

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 151 - Chimpanzee!!

Xu Nuan who was waiting on the other line for Feng Sheng to pass on the phone to Han Zihao frowned when she heard Han Zihao's voice from afar. Although his voice was faint, she still managed to hear the contents of his last words.

" He was just looking at her the way he looks at a monkey?" she repeated his words while trying to understand in which context he was talking about and about whom he is talking. Before she could think about it, she heard him saying something else.

" Hah. These people online have gone crazy. In what sense, she looks good with Han Liang? The people online are blind to call her a goddess who looks good with Han Liang." Han Zihao seeing the comments that were writing fiction in the comments, calling Xu Nuan a goddess who fell for an idol god.

Feng Sheng who was standing in the room, near his office desk frowned and looked down at the phone in his hands. He gritted his teeth, hoping to stop Han Zihao but he continued to talk to himself while looking at the comments and unknowingly denying them calling Xu Nuan a beautiful and best match with Han Liang.

' I am sorry Ms. Gu. To save the future marriage of you with Mr. Han, I have to take this step with a heavy heart.' Feng Sheng pursed his lips and hung up the call on Xu Nuan without passing it to Han Zihao.

Xu Nuan on the other hand was speechless when the call got cut. She frowned and clenched her palms into a tight fist.

" At first only Han Liang used to spout nonsense, but seems like in the eyes of both brothers, I appear as a monkey. Hah, very good." she scoffed while thinking about how he acknowledges her as a monkey and called her unsuitable for Han Liang and not beautiful.

" Mr. Han, I was being so nice to you these days, wasn't I? Now it's time to show how stubborn and ruthless Jiang Yue can be," she said determinedly. She pulled out her phone and smirked while trying to come up with a plan to torture Mr. Han.

How can she be a monkey? A beautiful face like hers is only made to be called a goddess. He should be lucky that she was chasing after him despite him being so confused about his feelings, otherwise, with a beautiful face and charming personality like hers, she truly deserves some royalty or the best of best.

After work, Han Zihao went to pick Xu Nuan from work at their usual time. It was already 9 pm as he was waiting for her in front of the building in his car.

He smiled when he spotted her coming out of the building. However, when she got into the car, she didn't say anything and quietly wore her seatbelt, and stared at the road in front of her while placing her bag on her lap while ignoring his existence.

He was confused because she was not saying anything when she usually starts talking about her day as soon as she sits inside the car. But today she wasn't saying anything or looking at him. When the person who is generally a chatterbox suddenly stopped talking, it makes the other person worried and bothered about their behavior.

He pursed his lips when she didn't say anything for a few minutes. " Erm...how was your day?" he asked, trying to find a topic to talk to her. He was confused and wanted to know what's going on in her head but she was too still and it was getting hard for him to get any reaction from her.

" Hm. It was fine," she replied curtly, closing the conversation.

" Did you see Han Liang's statement on the internet? Now you don't have to be worried about anything. Everything will get back to normal soon." He said while starting the car.

" Yes," she replied with a one-word, making him raise his brows in surprise.

He pursed his lips and stared at her in a daze and wondered, 'Why am I having this uneasy feeling when she is not saying?'

While driving, when Han Zihao was about to turn towards the Han Villa, she spoke, " Turn to the Glory Building. I want to go home." She said after 10 minutes of silence.

He was surprised when he heard her words and asked, " Glory Building? Why? Your stuff is still at my place, you can go back to yours later." He was kinda upset when she said to go back to her place as soon as the scandal started to settle.

" There is no reason to stay there anymore. The scandal has also subdued because of Han Liang's statement and why would a monkey go to the extravagant Mansion?" she commented sarcastically.

Han Zihao was caught off guard when he heard her words and parked the car on the corner and turned to look at her with his eyes widened in confusion, " What? What are you saying? Did someone say anything to you?" He didn't know what happened but he could feel that she was upset with him.

" Yes," she replied indifferently while looking into his eyes.

" Who?"

"You!!" she looked at him indifferently and said this while looking into his eyes.

Han Zihao opened his mouth to say something but closed again, not knowing what to say. He said something? What? Why doesn't he remember anything?

" I said something to you? What?" He asked in confusion, not understanding the reason for her to be upset like this.

She pursed her lips and controlled herself from smacking him on the head. How can he not know after pissing her off?

She scoffed in disbelief and took a deep breath before she started talking, " You don't know? When I called you in the afternoon, I heard you calling me a monkey. Also, why don't I match with Han Liang? I am so beautiful and yet you said that I am not. From what angle do I look like a monkey to you?"

" Is this how you treat someone you love? Did I ever call you Chimpanzee? No right? Then why am I a monkey?" She asked while looking at him wrongly.

"...."
