

My Evil Genius Wife

Volume 1

Chapter 161 - Christmas Date (2)

Xu Nuan's eyes widened seeing the large entrance board of the amusement park. He brought her to the amusement park for their first date? That was so unlike of stoney-faced Mr. Han. She turned to look at him in shock as she wasn't expecting the President of Han Corporations to bring her here.

According to his status and cold character, she was expecting him to bring her to an expensive luxurious restaurant or take her out for a movie, something cliché like this. But an amusement park? Although it's cliché as well, however, not for a person like Mr. Han.

Well, coming out on a date with her is a huge breakthrough for him.

' Mr. Han, how did you think of bringing me here? Is it really your idea? Or Mr. Secretary suggested you?' She looked at him suspiciously.

He chuckled and asked, ' Why? You don't like it? Is it too...cheap?' He asked nervously. In the last few days, he was searching about the places to go on a date and was very confused since there were many options. After searching so much, he ended up deciding on this place.

Although he was not sure if she would like this place for their first date or not. The weather was freezing cold and she was even wearing heels, to make the situation worse.

She narrowed her eyes at him and shook her head, ‘ What are you saying ? I love this place. Do you know, I love the amusement parks the most. I enjoy the thrill and adrenaline rush that the rides give.’ she said while looking at the roller coaster in excitement.

‘ You know, the last time I came here was with my parents when I was young. After their dea-

She stopped speaking when she realized what she was saying. Han Zihao raised his brows and looked at her confusingly. ‘ You came here with Mr. Gu ?’ He asked.

She blinks and curses herself under her breath for talking without thinking again. She held onto his arm and said excitedly, ‘ Let’s goo!! I can’t wait to ride that roller coaster. Go, Go.’ She held onto his arm and pushed him to walk towards the entrance of the park.

-

The whole day went in a blink with them riding different rides and sometimes Xu Nuan insisted on riding the same ride again and again.

‘ Here.’ Han Zihao passed her the caramel popcorn that she had wanted and cola with it. He also had his drink and took a sip of it.

‘ Will it be enough for you ? We haven’t had lunch today. And it’s already evening.’ he said, looking at her worriedly.

They were playing all day long that they didn’t think about lunch and missed the timing to have anything to eat.

‘ I prefer this over lunch.’ She raised the popcorn bucket to show him. She giggled and said, ‘ Having lunch would have been too heavy and we wouldn't have been able to ride again after eating.'

He nodded. However, while walking by her side, something came to his mind. His forehead creases as something bothers him.

' Xu Nuan.'

' Hmm?' she glanced at him, hearing him calling her name.

' Aren't you uncomfortable in these shoes? I mean you didn't show any discomfort while walking or taking the rides.' He said while looking at her boots that had high heels.

She glanced at her heels and put popcorn in her mouth before saying, ' Ah, this? It's painful, of course. But now I am used to it. Heels are like my best friends you know.' She says while thinking about the amount she has spent while wearing the heels.

In the past, she used to perform in high heels for hours and they were like another part of her body. This much pain doesn't even bother her now. Wearing heels gives her a strange kind of confidence and it feels just like her old best friend.

Han Zihao frowned upon hearing her words. Heels are like her best friends? He didn't notice it earlier but now he realized that she had worn heels to Old Gu's Banquet as well. And the heels were quite high but the way she walked, she wasn't uncomfortable and was walking as if she was used to walking in heels for years and was rather confident wearing them.

Xu Nuan pursed her lips seeing his confused look. ' What happens? What are you thinking?'

He stares at her and asks with a frown, ‘ Xu Nuan, do you remember when we met for the first time at the hospital?’

She raised her brows upon hearing his question. She was confused, wondering why he was suddenly bringing it up here.

She nodded and smiled, ‘ Of course. How can I forget about it? That day, I was surprised to see a beauty like you.’ She giggled after making this comment.

Her words made his ears turn crimson in embarrassment. How can she call a man a beauty?

He coughs and clears his throat before looking at her seriously, ‘ I am not talking about that part.’

‘ Then what?’ she looked at him in confusion, waiting for him to stop circling around the words and get on point.

He pursed his lips in a thin line and said, ‘ That day Gu Xingren said that the day you got into the accident, you were wearing the high heels and it was your first time wearing them. And since you were uncomfortable wearing them, you stumbled over your steps multiple times and because she pushed you, you got into an accident with my car.’

‘.....’

Xu Nuan’s complexion faded upon hearing his words as she already understood what he must be planning to ask her.

He stared into her dark brown eyes and said seriously, ‘ At that time, you also admitted that it was your first time wearing it and you weren’t used to it. And it was Xingren who forced you to wear those heels to torture you. But how come you're wearing high heels on your own and was comfortable in them as if you're wearing them for years?'

' You didn't stumble and seem to have good control over your body and even while walking in heels you looked so comfortable and saying that the heels are like your best friends. How?'

he looks at her in confusion and puzzlement.

There are many things that he knows about her past but that doesn't go with her current attitude and actions. Just as she had said earlier, he was thinking that after experiencing the death-like experience, she had gone through a major personality change but something seems off.

Can someone change this much that the things that were difficult for them before become extremely easy and comfortable?