at such things? Even after working in the industry for 5 years, how come you're still so naive?' she groaned.

She was not good at giving interviews when she was in the industry, nor she got better at it now. Some things can never change.

-

Downstairs, Han Zihao was setting up the dinner table, when he heard the noise coming from the stairs, he looked up and saw Xu Nuan coming downstairs, wearing his white shirt and black trousers while her shoulder-length dripping wet hair was resting on her shoulders.

The shirt was appearing as large on her petite figure. The topmost button of her shirt was undone, revealing her smooth nape. She fixed the collar of the shirt while stepping down holding the railing with the other hand, revealing her collarbone, and folded the long sleeves of the shirt since they were too long for her.

Han Zihao who was placing the bowls on the table stared at her in a daze with his eyes fixated on her, after seeing her shocking appearance. She wasn't wearing any makeup but there was not much difference in her since she doesn't wear much makeup usually. With her hair wet, she looked even more tempting and fresh since she just took a shower.

He couldn't take his eyes off her as it was his first time seeing her this way. Although he saw her wearing his clothes at the office in the morning, it was for a very brief moment only, she looked even more charming while wearing his clothes in his own house.

The fact that they were alone at his place made it even more special, increasing the pressure in the room. He couldn't take his eyes off her, which made her smirk seeing his constant gaze on her.

She didn't say anything and made her way to his side. She looked at the table which had only porridge and stirred fried veggies.

She frowned seeing the simple dinner with no meat made her frown and looked up at him in confusion, ‘ Mr. Han, what is this ? You made porridge for dinner ? Is someone sick ?’

He nodded and replied, ‘ You.’

‘ _ _’

Her frown deepened, causing her to scrunch her nose, ‘ You made this porridge because of me ? But I am fine, see. Do I look sick in any way ?’ she twirled in front of him to show that she was fine.

She was expecting something delicious to eat but all she was getting was sickly food. Who likes to eat porridge ? She definitely doesn’t.

‘ Yeah, yeah. It was someone else who fainted in the afternoon,’ he commented making her glare at him accusingly.

Seeing her expressions, he sighed and explained, ‘ Doctor asked you to avoid eating spicy food for a while. Although it was because of the shock that you fainted, you still need to take your medication. It’s been six months since your operation but you already went to the hospital multiple times. Shouldn’t you take care of your health and try to not become a regular member of the hospital ?’

She blinked hearing his words and stared at him in a daze, ‘So it’s been six months already.’ she said remembering that it’s been six months since she became Xu Nuan.

It was December which is soon gonna end too. She remembered that they were supposed to renew their contract in December and continue their journey as The Queens but fate had some other plans.

-

While having dinner, Han Zihao noticed that her shirt was getting wet because of her hair. He frowned and asked, ‘ Why didn’t you dry your hair? It's winter and yet you didn't dry them. You will catch a cold this way.'

'Ah, the hairdryer in the room was not working. So I just came down like this.'

'It was not working?' he frowned. 'I asked Aunt Xu to check everything in the guest room. Seems like she didn't check everything properly,' he murmured.

She looked around and asked, 'Mr. Han, didn't you say that you left the place because you have so many servants here? But how come I don't see anyone?'

'I asked them to leave since you don't like to be around strangers. They will come to clean the house and do the chores when you will not be at home. So be at peace.'

Upon hearing his words, she looked at him in surprise. This was not something that she was expecting. She was worried about it since she knew that he has servants at his place and she doesn't like to be around strangers.

When she used to live alone in her condo, she didn't have any full-time servants and they used to come when she was not at home to clean up the place.

Seeing him being considerate towards her, truly warmed her heart.

She smiled thinking how blessed she is. He doesn't even know why she is like this and rather than complaining to her about being picky and difficult, he was being considerate towards her, by making changes for her.

'I would be a fool if I let him go. He might be slow but I can never find a guy like him' she thought while letting out a sigh. She might need to put more effort than normal in their relationship since he isn't expressive but he has different ways, that show his sincerity towards her.