

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 159 – Expanding Social Skills.

" Dating app? You...are using a dating app?" Han Zihao asked, with his jaw stiffened and brows knitted in a frown. He glanced at the man who was fine-looking but was staring at the Xu Nuan affectionately. His gaze was something bothering him, and her hiding her face from the man was annoying him even more.

Xu Nuan pursed her lips and blinked in nervousness. Why does this man have to appear on a happy day like this, ruining their date?

She placed her bag hesitantly on the chair beside her and looked at him hesitantly before she started explaining, " See, I can explain. I was not trying to hook up with someone, I was just trying to..gain some experience. Meeting new people and talking to them increases one..social skills. Yeah, social skills. It's just like making friends on other messaging apps, like that. Dating apps are not a bad thing. We were just chatting, like friends. And we are only..online friends and nothing else. I don't think that we can be considered friends either since I uninstalled it after an hour but if we did talk then it's just a Hello/ Hi kind of relationship. Nothing else. Right?" she asked the man who was staring at her with a bright smile on his lips.

He blinked while looking at her in surprise and said, " But I don't have any intentions to make friends using the dating app. I already have lots of friends, you know. I just want to meet someone who can be my special one. And I messaged you because I liked your profile picture. You're exactly my type. You have a fairly slim figure and have the volume where it should be. It's very rare to meet beautiful women on the app whose accounts are not fake and has a real picture and not filtered." he said while looking at Xu Nuan who was wearing a black woolen crop top and long woolen skirt, fitting her body perfectly.

" Not only that, your lips are rosy pink that anyone would love to taste." He said while looking at her, making her lips to curve down in disgust.

' What kind of strange species is this?' She wondered.

"...."

She pursed her lips and her eyes lit up when she remembered the message he had sent her on the app, as soon as she registered herself. " Hi, I saw your profile and just wanna tell you that you're really beautiful. Is this really you?" She had replied to him with a question mark as it was her first time getting such a question from someone.

Since she didn't reply to him, he continued to send her creepy messages, in the end, she uninstalled the app after looking at the working of the app for an hour. Since it's been a few days she has used the app, she even forgot what had happened and with whom she talked to not. Well, it's not like she talked to anyone in particular and she was not expecting to bump into a creep on her first date after all.

She frowned upon hearing his words and before she could say anything, she sensed a dark aura from the person sitting opposite her.

She looked at Han Zihao who was glaring sharp daggers at the man with his eyes and said in a low voice, that can send chills to one spine, " So what was your name again?" He asked, while looking at her, not even glancing at the man who looked at him in confusion.

" I haven't said my name yet." The man replied, making Han Zihao scoff at his childish behavior.

" So you work at Star Senior High School, huh?" Han Zihao asked, leaving the man in bewilderment. He turned to look at the man and looked at the files that he was holding, on which SSHA was written in large font which stands for Star Senior High School.

The man placed the file behind his back and said hesitantly, seeing that the man recognized the school's name, " Yes, But why? Are you planning to complain to the administration? But dating is not an offense for which I would be punished by the school. If you're planning this then you're mistaken. And don't act so còcky just because you're here on a date with this girl." he said casually.

" It's not like she is the only girl in the world." The man murmured, upset with Han Zihao's rude attitude.

Xu Nuan was stupefied seeing how rude he was being after interrupting their happy moment. she was surprised to see that he was hiding this kind of rotten attitude of him behind his innocent puppy-like handsome face.

Han Zihao chuckled and said, " Well, dating is not an offense but making remarks about someone's appearance, when you're not even close can be considered as harassment and it is an offense. Also, for a school teacher, moral validity is more important than anything." he said making the man's eyes widen in shock.

" How...who are you? How do you know that I am a teacher?" He asked while looking at Han Zihao in horror. Since he is young and handsome, no one thinks that he can be a teacher.

He is a contracted teacher at that, if his complaint reaches the school authorities, he will be fired in no time. But this man guessed clearly about his status.

Han Zihao raised his brows, seeing that his guess was right. He just made a wild guess to test him and he admitted so early.

Han Zihao smirks, " I just did. Now, what will you do to leave from here? Get fired or leave quietly?"

The man bowed to him at a 90-degree angle and said, " I..am leaving. Leaving."

Han Zihao snapped a finger at him and said," Apologise to her before you go."

" Sorry, sister. Sister." He bowed to Xu Nuan and apologized.

"...."

Xu Nuan was surprised to see how quickly the man changed his attitude. Well, Han Zihao is indeed intimidating.

" Now leave. And don't ever make comments about anyone like this. Otherwise, no one will send their children to study by you. Get out." he said, and before he could complete his words, the man scurried out of the cafe hurriedly.

"...."

Xu Nuan stared at the man leaving in a hurry and was dazed by how cool Han Zihao looked just now. She smiled at him and showed him a thumbs up, but seeing his cold expressions, she realized that she was in no position to laugh at someone else's misery.

He looked at her with his hands crossed in front of his chest and asked coldly, " Now will you explain why you felt the need to ' expand your social skills' by using dating apps? Are you on a date with me just to increase your social skills as well?" He questioned, making her panic at her serious expressions.

" Oh, no, no. I have enough social skills and don't need to date you for that. I am on a date to convince you to marry me." she said in one breath, but her last words caused him to blink at her in shock.

She pursed her lips, realizing what she said in a hurry. Her ears turned red as she started explaining, " Well, not exactly marrying, at least not now. But I do have a long-term plan but you don't need to be bothered by it. I am a cool person you know, I don't want you to be scared and run away from me."

" You don't need to worry about what I just said." she waved in denial, making sure that he understood her.

He cleared his throat and asked, " Now will you explain your actions now? I can't believe that I get to meet a person you met on the dating app on our first date." he threw his hands in the air in disbelief.
